GAME

PROVIDENCE HOSTS UMASS IN FINAL NON-CONFERENCE GAME OF THE SEASON... The Friars host Massachusetts in their final non-conference game of the season on Monday, December 31. The game will be played at Alumni Hall/Mullaney Gymnasium in Providence, R.I. Tip-off is slated for 4:30 p.m.

PROVIDENCE VS. UMASS ALL-TIME... The Friars and Minutewomen have met 14 times in the history of the two women's basketball programs. Entering the 15th meeting on December 31, the all-time series is tied, 7-7. UMass has earned victories in each of the last three games. In six meetings all-time in Providence, R.I., the series is tied, 3-3.

THE LAST TIME PROVIDENCE DEFEATED UMASS... The last time Providence defeated UMass in women's basketball dates back to December 2, 1984 (63-47) at the Warner Classic in Fairfield, Conn.

GOT THEM RIGHT WHERE WE WANT THEM... The UMass women's basketball team enters Monday's game with a 6-6 overall record. The Minutewomen are a perfect 5-0 at home this season, but have struggled on the road with a 1-5 mark away from home.

HOME SWEET HOME... The Friars have posted an all-time mark of 262-141 (.650) at Alumni Hall/Mullaney Gymnasium in Providence, R.I. This season the Friars are 4-2 at home. On November 20, the Friars played their 400th game all-time at Alumni Hall when they hosted Manhattan.

PROVIDENCE IS 5-0 WHEN LEADING AT THE HALF... The Friars are 5-0 this season when leading at halftime. Each of the team's victories when leading at the half have been decided by a double-digit margin. PC defeated Brown by a season-high 34 points on November 9 after leading 39-23 at the half. On November 28, the Friars led Fordham 26-20 and went on to win by 18 (63-45). On December 5, the Friars led Harvard, 37-30, at halftime and won the game, 78-64 (+14). On December 8 against Central Connecticut, the Friars led by 11 points at halftime and went on to win the game, 76-64 (+12). Most recently, Providence led New Hampshire, 31-25, at the half on December 28 and earned a 73-41 win. The Friars have won six games this season by a double-digit margin. The other game PC won by double figures was against Florida International (71-60). In that game, PC trailed by nine at the half.

A WORLD OF DIFFERENCE WHEN LEADING AT THE HALF... Providence has led at halftime in five games this season and have won those games by an average of 22.0 points per game. In Providence's four victories when either trailing or tied at halftime, the Friars have won by an average margin of 8.25 points per game.

FRIARS ARE 6-0 WHEN SCORING 70+ POINTS... The Providence women's basketball team is 6-0 this season when it scores 70+ points in a game. The Friars opened the season with a 79-45 victory over Brown on November 9. PC's second win of the year, when scoring 70+ points, came against Iona on November 17. The Friars defeated the Gaels, 73-64, in that game. On November 23, the Friars earned a 71-60 victory over Florida International. The Friars beat Harvard, 78-64, on December 5, and followed with a 76-64 victory over Central Connecticut on December 8. On December 28, Providence posted a 73-41 victory over New Hampshire.

IN SEARCH OF VICTORY #10... The Friars are hoping to secure their 10th victory of the season on December 31 when the squad faces UMass at Alumni Hall. It would mark the second-straight season that Providence has recorded double-digit victories. Additionally, it would be the first time PC has recorded back-to-back double-digit win seasons since doing so during the 2000-01 and 2001-02 seasons.

FRIARS LOOK TO MATCH NON-CONFERENCE WIN TOTAL FROM A SEASON AGO... Last season, the Friars finished the non-conference schedule with a 10-3 record. With a victory against UMass on December 31, to close the 2007-08 non-conference schedule, the Friars would finish the non-conference slate at 10-3 for a second-straight year. Prior to last season, Providence had not recorded 10-or-more non-conference victories in a season since 1990-91 (10-1).

START ME UP... Freshman Trinity Hull (Cranston, R.I.) has appeared in the starting line-up in each of PC's last two games. She has tallied double figures and led the team in scoring in each of those games and has averaged 14.0 points, 3.5 rebounds, 1.5 assists and 1.5 steals per game. In the first 10 games of the season off the bench, Hull recorded three double-digit scoring games and averaged 7.1 points, 2.7 rebounds, 1.9 assists and 1.7 steals per game.

