NO. 2 TEXAS OPENS BIG 12 PLAY BY HOSTING TEXAS TECH:

No. 2 Texas (2-0) will open Big 12 play by hosting Texas Tech (2-0) at Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium/Joe Jamail Field (7 p.m./Central/ABC) on Saturday, Sept. 19. This is the earliest Texas has played a conference game since it faced Kansas State in game three of the 1998 season, Mack Brown's first year. UT is 27-5 in home games against Texas Tech and has won all five home matchups in the Mack Brown era, outscoring the Red Raiders by an average of 51-23 since 1999. The Horns are coming off a 41-10 victory at Wyoming, while Texas Tech defeated Rice, 55-10, in Lubbock.

GAMEDAY REGULARS: ESPN College GameDay is set to cover the Longhorns for the first time this season and the 12th time overall when No. 2 Texas hosts Texas Tech in Austin. This will be the third time GameDay has covered a game in this series. The first came in 2005 when No. 2 Texas defeated No. 10 Texas Tech, 52-17, in Austin. GameDay also was in Lubbock last season when No. 1 Texas lost in the final seconds to No. 6 Texas Tech, 39-33. That game was the third time over a four-week span that Texas was one of the featured teams for GameDay. It marked just the second time in the history of the show that a program had been a part of the featured game three times over a four-week stretch. Ohio State also accomplished that in 2006. GameDay also was present for the Longhorns' 45-35 win over No. 1 Oklahoma in Dallas on Oct. 11, and the 56-31 win over No. 11 Missouri in Austin on Oct. 18. Overall, Texas is 7-4 with the GameDay crew in attendance. GameDay has visited Austin five times,

ALL EYES ON TEXAS: Texas opened the 2009 season by playing in front of the largest crowd to ever watch a football game in the state of Texas. The 101,096 attendance figure was a new UT record, bettering the previous mark of 98,621, which was set last season when UT hosted Texas A&M on Thanksgiving night. To put 101,096 fans in perspective, 56 players on UT's roster have hometowns smaller than the attendance of Texas' game versus ULM.

TEXAS OWNS TEXAS: Since Mack Brown took over at Texas in 1998, the Horns are 44-6 (.880) against teams from within the state's borders with the six losses coming by a combined 34 points. The Longhorns are 29-1 (.967) at home against other Texas schools, with the only loss coming to Texas A&M, 12-7, in 2006. The Horns' other losses to Texas schools in the Mack Brown era came in road games against Texas Tech, 39-33 in 2008, 42-38 in 2002 and 42-35 in 1998; and Texas A&M, 38-30 in 2007 and 20-16 in 1999.

SEPTEMBERS TO REMEMBER: Texas has won 28 of its last 31 games in the season's first month (August/September) under Mack Brown. The only losses in that stretch were to Kansas State in 2007, when the Horns gave up two special teams TDs and committed four turnovers, No. 1 Ohio State in 2006 and when the Horns gave up three turnovers versus Arkansas in 2003. Overall, the Horns have won 35 of their last 40 outings in Aug./Sept.

TEXAS OPENS SEASON AT NO. 2 IN BOTH POLLS:

Texas was ranked second in both The Associated Press and USA Today Coaches preseason polls. UT has opened the season in The AP Top Five in four of the last five years. It is the ninth time in the last 10 years Texas has been ranked in The AP Preseason Top 10. This is also the fourth time in the last five years that the Longhorns have opened the season in the USA Today Coaches Preseason Top Five. The coaches have ranked Texas in the preseason Top 10 for 10 consecutive seasons, a UT best. The Horns enter the season with a No. 2 ranking in The AP poll for the fourth time (2005, 1970 and '62) and for the fifth time in the coaches poll (2006, '05, '02 and 1983).

NON-CONFERENCE STREAKS: With a 41-10 victory at Wyoming, Texas has won 15 straight non-conference games, which is tied for the second-longest non-conference winning streak in the nation. The streak is tied for the longest in UT history with a 15-game streak from 1945-48. UT also had a streak of 11 straight non-conference victories from 1963-65 and a 10-game streak from 1968-70. Texas is also currently on a school-record non-conference road winning streak of 10, which bettered the previous mark of seven from 1956-63.

TEXAS RIDING A NATIONAL-LEADING STREAK OF EIGHT CONSECUTIVE 10-WIN SEASONS:

Texas has posted at least 10 wins in each of the last eight seasons, becoming just the third team in college football history to win at least 10 games in eight straight seasons. The Horns' streak is tied for second all-time with Miami (1985-92), trailing Florida State's streak of 14 consecutive seasons. The current streak also is the longest active mark in the nation. Overall, Texas' 117 victories over the last 12 years are the most in the nation. The Horns also have won more Big 12 games (72) than any other team in the conference during that time. In addition, the Horns set a school record last season by winning a bowl game for the fifth straight year after defeating No. 10 Ohio State in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Texas is one of only two schools nationally that has won five consecutive bowl games. The Fiesta Bowl win marked UT's seventh bowl victory in the last eight years, including three BCS triumphs and a BCS Championship Game victory. Mack Brown's eight bowl victories at UT are tied with Darrell Royal. In fact, UT's eight bowl victories over the last 11 seasons under Brown equals the amount Texas won in the 30 years prior to Brown's arrival.

