TIP OFF

The Ohio University men's basketball team continues play in the 2011 CollegelInsider.com Postseason Tournament with a quarterfinal showdown against East Tennessee State. The Bobcats and Buccaneers tip-off tomorrow, Tuesday, March 22, at 7 p.m. from Johnson City, Tenn.

Ohio is currently 19-15 overall and has been to the postseason three times in the last four years, the best run since the Bobcats earned three postseason berths from 1983-86. Ohio's win over Marshall was the 11th win in postseason history for the Bobcats, most of any team from the Mid-American Conference.

The victory also marked the first time in Ohio history that the Bobcats have earned wins in consecutive postseasons and Ohio has now won a game in three of the last four postseasons. The Green & White became the third team in NCAA history to earn wins in the NCAA Tournament, NIT, CBI Tournament and CIT. They join Old Dominion University and Bradley University as the only Division 1 programs to accomplish such a feat.

This will be the second meeting all-time between the Bobcats and the Buccaneers as Ohio lost the only previous contest, 63-62 in the Watauga Invitational hosted by ETSU on December 21, 1956.

The Bobcats have been powered by D.J. Cooper's 16.0 points, 7.6 assists, 5.1 rebounds and 2.4 steals per game. Ivo Baltic averages a team-high 6.1 rebounds to go with his 11.5 points, while DeV Vaughn Washington's 13.1 points are accompanied by his 5.6 caroms and 52.3 field goal percentage. Tommy Freeman, who averages 11.3 points per game, has made 97 3-pointers and shoots 44.1 percent from beyond the arc. Defensively, Reggie Keely leads the team with 38 blocked shots.

The squad, which ripped off a nine-game winning streak in January, is 12-1 at home this season, with the lone loss coming to Belmont. Belmont, the Atlantic Sun's champion, defeated the Bucs on Jan. 23 by a 72-62 score.

Mention All-MAC after reaching double figures in all but one league contest this season.

Washington averaged 13.4 points and shot 55 percent from the field in league contests. Over the last eight games, he has led the team in scoring and rebounding by averaging 16.4 points and 7.4 rebounds for the Bobcats,

His productivity this year has been matched by sophomore Ivo Baltic. The Kansas City native averaged 13.6 points, shot 57 percent from the field and led the team in rebounding during conference play.

He is also shooting 57 percent from the field and averaging 16.7 points and 6.9 rebounds per game over the last 12 Ohio contests. This streak of success started with a career-high 31-point performance in a win over Northern Illinois.

ROAD WARRIORS

The 'Cats are enjoying a recent record of 13-8 in their last 21 road and neutral contests dating back to the end of last season. Ohio is 8-7 away from home this season and is trying to become only the second Bobcat team since 1995 to have a winning record away from home.

FREEMAN FROM BEYOND THE ARC

Against Bowling Green, Tommy Freeman broke Dave Jamerson for the Ohio career record in three-pointers made. Jamerson, the leading scorer in Bobcat history with 2,336 points, finished his career with 239 treys, a number Freeman surpassed with his first three-pointer against BG.

This season, Freeman ranks second in the MAC, averaging 2.94 three-pointers made per game, 17th in the country. After connecting on a career-high seven triples in a win over Toledo, Freeman knocked down seven again in the ESPNU Bracket Buster win over Winthrop. His 44.1 three-point percentage is tops among all MAC players and 10th nationally.

Last season, Freeman finished second in the nation, shooting 47.7 percent from three-point land. That percentage broke Jason Grunkemeyer's school record of 47.4 percent accuracy from beyond the arc set during the 1996-97 season.

COOPER'S MAC-OLADES

D.J. Cooper was named First Team All-MAC by the conference and was also named All-District by the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

the Year.

He currently sits second nationally in assists and has surpassed 10 assists eight times this season, including a career-best 15 assists in a win at Akron. Cooper broke his own school record for assists in a single season and has 258 helpers this year.

Cooper also ranks second in the MAC in steals and fourth in scoring. He has a very good chance at becoming only the fifth player in Bobcat history to reach 2,000 points (Dave Jamerson, Paul Graham, Gary Trent and Brandon Hunter) after hitting the 1,000-point plateau in just his second season.

Last season, the Chicago native became the fifth Bobcat to win Freshman of the Year honors. He also broke the school single-season record for steals (93) and assists (218). He finished as one of only two players to rank in the top 15 of both categories nationally.