HULL MAKES ADJUSTMENTS FROM DEEP... Freshman Trinity Hull (Cranston, R.I.) season 0-9 from beyond the three-point arc during the first seven games on the schedule. Over the course of the last five games, Hull is shooting 71.4-percent from the three-point territory, having hit 10 of 14 attempts from deep.

CLARK HITS CAREER HIGH ON PERFECT SHOOTING PERFORMANCE AGAINST NEW HAMPSHIRE... Sophomore Jessica Clark (Bronx, N.Y.) scored a career-high 10 points against New Hampshire on December 28 on 5-of-5 shooting from the field. Her previous career high in scoring was five points, which she set on two occasions this season against URI (12/1/07) and Hartford (11/13/07).

HOLMES CONTINUES TO DISH IT OUT... Sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) led the team in assists a year ago as a freshman with 103 handouts for an average of 3.7 assists per game. Through 12 games on the 2007-08 schedule, Holmes leads the team once again in assists with 47 (3.9 apg). She posted a season-high six assists against New Hampshire on December 28 and has handed out five assists in three other games this year vs. Hartford (11/13/07), Iona (11/17/07) and Fordham (11/28/07). She has handed out at least four assists in seven of PC's 12 games. In her career, Holmes has dished five or more assists in a game 14 times (39 career games).

BLOCK PARTY... The Friars registered a season-high 11 blocked shots against Fordham on November 28. It marks the second most blocked shots by a BIG EAST Conference team this season, through games played on December 29. It also marks the most blocked shots in a single game by the Friars since December 20, 2000 when the team swatted 11 shots against Holy Cross. Sophomore Emily Cournoyer (North Attleboro, Mass.) leads the Friars in blocked shots this season with 18 (1.5 bpg).

GET OUT OF HERE... Sophomore Emily Cournoyer (North Attleboro, Mass.) and senior Aga Lorenc (Lubycza, Poland) lead the way in blocked shots this season through 12 games. Cournoyer owns 18 blocked shots, and recorded a season-high four blocks against Brown on November 9. She has recorded two-or-more blocks in a single game five times this season, including four of the last five games. A year ago, Cournoyer posted 26 blocked shots, marking the third-highest block total for a freshman in program history. Lorenc has 13 blocks this year. She posted a season-high three rejections against Iona on November 17. Last season, she led the Friars in blocked shots with 33.

HOME GROWN... The Friars feature two players from Rhode Island on their roster this season. Junior Chelsea Marandola (Johnston, R.I.) returns for her third season with the program, while Trinity Hull (Cranston, R.I.) joins the club as a rookie. Hull played scholastically for Cranston High School East.

MAKING STRIDES... Third-year Head Coach Phil Seymore has helped the program increase its win total in each of his two seasons on the sidelines since taking over the program in 2005. Seymore inherited a team that posted a 1-27 record prior to his hire. In his first season with the team in 2005-06, the Friars made a 7.5 game improvement in the win column with an 8-19 record. Last season, the improvements continued as the team completed the year with a 13-16 record. This year, Providence is off to an 9-3 start and is hoping to guide the program to back-to-back double-digit wins seasons for the first time since the 2000-01 and 2001-02 seasons.

NEW HEIGHTS... Senior center Aga Lorenc (Lubycza, Poland) is the tallest player to ever play women's basketball at Providence College. She is flanked by six other players on the roster, who are over 6-feet tall, marking the most players over six feet on the roster in a single-season all-time.

DARRIAN ECLIPSES 300-REBOUND PLATEAU... Junior Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.) recently eclipsed the 300-rebound plateau in her career after playing just 34 games in a Friar uniform. She owns 320 career rebounds for an average of 9.4 rebounds per game. Additionally, 115 of her 320 rebounds have come off of the offensive glass, which is good for 3.4 offensive rebounds per game (34 career games). This season, Darrian is averaging 8.7 rebounds per game through 12 contests. She also has led the team in rebounding 10 of 12 games.

