What They're Saying:

"I have a great deal of respect for Coach Solomon ... what he's brought to the program, how they play."
- Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim

"I think he's doing a fantastic job. I just always knew that he would be an outstanding coach because he has all the qualities of a successful person ... he has a great attitude, great work ethic, and he just handles himself in a first-class manner. I was very confident as a head coach to hire him for his first coaching job, and he has been able to assist other very fine head coaches in helping build programs. I'm certain he's going to do a great job with the Bonnies because he's the kind of person that will endear himself to the community. He'll do a great job with the players; the players will all love him and his style of coaching. And he's very, very competitive. He'll be out there beating the bushes finding the right student-athlete to fit the St. Bonaventure program."
- George Mason coach Jim Larranaga

"Ask anyone in the college basketball world and they'll tell you what a great fit Anthony Solomon is for St. Bonaventure. He is a great fit given all the training he's had over his career. Hopefully, the last three years at Notre Dame have really trained him. He's been a huge part of our success. He's hungry, well-connected and, most importantly, well-respected. I can't emphasize enough how the Solomon family will be such a positive for the Bonaventure community. That's really important there, and Anthony, his wife Tracy and their kids will make such a positive impact."
- Notre Dame coach Mike Brey

"What a great match! Anthony will be a perfect match for St. Bonaventure University. A great University needs a special person running its basketball program, and St. Bonaventure has that in Anthony Solomon. With his experience working at some of the best schools in the country, he'll do a great job there. Anthony is a terrific person and coach."
- Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski

Scouting Northern Illinois

The Huskies come off an 81-66 loss at undefeated Kansas State on Dec. 21. Prior to that, Northern Illinois had defeated Akron (66-58) and Eastern Illinois (76-60). The Huskies' other win came over DePaul (84-69) on Nov. 27; their other losses were to Loyola-Chicago, Southwest Missouri State and Bradley. Coach Rob Judson's club is very balanced with eight players who average better than six points per game but no one over 10.3 ppg. Mike McKinney, a 6-4 shooting guard, leads the Huskies in scoring at 10.3 ppg followed by 6-9 forward Jonathan Byrd and 6-11 center James Hughes, both at 9.9 ppg. McKinney and Hughes share the team rebounding lead at 5.9 per game.

Gibbs Playing Bigger and Bigger ... and More and More

Sophomore Brian Gibbs' likely Christmas present is more playing time. The last three games, Gibbs has blossomed into a force, averaging 13.6 points and 4.3 rebounds per game and shooting 18-26 (.692) from the field over that stretch. The Dec. 17 game at Arkansas-Little Rock started Gibbs' rise as he totaled 14 points and five rebounds in just 19 minutes of action. What likely inspired Gibbs that night was playing in front of a group of friends and family — he is from Huntsville, Ala., and he attended Northwest Mississippi Community College last year. Gibbs followed that game with eight points and five rebounds against Niagara, then scored a career high 19 points on Dec. 22 against George Mason. Gibbs may be a power forward in a 6-5 body, but he refuses to let that deter him. At 225 pounds, the first-year player has the strength to play inside. "He's really taken advantage of his playing time. He's a seven-footer in terms of heart, emotion and passion," Bonnies coach Anthony Solomon said of Gibbs. On the season, Gibbs is averaging 7.4 points and 3.4 rebounds over just 16 minutes per night.

Lottin Makes Quick Return From Knee Surgery

Junior swingman Patrick Lottin underwent reconstructive surgery in April to repair a torn ACL in his right knee, so when he stepped on the floor a few minutes into the Marist game Nov. 23, it was a both a pleasant surprise and a much-needed boost to this team. One of the most improved players in the Atlantic 10 a year ago, the A-10 coaches recognized Lottin this fall with a spot on the preseason All-Conference third team. Lottin has demonstrated why, averaging team highs of 13.1 points and 6.8 rebounds through eight games. Lottin's five points at Arkansas-Little Rock was the first time he was held under 11 points this season and broke a streak of eight games (dating back to last season) he had scored in double figures. In 2003-04, Lottin finished second on the team in scoring (13.3 ppg), rebounding (4.5), assists (2.0) and three-point field goals (58). He scored in double figures 21 times. A fourth-year junior, he has two seasons of eligibility remaining.

Smith Logs Triple Duty

At 6-foot-5 and 195 pounds, junior guard Ahmad Smith is capable of playing multiple positions. He has done just that this year and his statistics bear that out. He leads the Bonnies in assists (37) and steals (12), is second on the team in rebounding (6.3) and third in scoring (8.7). The majority of Smith's playing time has been on the wing, though he has also handled the point as well. Dec. 20 against Niagara, Smith set a career high with eight assists. Dec. 4 at West Virginia, he recorded the first double-double of his career with 12 points and 11 rebounds.

