FAST BREAK NOTES

- Michigan is 16-5 overall this season. It continues to be the best start for the Wolverines under John Beilein.
- Michigan's last three games have been down-to-the-wire action. U-M secured a one-point 60-59 win over #9 MSU after the Spartans missed a last second shot attempt. After trailing by as much as 20 at Arkansas, U-M's late rally fell just short as Trey Burke's last second three rolled around the rim and fell out giving the Wolverines a two-point loss, 66-64. After leading at Purdue halfway through the second half, a Boilermaker rally gave them a four-point lead with five minutes remaining. After tying the game with three minutes to go, a Jordan Morgan dunk and Evan Smotrycz free throw helped the Wolverines regain the lead and take a two-point decision, 66-64, as a Boilermaker last second shot fell short.
- Michigan is 5-2 overall and 4-1 in games decided by five-or-fewer points this season.
- Michigan's 6-2 Big Ten record has the Wolverines tied for the conference lead with Ohio State and Michigan State -- both of whom U-M plays over the next week.
- One key to the win at Purdue was Michigan's shot selection as the Wolverines only attempted 14 long range buckets, which tied a season-low, closing 6-for-14. On the season, U-M averages 23.5 three-point attempts per game.
- Stu Douglass has started the last three games and responded by averaging 8.3 points, 3.3 rebounds and 3.3 assists per game. He helped U-M to the win at Purdue with 12 points, five rebounds, three assists and two steals.
- Zack Novak has grabbed eight rebounds in three of his last four games.
- In addition to his rebounding, Zack Novak has gone 12-for-21 from long range (57.1 percent) over the last four games hitting double figures in three of those games.
- Over his last four games, Jordan Morgan has shot 68.2 percent from the field (15-for-22), while averaging 9.0 points and 4.8 rebounds. In his last two games, he scored a season-best tying 16 at Arkansas and followed with 12 at Purdue.
- Evan Smotrycz played in just 15 minutes at Purdue, however tallied 10 points in those minutes, including the game-sealing free throw with four seconds remaining.
- Trey Burke has five Big Ten honors this season -- Player of the Week (1) and Freshman of the Week (4).

- Michigan is one of seven teams in the nation to have two wins over top-10 ranked opponents. U-M defeated No. 8 Memphis at the Maui Invitational and No. 9 Michigan State at the Crisler Center. Ohio State leads the nation with three wins, while, Michigan, Indiana, Georgetown, Kansas, Kentucky and Rutgers each have two.
- Michigan's win over #18/19 Wisconsin snapped a 10-game losing streak to the Badgers. It also marked the first win for John Beilein over Wisconsin as he is now 1-9.

a season-low seven points.

Michigan is led in scoring by Tim Hardaway Jr. (15.2) and Trey Burke (14.1). Hardaway has 16 games scoring in double figures with four 20-plus point games, while Burke has hit for double figures in 18 games with three 20-plus point games.

• Tim Hardaway Jr. scored a season-high 26 points in the win against Penn State, going 11-for-18 from the field. He managed to shoot 10-for-11 on two-point shots – scoring from the low-post, slashing to basket and taking backdoor cuts for dunks.

• This season, Tim Hardaway Jr. has 10 games in which he has reached double figures in the second half alone, compared to just four in the first half. Games of note for Hardaway's second half surges include not scoring vs. Duke in the first half, but closing with 19 in the second; after scoring three points at Oakland in the first half, he scored 18 in the second half to close with 21 for the game and after scoring six points at Purdue in the first half, he added 13 in the second half giving him 19 in the road win.

• Tim Hardaway Jr. tallied the second double-double of his career with 17 points and 10 rebounds in the win against Wisconsin. Hardaway's other double-double was another 17-point, 10-rebound performance against Northwestern (Feb. 9, 2011).

• Trey Burke scored a career-high 27 points in the win against Minnesota, going 8-for-11 from the field. This included a 2-for-2 clip from beyond the arc in addition to his 9-for-11 effort from the free throw line.

• Trey Burke (14.1 ppg) is second among Big Ten freshmen in scoring average, trailing only Indiana forward/center Cody Zeller (15.1 ppg). Burke is 17th in scoring average among the nation's top true freshmen.

