SAINT JOSEPH'S UNIVERSITY ATHLETICS MISSION STATEMENT

The Mission of the Athletics Department at Saint Joseph's University reflects the Mission of the University by using the programs within Athletics as a way to develop the whole person and preparing men and women for others.

- To educate the whole person by complementing the academic experience with athletic and recreational programs and activities outside the classroom.
- To create an environment for personal growth through openness, respect, and a concern for others.
- To communicate the value of community and family through team work and sportsmanship.
- To provide opportunities for students to learn self-discipline, responsibility, decision-making, and attainment of goals.
- To provide opportunities for students to participate and compete in a first-class manner.
- To provide equitable opportunities for all students and staff, including women and minorities.
- To advance the University regionally and nationally through intercollegiate athletics.

SEASON OUTLOOK

In recent years, the Saint Joseph's women's rowing team has raced into the school record books. Coming off two of the most successful seasons in program history, the Hawks have great expectations for the 2008 spring season as SJU continues to develop its lengthy tradition on the water.

The Hawks ended the 2006-07 season with a strong showing at the Dad Vail Regatta, as the Varsity 8, 2nd Varsity 8, and Freshman 8 all advanced to the Grand Finals, with the Varsity 8 taking the silver medal. SJU will look to build on these successes, as the Hawks will return all of the athletes from these boats.

The 2008 Hawks are a deep squad, and head coach Gerry Quinlan will rely on returning captains Alicia Easby-Smith, Liz Sauter, and Debbie Bateman for leadership. In addition, senior Kelly McKinley, junior Kristen Bonnici, and sophomores Emma Harmon and Colleen Greway will be leaned on to contribute to the team's success. Junior Lauren Sysol returns from injury this spring, and will likely vie for a spot in the top boat, as will a number of sophomores, including Lauren Rozsits and Christina DiSanto. The competition will be intense for the Varsity 8 squad, as the oarswomen from last season's 2nd Varsity 8 boat will be looking to move up to the first boat.

The Hawks have another athletic and enthusiastic freshman class anchored by seasoned oarswomen Danielle Brady, Colleen Smith, Brianne Kammerman and Clare Burns. "The freshmen are learning the ins and outs of the sport here at SJU," remarked Quinlan. "Those that have made the 2008 freshman squad are the most athletic students that we have seen in several years."

"We have a solid platform from which to build," said Quinlan. "We must continue to gain speed and again raise the bar in everything we do on and off of the water. Our training will be similar to the past few years continuing with long rows, erging, swimming, and yoga through March. In the fall, we mixed up the varsity boats every week and got some good intrasquad races. We finished the fall with every member of our freshman team winning a gold medal at the Frostbite Regatta."

Quinlan also acknowledges his team's shortcomings from last season, but hopes that the work the team has put in during the fall will benefit them on the water in the spring.

"Our team is much more physical and athletic than in previous years," Quinlan commented. "Our shortfall early last season was race tactics. We improved all season with taking control of races and taking seats. We dedicated much of the fall to working on fundamentals and race instincts and tactics. With all of our returnees we look tough to beat if we maintain our focus and intensity. We also have a strong team dynamic. We're great teammates, and that could mean the difference in 2008."

The Hawks have set lofty goals for the upcoming season. The team aims to win all of the Dad Vail races it enters, as well as breaking into the Top 20 in the national rankings. In addition, the squad will seek to schedule races with teams already in the Top 20 in an effort to test themselves against the best in the country.

Other coaches around the Atlantic 10 have taken note of the Hawks' efforts as SJU was picked third in the conference's preseason poll. Quinlan's squad aims to surpass those expectations this spring.

"We have a very challenging race schedule again this year," said Quinlan. "We race five times in March to get us ready for the Atlantic 10 Championships in late April and the Dad Vail Regatta in May."

SJU has also set goals for achievement off the water as well. "We are always encouraged by how hard our athletes work at everything," Quinlan said. "We ended the spring [2007] semester with an excellent team GPA of 3.31." Without a doubt, the team will strive hard to duplicate that feat this season.

The Hawks will push off for the first time this spring on March 8 with a race against Delaware, Drexel, and Lehigh on the Schuylkill River.

Junior co-captain Debbie Bateman was the Philadelphia Inquirer Academic All-Area Performer of the Year in 2007.

