LAST TIME AGAINST MEMPHIS (Jan. 19, 2012 - Hattiesburg, Miss.)

Bouts of cold shooting early on and often by the Southern Miss women's basketball team led to an 85-44 loss to Memphis in Conference USA action Thursday night.

The Lady Eagles finished the game shooting 30.5 percent from the field that included only 20 percent in the first half. Memphis on the other hand shot 50.8 percent from the field including 68.8 percent from behind the arc. The Tigers also controlled the boards as the Memphis out-rebounded USM, 51-31.

Jamierra Faulkner and Tanecka Carey scored in double figures for Southern Miss with 14 and 13 points, respectively. Faulkner also dished out nine assists.

Memphis placed a quartet of players in double figures led by Danay Collier with a game-high 15 points. Jasmine Lee finished with 13 points followed by Brittany Carter with 11 and Ramses Lonlack with 10. Bilqis Abdul-Qadir handed out 10 assists. Nicole Dickson led Memphis with a team-high 11 rebounds.

Southern Miss struggled from the opening tip as Memphis raced out to a 7-0 lead before the first media timeout. Faulkner finally put the Eagles on the board at the 15:07 mark, but Memphis came right back as Abdul-Qadir connected on jumper and Dickson knocked down one of her three-pointers for the Tigers' first double-digit lead of the game. Faulkner connected on another jumper in the paint before Memphis reeled off 11 unanswered points for a 23-4 lead at the 10:29 mark. Southern Miss got a pair threes from Carey and Faulkner to cut the lead to 15, but just as quickly, Memphis pushed the lead to 20 after Dickson's three and Krishunda Harvey bucket. Memphis closed out the half with a 12-6 run for a 42-16 halftime lead.

The Lady Eagles' point product improved in the second as the team shot 41.4 percent on 12-of-29 and scored 28 points. Memphis also improved on its second half statistics with 53.6 percent shooting from the field. The Tigers got 32 points in the paint while scoring 26 points off 26 USM turnovers.

Building a successful program takes time and commitment and does not come without its ups and downs. When Joye Lee-McNelis took over the Southern Miss women's basketball program in 2004, she wanted to return the program to the winning tradition of old. Now in her seventh season, there is something to be said about the return of an athlete to his or her alma mater ... loyalty and passion. With her appointment, the Lady Eagles have made steady strides in that direction.

McNelis' presence has formed a complete, well-rounded women's basketball program that is putting Southern Miss back on the map.

Last season, McNelis placed two players on the Conference USA third team in Rachel Vigers and Tanesha Washington while freshman Jamierra Faulkner earned all-freshman honors.

Head Coach Joye Lee-McNelis

In 2010, Pauline Love earned her third-straight first team all-conference award.

In 2008-09 season, Southern Miss was one-win away of claiming at least a share of a regular season title and one win away from returning to postseason.

Her 2007-08 and 2008-09 teams posted back-to-back 20-win seasons for the first time since the 1994-95 and 1995-96 seasons. She also had two players named to the C-USA All-Tournament team (Pauline Love and Andrea Barber), another first team all-conference selection (Love) and the C-USA Sixth Player of the Year honoree (Tanesha Washington). The Lady Eagles' Candace Rucker earned two Rookie of the Week honors as well.

In 2007-08, the program landed its initial, first-team all-conference selection (Love) since the inception of Conference USA, recorded the first 20-win season since 1995-96, and advanced to postseason play for the first time since 1999-2000. In addition, they had two players earned player of the week honors (Love and Stephanie Helgeson).

While the 2006-07 team proved to be the turning point, as a short-handed team recorded a 15 win season, landed three players on C-USA All-Conference teams (Amber Eugene, Kendra Reed and Lauren Pittman), and three others were named C-USA Players of the Week (Eugene, Reed and Emer Foley).

With a combined effort of McNelis's door-to-door, person-to-person approach to promoting and the team's successes, Lady Eagle basketball has seen an increase in attendance every year she has been here, including increased season ticket sales and memberships in the "The Wings Club."

McNelis also displays a passion for a more important aspect of succeeding in sport -- succeeding in the classroom. In 2008-09, Kendra Reed became the only three time C-USA All-Academic player. The year before, two Lady Eagle players were named to the C-USA All-Academic team (Reed and Liz Biland). In 2006-07, Southern Miss placed two players on the Academic All-District Team by ESPN The Magazine (Reed and Kristin Chaney), two were named to C-USA All-Academic teams (Reed and Chaney), five received C-USA Commissioner's List honors (Reed, Patterson, Chaney, Biland and Rachel Manuel), and one (Chaney) was named C-USA Women's Basketball Scholar Athlete of the Year.

