TARAS LISKEVYCH

Head Coach • Eighth Year
75-131 (Oregon State)
342-215 (15 years overall)

Loyola, '70

Taras ("Terry") Liskevych (Lis-KEHV-ich), former U.S. Olympic women's head coach, will patrol the sidelines of Gill Coliseum for his eighth season as the head volleyball coach at Oregon State.

In 2005, Liskevych's squad showed dramatic improvement, if not with its win-loss record, then certainly with its hustle and determination on the court. In his first season at the helm, Liskevych began the season with a group that included two starters and several role players that were required to step up their games. Through the ups and downs of learning the ins and outs of a new team, a new coaching staff and a new university, the Beavers came together to show improvement in all aspects of the game allowing Liskevych to evaluate the entire program, to determine his needs for the future, both on the court and off.

The 2006 season didn't meet expectations in the win column but with his first recruiting class arriving on campus Liskevych did dramatically improve the athleticism and size in the program. Two rookies received Pac-10 All-Freshman Team honors.

The team took strides in 2007 upsetting a pair of highly ranked teams, including sweeping No. 10 Hawai'i on the road, which had never been done by an unranked team, and defeating No. 4 UCLA in Pauley Pavilion.

A pair of players earned All-Pac-10 honors and Liskevych will return the majority of the team, looking for even more improvement in 2008 with his youthful squad.

Liskevych coached Oregon State's first ever All-American in Rachel Rourke in 2008 with Rourke adding AVCA All-America Second Team accolades in 2009. And the upsets continued over the next two seasons, boosting the team to its first top 25 ranking since 1996 in 2008, climbing to 24th. In 2009, the Beavers swept No. 6 Michigan in Ann Arbor, snapping a 52-match non-conference winning streak for the Wolverines, while upsetting No. 7 Oregon in legendary Gill Coliseum in a five-set thriller.

In 2010, the Liskevych coached another All-Pac-10 selection in outside hitter Jill Sawatzky, who not only excelled on the court by finishing fourth all-time for career kills, but also adding the program's first Pac-10 Scholar-Athlete of the Year distinction and Pac-12 Tom Hansen Medalist.

Coming the closest the program has in the Liskevych Era to the NCAA Tournament in 2011, he coached the team to a 16-16 overall record, 8-14 in the inaugural Pac-12 Conference season. Camille Saxton and Arica Nassar both earned All-Pac-12 Honorable Mention accolades, while Nassar was also named to the All-Freshman Team.

Liskevych became the 10th volleyball coach in school history April 4, 2005, replacing Nancy Somera who left OSU after leading the Beavers for the previous six seasons.

A Chicago native who has lived in California for 30 year, Liskevych spent 12 years (1985-96) as the head coach of the USA National Women's Volleyball Team. During his tenure with the National Team, the U.S. earned bronze medals at the 1992 Olympics and the 1990 World Championships. In 1995 Liskevych led his team to the gold medal at the World Grand Prix and he was selected as the Federation of International Volleyball International Coach of the Year. His teams also finished seventh at the 1988 and 1996 Olympics and fourth at the 1991 World Cup.

Liskevych is a 1970 graduate of Loyola University (Ill.) with a bachelor's degree in biology. He received his Master's of Science in Physical Education from George Williams College (Ill.) in 1973 and finished his doctorate in Physical Education at The Ohio State University in 1976.

Prior to his stint with USA Volleyball, Liskevych spent nine years as the head coach at the University of the Pacific from 1976-84. Liskevych led the Tigers to national prominence, finishing fourth in the country in his fourth season on the job. Pacific never again finished lower than fifth under Liskevych's leadership, including a second-place finish in 1980.

The Tigers were undefeated NorCal Champions in 1979, 1980 and 1981 and Liskevych earned NorPac Coach of the Year honors in 1979, 1980, 1981 and 1983 and earned Pacific Coast Athletic Association's Coach of the Year in 1984. He also received the Collegiate Volleyball Coaches Association's National Coach of the Year award in 1983.

Liskevych spent two years (1972-73) as an assistant coach for the men's volleyball team at George Williams College before earning the first head coaching job of his career coaching the Ohio State men's team. Under his supervision from 1974-76, the Buckeyes were co-champions of the Midwest Intercollegiate Volleyball Association both of his seasons and he earned MIVA coach of the year both times.

Liskevych got his start in coaching women as an assistant for the USA Women's National Team at the Pan American Games in 1975.

Since 2003, Liskevych had been the owner and president of Total Sports, Inc., a sports marketing and consulting company. Prior to Total Sports, Liskevych was the president and co-founder of ARK Digital Technologies, Inc., which produced and marketed digital video systems and developed software solutions for sports. In addition, he has spent time as a consultant for the Australian national teams since 1995.

