- Discussion of Ruff Riders: Athletes should become Ruff Riders, too, because the WCC basketball tournaments are going to be held at Leavey this year, and seats will be distributed to Ruff Riders only based on a point system determined by how many games you've attended. So it is important also to come and get your card swiped before halftime.
- Committees: Everybody should have checked the sign-up sheet to make sure your information is correct, add your phone number and sign up for a committee. If you have not done so yet, contact Milena Basile and let her know which committee you'd like to be on. The choices are Event Committee (headed by Lacey Smale), Public Relations (Jenny Siegel), Community Outreach (Micaela Esquivel) and Educational Programming (John Hinman).
- WCC Update: Ryan told us about Senate Bill 193, which would pull all California schools out of the NCAA and would have serious effects on college athletics in California. Contact Ryan at 925-413-4814 for more information. He is going to try to organize some sort of carpool for athletes to go to Stanford on Oct. 28 around 9:30 a.m. when people arrive to discuss the issue from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Some people also had a suggestion to make a big petition for us to sign.
- Book of the Quarter Club: This book club meets once a quarter and discusses a book that the members read. This month's book is "My Losing Season," and the discussion will be held in the library on Oct. 29 from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. Contact Micaela Esquivel for more information. She is taking sign-ups for people to read the book and participate in the discussion and also to help make posters.
- Bronco Battle Games: Each team must report their Bronco Battle Game to Chardi ASAP. Give her your top three choices, and specify if you have one that you want people to go to more than the others. In order to increase attendance at the Bronco Battle Games, Lacey might try to organize a theme for each one (like the ridiculous theme for the Playa's Ball and the men's basketball game last year).