COACHING STAFF

Gerry Quinlan
Head Coach
Notre Dame '91 - Ninth Season

Gerry Quinlan is in his ninth year as head women's varsity coach at Saint Joseph's University. A 1991 graduate of the University of Notre Dame, Quinlan owns more than 15 years of collegiate head coaching experience.

Quinlan guided the Hawks to victory in the Varsity 8 at the 2006 Dad Vail Regatta for the first time in the 37-year history of the SJU program. During his tenure the Hawks have won three gold medals, four silvers, and a bronze at the Dad Vail. The Hawks rowed to a silver medal finish in the Varsity 8 in 2007.

Since his arrival at SJU, Quinlan has been one of the driving forces behind the growth of both the men's and women's rowing programs. Nearly doubling in participation during his tenure, Quinlan has been active in the development of the new boathouse, maintaining alumni support and coordinating several local regattas.

Quinlan's resume includes a six-year stint as the head coach of Northwestern University's men's and women's programs and a three-year stint as the head women's coach at Notre Dame. His teams have won medals at the Dad Vail Regatta, Champion International Collegiate Regatta, and the Head of the Charles and have competed in the Henley Royal Regatta and the Mexico City International Championships.

During his prep career, Quinlan rowed locally at Monsignor Bonner High School. He then went on to a successful career at the college level for the Irish.

QUINLAN'S RESUME

Head Rowing Coach
 Saint Joseph's (W) 1999-present
 La Salle (M & W) 1997-1998

Assistant Rowing Coach
 Saint Joseph's (M & W) 1998-99

ASSISTANT COACHES

Linda Gallagher
Loyola (Md.) '00
Eighth Season

Linda Gallagher is in her eighth year as an assistant coach for the Hawks.

The 2000 graduate of Loyola College (Md.) was a four-year oarswoman for the Greyhounds. Linda works primarily with the freshman squad. The Freshman 8 has earned three silvers and two bronzes at the Dad Vail Regatta as well as several golds at the ECACS, Jesuit Invitational, and silvers at the Atlantic 10 Championships.

Gallagher teaches math and science at the Philadelphia High School for Creative and Performing Arts and is completing her master's of education at Saint Joseph's.

Kelly O'Brien
Villanova '01
Fourth Season

A former standout at Villanova, Kelly O'Brien is in her fourth season as an assistant coach at Saint Joseph's.

As a collegian at VU, O'Brien competed in the Lightweight 8 and captured a National Championship in 1999 and a silver medal at the Henley Royal Regatta that same year.

A Philadelphia-area native, she coached at her high school alma mater, Archbishop Prendergast, in 2003.

O'Brien is currently a Behavioral Therapist for the Lovaas Institute and is working towards her master's degree in special education at Saint Joseph's.

Amy Winner
Loyola (Md.) '98
First Season

Amy Winner is in her first season as an assistant coach at Saint Joseph's University.

Winner brings extensive coaching experience at the collegiate, club and high school levels to SJU. She served two years as an assistant coach at Villanova University, one season as an assistant at Fordham University, and one summer at Undine. Most recently, Winner was the Head Girls' Rowing Coach at Bishop Eustace Prep in Pennsauken, N.J., a position she held for four years.

Winner, a 1998 graduate of Loyola College (Md.) also serves as the Director of Marketing for NK, the rowing electronics company.

ROBERT GILLIN, JR. BOATHOUSE

The Robert M. Gillin, Jr. Boathouse was dedicated in June of 2002 as the new home of the Saint Joseph's University Men's and Women's Rowing Teams.

The 15,540 square foot state-of-the-art boathouse includes four heated boat bays with capacity for 42 eights, 14 fours/quads, and 14 small boats.

The Boathouse sits on 20,381 square feet of land at the 1,000-meter mark of the famed Schuylkill River race course. The Boathouse serves as Saint Joseph's home base for all of its home regattas, including the Dad Vail Regatta, Murphy Cup, and various dual races. The 750-square foot deck is a perfect viewing area for families, fans, and alumni.

The second floor of the boathouse includes locker rooms, showers, etc as well as a large common area for ergs, team meetings, video review and yoga.

The Gillin Boat Club joined the Schuylkill Navy on September 20, 2004, by unanimous vote of the delegates of the Schuylkill Navy's ten member clubs.

