HOWARD McCASLAND FIELD HOUSE

The University of Oklahoma wrestling squad now boasts one of the premier workout facilities in the nation after a $1.3 million renovation to the Port Robertson Wrestling Center, spurred on by a $1 million donation from former OU grappler Rodney Thornton.

The facility now covers 20,000 feet, including more than 9,000 square feet of mat. Also included in the renovation is a team room equipped with leather couches and a flat-screen television, as well as new training, club, weight, equipment and coaches' locker rooms.
