Setting the Scene...

Sacred Heart enters the final four of the Atlantic Hockey Tournament just two wins away from the school's first ever conference championship. The Pioneers will have to play its way through Air Force in the semifinals Friday night before potentially taking on the winner of RIT and Canisius Saturday in the championship game. SHU earned its spot in the final four with a sweep of Holy Cross in the quarterfinals last weekend. The Pioneers shutout the Crusaders 4-0 Friday night before earning a dramatic 4-3 victory in overtime Saturday.

Playoff History...

Sacred Heart holds a 9-12 record in its postseason history at the division I level. The Pioneers are 8-8 all-time in the Atlantic Hockey tournament: 7-5 in the quarterfinals, 1-1 in semifinals, and 0-1 in their only championship appearance. SHU also lost the conference's only "final five" game two years ago. Sacred Heart and Air Force met in the quarterfinals of last years tournament in Colorado Springs, CO. The Falcons, who went on to become tournament champions, needed all three games to dispatch the Pioneers in a heated series. SHU has never crossed paths with either RIT or Canisius in Atlantic Hockey postseason play. Holy Cross defeated Sacred Heart 4-0 in the 2004 AHA championship in the Pioneers lone appearance in the title game. The Pioneers also posted a 1-4 playoff mark when competing in the MAAC in 1999-2003.

News & Notes

Sweeping Holy Cross...

The Pioneers find themselves in Rochester, NY with a chance to win a conference title thanks to a sweep of Holy Cross in a series that had a little bit of everything. The Pioneers shutout the seventh seeded Crusaders Friday night in a 4-0 victory in which both teams took 36 shots on goal. Nick Johnson got his NCAA leading eighth game winning goal and Steven Legatto earned his second shutout of the season. Saturday night saw the two teams needing an extra period to decide a winner. Just 4:53 into overtime the game found the hero it needed. Matt Gingera deflected in the game winner as Patrick Knowlton flipped a shot towards the net, following a successful SHU penalty kill.

Making History...

Seniors Nick Johnson (Windsor, CT) and Dave Jarman (Toronto, ON) have become one of the most dangerous pairs in all of college hockey. Johnson leads the AHA in goals with 27, currently tying him for tops in the NCAA with Bobby Butler of UNH. Johnson has rewritten the SHU record books in his senior year. He holds the record for goals in a single season, previously Aaron Foust (23), and points in one season surpassing Pierre Luc-O'Brien's 50. Jarman leads Atlantic Hockey and ranks fourth in the nation with 35 assists this season. He has smashed the SHU single season record, which was previously held by Pierre-Luc O'Brien (31). Jarman is the Pioneers active scoring leader with 137 points (47 goals and 86 assists) in his time at SHU. He ranks fourth on SHU's all time point list behind O'Brien (158), Martin Paquet (142), and Alexandre Parent (141).

C.J. Marottolo joins the Pioneers for his first season as head coach. Marottolo comes to Sacred Heart after 13 years as an assistant and associate head coach at Yale. During his tenure the Bulldogs reached the NCAA tournament twice, including last season. Marottolo has also earned a reputation as an excellent recruiter. At Yale he brought in four All-Americans, nine All-ECAC selections and four Ivy League Rookies of the Year. An assistant coach at Trinity College for two winters before Yale, Marottolo played collegiate hockey at Northeastern University and graduated in 1989. The following two years he served as player/head coach of the Hockey Club of Metz, France. While overseas, he was also head coach of Euro-Sport/Drummond Hockey School in Amenville, France. Marottolo, who speaks French fluently, has also served as an assistant coach for Team New England at the 1997 Select 16 USA Hockey Festival and coached the 1998 Select 15 team before becoming head coach of the 1999 New England Select 15 squad that finished fourth. He and his wife, Lynn, daughter, Kailey, and son, Jack, reside in North Haven.
