RECAP: Lindsay Whalen scored 19 points, and No. 12 Minnesota overcame a sluggish first half with an 11-0 run that proved decisive in a 67-55 victory Friday night over Providence. Whalen and Corrin Von Wald scored four points each during an 11-0 run as Minnesota (6-0) broke open a close game. Von Wald added 16. Michal Epstein led Providence (2-4) with a season-high 21 points. Minnesota led 46-44 in the second half when Von Wald sank a pair of free throws and Whalen finished off a fast break. After Kim Prince hit one free throw, Von Wald missed home a layup, Prince buried a jumper and Whalen hit two more free throws for a 57-44 lead with 7:02 to play. The Gophers, off to the best start in school history, hit just six of their first 17 shots and the Friars built a 14-11 lead. But Whalen led 17-11 Minnesota rally for a 28-22 lead. She scored on a driving layup, and later buried a 3-point shot. Then she sank a jumper

RECAP: The Providence College women's basketball team was defeated, 73-54, by Michigan State during a non-conference match-up on December 20 in Providence, R.I. MSU's Kelli Roehrig led the Spartans past the Friars with a game-high 25 points on 10-of-11 shooting from the field and a five-of-six performance from the free-throw line. Providence was led offensively by sophomore guard Michal Epstein (Rehovot, Israel). The Spartans shot a blistering 57.1-percent (16-28) from the field en-route to their 39 first-half points, and finished the game 26-of-46 from the field (56.5 percent). In the second half, the Friars outscored the Spartans, 35-34, and staged a rally to come within seven points (47-40) with 9:42 remaining in the game. Aside from Epstein's 15 points, sophomore Jessica Simmonds (South Orange, N.J.) was the only other Friar to reach double-figures with 10 points. Freshman guard Elaine McCants (Boston, Mass.) and senior guard Brooke Freeburg (Waterford, Pa.) each finished with seven points. All of McCants' seven points came in the second half.

Senior center/forward Kacee Wheeler (Bakersfield, Calif.) recorded her second-consecutive double-double with a career-high 18 points and 11 rebounds. The two squads were tied at the halftime break, 35-35. Epstein and Wheeler combined for 23 of the Friars' 35 points with 13 and 10 points, respectively. In the second half of play, Providence outscored West Virginia 40-26. The Friar offense was fueled by junior guard Kristin Quinn (Sewell, N.J.) who netted all of her 11 points in the second half. With 7:57 remaining in the ball game and a one-point Mountaineer lead, Quinn connected on a three-point basket to put the Friars on top for good, 56-54. Quinn also was fouled on the play and hit the ensuing free-throw to make the score 57-54.

RECAP: The Providence College women's basketball team fell to Seton Hall, 54-42, on February 13, 2002 in Providence, R.I. Sophomore Jessica Simmons (South Orange, N.J.) posted her third double-double of the season for the Friars in the losing effort with 19 points and 10 rebounds. The Friars trailed by nine points (26-17) at halftime after falling behind by as many as 13 in the first half. PC started the second half of play on a 8-0 scoring run to cut the Pirate's lead to one point (26-25) with 15:26 remaining on the game clock, but that would be the closest the Friars would get for the remainder of the game. Seton Hall outscored Providence, 25-17, the rest of the way enroute to the 12-point win (54-42). Sophomore Quiana Copeland (Mattapan, Mass.) pulled down a career-high nine rebounds for PC. Cecilia Lindqvist led Seton Hall with 16 points and added six rebounds. Ashley Bush pulled down a team-high seven boards for the Pirates.

N.J.) and junior guard Kristin Quinn (Sewell, N.J.) each scored 15 points to lead Providence. In the first half, the Friars jumped out to a 10-point lead (12-2) with 16:44 on the clock. However, Notre Dame gathered its composure and began to slowly chip away at the lead. With 7:35 remaining in the first period, the Irish exploded on a 20-2 scoring run to close out the half and take a 42-29 lead into the lockerroom. The Friars refused to die, as they rallied to cut the lead to as little as four points (65-61) with seven seconds remaining in the game, but Ratay knocked down two free-throws for the Irish with five seconds on the clock to seal the win. Joining Simmonds and Quinn in double figures for Providence were seniors Andrea Horvath (Sopron, Hungary) and Brooke Freeburg (Waterford, Pa.). The duo scored 11 points each, while Freeburg added seven rebounds. Sophomore forward Quiana Copeland (Mattapan, Mass.) pulled down a game-high nine rebounds for the Friars in the losing effort.