• Trey Burke is tied for second in the Big Ten in assists, averaging 5.0 assists per game and eclipsed 100 assists in his first season as he has 104. Over his last nine games, he has 52 assists compared to just 21 turnovers. Overall, Burke is tied for fourth among the nation's top true freshmen. Burke has 11 games this season with five-plus assists and posted career-bests of nine against Duke (Maui Invitational) and at Oakland (Palace).

• In addition to his scoring and assist stats, Trey Burke has averaged 4.7 rebounds per game over the last seven games, including posting a career-best seven boards in three of those contests -- at Indiana, Northwestern and at Arkansas.

• One more stat item for Trey Burke, he has nine blocks this season, which is tied for second on the team behind Evan Smotrycz's team leading 10 and Jordan Morgan's and Jon Horford's nine -- all who stand over 6-8.

• Jordan Morgan continues to lead Michigan and is second in the Big Ten in field goal percentage at 65.1 percent (71-for-109). He led both the Wolverines and the conference last season at 62.7 percent.

• Jordan Morgan has collected at least seven rebounds in five of his last seven games, including a career-best 12 rebounds against Minnesota. Over the seven games, he has 55 boards (7.8 per game) and gathered 22 offensive rebounds (3.1 per game).

• Evan Smotrycz leads U-M, shooting 43.8 percent from long range as well as with 5.7 rebounds per game. He has five games with three-plus triples in a game and has grabbed five-plus rebounds in 11 games, reaching the 10 rebound mark three times.

• Evan Smotrycz posted double-doubles in three consecutive games. First, he had 17 points and a career-best 11 rebounds against Alabama A&M, followed by an effort in which he tied his career-high with 20 points to go along with 10 rebounds in the win over Bradley. He posted his third straight game with 10 points and 10 rebounds against Penn State.

RECORD WATCHERS

• Stu Douglass has not missed a game in his career, playing in 123 consecutive games. With 10 regular season games remaining (without postseason), he will be just two away from U-M's all-time record of 135, which is held by Loy Vaught (1986-90).

• Zack Novak has played in 121 total games. With 10 regular season games remaining (without postseason), he will be just four away from U-M's all-time record.

• Zack Novak became the 18th Wolverine to start 100 games. He currently ranks eighth with 109. He has started his last 80 consecutive games.

INTRODUCING THE NEW CRISLER CENTER

- With the renovations of Crisler Arena, the addition of the Player Development Center and eventually the arena club and stores, Michigan will now refer to the entire complex as Crisler Center.
- Phase I of Crisler Center's renovations, which was completed at a cost of $20 million, primarily addressed infrastructure needs such as repair of the roof, electrical, plumbing and air handling systems.
- The most noticeable area of Phase I, however, was the complete renovation of Crisler Center's interior bowl, which included new HD scoreboards, new seating for the entire arena area, including club seating, expanded seating for people with disabilities, the addition of hand rails, the construction of loge box seating, as well as the newly added Wolverine Den.
- Phase II of Crisler Center's renovation will begin during the 2011-12 season. This portion of the project, which is budgeted for $52 million, will add approximately 63,000 gross square feet to the Crisler Center, allowing for new fan entrances, expanded and renovated concourses, new restrooms and concession areas, fan interactive areas, additional retail spaces and ticketing areas, as well as a private club space.
- Michigan moved into its new home -- the Player Development Center -- in mid-October.
- The Player Development Center was built at a cost of $23.2 million.
- The PDC has a total of 57,000 square feet, including two practice courts, the men's and women's basketball offices, meeting rooms, film rooms, a weight room, an athletic training room, an equipment room and new team locker rooms.

BEILEIN NOTABLES

MILESTONES: Currently, John Beilein has 634 wins in 34 years of coaching. Beilein won his 600th career game as a head coach against Gardner-Webb (80-58, Nov. 21, 2010) at the Crisler Center. Over the span of his career he has coached 1,024 games.

ALWAYS THE HEAD MAN: In his 34 seasons coaching in college basketball, John Beilein has only served as a head coach. He has seven stops during that time period, starting at Erie Community College (1979-82) and Nazareth (1983), before heading to LeMoyné (1984-92) for nine seasons. He made the jump to Division I and spent five seasons at Canisius (1993-97), Richmond (1998-2002) and West Virginia (2003-07), before coming to Michigan.