SEVEN HORNS ON PRESEASON WATCH LISTS:

Texas has seven players listed on preseason national award watch lists in C Chris Hall, DE/LB Sergio Kindle, QB Colt McCoy, LB Roddrick Muckelroy, WR Jordan Shipley, S Earl Thomas and OT Adam Ulatoski. Hall was tabbed for the Rimington Trophy (nation's top center) and the Outland Trophy (nation's top interior lineman). Kindle appeared on three watch lists, the Nagurski Trophy (nation's top defensive player), Bednarik Award (nation's top defensive player) and Hendricks Award (nation's top defensive end). McCoy also was named to three watch lists, the Walter Camp Football Foundation Player of the Year award, which he won last season, the Davey O'Brien Award (nation's top quarterback) and the Manning Award (nation's top quarterback). Muckelroy was tabbed for the Bednarik Award (nation's top defensive player), while Shipley earned spots on the WCFF Player of the Year award and Biletnikoff Award (nation's top wide receiver) watch lists. Thomas was recognized on the Jim Thorpe Award (nation's top defensive back) watch list and Ulatoski was named to the Outland Trophy (nation's top interior lineman) watch list.

BOWL ROLL: Texas played in a bowl game for a UT-record 11th straight season in 2008, bettering the previous mark of nine-straight from 1977-85. The Horns have won seven of their last eight bowls and have an 8-3 record under Mack Brown. In the 11 years prior to Brown's arrival, Texas went to five bowls and was 2-3. Brown is the first UT coach since Darrell Royal, who was 8-7-1 in bowl games, to post a .500 or better record. With a 24-21 victory over No. 10 Ohio State in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl, Texas has won bowl games in five consecutive years for the first time in school history (2004-08). They are one of only two schools nationally to accomplish that feat. The Horns did win five straight previously (1963-64, '66, '68-69), but the streak was interrupted by seasons that did not result in a bowl. Brown's personal string, including time at North Carolina, goes back even further. He has directed his teams to 17 straight bowls, which is the second-longest active streak in the nation.

NO. 2 ALL-TIME: In 2008, Texas moved ahead of Notre Dame for second place on the NCAA all-time victory list. At 834 victories, Texas trails only Michigan in all-time wins. With the Longhorns in second place on that list, it marks the first time since 1932 that Michigan and Notre Dame do not occupy the one-two spots in all-time wins. Since Mack Brown arrived in 1998, Texas has posted a 117-26 record and moved ahead of Alabama, Notre Dame and Nebraska on the all-time victory chart.

TWELFTH YEAR UNDER MACK BROWN:

With Mack Brown in his 12th season at Texas, he is just the fourth coach in the 116 years of Texas football to coach the Longhorns for at least a decade and just the second UT coach to win 100 games while at Texas. Darrell Royal, who won 167 games, has the longest tenure at 20 years, while D.X. Bible and Fred Akers each coached in Austin for 10 seasons.

5. MACK BROWN, TEXAS _____ 203-100-1

Brown is the first coach in UT history to post 200 victories during a career. With a 117-26 (.818) record at UT, Brown is the architect of the nation's best record during that stretch. In addition, Brown has led the Horns to a 90-15 (.857) mark over the last nine seasons, which is the nation's second-best record over that timespan, and includes five 11-win seasons (2001, '02, '04, '05 and '08). The 11-win seasons are third-best to UT's 13-win campaign in 2005 and its 12-win season in '08. Texas is the only school in the nation that has posted at least 10 wins in each of the last eight seasons (a UT record). Brown is the lone coach nationally to lead his team to nine or more victories in 13 straight seasons. His 11 straight seasons at UT of nine or more victories are a school best. Under Brown, the Horns have posted Top 10 finishes six times in the last eight years (2001, '02, '04, '05, '07 and '08). Prior to his arrival, the last time UT finished in the Top 10 was 1983. In addition, Texas played in a bowl game for a school-record 11th-consecutive season, bettering the previous streak of nine straight from 1977-85. Brown's personal strings, including time at North Carolina, go back even further. He has posted 19 consecutive winning seasons and taken his teams to 17 consecutive bowl games. Both of those marks are the second-longest active streaks in the nation.

