At A Glance

St. Bonaventure will look to snap a four-game losing streak as it welcomes Atlantic 10 rival Saint Joseph's to the Reilly Center. The Bonnies are just 5-14 in conference home openers. The Hawks own a commanding 32-6 advantage in the all-time series, but the two teams have split the season series each of the past two years. With a new format in place for the now 14-member A-10, St. Bonaventure and Saint Joseph's will meet only one time this season for the first time in series history.

Last Time Out: Bonnies shooting woes continue in A-10 opener. St. Bonaventure rang in the new year the same way it ended it on Tuesday night as the Bonnies fell to Fordham, 56-40, at Rose Hill Gym in the Bronx. For the second straight game, the brown and white connected on just 28 percent (14-50) of its shots from the field while being held to a season-low 40 points. St. Bonaventure did start well and tied the game at 17-17 on back-to-back three-pointers by freshman guard Katelyn Murray with 8:44 left in the first half. Fordham scored the next six points to kick-start a 17-5 run to end the opening stanza that made it 34-22 at intermission. The struggles continued at the start of the second half as the Bonnies missed their first five shots. The Rams opened up a 23-point lead just under six minutes into the second half. St. Bonaventure managed only six field goals in the second half. (Box Score on pg. 18)

Climbing the Charts

Senior guard Stefanie Collins continues her climb up the St. Bonaventure career scoring list. With her eight points at Fordham, Collins pushed her career point total to 1,269 and now trails Melissa Fazio by 150 points for sixth place on the St. Bonaventure all-time scoring list:

Rank	Name	Points

6	Melissa Fazio	1,419
7	Stefanie Collins	1,269
8	Courtney Mattingly	1,256

SAINT JOSEPH'S GAME NOTES

Murray named Atlantic 10 Rookie of the Week

Freshman guard Katelyn Murray was named the Atlantic 10 Rookie of the Week for the period ending Dec. 17. Murray made the first start of her collegiate career against Canisius and didn't disappoint. The 5-foot-6 Murray scored a season-high 14 points, highlighted by shooting a perfect 3-3 from long range. In her season-high 36 minutes of action, she also dished out three assists and didn't commit a turnover.

Bombs Away

With plenty of deadly outside shooters, led by senior Stefanie Collins, St. Bonaventure has cashed in on the art of three-point shot this season. The brown and white currently lead the Atlantic 10 in long range field goals per game and are fourth in three-point percentage (.355). The Bonnies 6.7 threes per game rank 31st in the nation. One of the most prolific shooters in the country, Collins ranks sixth in the nation in three-pointers per game (3.3).

From Downtown

Senior Stefanie Collins continues to prove that she is one of the best shooters in the nation. She has knocked down 43 percent (38-87) of her shots from beyond the arc this season. Collins drained 77 long range shots last season, 75 three-pointers as a sophomore and 63 in her freshman campaign. Her 38 three-pointers this season brings her career total to 253, which stands second in school history to Suzie Dailer's 291. Collins tied the school record for three-pointers in a game (8) twice last season.

Aud-Trey

Junior post player Audrey Latendresse has opposing defenses scratching their heads as she has shown there is more to her game than battling inside. Latendresse has developed a deadly shooting touch from the outside and ranks second on team with 18 three-pointers. The 6-foot-1 forward is tied for the team lead in rebounding (5.5) and ranks second in scoring (9.7) and steals (20). Latendresse recorded the third double-double of her career against Canisius (15 pts. & 10 reb.) earlier this season. (5.5)

Picking Up Where She Left Off

After averaging 8.6 points over the final 11 games of last season, sophomore Priscilla Edwards has picked up right where she left off last season. The Harlem, N.Y. native ranks third on the team with 8.1 points per game and averages 3.6 rebounds and a team-high 3.5 assists per game. Edwards has posted double-digit points in five games this season, including a career-high 15 against Cleveland St. A play-maker with the ball in her hands, Edwards has dished out five or more assists in five of her last six games. In the A-10, she ranks seventh in free throw percentage (.750) ninth in assists (3.5) and 12th in assist/turnover ratio (1.14)

I.D., Please

Despite being the youngest two players on the Bonnies' roster, freshmen Erica Schiefen and Katelyn Murray have shown they're ready to play big minutes. So far this season, the 18 year-old duo has combined to average 12.5 points and 4.6 rebounds per game. Against Canisius, Murray drained three trifectas en route to a season-high 14 points, while Schiefen posted season-highs in scoring (10) and rebounding (7). Schiefen leads the team in field goal percentage (.491) and is second in offensive rebounds (21). Murray is second on the squad in assists (2.0) and sports a team best 1.5/1 assist-turnover ratio.