Evidence of improvement was seen following the 2005-06 season, in which the squad posted a 14-15 record, a plus-five game turnaround. She accomplished that feat with only one junior college transfer, two sophomores and five freshmen. The Lady Eagles finished in a tie for third in the conference with a 10-6 record.

McNelis returned to her alma mater after 13 seasons as head coach at the University of Memphis, where she compiled a 229-156 record. She was only the second coach in Lady Tiger history and took over a program that had won just 21 games over a three-year span, including back-to-back 6-22 finishes.

In just three seasons, McNelis turned the Memphis program into a winner and over 12 years, she helped the Lady Tiger program gain national recognition when in 1999 Memphis entered the AP Top 25 for the first time in 14 years.

McNelis is credited with leading her Memphis teams to four-consecutive conference championships, five-consecutive 20-win seasons and eight postseason tournament appearances. She coached 14 all-conference players and has two former players currently playing in the WNBA. Over those 13 seasons, 32 players who have competed in the program have completed their degrees.

After her first five seasons at Memphis, McNelis was tabbed as one of the nation's "Coaches on the Rise" by Basketball Times. During McNelis' tenure, she coached three conference newcomers of the year and two conference players of the year. Among her top recruiting highlights is Tamika Whitmore, who finished her career at Memphis as the second all-time leading scorer in school history. As a senior, Whitmore was named to five different All-American teams.

Prior to her stint at Memphis, McNelis spent five seasons as an assistant coach at Southern Miss (1986-91). The 1987 and 1990 squads won the Metro Conference tournament championship. The 1986-87, 1988-89 and 1989-90 teams each participated in the NCAA Tournament, with the 1989-90 team advancing to the second round. During her tenure, those teams posted a record of 103-47 and her last two seasons those teams posted a 53-10 record, including the most wins in a season with 27 in 1989-90 and finished the season ranked in the Top 20.

"I believe that you can have an interest in a lot of things, but you have to have passion," McNelis said. "I'm very passionate about being the head coach here, and I'm passionate about the job. I think it's bigger than basketball.”

While at Southern Miss, McNelis was responsible for recruiting. Several of her classes were ranked in the Top 10 nationally. She also had a hand in recruiting Janice Felder, a 1994 Kodak All-American and the most decorated Lady Eagle in the program’s history.

Prior to accepting the Southern Miss position, McNelis spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Southwest Texas State University, where she served as recruiting coordinator and was co-director of the summer basketball camp.

McNelis’ accomplishments do not end with basketball. While at Memphis, she became one of Memphis’ most informative and motivational speakers. She served as chairman for the 1997 and 1998 March of Dimes Walk America, which reached an all-time high in charitable donations.

McNelis also helped raise money for LeBonheur Children’s Medical Center, as well as conducted clinics throughout the city of Memphis. She was honored by the Kiwanis Club with the George F. Hixon Fellowship Award.

Community involvement does not stop with McNelis, as she believes it is important for her players to be active in the community as well. During the 2005-06 season, McNelis and her Lady Eagles performed more community service than any of the other athletic teams, receiving the Southern Miss Athletic Department’s Community Service Award.

Following Hurricane Katrina, McNelis delivered supplies and goods to the people in her community of Leetown. Other community service projects include the Extraordinary Eagles, honoring elementary and middle school students at two of the Lady Eagles basketball games for academic achievement. The Lady Eagles and coaches worked as “celebrity waitresses” at Chesterfield’s Restaurant to raise money for breast cancer.

McNelis stepped out the box and went back to her roots of being a cowgirl, as she rode a mechanical bull that raised in excess of $7,000 for the Hattiesburg’s Salvation Army Boys and Girls Club. Her team had numerous speaking engagements at the local elementary and middle schools about the benefits of staying in school. McNelis, her staff and players also held several free clinics for faculty and staff children as well as Upward Basketball.

She was a four-year starter for the Lady Eagles from 1980-84, helping the program post a 73-28 record. She helped Southern Miss advance to postseason play for the first time in 1981, when the Lady Eagles advanced to the second round of the AIAW Region Tournament. McNelis ranks among the top 10 leaders in seven statistical categories, including eighth in all-time scoring with 1,512 points, eighth in scoring average (14.0 ppg), field goals made and attempted, free throws made and attempted and free throw percentage. She had an outstanding career, represented by her induction into the Southern Miss Sports Hall of Fame in 1997.

She was a four-year letterwinner in basketball at Hancock North Central High School. Her teams went to the state tournament four-straight years and twice won state titles. She still reigns as the school’s all-time leading scorer.