In addition to serving as the home of Hawk rowing, the Gillin Boathouse also hosts several summer camps including the Saint Joseph's University/Fairmount Park Commission's Community Rowing Program.

The first floor:

- 8,860 square feet
- four bays
- access to the floating dock
- adjoining 270 square foot veranda

The second floor:

- 6,680 square feet
- common areas for meeting and out-of-water instruction
- wireless internet / satellite tv
- locker and bathroom facilities
- 750 square foot second-floor deck
- large windows
- elevator

Fairmount Park Community Rowing Program

In addition to serving as the home of Hawk rowing, the Gillin Boathouse also hosts the Fairmount Park Commission's Community Rowing Program. The first step in a long-term partnership between the University and the Fairmount Park Commission, the program is designed to provide an experience for youth in the city of Philadelphia who have not had the opportunity to experience the sport of rowing.

THE HAWK

The Saint Joseph's Hawk mascot has been flapping its wings for almost half a century, celebrating its golden anniversary in 2005-06.

One of the most famous mascots in college sports, the Hawk is best known for staying in constant motion by flapping its wings throughout every basketball game and representing the Saint Joseph's motto, "The Hawk Will Never Die."

Saint Joseph's athletic teams have been recognized with the nickname "Hawks" since 1929. At that time, the school's yearbook editor initiated a contest among the student body for a symbol. More than 100 submissions were narrowed, with "Hawks" winning out over "Grenadiers" by a slim margin. The name was appropriate because it typified "the fighting spirit of our crimson and gray athletes and it is suggestive of the aerial attack which has made our football team famous." Football, ironically, was discontinued at SJU following the 1939 season.

The Hawk mascot has garnered numerous accolades in its 50-year history. It has been selected as the nation's top mascot by The Sporting News, Sports Illustrated, Sports Illustrated for Kids, Street & Smith's Basketball Yearbook and ESPN College Basketball magazine.

2006-07 YEAR IN REVIEW

Despite graduating eight seniors from the Hawks' history-making squad in 2006, the Saint Joseph's women's rowing team kept its pace in 2007 and showed great promise for the future.

This was most evident in the Hawks' performance at the Dad Vail Regatta. Saint Joseph's placed all of its Eights (Varsity 8, Junior Varsity 8, Freshman 8) in the Grand Finals for the first time since 2004. The Varsity 8 brought home the silver while the JV 8 took fourth place, with the Freshman boat coming in fifth.

In the Dad Vail final, the Varsity 8 did not have the sharp starting sequence from the previous races, but battled back through the strong field to place second, earning the Hawks' second medal in the past two years in the Varsity 8 following up on the gold-medal performance from 2006.

That boat, comprised of Liz Sauter, Debbie Bateman, Kaitie Reehill, Kelly McKinley, Meaghan Stanton, Alicia Easby-Smith, Emma Harmon, Colleen Greway and cox Kristen Bonnici, did not have any seniors on the crew, making the Hawks one of the top teams to contend with in 2008. Saint Joseph's Varsity 8 boat claimed the city title when it won the Kelly Cup at the 2007 Bergen Cup. The Hawks also finished in second place at the San Diego Crew Classic, marking SJU's best finish ever in that regatta, which featured a top-notch field. In addition, the Hawks also defeated Lehigh, Delaware and Connecticut in separate dual races and finished fourth at the Atlantic 10 Championship.

The Junior Varsity 8 turned in some strong finishes during the season, placing second at both the Murphy Cup and the Bergen Cup. That boat was comprised of Liz Golden, Caitlin Twaddell, Kaitlin Weston, Hilary Armstrong, Jess Barsky, Kate MacTurk, Alison Gallagher, Tina Sadowski and cox Dominique Russo.

The Freshman 8 won the third final at the San Diego Crew Classic, garnered second-place finishes at both the Murphy Cup and Bergen Cup and placed third at the A-10 meet. The Hawks' boat consisted of Tina Regan, Lauren Rozsits, Laura Thornton, Christina DiSanto, Allison Morrison, Tai Haluszka, Stephane D'Angelo, Gabby Hazzouri and cox Andi Hartfield.

Collectively, the Hawks maintained their status as one of SJU's teams with the highest grade-point average. Junior Debbie Bateman earned a host of honors for her prowess in the classroom, which included selection to the ESPN the Magazine District 2 All-Academic Team and as the Philadelphia Inquirer Women's Rowing Academic All-Area Performer of the Year.