200 CAREER VICTORIES: With a victory against Texas A&M in 2008, Mack Brown became the first head coach in UT history to reach the 200-victory plateau (203-100-1/.669) during a career. Brown became just the 19th coach, who has spent at least 10 years at a NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) school, to win 200 games and the seventh-youngest coach to do so. He also is one of only four active coaches, who has spent at least five years at an FBS school, to reach the 200-victory mark. In addition, Brown is one of only 10 active coaches at FBS schools who have won 100 games at their current school (117-26/.818). Of the 80 coaches that have ever won 100 games at a FBS school, Brown is the 14th fastest to reach the century mark (124 games) and the third-fastest among active coaches. With 203 victories, Brown is tied with Warren Woodson for 14th on the NCAA all-time victories list.

UT'S NO. 2 ALL-TIME: Mack Brown has won 117 games at Texas. He is in second place on UT's all-time list behind only Darrell Royal, who tallied 167 victories from 1957-76. Brown moved ahead of Fred Akers, who posted 86 wins from 1977-86, during the 2006 season.

NINE-WIN SEASONS: Texas has posted at least nine victories for 11 straight seasons. The streak of 11 straight seasons of nine or more victories is a UT first and the longest active string in the nation. In addition, with 10 wins in his final two seasons at North Carolina, Mack Brown is the lone coach nationally to lead his team to nine or more victories in 13 straight seasons.

STRING OF SUCCESS: With a 2008 No. 3 final ranking, Texas has finished the year ranked among the nation's Top 15 in each of the last nine seasons, a Longhorn best. In addition, UT has finished in the Top 10 in six of the last eight seasons (2001, '02, '04, '05, '07 and '08). You have to go back to Darrell Royal's string of success in the late 1960s, when the Horns finished among the Top Five four out of five years (1968-72), to equal that consistency in UT history.

REWRITE THE RECORD BOOK: During Mack Brown's 12-year tenure at Texas, the Horns have set 215 school records. The offense has led the way by setting 136 team, individual, game, season and career records. UT also has set 14 defensive records, 32 special teams records and 28 freshman records under Brown.

In addition, the Horns have set every major school attendance record during the Mack Brown era.

BROWN'S TOP 10 HORNS: Mack Brown revived the Horns as a Top 10 regular beginning with a No. 5 preseason ranking in 2001. Since then, the Horns have earned a Top 10 standing in 108 of the last 131 AP polls. All totaled, UT has spent 115 weeks ranked among the Top 10 since Brown arrived in 1998. In the same 12-year stretch prior to his arrival, UT spent just 16 weeks rated among the Top 10. Brown has led the Horns to a final Top 10 ranking in six of the last eight seasons. In 2008, Brown led Texas to its first regular-season No. 1 ranking since 1984. In 2005, he led UT to its first No. 1 ranking to end the season since 1969. Before Brown took over the program, the last time UT earned a Top 10 finish was 1983. From the start of the 1984 season to Brown's arrival in 1998, UT was in the Top 10 just 28 times in 14 seasons.

UT AND THE AP TOP 10: As a result of its loss at Kansas State in 2006, Texas had its string of 46-straight weeks in The AP Top 10 snapped. Prior to that, the last time the Horns were not among The AP Top 10 was in the final poll of the 2003 season. The 46-straight weeks was the second-longest streak in the nation and bettered the Horns' run of 40 straight weeks from 1968-71. It also was the longest for the Horns in the Mack Brown era. The longest Texas streak in The AP Top 10 is 60 weeks from 1961-65. Currently, Texas has an active streak of 19 consecutive weeks ranked in the Top 10. In addition, the

LW: Last week's ranking

Horns have been ranked in The AP Top 5 for 15 consecutive weeks, which is the longest active streak in the nation and the second-longest streak in the Mack Brown era (19 weeks, 2005-06).

EIGHT STRAIGHT TOP 15 FINISHES:

Texas' No. 3 ranking in 2008 marked the ninth straight year the Horns finished ranked among the nation's Top 15. That is the first time UT has ever accomplished that feat. The 2008 standing followed a No. 10 ranking in 2007, a No. 13 ranking in 2006, a No. 1 ranking in 2005, a No. 5 ranking in 2004, a No. 12 ranking in 2003, a No. 6 ranking in 2002, a No. 5 ranking in 2001 and a No. 12 ranking in 2000.

WIRE-TO-WIRE: Texas is the nation's only school that has both started and finished the season ranked among the nation's Top 15 in each of the last nine seasons.

TACKLING THE TOP 25: Texas is 23-6 (.793) in its last 29 games versus Top 25 opponents, including a 17-3 mark (.850) in its last 20 match-ups with all three losses coming to Top-10 ranked teams. That's a continuation of the success the Longhorns have had against ranked foes during the Mack Brown era. In his 12 years in Austin, UT is 30-17 (.638) versus Top 25 opponents. In fact, the Longhorns have posted a winning record against ranked opponents in each of the last seven seasons.

