PATRIOT LEAGUE NOTEBOOK

COLLEGESWIMMING.COM MID-MAJOR POLL

Several Patriot League swimming and diving teams have been recognized on the latest installment of the CollegeSwimming.com Mid-Major Poll. The Navy men's swimming and diving team is currently ranked No. 6 in the poll, while the Army men and Bucknell men were ranked Nos. 14 and 24, respectively. The Navy women found themselves ranked No. 2 in the poll, while the Bucknell women are currently No. 16. The poll has four release dates throughout the course of the season: November 14 (pre-Invite), December 20 (post-invite), February 6 (pre-Conference) and March 6 (post-Conference).

QUOTABLE

"It was a great team win. The team came out firing right from the opening relay. We won a lot of close races, but the key to our win, as it has been all season, was our depth."
Navy Men's Coach Bill Roberts after his team defeated Penn.

"The team has been training really well. We said we had to go out and make something exciting happen to win today. This is a great win for our senior class to end their dual meet careers with. We talked during the last break about us needing to finish races faster. That was something we were not doing early in the meet. Thuy-Mi [Dinh] and Tara [Chapmon] had great closing strokes in the relay. Thuy-Mi is swimming with so much confident right now, and Tara has the guts of a champion."

Navy Women's Head Coach John Morrison after defeating Penn.