SUCCESS CONTINUES: John Beilein has compiled winning records in 29 of 34 seasons -- with 16 of the past 20 at the Division I level. Beilein has never had back-to-back losing seasons during his career. He has made 12 postseason appearances in his 19 seasons at the helm of a college Division I basketball program -- six NCAA Tournament and six NIT.

THE 20-WIN STANDARD: John Beilein is the only active coach in the collegiate ranks to record a 20-win season at four different levels: junior college, NAIA, NCAA Division II and NCAA Division I. In fact, Beilein has recorded a 20-win season in all seven coaching stops in his 34 seasons. Overall, Beilein has compiled 16 20-win campaigns.

ONE OF SEVEN: John Beilein has guided four different programs to the NCAA Tournament -- Canisius (1996), Richmond (1998), West Virginia (2005, 2006) and Michigan (2009, 2011). Beilein is one of seven coaches to take four different schools to the Big Dance. There has never been a coach to take more than four different schools to the NCAA Tournament. It should be noted, with Beilein's 1988 Division II NCAA Tournament appearance, he technically has taken five different teams to the NCAA postseason.

The list of seven includes:

- John Beilein (Canisius, Richmond, West Virginia, Michigan)
- Lefty Driesell (Davidson, Maryland, James Madison, Georgia State)
- Jim Harrick (Pepperdine, UCLA, Rhode Island, Georgia)
- Lon Kruger (Kansas State, Florida, Illinois, UNLV)
- Rick Pitino (Boston U., Providence, Kentucky, Louisville)
- Tubby Smith (Tulsa, Georgia, Kentucky, Minnesota)
- Eddie Sutton (Creighton, Arkansas, Kentucky, Oklahoma State)

BEILEIN AT THE HELM OF U-M

• (THE 2010-11 SEASON): John Beilein entered his fourth season at Michigan with one of the youngest teams in the nation as the Wolverines roster featured no seniors and 11 underclassmen, tied for 16th-most in the nation. The Maize and Blue, which was picked to finish near the bottom of the Big Ten, opened league play 1-6 before winning at Michigan State for the first time since 1997. That victory propelled U-M to an 8-3 finish to the regular season, ending with a 9-9 record in the Big Ten. Michigan earned the fourth seed at the Big Ten Tournament, its highest since 2003, and advanced to the semifinal for the first time since 2004. U-M qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the second time in three seasons, earning a No. 8 seed. The Wolverines defeated No. 9 seed Tennessee, 75-45, the largest margin of victory ever in an 8-9 matchup.

• (THE 2009-10 SEASON): In his third season at Michigan, John Beilein's Wolverines picked up two wins over top-15 teams (No. 15 Ohio State and No. 15 UConn) while falling victim to close losses in a 15-17 campaign. Michigan lost nine games by seven-or-fewer points as the Wolverines just could not seem to get that late game break. Senior DeShawn Sims and junior Manny Harris picked up All-Big Ten honors for the second consecutive season, with Sims earning second-team honors while Harris garnered third-team accolades. Harris declared for the NBA at the completion of the season, forgoing his senior year at Michigan.

• (THE 2008-09 SEASON): The second season of the John Beilein era at Michigan saw his Wolverines return to national prominence, ending a 12-year NCAA Tournament drought with a selection to the 2009 event. U-M recorded the program's 22nd 20-win season in school history, ending with a 21-14 record, doubling the win total from a season prior. Michigan advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament after upsetting Clemson (62-59) in the first round. In addition to the postseason, U-M set single-season records for free throw percentage (75.7 percent), three-point field goals made (305) and attempts (912).

• (THE 2007-08 SEASON): In his first season with Michigan, John Beilein's young Wolverine team played one of the toughest schedules in the country, facing eight selections to the 2008 NCAA Tournament and 11 nationally ranked opponents. Beilein established a foundation for his U-M program, starting three freshmen and two sophomores throughout the season and, as the year came to a close, saw his Wolverines improve. Half of Michigan's 10 wins were over the final 10-game stretch (one in Big Ten Tournament action).

2011-12 BOX SCORES

Zack Novak hit four long range buckets en route to a 14 point night, while adding eight rebounds in 35 minutes in road loss at Iowa.

Trey Burke led Michigan with 20 points, four rebounds, three assists, two blocks and two steals as U-M won a thrilling 60-59 decision over instate rival MSU.

Trailing by as much as 20 points, a Trey Burke last second three-pointer went halfway down and popped out as U-M could not complete the comeback at Arkansas.
