HEAD COACH ANTHONY BOZZELLA

SECOND SEASON • SETON HALL '89

Anthony Bozzella begins his second season as the head women's basketball coach at Seton Hall University after guiding the Pirates to one of the most successful campaigns in program history in just his first year at the helm.

The 2013-14 season saw Bozzella lead the Pirates to a 20-14 overall record and a berth to the WNIT. The postseason appearance was just the sixth in program history and the first since 2007, and The Hall advanced to the third round of the tournament for the first time. Additionally, Seton Hall reached the 20-win plateau for the first time in 19 years and only the eighth time in school history and had a winning record for the first time since 2008-09.

The Pirates posted an 8-10 record in BIG EAST play, dispatching Providence College in the first round of the BIG EAST Tournament to advance to the league quarterfinals for the first time since 2002. SHU saw three players receive All-BIG EAST accolades, the first time that happened since 1995.

Bozzella's fast-paced offensive system and exciting style of play led to a 71.1 ppg scoring average in 2013-14, the third-highest single-season scoring display in the program's history. As a result SHU's top-two scorers both ranked in the top-four in the league in scoring.

Bozzella, a 1989 graduate of Seton Hall University, is the fourth women's basketball coach in Seton Hall history. He brought 21 years of collegiate head coaching experience to South Orange, spending the previous 11 seasons at Iona College in New Rochelle, N.Y., where he resurrected the Gaels' program into a perennial contender in the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference.

Over his final eight seasons at Iona, Bozzella's impact really began to take shape. During that stretch he posted a 138-116 overall record, reaching three MAAC title games and earning four WNIT berths over a seven-year span.

With a 20-13 overall record in 2012-13, Bozzella recorded his third 20-win season at Iona, reached the MAAC championship game for the third time and guided the Gaels to their fourth WNIT appearance.

He coached a pair of MAAC Players of the Year, saw four of his players earn MAAC Rookie of the Year accolades, and had 21 players named All-MAAC from 2006-13. Bozzella's 85-56 record in the MAAC over his final seven seasons at Iona was the second best mark in the league. He was named the Co-MAAC Coach of the Year in 2005-06, when he guided the Gaels to their first winning season in 23 years, tying for third place in the MAAC standings before advancing to the semifinals in the conference tournament.

Exceptional academic achievement was a trademark for Bozzella during his tenure at Iona. He boasted a 100 percent graduation rate for all the players he recruited in addition to seeing 64 student-athletes earn MAAC All-Academic honors. The Iona women's basketball program boasted a perfect NCAA Academic Progress Rate (APR) score in five of his last six seasons and received four-straight NCAA APR Public Recognition Awards.

Prior taking the reins at Iona for the 2002-03 season, he commandeered an amazing turnaround in just two years at the head coach at Long Island University. There he coached a team that had not posted a winning record in 21 years to the Northeast Conference championship in just his first season, earning an automatic berth into the NCAA Tournament.

In his second season at LIU the Blackbirds went 18-12 and reached the conference championship game for a second-straight year.

Bozzella received his coaching start at Southampton College of Long Island University. In a similar fashion to the way resurrecting programs would come to define his career, Bozzella took over a program that never had a winning season and turned them into a consistent winner.

It took him just three seasons to guide Southampton to the first winning record in program history and that started a streak of six-straight winning campaigns, culminating with a program-record 20-9 season in 1999-00.

Bozzella and his wife, Maria, met at Seton Hall University and have been married for more than 20 years. They currently reside in West Orange, N.J., and have two children, Samantha, 17, and Joseph, 14.
