Game 17 • New Mexico at Air Force Saturday, Jan. 15 • 4 p.m. MST • KRQE delay Clune Arena • USAFA, Colo.

The University of New Mexico hits the Mountain West Conference road for the first time Saturday when it visits defending conference champion Air Force. Tipoff is 4 p.m., Mountain Time from Clune Arena at the United States Air Force Academy.

KRQE in Albuquerque will televise the game on a delayed basis immediately following the conclusion of the Pittsburgh-New York Jets NFL playoff game, which starts at 2:30. The Lobo telecast will probably start around 6 p.m.

New Mexico is now 14-2 overall and 1-0 in the MWC following a hard-earned 89-75 decision over Wyoming. It continues to be the best start for a Ritchie McKay-coached team and the Lobos' best beginning since streaking to a 16-2 record in 1998-99. UNM has not started 2-0 in league play since 2001-02.

The Lobos will probably be without the services of All-America candidate Danny Granger for Saturday's game. The versatile 6-8 senior forward underwent minor arthroscopic surgery Monday to repair torn cartilage in his left knee. The injury occurred during the first half of last Saturday's win over Wyoming. He could return for the Utah-BYU trip next week.

Senior Alfred Neale is expected to take Granger's spot in the starting lineup. Neale started 25 games a year ago. Saturday will mark the first disruption of a starting lineup that has been intact for UNM's first 16 games.

New Mexico has equaled last year's win total of 14. The Lobos' 14th and final win came on Feb. 28 in their 25th game of the year, 72-60 against San Diego State in The Pit.

UNM is in a relatively slow stretch as it is playing just two games in 13 days. After Air Force, UNM continues on the road next week with contests at Utah and BYU. The next home series starts Jan. 29 when UNLV visits the Duke City.

After dropping 29 consecutive games away from The Pit, UNM is gunning for its third straight road victory. That has not happened since the 2000-01 season when the Lobos won at New Mexico State and Gonzaga in overtime, and at San Diego State. New Mexico is 2-1 on the road this year with wins at New Mexico State and Texas-Arlington.

The Lobos, however, are looking to halt a 19-game losing streak in conference road affairs. The last win was 70-64 at Colorado State on Jan. 28, 2002. It will be a big challenge Saturday as Air Force has won 21 straight home games, the nation's 4th-longest active streak.

The reigning league champion Falcons are 10-6 overall after a 59-58 loss at St. Mary's (Calif.) Tuesday night. Air Force is 1-0 in the MWC, nipping Colorado State 58-53 last Saturday at the Academy.

Saturday's game matches the league's top scoring team against the nation's best defensive unit. UNM is averaging 83 points a game and has been held to less than 70 points only twice. Air Force leads the NCAA in scoring defense at 51.7 ppg. The Falcons have yielded more than 70 points only once this year, that coming in a 73-63 loss at Iowa.

The game also pits the league's top 3-point shooting teams. The Lobos are 1st in the MWC, making 138 in 16 games, an average of 8.6. Air Force has hit 133 in 16 outings, or 8.3 a game. The Falcons are 2nd in the nation in fewest turnovers, committing just 9.4 a game. Consequently, they have a huge edge in turnover margin at +6.9 a game as their opponents

GAME NOTES

- Antoine Hood made a free throw with 9.7 seconds left to give Air Force the win...Granger's 3-point try to win the game was off...the Lobos led 41-34 with 11:23 left
- After taking that lead, New Mexico was outscored 17-9 the rest of the way...the Lobos finished 3 of 9 from the floor, while the Falcons made 5 of their final 6 shots over the final 8:05
- The Lobos were swept by Air Force in conference play for the first time
- Nailing their first four shots, including three 3s, UNM grabbed an 11-2 lead...the Falcons stormed back with a 15-4 burst to take a 17-15 advantage
- Sophomore walk-on Jeff Hart played 9 minutes and hit a clutch 3-pointer that gave UNM a 49-48 lead with 1:19 left have been guilty of 16.3 a game.

The Falcons start just one senior in guard Tim Keller, who is averaging 7.7 points a game. Chris Mooney (Princeton '94) is in his first season as head coach, taking over for Joe Scott, who is now the head man at Princeton.