ATLANTIC 10 CONFERENCE

On March 2, 1975, the idea of what is now the Atlantic 10 Conference was conceived. What started as an eight-school, men's basketball-only affiliation has grown into a 14-university, 21-sport league that is universally hailed as one of the best conferences in the country.

That growth and prominence is a direct result of the ideals and commitments of the member institutions of the Atlantic 10 - the University of Dayton, Duquesne University, Fordham University, The George Washington University, La Salle University, University of Massachusetts, University of North Carolina at Charlotte, University of Rhode Island, University of Richmond, St. Bonaventure University, Saint Joseph's University, Saint Louis University, Temple University, and Xavier University.

The presidents and chancellors of Atlantic 10 institutions have made a strong commitment to making the academic and athletics equation work. Over the years, the league membership has strived to better recognize the academic accomplishments of its student-athletes. In doing so, the Atlantic 10, under the leadership of commissioner Linda Bruno, instituted the Commissioner's Honor Roll, which cites every Atlantic 10 student-athlete with a 3.5 grade point average or better. 1,170 student-athletes were named to the Fall 2006 Honor Roll and 1,119 were named to the Spring 2007 Honor Roll.

The league sponsors Academic All-Conference teams in each of its sports and honors one student-athlete per sport as the A-10 Student-Athlete of the Year. In 2006-07, over 170 student-athletes earned Academic All-Conference recognition. Also, the Atlantic 10 provides postgraduate scholarship grants to qualified student-athletes.

Five A-10 schools were among the 51 cited for having five or more athletics programs recognized by the NCAA for their latest Academic Progress Rate scores. Fordham led the Atlantic 10 in the number of high-performing squads with nine teams receiving awards. Only the Ivy League (eight) and Patriot League (six) had more than the A-10's five, which was matched by the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Charlotte cross country and track & field standout Jane Daniels was chosen as a 2006-07 NCAA Div. I Coca-Cola Community All-American. The national honor includes a $5,000 donation in her name to the charity of her choice. Daniels chose to split her donation among Girls on the Run International, the Charlotte University City YMCA and the Oostburg (Wis.) Community Education Foundation.

The Atlantic 10 Conference, with a total population of nearly 73 million people within its geographic footprint of eight states and the District of Columbia, will crown champions in 21 sports this season: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, field hockey, men's golf, women's lacrosse, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track & field, women's rowing, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

Ali Wean became the first Hawk to earn Atlantic 10 Offensive Player of the Year honors, as All-Conference First Team member led the A-10 in goals (14) and points (33).

Rebecca Cunfer, the 2004 Atlantic 10 Field Hockey Rookie of the Year, was named Student-Athlete of the Year in 2006.

A PROUD TRADITION

Both the Saint Joseph's men's and women's rowing teams have a proud history of post-graduate success. Two former SJU rowers in particular have achieved exceptional success since their days on Hawk Hill. Michael Teti '78 and Teresa Zarzeczny Bell '88 have taken their rowing careers that began at SJU to the top levels of international competition. These two athletes have strong roots within the SJU athletic community and were among the inaugural inductees into Saint Joseph's Varsity Athletics Hall of Fame in October of 1999.

Mike Teti

Teresa Zarzeczny Bell

Arguably the best-known oarsman in America, Michael Teti was a top Hawk rower, graduating from SJU with a sociology degree in 1978.

"Saint Joseph's gave me the opportunity to compete and also the opportunity for a great education," Teti said. "I owe SJU a great debt for all of the opportunities I received."

From 1977-1993, Teti rowed on 11 national teams, including three Olympic teams, winning 24 national championships, a silver medal at the 1979 Pan American Games in the men's four; a bronze (1985) and a gold (1987) in the World Championships in the men's eight, and a bronze in the 1988 Olympic Games in the eight. In 1987, Teti was the U.S. Rowing Male Athlete of the Year, after rowing the bow seat in the first gold medal men's eight to win that event in 13 years.

As the head coach of the U.S. men's open eight squad, Teti led the US team to an unprecedented three straight world championships. Teti coached the U.S. national team men's four with coxswain to a gold medal at the World Championships in Tampere, Finland.