AP TOP 25 STREAK AT UT RECORD 144 STRAIGHT WEEKS:

Texas has been ranked among The Associated Press Top 25 for a UT-record and nation-leading 144 straight weeks, bettering a 114-week streak from 1968-76. The next longest active streak is USC's 119 weeks. In addition, the Horns have been ranked in The AP Top 5 for 15 consecutive weeks, which is the longest active streak in the nation and the second-longest streak in the Mack Brown era (19 weeks, 2005-06). Texas has finished the year ranked among The AP Top 25 in each of Mack Brown's 11 years in Austin. That marks the first time in school history Texas has finished in The AP Top 25 for 11 straight years, bettering the previous record of eight straight seasons from 1968-75.

UT-RECORD 172 STRAIGHT WEEKS IN COACHES POLL:

UT has been ranked among the USA Today Coaches Poll for 172 straight weeks dating back to late in the 1998 season. The 172 straight weeks is the longest UT streak in any poll and the nation's longest active streak in the coaches poll. The next longest active streak is USC's 117 weeks. The Horns' previous longest streak in the coaches poll was 54 weeks from 1977-80. Texas has been ranked in the first and last coaches poll in all 11 of Mack Brown's seasons in Austin.

CONFERENCE COMPETITION:

Mack Brown, who has guided the Horns to the 2005 Big 12 Championship and has won or shared the Big 12 South Division Championship five times, is 72-16 (.818) in 11 seasons of Big 12 play. That is the best league record over that span, ahead of Oklahoma (70-18), Nebraska (53-35) and Texas Tech (52-36). UT has won 40 of its last 47 games against Big 12 foes. The Horns had tied the school record by winning 21 straight conference games from 2004-06 before the streak was snapped at Kansas State in 2006. The record of 21 straight conference victories was set from 1968-71 when Texas was competing in the Southwest Conference. The 21-straight Big 12 victories also marked the longest streak in league history. At 80-24 (.769), Texas has the top intraconference record since the Big 12 formed in 1996.

JAMAIL FIELD ADVANTAGE:

During Mack Brown's 12-year tenure, Texas has won 60 of its 66 games (.909) at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium/Jamail Field, including two of the five-longest home winning streaks in UT history. The Horns' .897 home winning percentage (35-4) since 2003 ranks fifth nationally. That is a dramatic improvement from the Horns' 40-23-1 record in the 12 seasons prior to Brown's arrival. The Horns won 20 in a row at home from 1999-2003 (third-longest in school history). Then, from 2003-06, Texas won 16-straight home games, which tied for the fourth-best string on UT record. Under Brown, the Horns have outscored their opponents by an average of 43-16 and outgained them by an average of 469.1 yards to 288.3 at home.

UT'S BIG 12 SUCCESS AT HOME:

Texas is 36-3 (.923) at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium/Jamail Field versus league opponents during the Mack Brown era. The 36 home victories are the most by any team in the conference over the last 11 years. In addition, the Horns set the league record with a 26-game home winning streak over Big 12 opponents, which was snapped in 2006. Prior to 2006, the last time UT had lost a home game against a league foe was 1999 (35-17 to No. 13 Kansas State).

2. USC	49-18	.731
3. Boise State	47-19	.712
4. Georgia	46-20	.697

ROAD WARRIORS: Texas is 53-17 (.757) away from home (road and neutral sites) over the last 11 years, which is the nation's best record over that span. The Horns have lost only nine true road games (not including neutral-site games) in Mack Brown's 12-year tenure, with two of them coming in his first three games at UT. The Longhorns have won 37 of their last 41 true road games (.902). The only losses during that stretch were a group of shootouts, 42-38 at Texas Tech in 2002, 45-42 at Kansas State in 2006, 38-30 at Texas A&M in 2007 and 39-33 at No. 6 Texas Tech in 2008. UT's loss at KSU in '06 snapped a school-record streak of 17 consecutive road wins. The 17-straight road wins eclipsed the previous record of 13 set from 1981-84. UT also won 12 consecutive road games from 2000-02. Overall, Texas is 42-9 (.824) on the road (not including neutral-site games) and 36-5 (.878) versus unranked road foes during the Mack Brown era. In addition, UT is currently on a streak of 10 consecutive non-conference road wins, which is a school record, bettering the previous streak of seven from 1956-63.

BIG 12 ROAD SUCCESS: Texas has won 27 of its last 31 (.871) true Big 12 Conference road games (not including neutral-site games), including a league-record 13 consecutive conference road wins from 2002-06. The Horns are 31-6 (.838) in league road contests under Mack Brown. Highlighting the Horns' road record under Brown are victories at Nebraska (1998) to end the Huskers' nation-best 47-game home winning streak, another win that snapped a Nebraska 26-game home winning streak (2002) and a victory to break Oklahoma State's 10-game winning streak (2003). Prior to Brown's arrival, UT posted just two winning road records in the 11 seasons leading up to 1998 (the first year under Brown). All totalled during that time, UT was just 24-28 in road games.