Dunston's Immediate Impact

Junior guard Wade Dunston, a junior college transfer, has wasted little time in making a positive impression. He has led St. Bonaventure in scoring three times, has scored in double figures five times and is averaging 10.7 points per game. Dunston also leads the Bonnies in free throw shooting at 84 percent (43-51), a figure that ranks fourth best in the Atlantic 10. Playing his first game in a Bonaventure uniform at Iona, Dunston scored a game-high 22 points and grabbed four rebounds in 33 minutes coming off the bench. Dunston's other double-digit scoring outputs were 17 points against Marist, 10 at Canisius, 17 at Syracuse and 11 at Arkansas-Little Rock. The Washington, D.C., native was a highly-regarded player coming out of Bullis Prep High.

Walk-On Makes Impact

Rarely do walk-on players make the kind of impact on teams that Greg Lewis has had for St. Bonaventure. Now in his second season, Lewis has played in all nine games as the back-up to starting point guard Isiah Carson. Lewis has seen increased playing time the past four games, topped by a career-high 21 minutes against Niagara, as Coach Anthony Solomon has opted for a platoon of Lewis and Carson at the point. Lewis hit the first three-pointer of his career in the loss to Arkansas-Little Rock. Last season, Lewis played in 21 games and scored 26 points.

Newcomers Playing Key Roles

The Bonnies' five new players – freshmen Michael Lee, Isiah Carson and Willie Morse, sophomore Brian Gibbs and junior Wade Dunston – are all seeing meaningful playing time. Dunston is the Bonnies' second-leading scorer. Lee is fourth on the team in scoring, has started three times and posted an impressive 16-point performance at Syracuse. Morse is averaging 3.1 points per game, while Carson has started eight games at point guard and is averaging 2.0 assists. Combined, the five newcomers are supplying St. Bonaventure an average of 29.8 points per game.

Experience - Inexperience

A glance at the number of career games played and started at St. Bonaventure for the Bonnies' 11 core players:

Player	Games/Starts
Saulius Dumbliauskas	74/27
Patrick Lottin	72/19
Ahmad Smith	61/42
Yankuba Camara	37/29
Kern Carter	37/10
Greg Lewis	30/0
Michael Lee	9/3
Isiah Carson	9/8
Wade Dunston	9/7
Willie Morse	9/0
Brian Gibbs	8/1

Missing Marques Green

It would be hard for St. Bonaventure not to miss dynamic point guard Marques Green, who completed a superb career last year. The 5-foot-7 Green is St. Bonaventure's seventh all-time leading scorer with 1,734 points, and he holds school records for career assists, steals and three-pointers. He was a three-time All-Conference selection. Green is now playing professionally in France. A look at some of Green's honors and achievements in the 2003-04 season:

- NABC and USBWA All-District.
- 2nd Team All-Conference.
- Atlantic 10 All-Defensive Team.
- Finalist for Cousy Award (top point guard).
- Led nation in steals (3.8 per game).
- Set school season records for steals (107) and three-pointers (98).

Lottin Moving Up Three-Point Chart

Patrick Lottin has 92 three-point field goals in his career, 14 shy of tying David Vanterpool for 10th place on St. Bonaventure's career three-pointers list.

85th Season

This is the 85th season of St. Bonaventure basketball. The University's storied tradition in the sport includes an all-time record of 1,110 wins and 810 losses (.576), 57 winning seasons and 22 postseason berths.

Stevens, Pawlikowski Earn Walk-On Spots

A pair of guards, junior Craig Stevens and freshman Jason Pawlikowski, have earned roster spots as walk-ons. Stevens, who is in his second year on the team, played in the closing seconds of the Bonnies' Dec. 1 game at Syracuse, which is just a short distance from his hometown of Oneida, N.Y. Pawlikowski was an All-Western New York point guard last year at St. Mary's High School in suburban Buffalo.

Relph, Williams Wait In Wings

A pair of transfer student-athletes, 6-0 guard Tyler Relph and 6-10 forward Paul Williams, are practicing with the Bonnies this year and will be eligible at the start of the 2005-06 season. A sophomore, Relph will have three years of eligibility. Last season, he attended West Virginia, where he played in all 31 of the Mountaineers' games and averaged 5.0 points, 0.9 rebounds, 1.9 assists and 0.7 steals per game. A graduate of McQuaid Jesuit High School in Rochester, N.Y., Relph was named "Mr. Basketball" for the state of New York following his senior season of 2002-03, when McQuaid won the state championship. The Rochester Democrat & Chronicle twice named Relph its Greater Rochester Player of the Year. Williams played at Siena the past two seasons. As a sophomore, he averaged 2.6 points and 2.6 rebounds over 22 games. His freshman season, Williams averaged 3.2 points and 2.7 rebounds over 32 games and helped the Saints reach the second round of the NIT. Williams attended St. Patrick's High School in northern New Jersey, and his senior year, he was named "Best Big Man" in the state of New Jersey by the high school coaches association and was a first team All-State selection. Williams will have two seasons of eligibility at St. Bonaventure.