During the 1996 Olympic Games, he coached the Lightweight Men's Four to a bronze medal. Then, in October of '96, Teti was named U.S. Rowing's Head Men's Sweep Coach, the highest coaching honor in the country. In that same year, he was selected as US Rowing's Developmental Coach of the Year and was honored by the United States Olympic Committee. Teti followed that award with 1997 National Coach of the Year honors. Last fall, Teti coached the U.S. Men's eight that won the rowing World Championships.

Most recently, Teti served as the Head Men's Sweep Coach for the U.S., as well as the head coach of the Men's Eight at the 2000 Sydney and 2004 Athens Olympic Games. Teti's Men's Eight won gold at the 2004 Games. It marked the first time the U.S. had won the event since another coach with Hawk ties - Al Rosenberg - accomplished the feat in 1964.

Teresa Bell, like Teti, is no stranger to success on the international level. For this rower, an Olympic dream began in the fall of 1992, when the International Olympic Committee announced that Bell's event would be part of the Atlanta games. And Bell's feeling was right on target. Not only was she in Atlanta, but she and partner Lindsay Burns captured an Olympic silver medal. From Hawk Hill to the medal stand, it was quite a story.

Bell's journey really started in 1985, when she joined the SJU women's rowing club team as a sophomore. One of Bell's warmest memories of collegiate competition came later, in 1988, when she was rowing for the Hawks part-time. At Philadelphia's Dad Vail Regatta, the collegiate national championships, Bell rowed women's singles - and won!

Bell joined the Crescent Boat Club, where she remained a member until 1988. She later joined Fairmount Rowing Club, for whom she still rows when in Philadelphia. "Being a part of the national and international rowing community doesn't leave a person much time at home," said Bell.

The 1996 year, an Olympic year, was typical for her. Intense three-a-day workouts were the rule, held mostly in Tennessee, where the U.S. Women's Rowing center is located. Additional time was spent in Georgia, preparing for the Olympic trials. That was followed by a month in Europe before returning to compete in the actual Olympics.

All this traveling may seem tiring, but for Bell it was helpful. It prepared her for the rigors of Olympic competition.

Such attention is also unusual for a rower, who are more used to toiling in relative obscurity. But, as in so many other sports, the Olympics change all of that once every four years.

"For some reason, every four years, people care about the Olympics," Bell understated.

"I enjoyed my experience at St. Joe's," said Bell. "It made me who I am today. Besides rowing, Saint Joseph's taught me to be open-minded and that has really helped me."

Following the Olympics, Bell placed fifth in the women's lightweight doubles scull at the 1997 World Championships.

Nationally, former Hawk rower Renee Hykel has emerged as one of the top names in the sport, capturing a berth on the U.S. National Team and competing at the World Championships in 2003, 2004, 2005 and 2006. Hykel, a walk-on at SJU, finished second at the 2005 Worlds in Gifu, Japan.

In addition to these individuals, the Saint Joseph's rowing program continues to pen successful chapters to its legacy. Since 1999, the Hawk men's and women's teams have combined to place first or second in the race for the prestigious Jack Bratten trophy at the Dad Vail Regatta four times and claimed the crown in 2005. Overall, more than a dozen former Hawk rowers have gone on to compete internationally.

One of the sport's top female rowers, former Hawk Renee Hykel was SJU's captain and MVP as a senior and with the U.S. National Team (inset).

The women, meanwhile, have developed one of the region's most formidable programs. The Freshman 8 has advanced to the Dad Vail finals in seven successive seasons, while the Varsity 8 has reached the finals in five successive seasons, winning gold in 2006. The 2006 Hawks topped even the 2004 and 2005 squads, delivering the program's best-ever finishes at the San Diego Crew Classic, Atlantic 10 Championships and Dad Vail Regatta. The 2006 team was also the first in program history to compete in the Henley Regatta in the United Kingdom.

The Hawk Will Never Die!

ADMINISTRATION

Timothy R. Lannon, S.J.
University President

Timothy R. Lannon, S.J., is in his fifth year as president of Saint Joseph's University.

Fr. Lannon began his term as Saint Joseph's 26th president in July 2003. Since then he has led many significant University initiatives, most notably the agreement to purchase the 38-acre campus of the neighboring Episcopal Academy. Saint Joseph's anticipates taking possession of the property in 2008; the acquisition -- to be known as the Maguire Campus -- will provide unparalleled flexibility to enhance academic programs and facilities.