On April 19, 1993, McNelis’ high school jersey No. 14 was retired, along with Minnesota Viking quarterback Brett Favre. That day was declared Joye Lee-McNelis-Brett Favre Day by Hancock County.

McNelis is married to Dennis McNelis, and the couple has two children, Whitney (21) a senior in the school of nursing and Connor (17).

THE LAST COURT APPEARANCE

BRIMINGHAM, Ala.— The UAB Blazers (15-5, 6-2) took their first-half momentum into the second half, overcoming a 19-point deficit to defeat Southern Miss, 65-59, in Conference USA action Sunday afternoon.

Southern Miss drops to 6-15 overall and remains winless in league play at 0-8.

Nitesha Pierce led the way for the Lady Eagles with 20 points while Jamierra Faulkner scored 14 points to go with eight assists and Tanecka Carey added 12 points and six assists. Karisma Chapman paced four UAB players with a game-high 25 points. Amber Jones was next with 14 points followed by LaShaundra Pratt with 11 and Michaelea Kleist added a double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds.

UAB outscored Southern Miss 21-10 over the first 10:41 to tie the game at 45-45 when Chapman hit a three-pointer, but the Lady Eagles came right back to regain a five-point advantage, 50-45, after Nitesha Pierce converted a three-point play and Ance Celmina added a bucket. The Blazers then scored the next seven points to take their first lead, 52-50, since the 4-0 lead in the first half. Faulkner then tied the game at 52-52 on a nice drive to the basket. Chapman then put the Blazers up for good on a basket and a pair of free throws for the 56-52 lead. Southern Miss cut the lead to two as Nitesha Pierce hit a layup, but that was as close as USM would get in the final 2:06. UAB was able to convert the occasional basket as well as convert 7-of-9 free throws.

The teams got off to a slow start not putting any points on the board in the first two minutes before UAB scored the first four points. The Lady Eagles answered with six unanswered points when Niesha and Nitesha Pierce scored back-to-back baskets and Faulkner added a layup to put USM up 6-4. UAB tied the score on a Chapman layup. Carey then ignited an 11-0 run with a three-pointer followed by layup. The twins then added a bucket and a pair of free throws before Carey capped off the run with a short jumper. Pratt ended the USM run with a three, but Faulkner answered with a three-ball to keep the margin at 11, 20-9. The Golden Eagle lead eventually ballooned to 19, 28-9, as USM scored eight straight. For the next five minutes, the teams traded baskets. UAB was able to close out the half on a 7-0 run. USM led 35-24 at the half.

Southern Miss finished the half shooting 72.2 percent, hitting 11 of its first 12 shots of to start the game.

The Lady Eagles finished the game shooting 50 percent from the field, but it was the 15 second chance points off 23 offensive rebounds for UAB that proved to be the difference. UAB held a 40-28 rebounding edge against USM.

LOST LEAD

Southern Miss lost a 19-point lead to UAB on Jan. 29, its biggest blown lead in a game (it lost) since last season against Tulsa. The Lady Eagles could not sustain a 16-point lead - falling 74-71 on Jan. 16, 2011.

PAINT IS GOLD

NEWS & NOTES

gone down as the Lady Eagles are averaging 25.2 points in league games.

OFF TO THE RACES

Southern Miss started the game against UAB hitting its first 11 field goals. At one point in the half had connected on 12-of-13 shots.

SO CLOSE

Jamierra Faulkner came close to adding a triple double to her resume with 20 points, 11 assists and eight steals against UTEP (1/26). Only three players in Southern Miss' history have recorded a triple double.

SPUTTERING OFFENSE

While the Lady Eagles defense has held their opponents under 60 points five times this season, the Southern Miss offense has struggled as well. The Lady Eagles were held under 60 points nine times, including the seven out of the last eight. In six games this season, Southern Miss was held under 50 points.

NO SOPHOMORE JINX

Jamierra Faulkner has not suffered the effects of the dreaded 'sophomore jinx'. Faulkner has upped her game this season as she is averaging more points, assists and steals over last season.

WEATHERING THE STORM

Since arriving at Southern Miss in 2004-05, Coach Joye Lee-McNelis has had to weather several seasons with injuries, suspensions and illness that have depleted her roster to small numbers. This season is no exception, as the Lady Eagles have only nine players available for games.

TURNOVERS HINDER LADY EAGLES

Turnovers have been a problem for Southern Miss on several occasions this season. The Lady Eagles are averaging 21.0 turnovers per game and have committed 20 or more turnovers 13 times in 21 games.