The Falcons finished 22-7 last year and, despite being picked to finish last among eight schools, won the MWC regular-season crown at 12-2. They lost to North Carolina in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. Junior C Tim Welch shared MWC Player of the Year honors with BYU's Rafael Araujo.

POLL WATCHING

UNM received 13 points - up from eight - in the latest USA Today/ESPN Coaches' poll released on Monday. That's good for the 30th position. In the AP rankings, the Lobos got eight points, tying North Carolina State and Ohio State for the 39th spot. New Mexico is the only MWC school to receive votes in either poll.

UNM has not been ranked in six years. The Lobos were No. 25 entering the 1999 NCAA Tournament. They beat Missouri in the first round before losing to eventual national champion Connecticut in round two.

HEAD COACH RITCHIE MCKAY

Ritchie McKay is in his third season in charge of Lobo hoops and his ninth year as a collegiate head coach. He was named UNM's 18th head coach on March 28, 2002.

McKay had previous two-year stops at Portland State (1996-98), Colorado State (1998-2000) and Oregon State (2000-02). He has a career record of 121-123, 38-34 at New Mexico. While at UNM, McKay is 36-12 at home, 28-14 in non-conference games and 26-7 in non-league games at The Pit. He is 10-19 in MWC games, 10-5 at home and 0-14 on the road.

McKay is 5-3 in his career vs. Air Force, 1-3 while at New Mexico. He is 2-2 at the Academy, 0-2 as the Lobos' coach.

While at Mountain West Conference member Colorado State, McKay led the Rams to the NIT in 1999. McKay is the son of the late Joe McKay, who was a three-year letterman at guard for the Lobos from 1961-63.

TWO BAD HALVES FROM BEING 16-0

Had it not been for a couple of poor-shooting second halves, the Lobos could be among the nation's unbeaten teams. On Nov. 22 at Oregon, UNM led 43-41 at halftime. The Lobos trailed by nine twice in the second half, but made it a 2-point game with 16 seconds remaining before falling 79-75. New Mexico hung around despite shooting just 26% (8-31) after halftime, including 22% (4-18) from 3-point.

The Lobos were held to 32.8% accuracy (20-61) by No. 5 Wake Forest in The Pit on Dec. 22, but it was a 4-point game with 11:39 remaining and UNM trailed by just seven at the 8:23 mark. The Demon Deacons eventually won 81-64 to halt UNM's 6-game winning streak.

QUICK HITS

- Through games of Tuesday, Jan. 11, Danny Granger is the only player in NCAA Div. I basketball who is averaging at least 19 points, 8.5 rebounds, 2 steals, 2 blocks and 1.8 assists a game...here's how Granger ranks in the conference and nationally:

	MWC	NCAA
Points	19.1	2nd
Rebounds	8.9	2nd
Steals	2.44	1st
Blocks	2.31	2nd
FG%	57.1	8th
3-Pt. FG%	54.2	2nd

Interestingly, of the top-40 players in the nation in steals, Granger is the tallest at 6-8. Granger has increased his shooting percentage to 57.1% by converting 26 of 38 shots (68.4%) the past 4 games. His 3-point percentage is now a team-high 54.2% thanks to 9 of 11 accuracy (81.8%) the past 4 games. He also has 12 blocks in the past 3 contests and ranks 10th all-time at UNM with 68.

- After averaging 19.5 points and 9.0 rebounds a year ago, Granger is attempting to become just the third Lobo to average more than 19 points and 9 rebounds twice in a career, joining Mel Daniels (1966-67) and Willie Long (1970-71).