CAPS AND GOWNS: In 11 seasons under Mack Brown, the Longhorn football program has had a great deal of success when it comes to graduating its student-athletes. Over the last four years, that success in the classroom has reached an all-time high. By the end of the 2009 spring semester, 84 of Texas' 99 (84.9%) seniors, who completed their eligibility at Texas during that stretch, earned their degrees. The top year in that time came during the Horns' National Championship season in 2005. From that group, 26 of 29 (89.7%) seniors earned their degrees by this May. Eighteen of those seniors had received their diplomas prior to UT's victory over USC. The early graduation has been a positive trend at UT as well. Over the last four years, nearly 50 percent (48-of-99) of Texas' seniors have graduated prior to the Longhorns' bowl game. The Longhorns' 2008 class of seniors featured 19-of-23 (82.6%) graduates by the end of spring with all 23 on schedule to complete their degrees by the Fall of 2009. Twenty-one of 24 seniors (87.5%) from the class of 2007 have graduated with two more on pace to complete their degrees in 2009. From the 2006 group of 23 seniors, 18 (78.3%) have graduated and four more are less than two semesters short of their degrees.

EARLIER GRADUATION: Another growing trend has been Longhorns earning their degrees in three and a half years. Over the last two seasons, six Longhorns have graduated in that timespan. In 2007, WR Nate Jones, who is now with the St. Louis Rams, S Drew Kelson, DT Derek Lokey, who is on the Kansas City Chiefs' roster, and DT Frank Okam, who plays with the Houston Texans, earned their degrees in under four years. In 2008, DT Roy Miller received his degree in communications studies after just three and a half years, and RB Chris Ogbonnaya finished his degree in history in the same timeframe.

LONGHORNS IN THE NFL: The Texas Football program is not only one of the best at the collegiate level, but since Mack Brown's arrival, it has become one of the premier sources of talent for the NFL as well. Currently, Texas has 40 players on NFL rosters, including five from last year's team. The 40 players easily leads the Big 12 and is tied for third nationally. And, they aren't just roster players either. Of the 33 Longhorns on rosters prior to this season, 30 have started games during their NFL careers, including 23 who were 2008 starters and 24 that started as rookies. Among that group of 33, seven have earned a spot in a Pro Bowl and seven have played in a Super Bowl with four coming away as Super Bowl Champions. In addition, Texas has the most Top 10 and Top Five picks in the NFL Draft since 1999. The Horns' eight Top 10 picks are tied with USC and their six Top Five picks lead LSU, Miami, Penn State and USC (three).

DKR'S RENOVATIONS: As Texas football proceeds through the 21st century, Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium continues to evolve as a state-of-the-art facility at the forefront of college football. Following the 2008 season, Texas installed FieldTurf as its playing surface and bleachers were added to the south end of the stadium. Combined with the previous year's north end zone project, DKR-Texas Memorial Stadium now has a stadium capacity of 100,119, which is the fifth-largest college stadium in the country and the largest stadium of any kind in the southwest. The north end zone expansion project that was completed prior to the 2008 season featured an upper deck, club seating, an academic center and a war memorial plaza. The expansion added approximately 2,108 club seats and 47 suites. The lower deck of the north end zone was completed for the 2007 season. Another major upgrade was made prior to 2007, when a new video board was installed at the south end of the stadium. At the time, the scoreboard was the nation's largest high-definition video display board thanks to DAKtronics. The $8-million Prostar Video Board is 55 feet high by 134 feet wide. In addition, the interior of the Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Complex, most notably the players' lounge, is consistently being upgraded. Prior to this season, a new academic center was constructed. It is approximately three times the size of the

"FAN"-TASTIC: Texas has been one of the best-attended programs in the nation over the past 10 years, drawing over 84,000 fans per game. The Horns, who have played in front of a sellout crowd in their last 54 home games, have attracted 48 of the top 50 crowds in UT history since Mack Brown took over in 1998. Texas' school-record season-ticket sales of 84,100 in 2009 are more than double the 39,743 sold in 1997, the UT record when Brown arrived. With the completion of the stadium expansion project, the Horns opened 2009 against ULM by setting the single-game attendance record of 101,096, which is the largest crowd to ever see a football game in the state of Texas. UT's previous single-game attendance record of 98,621 was established when it hosted Texas A&M on Thanksgiving night last season. Texas also set a season-attendance record in 2008 with a total of 686,324, which bettered the Horns' previous season best of 619,534, set in 2006. Overall, the top 21 home crowds at Texas have come since '06. On top of that, Texas has attracted record crowds in six of its road games over

But, the Buckeyes ran off 15 straight points to take a 21-17 lead with just 2:05 remaining. From there, Colt McCoy led an 11-play, 78-yard drive that culminated with a 26-yard TD pass to Quan Cosby with 16 seconds left to give UT the 24-21 victory.