DROPPING DIMES

The Green & White averaged 15.3 assists per contest, the best average in the MAC. They finished second in the conference when looking at assist-to-turnover ratio with a 1.14 mark.

Earlier this season, the Bobcats registered 25 assists vs. St. Francis (PA). That total was the most by a MAC team in a regular season game this season. The team also registered 23 helpers in a win over Texas A&M-Corpus Christi earlier this season. The 'Cats have registered 20 or more assists in four games this season.

THREE'S A CROWD

Ohio ranks third in the MAC averaging 7.38 three-pointers per game. Tommy Freeman ranks second in the MAC with 97 three-pointers while Nick Kellogg is 13th and D.J. Cooper ranks 15th in the conference, when it comes to threes made per contest.

In fact, Freeman and Kellogg are first and third respectively in three-point field goal percentage. Freeman has connected 44.1 percent of the time, tops in the league and 10th nationally while Kellogg has shot 42.1 percent, second in the league

LUCKY NUMBER 7(0)

The 'Cats are scoring over 70 points per game (74.4) and led the Mid-American Conference in scoring offense (43rd nationally). Under John Groce, Ohio is 44-9 if they score at least 70 points. In 2008-09, the 'Cats were 10-0 with 70+ points. Last season, Ohio was 18-3 and this year they are 16-6.

JOHN GROCE

HEAD COACH » THIRD SEASON » TAYLOR '94 » 56-47 (23-25)

There is a fire that burns inside John Groce, a determination to succeed at the highest levels. In more than a decade working for some of the titans of the college basketball world, he earned a reputation that included traits such as passionate, driven, tireless and bright.

The work that Groce has put in over the last 17 years has given him an ample taste of that success. He has reached the postseason 15 times in his 17 years on the collegiate sidelines, helping guide teams to a Final Four, two Elite Eights, a National Invitation Tournament championship and numerous conference titles.

As he enters his third season as head coach at Ohio University, Groce has wasted no time instilling that same fire into every facet of the Bobcat program. Last year he became the fifth coach to lead Ohio to the NCAA Tournament in its 103-year history. A stirring run through the Mid-American Conference Tournament featured an overtime win on the road in the first round, a toppling of regular-season champion Kent State in the quarterfinals, a victory over archrival Miami in the semifinals and capped with another overtime victory against the defending conference champs, Akron.

The historic season did not end in Cleveland as Ohio advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2005 and third time in the last 20 years. The 13-seeded Bobcats faced 4-seeded Georgetown and knocked off the Hoyas, 97-83. It was Ohio's first win against a nationally-ranked program since 1998 and advanced them into the NCAA Second Round for the first time since 1983. The win was also the fifth all-time for the Green & White in the Big Dance.

Upon his hiring as the 16th head coach in program history in 2008, Groce set about laying the foundation of his trademark offensive style, a high-powered, aggressive system that paid tangible dividends immediately. Six Ohio players met or exceeded their previous career-high scoring averages and five shot better than 40 percent from the field in Groce's initial season, as the Bobcats paced the Mid-American Conference with an average of 13.63 assists per game.

players met or exceeded their previous career-high scoring averages and five shot better than 40 percent from the field in Groce's initial season, as the Bobcats paced the Mid-American Conference with an average of 13.63 assists per game.

Last season, Ohio led the league in scoring by averaging 74.7 points per game and had five players average 10.5 points or more for their 2009-10 campaigns. The 2,763 points scored last year were the most by any Bobcat team, breaking the previous mark of 2,668 set during the 1993-94 season. The Green & White also finished second in the league in three-point field goal percentage (.366), three-point field goal percentage defense (.312), rebounding offense (37.1), assists (14.16), turnover margin (+2.51) and three-point field goals made (7.51).

Touted as an "offensive genius" by former protege Greg Oden, Groce's high-octane style has led to banner years from beyond the arc. Ohio took advantage of open looks created on the break to lead the MAC in three-point field goal percentage for the first time in program history in 2009. Last year, sharpshooter Tommy Freeman hit on 47.7 percent of his three-point attempts to rank as one of the best in the nation. The Bobcats have shot at a 36.5-percent mark from long distance during the first two seasons under Groce and obliterated the season record for three-pointers made with 278 in 2009-10, 54 more than the previous mark.