- Senior G Troy DeVries ranks No. 1 at UNM for career 3-point FG accuracy at 45.1%...he has made 102 of 226 treys in his 38-game Lobo career...Willie Banks is 2nd at 44.1% (78-177)

- New Mexico is 23-3 at home since Danny Granger and Troy DeVries joined the team on Dec. 21, 2003

- Through games of Jan. 11, New Mexico leads the Mountain West Conference in scoring (83.0 ppg), scoring margin (+17.5), 3-pt. FGs made (8.63) and assists (16.81)

- The six-game winning streak from Nov. 27-Dec. 18 is the longest for a Ritchie McKay-coached team and the best by New Mexico since it captured eight straight during the 2001-02 season

- The Lobos have shot 50% or better in 10 of their 16 games this season, including a season-best 64.3% vs. New Mexico State Dec. 1...UNM has eclipsed 60% four times

- The past 4 games, UNM has shot 54.7% (117-214) from the field, including 46.5% (40-86) from 3-point

- New Mexico has led at halftime in 15 of 16 games this season, averaging an 12.1-point advantage at the break...the only time UNM has trailed was 36-33 to No. 5 Wake Forest

- Head coach Ritchie McKay used the same starting lineup in the first 16 games of the season...that's quite a change from his first two Lobo teams as he used nine different quintets last season and a whopping 16 sets in 2002-03...the last time New Mexico employed the same five starters for more than 20 games was 2000-01 when Eric Chatfield, Ruben Douglas, Marlon Parmer, Brian Smith and Wayland White drew the nod 22 times

- UNM nailed a school-record 20 treys against Santa Clara, including 13 of 20 in the first half...to put that number in perspective, UNM made more than 13 in an entire game just three times last year...the previous standard for 3-point proficiency was 18 on two occasions: vs. Holy Cross on Dec. 29, 1997, and vs. UTEP on Feb. 19, 1998...both games were played in The Pit

- New Mexico has limited opponents to 60 points or less seven times this season...they did so only nine times all of last year and on only six occasions in 2002-03

- UNM has made a 3-point basket in 469 straight games, the 12th-longest active streak in NCAA Div. I hoops...UNLV is 1st at more than 580

- A Lobo has led the MWC in scoring four of the first five years the league has been in existence...Lamont Long won the crown in 1999-2000 at 18.7 ppg...after a one-year absence, Ruben Douglas captured consecutive titles in 2001-02 (18.1 ppg) and 2002-03 (28.0)...Danny Granger took the 2003-04 crown at 19.5 ppg

- New Mexico's 27-game road losing streak - 29 in a row including neutral sites - ended with an 84-66 victory at New Mexico State on Dec. 4...after the win at UT-Arlington, the Lobos have now registered back-to-back road victories for the first time since taking three straight in 2000-01

- The Lobos saw three winning streaks come to an end in the 81-64 setback to No. 5 Wake Forest on Dec. 22: six straight wins overall, nine straight at home and 14 consecutive non-conference victories at The Pit

WYOMING RECAP

Troy DeVries' 15 points led six New Mexico players in double figures and the Lobos, with leading scorer and rebounder Danny Granger out with a knee injury, beat Wyoming 89-75 last Saturday night.

New Mexico dominated the Cowboys in the first half, when Granger led a torrid shooting effort by the Lobos during which they hit 16 of their first 21.

UNM led 39-19 when Granger - averaging 19.5 points and 9.4 rebounds a game - went out with 6:27 left in the first half. He didn't play the rest of the game, but New Mexico was able to withstand a brief second half rally by the Cowboys.

Moments after Granger went to the locker room, the Lobos extended their lead to 47-23. But with Granger out, Wyoming picked up some momentum and started cutting into the deficit.

The Cowboys closed the first half with an 8-2 run, then outscored the Lobos 12-2 in the first five minutes of the second half. A 14-foot jumper by Jay Straight, who led the Cowboys with 20 points and a short jumper inside by Alex Dunn got Wyoming within 51-43 with 15:11 left. That was as close as the Cowboys would come.

Lobo center David Chiotti hit a free throw and after Dunn made one of two free throws, New Mexico scored eight straight points. True freshman Tony Danridge hit a pair of field goals, Alfred Neale banked in a shot and DeVries scored off the board in traffic for a 60-44 lead with 10:45 left. Another 8-0 run late in the game rebuilt New Mexico's lead to 72-51 with 5:14 to go.

Neale, playing in place of Granger, finished with 11 points, while Danridge matched his season-high with 10 points. Kris Collins added 13 points and Chiotti had 14. Granger scored 12 points and had 3 blocks in the 12 minutes he played.