DARRIAN LEADS FRIARS ON BOARDS... Junior Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.) has hauled in a team-best 104 rebounds this season through 12 games for an average of 8.7 rebounds per game. She has led the Friars on the boards in 10 of 11 games this season, including each of the last eight outings. On November 28, she matched her career high in rebounding with 16 boards against Fordham. Darrian has 14 double-digit rebounding games in her career, and is the only Friar to reach double figures on the glass this season (three times).

20-SOMETHING... Three Friars have reached the 20-point plateau in a single game this season a total of four times, and each of the three players hit the single-game milestone for the first time in their careers. Junior Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.) leads the Friars with two, 20+ point games. She recorded a career-high 26 points against Fordham on November 28 and chipped in 20 points against Central Connecticut on December 8. Sophomore Brittany Dorsey (Detroit, Mich.) hit for a career-best 22 points against Harvard on December 5, and freshman Mi-Khida Hankins (Baltimore, Md.) netted a season and career-best 20 points against Central Connecticut on December 8.

BALANCING ACT... The Friars have showcased a well-balanced offense this season through the completion of 12 games. Three Friars are averaging double-figures in scoring, while a total of six players on the roster are averaging 7.0-or-more points per game. Sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) leads the team in scoring with 11.6 points per contest. Junior Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.) and freshman Mi-Khida Hankins (Baltimore, Md.) check in with 10.6 points and 10.0 points per game, respectively. Additionally, six different players have led the team in scoring in a single-game this season, and nine different players have recorded double figures in scoring at least once.

COURNOYER DISHES SIX ASSISTS VS. CENTRAL CONNECTICUT... Sophomore forward Emily Cournoyer (North Attleboro, Mass.) dished out a career-high six assists in PC's 76-64 victory over Central Connecticut on December 8. Her six assists are tied for the most assists recorded by a PC player this season through 12 games. On December 28, sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) handed out six assists against New Hampshire. Prior to the Central Connecticut game, Cournoyer's previous career-high in assists stood at three (vs. Notre Dame on February 17, 2007).

HELPING HANDS... The Friars have recorded a season-best 16 assists in two games this year against Harvard (December 5) and Central Connecticut (December 8). Providence has registered double-digit assists in nine of its 12 games this year.

DOUBLE-TROUBLE... Junior Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.) leads the Friars in double-doubles this season with two. On November 28, she recorded 26 points and 16 rebounds against Fordham. On December 8 against Central Connecticut, Darrian recorded her second double-double of the season with 20 points and 14 rebounds. Darrian owns four double-doubles in her career.

DORSEY SHINES IN PROVIDENCE'S VICTORY AT HARVARD... Sophomore Brittany Dorsey (Detroit, Mich.) scored a career-high 22 points in PC's victory over Harvard on December 5. Dorsey was 7-15 from the floor, including 6-10 from beyond the three-point arc. Her six three-point field goals was two shy of the Friars' single-game record of eight set by Jennifer Davis against Rutgers (11/28/93) and Julie Wheeler vs. West Virginia (2/22/97). Dorsey also connected on two-of-two free throws and recorded three assists and one steal in 33 minutes of action.

STEALING THE SHOW... Freshman guard Trinity Hull (Cranston, R.I.) recorded eight steals against Iona on November 17 in Providence, R.I. Her theft total was one shy of the all-time single-game steal record set by Helen Jessie-Mency on February 5, 1991 against Pittsburgh. Hull is third among her teammates in steals this season (20).

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL • GAME NOTES

PROVIDENCE'S WIN OVER BROWN ON NOVEMBER 9 MARKS LARGEST MARGIN OF VICTORY SINCE 1997... The Friars 34-point victory over Brown on November 9, marks the largest margin of victory for the Friars since defeating Puerto Rico, 88-45, on November 28, 1997 at the San Juan Shootout in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

COMEBACK KIDS... On November 17, the Friars overcame a seven-point halftime deficit (33-26) to defeat Iona, 73-64. It marked the largest halftime deficit overcome by the Friars en route to a victory since November 22, 2002. On that day, the Friars trailed Navy by nine points (37-28) at halftime and rallied to defeat the Mids, 70-62, in Burlington, Vt. On November 23, the Friars rallied to defeat Florida International, 71-60, after trailing by nine points at halftime (33-24) in Miami, Fla. It equaled the Friars' largest halftime deficit overcome to gain a victory since beating Navy on November 22, 2002. Providence has earned victories in four games this season when either trailing or tied at halftime.

