SAINT FRANCIS GAMENOTES

From Downtown

Senior Stefanie Collins continues to make her mark as one of the best three-point shooters in the Atlantic 10. She knocked down 7-12 shots from beyond the arc last weekend. Collins drained 77 long range shots last season, 75 three-pointers as a sophomore and 63 in her freshman campaign. Her 7 three-pointers in two games brings her career total to 222, a total which stands second in school history to Suzie Dailer's 294. Collins tied the school record for three-pointers in a game (8) twice last season.

Climbing the Charts

Junior guard Stefanie Collins continues her climb up the St. Bonaventure record books. With her 33 points this weekend at the St. Bona Shootout, Collins moved with nine points of eighth place on the Bonnies' Career Scoring List:

Rank	Name	Points
5	Suzie Dailer	1,422
6	Melissa Fazio	1,419
7	Courtney Mattingly	1,256
8	Chris Agresta	1,153
	Tricia Pawling	1,153
10	Stefanie Collins	1,144

Inside Out

Junior post player Audrey Latendresse has opposing defenses scratching their heads as she has shown that she has more to her game than battling inside. Latendresse has developed a deadly shooting touch from the outside and has drained 16 of her last 25 shots from beyond the arc dating back to last season. In the season opener against Cornell, Latendresse knocked down 3 of her 5 three-point attempts.

I.D. Please

Despite being the youngest two players on the Bonnies roster, freshmen Erica Schiefen and Katelyn Murray have shown their ready to play big minutes. This past weekend, the 18 year-old duo combined to average 15 points, 4.5 rebounds per game, while shooting a perfect 6-6 from the charity stripe. Murray turned in 11 points in 29 minutes of action, while Schiefen chipped in with seven points in the championship game victory over Albany.

Welcome Back

After missing the entire 2004-05 season with a shoulder injury, red shirt sophomore Ashley Edwards made her return to the court in over two years last weekend. The Philadelphia, Pa. native battled foul trouble to score two points and grab a team-high five rebounds in her collegiate debut against Cornell. Edwards bounced back in the championship game against Albany with 10 points and four rebounds.

Early Season Hardware

For the second consecutive season, senior Stefanie Collins and junior Audrey Latendresse were named to the St. Bona Shootout All-Tournament team. Collins earned MVP honors after tallying 33 points in the two Bona wins, while Latendresse hit for 14 points on 3-5 shooting from long range against Cornell.

Head coach Jim Crowley and the Bonnies inked three student-athletes to NLI's during the early signing period.

Andrea Doneth (East Lansing, Mich./Lansing Catholic), Dana Mitchell (Fairless, Pa./Pennsbury West) and Julie Molloy (Grove City, Pa./Grove City) will join the Bonnies beginning in the 2006-07 season.

A McDonald's All-American nominee, Doneth is currently averaging 18 points, seven rebounds and six assists per game thus far in her senior campaign. This season, she has guided Lansing Catholic to a 17-3 record and a spot in the Capital Area Athletic Conference playoffs. A two-time Associated Press Class B All-State first team selection, the 5-foot-11 Doneth has led the Cougars to a 64-10 record in her three seasons. As a junior, she averaged 14.6 points, 5.9 rebounds and 3.6 assists per game. Coached by her father Dan Doneth, she was named to the Lansing State Mid-Michigan Dream Team and Detroit Free Press Class B All-State team in both her junior and sophomore seasons.

The 6-foot-1 Mitchell averaged 20.8 points, 9.7 rebounds, 4.2 steals and three assists per game in her junior campaign at Pennsbury West. Under the tutelage of head coach Donna Nicholson, she helped guide the Falcons to 17-9 record last season, their best record since 2000. Her 20.8 points per game led the conference and earned her a spot on the Suburban

In his five years at the helm, head coach Jim Crowley has installed a coaching style of hard work and determination that has raised the level of expectations for women's basketball at St. Bonaventure.

Crowley's ambition, drive and vision has allowed him to assembled competitive teams while carrying on the values established by his predecessor, Marti Whitmore.

Crowley's 2001-02 club won six more games than his first team did, going 13-15 overall and 7-9 in the competitive Atlantic 10 Conference. Three of his 13 wins came over NCAA bound teams. Crowley demonstrated his flexibility as a coach that season, adopting a defense-first philosophy after using a run-and-gun style his first season.

A rash of injuries, including a season-ending knee injury to 2001-02 Atlantic 10 Conference Rookie of the Year Stefanie Collins and a back injury that cut short the year for second-leading scorer Lyndsey Maurer, led to a disappointing 6-22 mark in 2002-03.

In 2003-04, the return of Collins helped the Bonnies improve by three wins overall and finish fourth in the Atlantic 10's East division. Crowley guided St. Bonaventure to an impressive 69-65 win over Marquette, who later advanced to the NCAA tournament.

Last season, Crowley and the Bonnies welcomed eight new faces to the roster. On Jan. 16, Crowley guided the new-look Bonnies to their first win in 10 years at Saint Joseph's Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse. The brown and white finished last season with a 9-19 record.

This past off-season, Crowley guided the Western New York open division women's basketball team to a bronze medal at the Empire State Games. Sophomore Amanda Pierce joined Crowley on the Western New York team that returned just three players from the previous year.

Renowned for his work ethic, Crowley's players follow their coach's example on and off the court.

Under Crowley's guidance, players like Courtney Mattingly and Collins made dramatic improvements and blossomed into All-Conference players. Mattingly was a second team All-Atlantic 10 choice as a junior and twice was named to the Atlantic 10's Academic All-Conference team. Collins has followed suit, being named to the All-Conference and All-Academic teams in each of the past two seasons.

The academic success of Crowley's teams is also noteworthy. Each of Crowley's teams have posted better than a 3.0 team grade point average, and he has had three players named to the Academic All-Conference team.

Crowley has now been a part of St. Bonaventure women's basketball since 1996. Prior to being named head coach in March of 2000, he served as an assistant coach for four seasons.