WYOMING POSTGAME NOTES

- The Lobos improve to 12-1 at home for the season...UNM has won 24 of its last 27 games at The Pit
- UNM snapped its two-year losing streak in MWC openers...the Lobos are now 4-2 all-time in MWC openers and 4-2 in home MWC openers
- After a 5 of 12 start from the line, the Lobos made 16 of their last 17 free throws
- The Lobos had six players score in double figures for the first time since Dec. 30, 2000, vs. Drexel...the Lobos won that game, 93-60...UNM had five players score in double figures earlier this season against Tennessee and Duquesne
- True freshman wing Tony Danridge tied a season high with 10 points on 5-of-6 shooting from the floor...the five FGs were a season-high...the past 2 games, Danridge has scored 16 points on 7 of 9 shooting from the field in just 25 minutes
- Junior C David Chiotti was 8-of-9 from the FT line, establishing a season high for made free throws...he made his last 8 attempts...Chiotti was 3-of-6 from the field and finished with 14 points despite playing only 18 minutes due to foul trouble
- Senior Troy DeVries netted a team-high 15 points on 6-of-9 shooting, including 3-of-4 from 3-point...he tied his collegiate high with four steals, matched when he was at Portland State
- Junior Kris Collins scored 13 points...it was his fifth game scoring double figures, but first in 9 games...he scored 10 points in the first half on 4-of-7 shooting.
- The Lobos dominated the first half, leading 49-31 at the break... UNM shot 61% from the floor (20-33) for the half as it made 9 of its first 11 field-goal attempts and 16 of 21...UNM led by as many as 24 points (47-23) at the 3:32 mark
- The Lobos were outrebounded for only the 4th time this season as the Cowboys had a 40-31 advantage

IT'S ONLY HALFWAY BUT...

- The Lobos are shooting 51.8% from the field...New Mexico has shot better than 50% for an entire season only five times since 1950-51 when stats became official...only three teams - Oklahoma State, Gonzaga and Utah State - finished the 2003-04 season converting at least 50% of their attempts from the floor
- UNM is averaging 83 points per game compared to just 69.6 ppg last year...the last Lobo team to average at least 80 for the season was the 1986-87 squad at 80.8 ppg
- New Mexico is winning by an average margin of 17.5 ppg...the school record is 14.6 set by the 1977-78 Lobos
- Opponents are shooting just 41.2% on the season...UNM has allowed 43% accuracy or higher each of the past four seasons
- New Mexico's rebound margin of +6.1 would be the 6th-best in the school record book...currently, the top-five margins were all set between 1962-67

3-POINT STREAK INTACT

UNM has made at least one 3-pointer in 440 straight games...the last time it didn't was Jan. 3, 1991, missing on 8 attempts against Colorado State...since the 3-point shot became part of college basketball in 1986-87, the Lobos have made 10 or more 86 times...the record in those games is 69-17...a look at the Lobos' 3-point shooting:

DOMINATING AT HOME

Before the loss to Wake Forest, the Lobos had won their first nine home games for the first time since the 1998-99 season when they took 16 in a row. They have captured 24 of their past 27 in The Pit.

SHOOT BETTER AND WIN

The Lobos have won 30 straight games when shooting better than their opponent. The last loss was at Tennessee on Jan. 4, 2003. UNM shot 45% (18-40) to the Vols' 43% (22-51). New Mexico is 64-4 in such situations since 2000-01, 161-13 since the 1995-96 season.

HEALTH LEADS TO SUCCESS

An issue somewhat overlooked is that the 2004-05 Lobos are healthy, Danny Granger's Jan. 10 knee surgery notwithstanding. A year ago, Mark Walters was recuperating from a torn ACL that never fully healed until this past summer; certainly his play so far illuminates that fact. Granger was bothered by a nagging shoulder injury that required surgery during the offseason. And, Alfred Neale played through a pair of painful hernia injuries last season that also prompted two surgeries after the season.

LOBO BASKETBALL ARCHITECT PASSES ON

Former UNM head basketball coach Bob King passed away at an Albuquerque hospital Dec. 10 at the age of 81.