Under Fr. Lannon's stewardship, the University vastly upgraded student housing and parking options with the opening of the City Avenue Residence Halls in August 2004. Phase II of that initiative is currently underway and will result in additional parking and retail development along 54th Street.

Fr. Lannon has also played a major role in boosting Saint Joseph's academic profile, an effort which includes recently endowed faculty chairs and student scholarships as well as the opening of the Pedro Arrupe Center for Business Ethics. A major curricular-review initiative and the hiring of more than 50 new full-time faculty over a five-year period will serve to further strengthen the University's academic position. SJU has attained its best-ever U.S. News ranking (t-8th, Northeast) in the 2008 "America's Best Colleges" edition.

Fr. Lannon has worked tirelessly to re-engage the University in its mission and to foster expanded outreach efforts to alumni, governmental leaders, and other external constituencies. In the latter role, he serves as chair of the City Avenue Special Services District (CASSD). As a central tenet of his leadership, Fr. Lannon's has articulated a vision for Saint Joseph's to be recognized as the preeminent Catholic comprehensive university in the Northeast.

He previously was vice president for university advancement and associate executive vice president at Marquette University, and served presidential internships at the College of the Holy Cross and Boston College while completing a doctorate and teaching fellowship in the Graduate School of Education at Harvard University. Fr. Lannon serves on the boards of Marquette University, St. Joseph's Preparatory School in Philadelphia, the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, and the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Pennsylvania.

Fr. Lannon has studied and written on Catholic identity at Jesuit universities. A native of Mason City, Iowa, he attended Creighton University as an undergraduate and was later president of Creighton Preparatory School. He entered the Society of Jesus in 1977 and was ordained in 1986.

Dr. Cary Anderson
Vice President for Student Life

Cary Anderson, Ed.D., is the newest member of the Saint Joseph's University administration, assuming the post of vice president for student life on June 1, 2007. He brings a wealth of experience in higher education and student affairs to Saint Joseph's, along with a great familiarity with Jesuit institutions.

As vice president of student life, Dr. Anderson oversees many areas, including athletics and recreation, along with residence life, career development and counseling services.

Dr. Anderson came to SJU from Canisius College, where he served as the associate vice president and dean of students for eight years. Prior to that, he spent over nine years at the College of the Holy Cross, working first as complex director, then advancing to assistant dean of students and then to associate dean of students.

"The Jesuit philosophy on education resonates with my own personal educational philosophy," explained Dr. Anderson on his commitment to working with Jesuit institutions. "A lot of universities talk about educating their students with a concern for the common good, but Jesuit colleges and universities really act on this."

Dr. Anderson holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Iowa and a master's degree from Loyola University of Chicago. He earned his doctorate in education from the University of Massachusetts while working at Holy Cross.

He is a contributing columnist with several student affairs publications, and was recently elected editor of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators (NASPA) Journal.

Don DiJulia
Associate Vice President
Athletic Director

One of the most active and involved leaders in collegiate athletics, Don DiJulia is in his fifth decade of affiliation with Saint Joseph's University. DiJulia is in his second stint as the University's top athletic administrator after returning to Hawk Hill as an assistant vice president/athletic director on June 8, 1988.

Over the past 19 years, DiJulia has overseen tremendous growth in the University's athletics programs. During his tenure, five varsity programs have been added, a new weight training facility built, athletic facilities upgraded and athletic fund drives initiated. In addition, the importance of the student-athlete has been recognized with the institution of the Athletic Director's Honor Roll as well as the senior scholar-athlete awards. DiJulia also spearheaded SJU's hosting of various conference and national tournaments, including the 2000 NCAA Women's Basketball Final Four.

A 1968 graduate, DiJulia has worn many hats in college athletics during his more than 30 years of professional experience. His career first started in coaching, where he served as an assistant basketball coach at Fairfield, George Washington and American.

During his first stint as Director of Athletics at SJU from 1976-1981, DiJulia was instrumental in the planning and construction of the $5 million athletic and recreation complex. He also oversaw the growth of women's athletics as softball and cross country were added as varsity sports. DiJulia left SJU in 1981 to become Commissioner of the East Coast Conference, a position he held for two years until leaving to become the Commissioner of the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (1984 through 1988).