While Groce's attacking style of play undoubtedly leads to results on the court, it also benefits the Ohio players when it comes time to collect hardware. The Bobcats sent three representatives to the All-MAC teams following Groce's first campaign on the sidelines, as Jerome Tillman was named to the first team, Michael Allen was an honorable mention selection and Steven Coleman earned a spot on the All-Freshman Team. The All-MAC status wasn't the only honor bestowed upon Tillman after a year in the John Groce system, as he also picked up NABC All-District 14, MAC Report Online Player of the Year and MidAmPub.com Player of the Year accolades after finishing third in the league in scoring and second in rebounding.

Last year, D.J. Cooper was named the 2009-10 MAC Freshman of the Year after an outstanding season. The guard was one of just two players in the nation to rank in the top 15 in both steals and assists which also helped him land a spot on the 2010 Collegelinsider.com Freshmen All-America Team. Arnon Bassett was an honorable mention All-MAC performer after leading Ohio with 17.1 points per game and finishing fourth in the league in scoring. Bassett was named the MAC Tournament MVP after averaging 29 points per game and setting a MAC record with 116 points scored.

Already known as one of the premier recruiters in the college game, Groce and his staff enjoyed an off-court success of a different kind during the 2008-09 season as their five-player 2009 recruiting class was regarded as the 10th-best in the country among mid-majors and one of the top-70 in the nation overall by Hoop Scoop Online. Two members of the class were named the best incoming players at their position in the MAC by Rivals.com, while all five were nominated for McDonald's High School All-America status during their final prep campaigns. For this upcoming season, Groce has brought in even more talent with the addition of four freshmen and two transfers.

Since his first day on the job, Groce, a former teacher, has also placed great importance on the academic success of the Ohio program. Groce's first three quarters on the job saw the Bobcats post team grade-point averages that ranked among the five-best in the 15 academic quarters since the beginning of the 2004-05 school year. Under his tutelage, 14 Ohio players have earned an individual GPA of 3.00 or better for a quarter a combined 22 times.

Prior to his arrival in Athens, Groce spent four seasons on staff at Ohio State, the final two as associate head coach. During his tenure, he helped the Buckeyes to 105 victories, including a school-record 35 wins in 2006-07, a pair of outright Big Ten regular-season titles, two NCAA Tournament appearances, a berth in the 2007 NCAA National Championship game and the 2008 NIT title.

Groce was also heavily involved in recruiting at Ohio State and played a vital role in bringing future first-round NBA draft-picks Greg Oden, Mike Conley, Jr., and Daequan Cook to Columbus, earning him the title of Rivals.com Recruiter of the Year in 2006. His 2007 class at OSU, which featured a five-star prospect and two four-star recruits, was also ranked sixth in the nation.

Groce's talent didn't go unnoticed at the national level during his time at Ohio State, as Jeff Goodman of FoxSports.com recognized him as one of the top-10 high-major assistant coaches in the country in May of 2008. The previous summer also saw Groce receive praise from the national basketball media, as Bob McClellan of Rivals.com anointed him the assistant coach from across the country most ready to lead his own program.

The Danville, Ind., native began his coaching career in 1993 as an assistant at his alma mater, Taylor University, in Upland, Ind. During that time, Taylor posted a 71-28 record and earned a pair of trips to the NAIA national tournament. He helped the Trojans to a 29-5 record and a No. 1 national ranking in 1994.

Groce broke into Division I basketball as a member of Herb Sendek's staff at NC State in 1996, ultimately serving as an assistant with the Wolfpack from 1996-00. NCSU earned postseason bids in each of his four years on the sidelines, including a trip to the 2000 NIT semifinals.

With his hiring at Ohio, Groce became the eighth former Sendek assistant to ascend to the Division I head coaching ranks.

In 2000-01, Groce moved on to Butler, where he joined Thad Matta's staff for the first of his eight years working with the current Ohio State head coach. With Groce on the bench, the Bulldogs captured both the Midwestern College Conference regular-season and tournament crowns, and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

Groce accompanied Matta to Xavier in 2001, helping lead the Musketeers to a 78-23 overall record and an appearance in the NCAA Tournament in each of his three seasons on staff. The crown jewel of Groce's time in Cincinnati was a berth in the 2004 NCAA Elite Eight.

After starring for current Iowa head coach Todd Lickliter at Danville High School, Groce played basketball for three years at Taylor, helping the Trojans to a composite 86-18 record and three trips to the NAIA Tournament, including an NAIA Final Four bid in 1991. He earned a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Taylor in 1994.

Born on Sept. 7, 1971, in Muncie, Ind., Groce and his wife, Allison, have two sons, Conner and Camden.