FRIARS PICKED TO FINISH 15th IN THE BIG EAST PRESEASON COACHES' POLL... The Friars were picked to finish 15th in the BIG EAST Conference Preseason Coaches' Poll, released on October 25 at ESPN Zone in New York City, N.Y. The Friars recorded 36 points in the poll. Connecticut topped the poll with 225 points and 15 first-place votes. Rutgers received the remaining first-place vote and registered 211 points. Georgetown sits below Providence with 20 points.

HOLMES AND COURNOYER EARN ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM HONORS... Sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) and sophomore Emily Cournoyer (North Attleboro, Mass.) were named to the Florida International Thanksgiving Classic All-Tournament Team at the conclusion of the championship game on November 25. Holmes averaged 19.0 points, 1.5 rebounds, 3.5 assists and 2.0 steals per game in the tournament. She recorded back-to-back 19 point games - marking a single-game career high in scoring for the point guard. Cournoyer averaged 9.0 points, 7.0 rebounds, 2.0 assists, 0.5 blocks and 0.5 steals per game.

HEAD COACH • Third Season PHIL SEYMORE

Phil Seymore embarks on his third season as head coach of the Friar women's basketball team. Seymore was hired as the eighth coach in the program's 33-year history on April 7, 2005.

The program has made tremendous strides during Seymore's two-year tenure on the sidelines. Prior to his arrival, the Friars won just five games during a two-year period from 2003 through 2005, including an 0-32 record versus BIG EAST Conference opponents.

During Seymore's first season with the Friars, the team posted an 8-19 overall record and a 3-13 mark in the BIG EAST. It marked a 7.5 game improvement in the win column. Last season in 2006-07, the Friars showed even greater signs of progress with a final record of 13-16 (3-13 BIG EAST). On January 3, 2007, Seymore led Providence to an impressive 106-94, double-overtime, victory over 13th-ranked Louisville during BIG EAST regular-season play. At the time, the Cardinals were one of five NCAA Division I women's basketball programs who were undefeated.

The Friars' 13 victories on the year marked the most in a single season since the 2001-02 campaign, when PC finished the year at 13-15. Providence started the year with a 7-1 record, including victories in each of its first six games. It stands at PC's best start since 1990-91 when the team began the year with seven-straight victories.

Furthermore, Providence completed the non-conference portion of its schedule with a 10-3 record. It marked the first time since the 2002-03 season that PC had posted a winning record in non-conference play. It also marked the most non-conference victories in a single season since 1990-91.

Prior to his appointment as head coach, Seymore served as an assistant coach for the Friar men's basketball team, helping the squad earn NCAA Tournament berths in 2001 and 2004.

"Phil Seymore brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to our women's basketball program," Driscoll said. "He has enjoyed success as a student-athlete, a professional athlete and as a coach. He understands the mission of the College and is dedicated to rebuilding our program while providing a positive experience for our student-athletes."

"Phil has an outstanding basketball mind," Providence College Men's Basketball Head Coach Tim Welsh said. "He has been a valuable part of our program over the last five years. We will miss him on our staff. I believe he will be a tremendous head coach and that this is a great hire for the College."

Seymore came to Providence in 2000 after serving as an assistant coach at the University of Richmond for three seasons under Head Coach John Beilein. While at Richmond, he was responsible for the team's recruiting and the offensive and defensive development of guards and wingmen. He also prepared scouting reports of the opposing teams for the Spiders.

"Phil was one of my first full-time assistant coaches," West Virginia Men's Basketball Head Coach John Beilein stated. "I knew in a short time that I wanted him to be my assistant forever. His attention to detail is impressive, but what is equally impressive is how he looks at the big picture -- life, basketball and recruiting. This is a great selection for Providence and the BIG EAST."

A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., and a graduate of Canisius College, Seymore began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Canisius in 1983 under his former coach Nick Macarchuk (a former PC assistant coach). After one season at Canisius, he went to Turner Carroll High School in Buffalo, N.Y. where he coached for four years, including two seasons as the head coach. His 1989-90 team at Turner won the State Catholic School Class C title and the 1988-89 squad captured the Manhattan Cup Championship. After leaving Turner Carroll High School in 1990, Seymore spent the next seven years as an assistant coach at Canisius. Five of those seven years were under Beilein.