first half and trailed by one, 21-20, at halftime. OU went up 28-20 before Texas scored 10 straight to take a 30-28 lead late in the third quarter. OU answered with a TD early in the fourth to make it 35-30, but UT scored the game's final 15 points over the last 7:37 to win, 45-35. In total, Texas went on a 25-7 run to seal the victory.

at OKLAHOMA STATE (2007): Texas erased two fourth-quarter deficits and a second-half deficit, including the largest fourth-quarter comeback in school history against Oklahoma State. The Horns trailed 35-14 entering the final stanza before scoring 24 unanswered points to win, 38-35.

NEBRASKA (2007): Texas trailed Nebraska, 17-9, entering the fourth quarter before running off 19 straight points to win, 28-25. After falling behind 17-3 early in the third quarter, Texas produced 336 total yards and 25 points in the second half to help seal the victory.

at TEXAS TECH (2006): After trailing the Texas Tech, 21-0, in the first quarter, the Horns closed the gap to 31-21 at halftime and 31-28 entering the fourth quarter, before going on to win 35-31.

at NO. 4 OHIO STATE (2005): The Horns trailed the Buckeyes, 22-16, entering the final quarter, but Vince Young connected with Limas Sweed for a 24-yard TD with 2:37 remaining to give Texas a 23-22 lead. A late safety gave the Horns a 25-22 victory.

vs. NO. 1 USC (2005): The Longhorns trailed 38-26 with 6:42 remaining in the game before Vince Young led two TD drives, including his game-winning eight-yard TD run with just 19 seconds left, to secure the win and the National Championship.

Prior to 2005: The Horns notched four second-half comebacks and a fourth-quarter comeback in 2004, including a 28-point comeback against Oklahoma State, the largest in school history. UT also registered a halftime comeback in '02, a fourth-quarter comeback in '01, two halftime comebacks in 1999 and two fourth-quarter comebacks in '98.

OFFENSIVE EXPLOSION: In 11 completed seasons under Mack Brown and offensive coordinator Greg Davis, UT's offense has produced nine of the top 10 passing seasons, 10 of the top 12 total yardage campaigns and the top eight scoring years in school history. The Horns have also averaged at least 200 yards both rushing and passing in four of the 11 seasons. During their tenure, the Longhorns have registered 135 school records, thirty-eight 50-point games and four of the top six total offense games on school record. In addition, UT has produced forty-one 500-yard total offense performances (there are only 64 of them in the 116 years of Texas football) and has recorded nine of the school's nineteen 600-yard total offense games. The Horns' balanced attack has produced at least 400 yards of offense in 73 of its last 105 games and has registered 200 yards both passing and rushing 45 times under Brown and Davis. Texas has scored at least 25 points in 54 of its last 61 games. In addition, the Horns had scored at least 28 points in a UT best 19 consecutive games, bettering the previous mark of 12 straight (2005-06), prior to last season's Fiesta Bowl. Texas also posted an 11-game streak from 2000-01. Prior to Brown's arrival, the longest streak of scoring at least 28 points was seven games.

2009: Over the first two games, Texas is averaging 50 points per game (fourth NCAA), 553.0 total yards (eighth NCAA), 358.0 passing yards (ninth NCAA) and 195.0 yards rushing (41st NCAA). The Longhorns opened the season by posting 562 yards of total offense (363p/199r), including 311 total yards in the first half, against ULM. The Horns produced nine scoring drives, including three 10-play drives and an 11-play drive. UT scored on all seven of its red-zone possessions, including six TDs and a FG to end the first

Texas ranked third nationally on third down, converting 95-of-173 (54.9%), and 16th in red zone offense after converting 61-of-68 chances (90.0%, 52 TDs/nine FGs).

2007: The Texas offense finished the 2007 campaign as one of only 10 teams nationally to average 200 yards passing and 200 yards rushing. The Horns posted 255.4 yards passing (39th NCAA), 207.5 yards rushing (17th NCAA), 462.9 total yards (13th NCAA) and 37.2 points per game (14th NCAA). UT produced at least 400 yards of total offense in nine games and at least 500 yards in five, while scoring at least 30 points in nine of the 13 games. UT eclipsed the 200-yard rushing plateau on seven occasions and reached at least 300 yards rushing in three of its last five games.

The Horns produced at least 600 yards of offense three times in 2005, which was a first in UT history. Texas also came close to having three more 600-yard games with 591 against La.-Lafayette, 585 at Missouri and 556 in the Rose Bowl versus No. 1 USC. UT's 600-yard games came in three consecutive contests against Oklahoma State (606), Baylor (645) and Kansas (617). Texas rushed for at least 300 yards six times in 2005, matching 2004's total for the most by a Texas team since 1977. UT averaged a balanced 274.9 rushing yards and 237.2 passing yards in 2005, marking just the fifth time in school history the Horns averaged better than 200 yards both rushing and passing.

