

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA

Aseem Rastogi, ADC GA 2010-2012

- Hometown: Fairfax, VA
- Received a Bachelor of Science in Sport Management from Old Dominion University
- Only member of my family born in the United States and on leap day (mother born and raised in Kenya, father and brother in India).
- Has traveled to over 20 countries and 5 of the 7 continents

“I want to pursue a career in Intercollegiate Athletics because I feel it is the one forum in which I can change lives more so than in any other. I will work with student-athletes and help develop the entire athlete, spawning a generation of well-rounded student-athletes who go on to be true professionals in their chosen field.”

“Being a part of the Athletics Diversity Council is a once in a lifetime experience. Not only will it allow me to immerse myself in different aspects of athletic administration, it will allow me to reach beyond the normal graduate school experience and truly challenge myself.”