Seymore began his collegiate playing career at Independence Junior College before transferring to Canisius. At Canisius, he averaged 16.8 points and 4.6 assists in two seasons as a point guard. Seymore was selected in the seventh round of the 1982 NBA draft by the New York Knicks. He played one season for Albany of the Continental Basketball Association where he earned 1983 All-Star honors. Seymore is a member of Canisius' Athletic Hall of Fame.

Seymore resides in Rumford, R.I., with his wife, Alicia, and his daughter, Amani.

Recap: The Providence College women's basketball team rallied from a seven-point halftime deficit to defeat Iona, 73-64, on Saturday, November 17 at Alumni Hall/Mullaney Gymnasium in Providence, R.I. Sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) led the Friars with 17 points, all of which came in PC's decisive second-half run. With the victory, Providence improves to 2-1 overall, while Iona drops to 1-3 on the season. Iona held a 33-26 lead at halftime despite 18 turnovers in the opening 20 minutes of play. The Gaels led in part to Providence's 24.4-percent shooting, as it connected on just 11 of 45 attempts in the first half. Iona shot 11 of 27 in the opening half (40.7-percent). Iona never trailed in the opening half, but the Friars did manage to tie the score on three different occasions. In the second half, Providence went on a 15-8 scoring run to tie the game, 41-41, with 14:20 left in the game. PC went on to outscore the Gaels' 17-5 over the next 6:10 to secure a 12-point lead (58-46) with 8:10 left in the game. Holmes' started the run with a three-point bucket at the 13:11 mark to give the Friars' their first lead of the game (44-41). Iona trimmed the lead to four (58-54) with 6:03 remaining on the clock, but it proved to be the closest the Gaels would get the rest of the way as turnovers continued to be their undoing. Iona finished the day with 39 miscues. Providence shot an impressive 59.4-percent in the second half of play to secure the win, hitting 19 of 32 shots in the final 20 minutes of play.

Recap: The Providence women's basketball team outscored Illinois, 34-26, in the second half, but its nine-point halftime deficit proved to be too much to overcome. The Friars fell to the Illini, 60-59, in the championship game of the Florida International Thanksgiving Classic on November 25 in Miami, Fla. PC had an opportunity to tie the game with two seconds left in regulation, but made just one of two free throw attempts. PC tipped back the rebound off the missed free throw and freshman Trinity Hull (Cranston, R.I.) put up a put up a last second jumper to win the game, but it bounced out. Jenna Smith poured in 16 first-half points for the Fighting Illini. Smith was perfect from the field and from the foul line in the opening 20 minutes, shooting 6-6 from the floor and 4-4 from the line. Sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) led the Friars with eight points in the first half. Illinois shot 56.5-percent from the field in the first half (13-23), while Providence shot 38.7-percent (12-31). The Illini were cold from the floor in the second half, as they connected on just 5-24 shots from the field (20.8-percent). Illinois managed to keep its head above water from the foul line, where it cashed in on 16-17 free throws. PC made 12-of-26 shots from the floor in the second half (46.2-percent) and were 6-7 from the free-throw line. PC's only miss in the second half from the charity stripe came in the waning seconds. Illinois held a 32-31 edge on the boards in the game. The Illini also capitalized on the offensive glass, scoring 17 second-chance points off 10 offensive boards. Providence had just six second-chance points in the game. Holmes led the Friars with 19 points, three assists and two steals. Sophomore Emily Cournoyer (North Attleboro, Mass.) chipped in 10 points. Holmes and Cournoyer were each named to the All-Tournament Team. Smith recorded a double-double for Illinois on 29 points and 10 rebounds. The Friars will return to action on Wednesday, November 28 against Fordham University in Bronx, N.Y. Tip-off is slated for 7:00 pm.