Welcome Back

After missing the entire 2004-05 season with a shoulder injury, redshirt freshman Ashley Edwards is finally getting to showcase her abilities on the court. The Philadelphia, Pa. native turned in her best performance of the season at St. Francis (Pa.), tallying 12 points, seven rebounds and three steals. So far this season, Edwards is averaging 7.2 points per game and 5.5 boards. Her 2.2 steals ranks 4th in the A-10. Edwards has led the Bonnies in rebounding six times this season.

Sensational Southpaws

Having two left-handers on the court at the same time is somewhat odd ... but three! The Bonnies lineup features three southpaws who all play over 20 minutes each game: Stefanie Collins, Priscilla Edwards and Erica Schiefen. The left-handed trio has combined to score 47 percent (28 points) of the team's points each game with Collins leading the way at 13.2 per contest.

DE-FENSE!

Despite being undersized, the Bonnies have used hustle and quickness on the defensive end to stymie their opponents offensive schemes. For the first time in 17 years (1987-88), St. Bonaventure held three straight opponents (Albany-49, St. Francis-45, Cleveland St.-49) to under 50 points and held Navy to 48 points on Monday. The Bonnies are limiting opponents to 60.8 points per game, a figure that ranks fourth in the A-10. A key attribute has been their ability to create turnovers. The brown and white defense has been able to force opponents into an average of 18.9 turnovers a game, while collecting 9.3 steals per contest.

Last season, Fleming also served as an assistant coach at Olean High School. At Olean, he was in charge of film break down, opponent scouting and individual workouts with several players. In his five years at the helm, head coach Jim Crowley has installed a coaching style of hard work and determination that has raised the level of expectations for women's basketball at St. Bonaventure.

Crowley's ambition, drive and vision has allowed him to assembled competitive teams while carrying on the values established by his predecessor, Marti Whitmore.

Crowley's 2001-02 club won six more games than his first team did, going 13-15 overall and 7-9 in the competitive Atlantic 10 Conference. Three of his 13 wins came over NCAA bound teams. Crowley demonstrated his flexibility as a coach that season, adopting a defense-first philosophy after using a run-and-gun style his first season.

A rash of injuries, including a season-ending knee injury to 2001-02 Atlantic 10 Conference Rookie of the Year Stefanie Collins and a back injury that cut short the year for second-leading scorer Lyndsey Maurer, led to a disappointing 6-22 mark in 2002-03.

In 2003-04, the return of Collins helped the Bonnies improve by three wins overall and finish fourth in the Atlantic 10's East division. Crowley guided St. Bonaventure to an impressive 69-65 win over Marquette, who later advanced to the NCAA tournament.

Last season, Crowley and the Bonnies welcomed eight new faces to the roster. On Jan. 16, Crowley guided the new-look Bonnies to their first win in 10 years at Saint Joseph's Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse. The brown and white finished last season with a 9-19 record.

This past off-season, Crowley guided the Western New York open division women's basketball team to a bronze medal at the Empire State Games. Sophomore Amanda Pierce joined Crowley on the Western New York team that returned just three players from the previous year.

Renowned for his work ethic, Crowley's players follow their coach's example on and off the court.

Under Crowley's guidance, players like Courtney Mattingly and Collins made dramatic improvements and blossomed into All-Conference players. Mattingly was a second team All-Atlantic 10 choice as a junior and twice was named to the Atlantic 10's Academic All-Conference team. Collins has followed suit, being named to the All-Conference and All-Academic teams in each of the past two seasons.

The academic success of Crowley's teams is also noteworthy. Each of Crowley's teams have posted better than a 3.0 team grade point average, and he has had three players named to the Academic All-Conference team.

Crowley has now been a part of St. Bonaventure women's basketball since 1996. Prior to being named head coach in March of 2000, he served as an assistant coach for four seasons.