A two-sport athlete as an undergraduate at SJU, DiJulia was a member of the 1964-65 Hawk basketball team which compiled a 26-1 regular season record and a top 10 national ranking under head coach Dr. Jack Ramsay. He and his wife, Pat, are the parents of seven children and reside in Havertown, Pa.

THE UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1851, Saint Joseph's is an independent, Catholic, Jesuit university teaching disciplined reasoning, effective communication and a love of learning. From Willings Alley in Old City Philadelphia to Stiles Street in North Philadelphia to its current location on City Avenue, Saint Joseph's has continued to grow and change with the times. The University combines the Jesuit tradition of academic excellence, a history of service and an ideal campus location to produce successful students who seek to make a good world even better.

Full-time, undergraduate day enrollment is approximately 4,150. Graduate, evening and executive programs push total enrollment to more than 7,400.

THE JESUIT TRADITION OF ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Saint Joseph's nationally-recognized academic reputation is confirmed by ongoing acknowledgment in Barron's, U.S. News & World Report and Peterson's. The Jesuit tradition of intellectual inquiry and personal concern manifests itself in small, challenging classes taught by a caring faculty. Graduate assistants do not teach, so undergraduates can be sure they are receiving the very best educational experience. One-on-one interaction between students and faculty is a reality at Saint Joseph's.

A solid liberal arts curriculum provides across-the-board learning for every student. Supporting that curriculum are comprehensive academic majors and learning facilities. The result is a broad education which prepares students not only for employment and graduate school, but for life itself.

In the fall of 1998, SJU opened the $25 million Owen A. Mandeville Hall, which houses the Erivan K. Haub School of Business, the Center for Food Marketing and the region's first "Teletorium" and "Moot Boardrooms." An 87,000-square-foot international academic center featuring state-of-the-art distance learning technology, it is located near the corner of 54th Street and City Avenue.

A HISTORY OF SERVICE

The students of Saint Joseph's University are dedicated to making today's world even better. A natural spirit of volunteerism has enabled the University's community service programs to become the most popular extracurricular activities on campus. In addition, a Service Learning program allows students to receive academic credit for their work outside the classroom.

SJU offers local, national and international opportunities for student service. From North Philadelphia to Camden, N.J.; from Tijuana, Mexico, to the Appalachian Mountains, Saint Joseph's students embrace the Jesuit mission of serving those in need. The Thanksgiving Dinner Dance for area senior citizens and the Hand-in-Hand Festival for the handicapped are two annual student-run events which draw thousands of special visitors to campus for fun and friendship.

IDEAL CAMPUS LOCATION

SJU's City Avenue location combines the best of dynamic Philadelphia with the suburban, residential setting of the elegant Main Line. Saint Joseph's 65 acres span two counties, allowing students literally to enjoy the best of both worlds. The city of Philadelphia, with its tremendous wealth of historical, cultural, social and athletic attractions, is easily accessible, while the safety, serenity and greenery of a suburban campus are right at hand.

The friendly atmosphere and close-knit campus ensure that students don't get lost in either the literal or the figurative sense at Saint Joseph's. Expanded library, computer and athletic facilities add a big-time "feel" to this growing university.

SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS

Men and women leave Saint Joseph's prepared. The University boasts an excellent record of placing its graduates in first-time jobs, professional schools and other advanced degree programs. Part-time work and internships provide real-world experiences, the kind which delight future employers. And with its many diverse student organizations, SJU offers ample opportunities to assume leadership positions.

An extensive on-campus recruitment program provides graduates with a head start in their employment search. Regular meetings with faculty advisors, along with advisory programs in the health professions and in pre-law, assist students who wish to further their schooling.

PHILADELPHIA

SJU's Philadelphia location gives students access to two worlds. The campus resembles a park, surrounded by the stately homes of Philadelphia's historic Main Line suburbs. Yet students have access to the cultural, commercial and recreational activities of downtown Philadelphia - only a short ride away.

SJU students take frequent advantage of the artistic and cultural resources Philadelphia offers, as well. They visit the Philadelphia Museum of Art; the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts; the Franklin Institute Science Museum; the Academy of Music, which houses ballet and opera; and the new Kimmel Center, home to the Philadelphia Orchestra. In addition, SJU students know they always have a good time rooting for Philadelphia or other hometown teams in the four major professional sports.