Recap: The Providence College women's basketball team defeated Fordham, 63-45, on November 28 at Rose Hill Gym in Bronx, N.Y. Junior forward Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.) registered 26 points and 16 rebounds. Darrian also recorded a career-best four blocked shots. The Friars improve to 5-2 on the season, while Fordham drops to 0-7. PC started the game on a 7-0 run during the course of the first two minutes and seven seconds. PC continued to dominate, taking a 19-8 lead with 11:07 left to play in the half as sophomore Jessica Clark (Bronx, N.Y.) hit a lay-up. After Clark's lay-up, the Friars went cold from the floor for the next 6:10 while Fordham cut the deficit to one point (19-18) on a 10-0 run. Freshman Mi-Khida Hankins (Baltimore, Md.) got the Friars back on track with two-straight baskets at the 3:57 and 3:30 marks and sophomore Brittany Dorsey (Detroit, Mich.) connected on a three-point bucket to push PC's lead back to eight (26-18) with 2:23 on the clock. Fordham's Kyara Weekes slashed through the lane and scored a lay-up with just one second left to get within six points (26-20) at the half. Darrian led the Friars in the first half with nine points and nine rebounds. The Friars shot 46.4-percent from the field on 13-of-28 shooting in the final 20 minutes, including a 2-of-3 showing from beyond the arc, en route to a 37-25 scoring advantage in the second half. Fordham shot just 36.4-percent (8-22) in the second half, and 32.6-percent for the game (15-46). Providence gained an 11-point lead (37-26) with 13:29 left in the game. Fordham cut the deficit to seven (39-32), but it proved to be as close as the Rams would get the rest of the way. After trading baskets, PC regained a double-digit lead (42-32) with 10:46 to go and never looked back. The Friars led by as many as 19 in the game (63-44) with 37-seconds left, and finished with an 18-point edge (63-45) for the win. Darrian connected on 11 of her 15 shot attempts from the field. In addition, ten of her 16 rebounds came off the offensive glass, helping to give the Friars a 17-8 advantage in second-chance points. Sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) chipped in 13 points and dished out a season-high five assists for the third time this year. Holmes also collected a game-high three steals.

Recap: The Providence women's basketball team defeated Rhode Island, 64-55, in Kingston, R.I. on December 1. Trinity Hull (Cranston, R.I.) scored a career-high 15 points to lead the Friars on 5-of-8 shooting from the field and added three rebounds, two assists and two steals in 34 minutes. Whitney Hollis tallied 12 points to lead the Rams. The Friars improve to 6-2 on the year, while URI drops to 4-4 overall. The Friars hit four of their first five shot attempts in the first half to take a 10-6 lead five minutes into the action. Rhode Island responded with an 8-0 run to take a 14-10 lead with 12:17 remaining in the half. The Rams maintained the lead the rest of the way and led by as many as six points on three occasions. The Friars managed to cut the lead to one (24-23) with 2:31 left in the opening half, but URI sank two free throws to push the lead 26-23 with 55 seconds on the clock. Junior Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.) answered with a lay-up to get PC back within one (26-25). Providence had an opportunity to take a one-point lead going into halftime, but missed a lay-up with two seconds remaining. Safi Mojidi led the Rams with eight points in the first 20 minutes of play, while three Friars recorded a team-high five points. Providence came out of the gate in the second half to outscore the Rams, 18-6, to take an 11-point lead (43-32) through the first seven minutes of play. The Rams battled back to get within two (47-45) with 6:27 remaining in the game on a 13-4 run, but couldn't keep the momentum going. Providence pushed its lead back to 11 (59-48) with 1:02 left and never looked back. The Friars shot 56-percent (14-25) from the field in the second half en route to the 64-55 win. URI connected on nine-of-24 second-half shots, including just one field goal in the first 10 minutes of the second half. Providence forced 25 URI turnovers in the game and converted them into 26 points. Meanwhile, the Friars committed a season-low of 11 turnovers. The Rams held a 36-27 advantage on the boards. Joining Hull in double figures for PC was sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) and sophomore Brittany Dorsey (Detroit, Mich.). Holmes netted 14 points, while Dorsey chipped in 10. Darrian finished the night with six points and a team-high six rebounds.