Known as the "Architect of Lobo Basketball," King came to UNM in 1962 and immediately put a buzz into the community. His teams' successes led to sellout crowds at Johnson Gym, which, in turn, forced The Pit to be built in 1966. King posted a 175-89 record and never had a losing record in any of his 10 seasons. He led UNM to postseason play for the first time in school history with three NIT appearances and the school's initial NCAA Tournament showing in 1968. The playing floor at The Pit was officially named Bob King Court in 1992.

New Mexico had a 418-495 record with no postseason appearances before King arrived. Since that time, UNM has averaged nearly 19 wins per year. The Lobos have made 26 trips to the postseason during that span, including 10 appearances in the NCAA Tournament and 16 showings in the NIT. King, an Air Force veteran, will be buried at the National Cemetery in Santa Fe. The family requests donations be made to:

SEASON NO. 102

The 2004-05 season is the 102nd in school history. The Lobos first laced up the hightops on Feb. 2, 1900, when they lost 8-6 to the Albuquerque Guards. While this season is actually the 105th anniversary of that inaugural year, UNM did not field a team for various reasons in 1900-01, 1903-04, 1917-18 and 1920-21.

The Lobos have been on the hardwoods continuously since the 1921-22 season and have compiled an all-time record of 1,220-962 (.559). New Mexico was 418-495 (.458) from 1900-62, but has gone 802-467 (.631) over the past 42-plus seasons, an average of nearly 19 wins per year. The Lobos have made 26 trips to the postseason during that span, including 10 appearances in the NCAA Tournament and 16 showings in the NIT.

LOBOS PREDICTED FOR 4TH-PLACE FINISH IN MOUNTAIN WEST

New Mexico was picked to finish fourth in the 2004-05 Mountain West Conference race during the league's preseason media gathering Oct. 24, in Denver. Voters were a combination of head coaches and media. It's the highest predicted finish for the Lobos since they were selected to place second behind Utah in the inaugural MWC season of 1999-2000. UNM was picked to finish seventh each of the past two seasons.

GRANGER NAMED MWC'S TOP RETURNING PLAYER

The MWC head coaches and the media that cover the loop picked UNM senior forward Danny Granger as the league's top returning player. The 6-8 All-America candidate led the conference in scoring last year, averaging 19.5 ppg. He also led UNM in rebounding (9.0 rpg), steals (29) and blocked shots (31).

PERSONNEL PICTURE

The Lobos return eight lettermen, including four starters, from last year's team that finished 14-14. Sean Phaler, a redshirt last season, gives the Lobos nine players total returning. The biggest loss from a year ago is Javin Tindall. Tindall was second on the team in scoring (12.6 ppg) and 3-pt. FG% (41.9%). He led the team in assists (98) and FT% (83.1%) and tied a school record with nine 3-pt. FGs at UNLV.

It's still a young team as the only players with more than one year of experience at UNM are juniors David Chiotti, Jeff Hart and Mark Walters.

Additional lettermen not returning are 6-2 guard Ryan Ashcraft, 6-2 guard Lenny Miles, 6-2 guard Collins Ferris, 6-6 forward Mikal Monette and 6-8 forward Justin Benson. Ashcraft was a senior who graduated from UNM in May, while Miles, Ferris, Monette and Benson all transferred.

McKay and his staff welcome six new faces to the team in 2004-05, one junior college transfer (Kris Collins) and five freshmen (Tony Danridge, Blake Harden, Bambale Osby, Darren Prentice and Chad Toppert).

TRYING TO REVERSE SOME TRENDS

UNM has had four straight sub-.500 seasons in Mountain West Conference play, finishing 6-8 in both 2000-01 and 2001-02, 4-10 in 2002-03 and 5-9 last season. New Mexico had previously not had a losing record in league games since 1983. The Lobos have not had four straight losing seasons in conference play since 1980-83.

THE PIT

The 2004-05 season marks the 39th year of basketball in The Pit/Bob King Court, which was completed in December of 1966. UNM has an all-time mark of 548-133 (80%) in the building that resides 37 feet below street level. The Lobos have had a winning record in The Pit in 37 of their 38 years as tenants and tore off a school-record 41-game home winning streak from 1996-98. Since the beginning of the 1995-96 season, the Lobos are 149-31 (83%).