FROM DOWNTOWN

Southern Miss saw its 3-point streak end at 28 games after going 0-of-6 at Rice (1/22). Last season, USM was 0-of-7 from behind the arc against SMU on Jan. 27, 2011.

A SEASON LOW IN A HALF

Southern Miss scored its lowest point total in a half this season with the 16 points scored against Memphis. The previous low was 19 against UALR (12/3).

NOT GETTING TO THE LINE

Southern Miss has failed to get the line as often as its opponents. USM has made 320 trips to the free throw line and connected on 198 attempts. USM's opponent has taken 436 attempts and made 287, just 33 less than the Eagles' total attempts.

WHO GETS THE STARTING NOD

Coach Joye Lee-McNelis has used eight different lineups this season. Of the nine available players, all have started at least one game.

NIESHA PIERCE POSTS SEASON HIGH

Sophomore guard Niesha Pierce scored a season-high 16 points in the loss against UCF. She connected on 4-of-8 from behind the arc.

CAREY ADDS DOUBLE-DOUBLE

Junior guard Tanecka Carey added another double-double to run her total to three on the year with 11 points and 11 rebounds against Marshall (1/11). The 11 rebounds tie a season-high.

FAULKNER GETS ANOTHER DOUBLE-DOUBLE

Sophomore point guard Jamierra Faulkner added yet another double-double to her list. Faulkner tallied 13 points and handed out 10 assists. She is the only player in Conference USA with a game with 10 or more assists.

IT'S BEEN THAT LONG

Junior guard Tanecka Carey failed to score any points for the first time in her collegiate career and that includes the two seasons she played at Jones County Junior College.

NOT WHAT YOU WANT

Southern Miss recorded its lowest shooting percentage with the 28.6 percent against Houston (1/8). It marked the first time this season that the Lady Eagles did not shoot over 30 percent from the field.

MAKING A MOVE IN CAREER STATS

Jamierra Faulkner has inched her way into the top 15 in career assists with 323, passing Bridget Winston and Coach Joye Lee-McNelis. She also is in the top 20 in steals with 135. Tanecka Carey ranks in the top 25 in three-pointers made and attempted in only 20 games played in her career.

CAREY RECEIVES RECOGNITION

College Sports Madness has named Southern Mississippi's Tanecka Carey C-USA Women's Basketball Player of the Week for her exceptional performance in the past weeks games. The Madness identifies the highest impact players nationally and one from each conference in our weekly feature.

FAULKNER SHINES IN FIRST GAME BACK

Sophomore point guard Jamierra Faulkner turned in an outstanding performance in her first game, scoring a team-high 21 points to go with five assists. Faulkner, who missed the season-opener with an ankle injury, played 35 minutes. That was the first missed game of her career.

GETTING THE RUST OFF

Redshirt freshman Nitesha Pierce appeared to have gotten some of the rust off her game as she scored 11 points off the bench and grabbed eight rebounds. Pierce missed all of last season recovering from an ACL tear she suffered in the Mississippi/Alabama All-Star game in 2010.

LADY EAGLES AGAINST RANKED TEAMS

Southern Miss is 16-35 all-time against ranked teams dating back to the 1988-89 season. The last time a Southern Miss team defeated a ranked team was Feb. 27, 2000 against then No. 18/20 Tulane. The highest ranked team Southern Miss had defeated was No. 10/10 Texas Tech in 1995-96. Last season, the Lady Eagles faced three ranked teams (No. 9/9 Kentucky; No. 17/18 Georgia, No. 18/18 St. John's) and lost all three games.

LADY EAGLE DEBUTS

Six Lady Eagles donned the Black and Gold for the first time. Tanecka Carey made her official Southern Miss debut quite memorable as she scored a game-high 25 points while dishing out seven assists. Ance Celmina scored only six points but pulled down a game-high 12 rebounds. Also making an official debut was redshirt freshman Nitesha Pierce. Pierce hauled in seven rebounds to go with as assist and a steal. Sedreka Plummer, Hannah Fletcher and Wendy Miller all played double-digit minutes in the season opener. Plummer came off the bench to score six points and grab eight rebounds while Fletcher scored two points and had two rebounds. Miller did not score but collected four rebounds, had two assists, two blocks and three steals in 18 minutes of play.

SEASON OPENERS

Southern Miss tipped off its 37th year of women's basketball. The Lady Eagles have opened the season at home 20 times in the last 37 years and 17 times on the road that includes seven games at neutral sites. The Lady Eagles are 14-6 in home openers and 10-7 in games played on the road or at neutral sites. Southern Miss owns a 24-13 record in opening games. The Lady Eagles have opened regular play against William Carey once prior to this season, in 1988, with a win.