Recap: The Providence women's basketball team defeated Harvard, 78-64, on December 5 in Cambridge, Mass. Sophomore Brittany Dorsey (Detroit, Mich.) poured in a career-high 22 points on seven-of-15 shooting, including six-of-10 outside of the three-point arc. She added three rebounds, three assists and one steal. Providence took a 37-30 lead into the halftime, after knocking down 13-of-29 (44.8-percent) shots from the floor in the opening 20 minutes, including a six-of-12 performance from beyond the three-point arc. The Crimson connected on 43.3-percent of their attempts from the floor (13-30), but struggled mightily from the foul line (2-8) and the three-point line (2-8). Harvard managed to keep things close in the first half with a 20-16 advantage on the boards. Eight of the Crimson's 20 boards came off the offensive glass. In the second half, Providence hit 16-of-28 (57.1-percent) shots from the floor (3-6 from three) to outscore Harvard 41-34. As the Friars got hot in the second half, the Crimson got cold. Harvard made just nine-of-24 attempts from the floor (37.5-percent). Four of Harvard's nine field goals, however, were from three-point territory as it connected on four-of-six attempts from deep. Harvard also capitalized at the foul line in the final 20 minutes making 12-of-14 attempts (14-22 for the game). The Friars were not only impressive from the field in the second half, but also improved their status on the boards. After being out-rebounded by four in the opening 20 minutes, PC owned a 21-8 advantage on the boards in the second half and finished the game with a 37-28 edge. Joining Dorsey in double figures for Providence were freshman Mi-Khida Hankins (Baltimore, Md.), sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) and junior Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.). Hankins notched a career-best 16 points, while Holmes and Darrian finished with 12 points and 11 points, respectively. Darrian pulled down a game-high eight rebounds. Holmes and freshman Trinity Hull (Cranston, R.I.) each dished a game-best four assists.

Recap: The Providence College women's basketball team won its fourth-straight game with a 76-64 victory over Central Connecticut on Saturday, December 8, 2007 in Providence, R.I. Junior Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.) notched her third double-double of the season on 20 points and 14 rebounds. The freshmen duo of Mi-Khida Hankins (Baltimore, Md.) and Trinity Hull (Cranston, R.I.) tallied individual career highs of 20 points and 17 points, respectively. Central Connecticut hung around for much of the first half and led by one point on two separate occasions. With 7:15 left in the half, the Friars trailed by one point (20-19), marking CCSU's second and final lead of the contest. From that point on Providence closed the half on a 20-8 scoring run to take a 39-28 advantage into the locker room at the break. Providence pushed its lead to 15 (47-32) during the first 3:39 of the second half, but Central Connecticut rallied with a 12-3 scoring run to cut the deficit to six (50-44) with 12:35 left in the game. It proved to be as close as the Blue Devils would get the rest of the way. The Friars went on to lead by as many as 16 points (72-56) in the half with 2:12 showing on the game clock. Aside from the strong play of Darrian, Hankins and Hull. Sophomore forward Emily Cournoyer (North Attleboro, Mass.) dished out a career-high six assists and blocked a game-high three shots for the Friars. Sophomore Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) contributed eight points, three assists and two steals. For Darrian, six of her 14 rebounds came off of the offensive glass. Providence recorded a season-low nine turnovers on the day. Central Connecticut gave the ball up 21 times, allowing Providence to score 29 points off of turnovers.

Recap: The Providence College women's basketball team fell to No. 23/24 Michigan State, 73-35, on Thursday, December 20 at Alumni Hall in Providence, R.I. Freshman guard Trinity Hull (Cranston, R.I.) made the first appearance of her career in the starting line-up and led the Friars with 13 points. The Spartans got a double-double from Kalisha Keane on 14 points and 10 rebounds. MSU's Brittney Thomas led all scorers with 15 points. The Friars struggled from the field in the game, connecting on just 12-of-59 shot attempts (20.3%). Michigan State shot 46.2-percent (12-26) in the first half of play, but cooled off a bit in the second half (29.6-percent) and finished the game 20-of-53 from the field (37.7-percent). Michigan State capitalized on 22 Friar turnovers in the game to record 23 points. The Spartans also had difficulties taking care of the ball and registered 20 turnovers, but Providence only managed to score eight points off of MSU's miscues. The Spartans also cashed in at the foul line, where they connected on 27-of-35 free-throw attempts (77.1-percent). Providence finished the game 9-of-18 from the foul line. Junior forward Shantee Darrian (Trenton, N.J.) grabbed a team-high seven rebounds for Providence. Three off her seven boards came off of the offensive glass. Sophomore guard Kendria Holmes (Charlotte, N.C.) dished a team and game-high three assists.