POSTSEASON PERENNIALS

Although there has been void of postseason play in consecutive seasons for the first time in more than 20 years, UNM has appeared in the NCAA Tournament or NIT seven of the past nine years and 18 times in the last 21 seasons, dating to 1983-84. The Lobos participated in the NIT from 2000-02, advancing to the second round in 2000 and the quarterfinals in 2001. The Lobos have also made seven NCAA Tournament appearances since 1991, including a school-record four straight from 1996-99, moving to the second round each time.

NCAA TOURNAMENT RETURNS

UNM will again play host to men's NCAA Tournament games when the 2005 Albuquerque Regional comes to The Pit. New Mexico hosts two regional semifinal games on Thursday, March 24, and the final on Saturday, March 26. The winner advances to the Final Four in St. Louis. It's the ninth time Albuquerque has hosted NCAA men's action since 1968.

New Mexico is in a stretch where it is hosting NCAA competition for five consecutive years. The NCAA Men's First and Second Rounds were here in 2002 followed by the women's first and second rounds and the Midwest Regional in 2003 and the first and second rounds last season. The women's West Regional will be here in March of 2006.

EARLY SIGNEES

The University of New Mexico inked four during the November signing period. They are Joel Box (F, 6-8, 250) from Rockford, Ill., and John Wood Community College in Quincy, Ill., Daniel Faris (C, 6-9, 225) from Albuquerque Eldorado High School, Justin Holt (G/F, 6-7, 205) from Tacoma, Wash., and Indian Hills (Iowa) CC and Anthony Teague (G, 6-5, 190) from Cleveland, Ohio, and Dodge City (Kan.) CC.

2003-04 REVIEW

The University of New Mexico finished its 101st season of men's basketball with a 14-14 overall record, the 20th time in the past 21 years that UNM has posted a .500 record or better.

Sitting at 13-8 following an 87-75 win over Wyoming on Feb. 9, New Mexico lost six of its last seven contests to miss postseason play for the second straight year, something that hasn't happened since a four-year drought between 1980-83.

The Lobos fell to UNLV 55-53 in the first round of the Mountain West Conference Tournament, a troubling loss since UNM led for all but 41 seconds. New Mexico was eliminated in the first round of the tournament for the third straight year.

After going 10-18 in 2002-03, the Lobos avoided consecutive losing seasons for what would have been only the second time in more than four decades. New Mexico was 6-20 in 1979-80 and 11-15 in 1980-81. Prior to that skid was eight straight sub-.500 records between 1955-62. The Lobos have only had four losing campaigns since former head coach Bob King arrived in Albuquerque prior to the 1962-63 season.

The Lobos surpassed their 2002-03 win total by four games and their conference total by one (4-10). UNM finished 14-4 in The Pit, winning five of its last six and 12 of 14.

UNM tied San Diego State for fifth place in the MWC with a 5-9 mark. The Lobos were picked to finish seventh in the preseason poll.

UNM had a full roster the final 22 games when Danny Granger (Bradley) and Troy DeVries (Portland State) became eligible as mid-season transfers. UNM was 11-11 following their arrival, 11-2 in The Pit.

At 19.5 points a game, Granger led the MWC in scoring and was named first team all-Mountain West Conference. The transfer became just the second Lobo in the past 33 years to average more than 19 points and 9 rebounds for an entire season. Luc Longley (19.1 and 9.2) did so in 1991. Willie Long (23.9/12.9 in 1970 and 23.9/10.6 in '71) and Mel Daniels (21.2/10.3 in 1966 and 21.5/11.6 in '67) each did it twice, while Ira Harge was the first to accomplish the feat in 1963 (21.1 and 13.2).

Granger was fifth in rebounding (9.0) and was also ranked among the top-15 in six other categories for conference-only games: FG percentage, 3-point FGs made, assists, FT percentage, steals and blocks. He became the first Lobo since Kenny Thomas in 1997-98 to record four straight double-doubles in one season.