Liskevych and his wife, Nancy, have two children. Mark, who graduated from the University of Chicago in June 2008 and lives in Chicago, and Krista, a student and former soccer player at the University of Wisconsin.

MARK BARNARD

Associate Head Coach
Eighth Year
U. of Sydney '91

Mark Barnard, the former head coach of the Australian Women's National Team, officially joined the Oregon State University volleyball staff on July 22, 2005 and begins his eighth season with the program.

He was promoted to Associate Head Coach in July 2008.

Barnard brings with him a long list of accomplishments within the volleyball community. Barnard has coached at the international level for over 11 years and has been the head coach of the Australian Women's National Team since 2001.

Barnard's responsibilities at Oregon State include overseeing and planning practices. He is also responsible for the setters and offense.

"Mark has a wide range of coaching experience at the international and national levels in Australia that lend themselves well to the Pac-10 environment," head coach Taras Liskevych said.

A native of Sydney, Australia, Barnard was an assistant for the National Team from 1997-00, including the Sydney Olympics. During that time Barnard also served as head coach of the women's national junior team (1999-2000) and women's national youth team (1997-99). In 2001 Barnard led the National Team of Australia to its first qualification to the World Championships in over 20 years. At its height, the Australian team was ranked No. 12 in the world.

Barnard, who broke into coaching at the high school level, coached at Westfields Sports High School from 1992-97. They won the National Championships in 1995-96 becoming the first school to ever achieve this honor. He also spent time coaching the National Junior Men's Team from 1994-97.

Barnard was no slouch on the court either, playing on the 1984 Australian Junior Men's Team and also played on New South Wales Junior Teams from 1982-87, three times winning the National Championships and was an All-Australian 12 selection.

Barnard is a 1991 graduate of the University of Sydney with a degree in Education and Science. Mark and his wife, Louise, have two children, Isabella, and Alexander.

EMILY HIZA

Assistant Coach
Second Year
Iowa '09

Emily Hiza was promoted to the position of assistant coach in May, 2012 after spending the 2011 season as a volunteer assistant coach at Oregon State.

In her first season with the Beavers, as the team's volunteer assistant coach, she facilitated and oversaw training with an emphasis on individual and team defense and passing. She also coordinated the team's community service efforts and founded "MiniBeavers" a program in which student-athletes mentor and tutor elementary school children.

Hiza was a standout player at the University of Iowa from 2005-08, earning Academic All-District honors twice and Big Ten Academic honors three years. The four-year team captain finished her Hawkeye career second in school history for digs with 1,929 and 12th for service aces with 97.

Upon her graduation she accepted a position in the private sector with an investment banking company. The native of Swink, Colo., also was the head coach of the Colorado Junior Volleyball Club for two years and since May of 2011 had been the head coach of the Boss Volleyball Club in Albany, Ore.

Hiza, a native of Swink, Colo., graduated from Iowa in 2009 with a Bachelor of Business Administration, majoring in finance and marketing, while earning a minor in Spanish.

Luke Maloney is in his first year as a volunteer assistant coach with the Beavers after spending the 2011 season as a graduate student manager.

Prior to coming to Oregon State, Maloney worked as a coach for NEVILLIZMS in Bellevue, Wash., a private company specializing in individualized volleyball training, under former U.S. Men's National Team Head Coach Bill Neville. He also served as the Jackson High School varsity assistant coach and junior varsity head coach.

Maloney played libero and outside hitter for the George Mason Patriots from 2006-10. He was named a 2008 EIVA All-East Second Team selection, while anchoring serve reception and defense at libero with 437 career digs. As outside hitter, he contributed to the top-ranked blocking team in the nation, earning 101 total blocks.

Maloney hails from Richmond, Va., and graduated from George Mason University in 2010 with a Bachelor of Arts in English, earning Dean's List honors.

CODY MARCH

Director of Operations
Sixth Year
Oregon State '07

Cody March begins his fourth season as Director of Operations and sixth season as part of the Oregon State volleyball program. March previously served as the assistant director of operations during the 2008 season and team manager in 2007.

March's responsibilities with his new title will include all team logistics including team travel, management and supervision of the spring youth volleyball tournaments and supervision of all team managers.

In his first season, he coordinated film exchange and all video projects. Last season, he continued to coordinate film exchange, led home match operations, video projects and assisting with all travel planning.

Prior to his work with the volleyball program, March spent four seasons with the men's basketball team, where he was the head manager and film coordinator for his final two years.

March is from Monroe, Ore., and is a 2007 graduate of Oregon State with a degree in Exercise and Sport Science with an Applied Option and a minor in Business Administration. He is married to the former Stephanie Smith.