Mungar Among St. Bonaventure Hall of Fame Class of 2005

Former basketball standout Barry Mungar '86 is one of three former student-athletes who will be inducted into the St. Bonaventure Athletics Hall of Fame on Jan. 8. Mungar, a 6-foot-8 forward, was known as a tenacious interior player. Mungar ranks among the top 20 players in school history in both scoring and rebounding. Owner of 1,361 points and 651 rebounds over his career, the 6-foot-8 native of Toronto, Canada, helped St. Bonaventure to 67 victories over his four seasons, including an NIT berth in 1983. Mungar was an honorable mention All-East selection in his sophomore season. As a senior in 1985-86, he made the First Team All-Atlantic 10 when he averaged 17.0 points and 8.0 rebounds per game. Following his graduation, Mungar was selected by the Washington Bullets in the fourth round of the 1986 NBA Draft. He later earned a spot on the 1988 Canadian Olympic Team. Today, Mungar is an officer in the Hamilton (Ont.) Wentworth Regional Police. Christine Agresta '87 (basketball) and Garvin Ferguson '90 (swimming) will join Mungar in the Class of 2005.

Last year, Fox averaged eight points and 5.5 rebounds per game for a 23-6 team that finished 10th in the NJCAA Div. II poll.

The two main losses were guard Marques Green (19.4 ppg, 3.3 rpg) and forward Maurice Young (11.7 ppg, 4.2 rpg). St. Bonaventure returned two double-figure scorers in Patrick Lottin (13.3 ppg) and Ahmad Smith (10.3).

Lottin Fights Through Two Major Injuries

Patrick Lottin has forgotten what the term "summer vacation" means.

Rehabilitation from back-to-back major injuries kept Lottin on campus each of the past two summers. And it's not like Lottin can just jump in the car and go home — his family, you see, lives in Paris. As in Eiffel Tower ... as in France.

Lottin's injury nightmares began on Dec. 6, 2002, in the first half of a game at the University of Alabama. While backpedaling, Lottin pivoted and planted all his weight on his right leg. With a snap, he ruptured the Achilles tendon, which is located just above the back of the foot. That injury required immediate surgery to repair the damage and ended what had been a promising sophomore season. Just prior to the injury, Lottin had earned a spot in the starting lineup.

After eight months of rehabilitation and re-strengthening his leg and foot, Lottin returned last season and showed little after-effects of the injury. He emerged as one of the most improved players in the Atlantic 10, finishing second on the team in scoring at 13.3 points per game. Lottin also ranked second on the team in rebounding (4.5), assists (2.0) and three-point field goals (58).

But another setback was to come. In the midst of a team workout last March, Lottin twisted his right knee and tore the anterior cruciate ligament. That injury meant reconstructive surgery and another summer spent working with Bonnies' trainer Jeff Gaylord. It also was a second test of Lottin's determination.

"It's frustrating, but I just have to deal with it. When injuries happen, there's nothing I can do about it except go back to rehab again," said Lottin. "The Achilles came, and that was a big blow. The knee surgery ... that really hurt me. I've been going through a lot of rehab, and I think that helped me mentally."

"Patrick worked extremely hard to regain the physical strength in his knee," said Bonnies coach Anthony Solomon. "He is a key component for us on both ends of the floor as well as in the area of leadership."

Prior to this season, the A-10 coaches recognized Lottin with a spot on the preseason All-Conference third team. Following his return, Lottin quickly demonstrated why, averaging team highs of 15.2 points and 7.0 rebounds over his first five games. Still, he feels far from 100 percent.

"As a player, there are a lot of things I can't do ... I don't have the explosiveness I used to have," Lottin said. "It's frustrating at times because I know I can do more, but I just don't have it yet. It's coming back, but it's going to take time."

Lottin's mother, Josephin Antohen, surprised her youngest son with a visit two weeks before the season started. Antohen, a retired nurse, had not seen her son in over two years. Part of the family's recent conversations centered on whether Lottin will return for a fifth season at St. Bonaventure. A modern languages major, he is on track to graduate this spring and he would like to pursue a master's degree in counseling.

Another part of Lottin's motivation to return is his desire to play a season at full health.

"I really have to talk to my family about it but it looks like I'm going to (return) because I don't feel like I'm playing to my full potential right now," Lottin said. "I want to play at 100 percent for a full year. I want to go out on top."