Prior to 2005: UT ranked second in the nation in rushing (299.2 ypg), seventh in total offense (464.4 ypg) and 12th in scoring (35.3 ppg) in 2004. The Horns posted at least 600 yards of offense twice. They recorded 673 yards of offense (third-most in UT history) versus North Texas and 600 total yards against No. 19 Oklahoma State. In 2003, Texas averaged 232.5 rushing yards (eighth NCAA) and 206.6 passing yards, which was the fourth time in school history UT averaged better than 200 yards for each. Texas also averaged 439.2 yards of offense (20th NCAA) while averaging 41.0 points per game (sixth NCAA) in 2003. That came one year after UT averaged 250.1 passing yards and 33.8 points per game (16th NCAA) in 2002. In 2001, the Horns' led the Big 12 in scoring (39.2 ppg/sixth NCAA) and pass efficiency (136.1 rating/27th NCAA). Brown's first UT squad produced a school-best 692 yards against Rice in 1998 and averaged a balanced 266.5 yards passing per game and 204.2 yards rushing per game.

SCORING SPREE: Texas has averaged 39.5 points per game this decade, which ranks second nationally and first among BCS conference schools. The Horns have averaged at least 35 ppg in eight of the nine seasons this decade, including three seasons of at least 40 ppg. In 2005, UT set a then-NCAA record with 652 total points and a school record by averaging 50.2 ppg. During the Mack Brown era, Texas has averaged at least 34 ppg in each of his 11 seasons. In contrast, Texas averaged at least 30 ppg only 12 times in the 45 seasons prior to Brown's arrival.

RECORD-BREAKING YEAR: In 2005, Texas not only set records, it shattered them, in several team offensive categories. The Longhorns set an NCAA record for points scored in a season with 652. The previous high was 624 by Nebraska in 1983, and the previous UT record was 533 in 2003. The team also set school marks with 50.2 points per game (41.4, 1969), 6,657 total yards (5,709, 2003), 512.1 yards per game (472.1, 1969) and 5.91 yards per carry (5.84, 2004). UT became one of only four teams in NCAA history to average 50 or more points and 500 or more yards per game for a season, and the first to do it since 1995. Texas scored at least 40 points in each of its last 11 games and 12-of-13 contests on the season. In 2005, only one other team in the nation (USC) scored 40 points in more than nine games. Texas scored at least 50 points in a game seven times in 2005. UT was the only school in the nation besides USC to accomplish that (versus NCAA Div. I-A). That is the most 50-point games the Horns have ever had in a season, surpassing the previous best of four set in 2003. As for 60-point games, Texas registered at least 60 points four times, which was also a UT first.

PRODUCTIVE PERFORMERS: Since Mack Brown and offensive coordinator Greg Davis took over UT's offense in 1998, Texas has produced its only 2,000-yard rusher (2,124, Ricky Williams, 1998), 1,000-yard receivers (1,087, Wane McGarity, 1998/1,188, Kwame Cavil, 1999/1,142, Roy Williams, 2002/1,079, Roy Williams, 2003/1,123, Quan Cosby, 2008/1,060, Jordan Shipley, 2008), 3,000-yard passers (3,859, Colt McCoy, 2008/3,357, Major Applewhite, 1999/3,303 Colt McCoy, 2007/3,207, Chris Simms, 2002/3,036 Vince Young, 2005) and 1,000 yard rusher/passers (Vince Young, 2004 and '05) in a season in school history. UT has seen players record school single-season bests for rushing touchdowns (28, Ricky Williams, 1998), TD passes (32, Colt McCoy, 2008), TD receptions (12, Roy Williams, 2002/Limas Sweed, 2006), total TDs (45, Colt McCoy, 2008), passing yards (3,859, Colt McCoy, 2008), receptions (100, Kwame Cavil, 1999), scoring (168, Ricky Williams, 1998) and total offense (4,420, Colt McCoy, 2008). In addition, Colt McCoy set the NCAA single-season completion percentage record at 76.7% (332-of-433) in 2008. Cedric Benson became the fifth player in NCAA history to rush for over 1,000 yards in four straight seasons and finished his career ranked sixth on the NCAA all-time rushing list (5,540 yards). Vince Young became the first player in UT history to rush (1,079 yards) and pass (1,849 yards) for more than 1,000 yards in the same season in 2004 and then repeated the feat in 2005 with 1,050 yards rushing and 3,036 yards passing. He became the first player in NCAA history to rush for 1,000 yards or more and pass for at least 3,000 yards in the same season. He came within two rushing yards of becoming just the third freshman QB in NCAA history to post 1,000 yards rushing and passing in a season in 2003. The Longhorns' freshman records for rushing yards (1,053, Cedric Benson, 2001), rushing TDs (12, Cedric Benson, 2001/12, Cody Johnson, 2008), total TDs (13, Cedric Benson, 2001), 100-yard rushing games (5, Cedric Benson, 2001), passing yards (2,570, Colt McCoy, 2006), total offense (2,740, Colt McCoy, 2006), receptions (41, B.J. Johnson, 2000), receiving yards (809, Roy Williams, 2000), TD catches (8, Roy Williams, 2000) and TD passes (29, Colt McCoy, 2006) have also been set in the Brown era. In addition, McCoy's 29 TD passes in 2006 tied the NCAA record for freshmen.

MUSCHAMP'S STINGY SCORING D:

In his first season at Texas, defensive coordinator Will Muschamp led a Longhorn defense that held all 13 opponents under their season scoring averages and seven teams under 14 points. That's a trend that goes back a few years for one of the nation's premier defensive coordinators. Over the last four seasons at Auburn and Texas, Muschamp has led defenses that have allowed 21 points or less in 32 of the last 41 games, including 14 or less 22 times. On average, his units are giving up just 16.5 points per game during that stretch. Over the first two games of 2009, the Horns have given up just 30 total points for a 15 points per game average. In 2008, UT's defense allowed just 18.8 points per game (18th NCAA/first Big 12). Previously, while at Auburn, Muschamp led a group that finished sixth nationally after allowing just 16.9 points per game in 2007. The Tigers held opponents to 20 points or less in 10 of their 13 games, including six games with 13 points or less. In 2006, Muschamp's D ranked seventh nationally after allowing just 13.9 points per game, including seven games with 14 points or less and two shut-outs.

bold italics denotes Mack Brown era

DEFENSIVE DOMINANCE: After inheriting a program that ranked among the NCAA's bottom half in total defense for the five seasons prior to his arrival, Mack Brown and the Longhorns' staff have reversed that trend. Texas has ranked among the nation's top 25 in total defense in eight of the last 11 seasons.

2009: Over the first two games, the Texas defense is allowing 15.0 points per game (35th NCAA), 285.5 total yards (43rd NCAA), an 88.4 pass efficiency rating (17th NCAA) and 93.0 rushing yards (40th NCAA). The Texas defense allowed 298 total yards (197p/101r) in the season opener against ULM. Over the first three quarters, Texas only gave up 188 yards and eight first downs. If you subtract ULM's long play of 75 yards, the Horns gave up just 223 yards on 64 plays for an average of 3.5 yards per play. UT's defense allowed just five third-down conversions on 15 attempts, including 1-of-8 in the first half. ULM had three drives that started inside the UT 40-yard line, but the Texas D stiffened and only allowed three points. On one of the series, UT defended six plays inside the 10-yard line and forced a turnover thanks to a Nolan Brewster INT. Against Wyoming, the Horns allowed just 99 total yards in the first half and 273 yards for the game (188p/85r). The defense held the Cowboys to three points for the game with the other seven coming on a blocked punt return for a TD. The three points came on a field goal after Wyoming took over on the UT 14 and failed to make a first down, forcing the field-goal attempt. During the second quarter alone, the Horns gave up just 21 yards on 16 plays and did not allow a first down. For the game, UT held Wyoming to 3.2 yards per play and just 3-of-17 on third down. Eight of Wyoming's 15 drives went for less than 10 yards and the Cowboys managed to reach Texas territory just twice on their final 11 drives.

2008: The Texas defense led the Big 12 in scoring defense (18.8 ppg/18th NCAA), total defense (342.9 ypg/51st NCAA) and rushing defense (83.5 ypg/third NCAA) and was second in the conference in pass efficiency defense (124.2 rating). In addition, the Horns led the nation in sacks with 3.62 per game (47 total sacks) and posted at least four sacks in five of UT's 13 games. The unit gave up just 29 TDs, which tied for the 18th fewest nationally and were 12 fewer than any other Big 12 team. UT's opponents converted on only 64 of their 183 third-down attempts (35.0%) and the Horns allowed only 31 scores on 42 red-zone possessions (74.0%), which tied for 11th nationally, and gave up just 20 TDs (47.6%).

2007: Texas allowed 25.3 points, 371.2 total yards and 93.4 rushing yards per game (sixth NCAA) in 2007, while holding opponents to a 127.5 passer rating. UT held seven teams under 100 yards rushing, including three games of 10 yards or less. Texas held Rice to -11 yards rushing, which marked the fourth-best performance by the Longhorn D since 1990. The Horns also held five opponents to 14 points or fewer.

2006: Texas finished 2006 ranked third nationally against the run (61.2 ypg), 22nd in total defense (297.4 ypg) and 26th in scoring defense (18.3 ppg). The Horns only allowed two teams to rush for 100 yards and held seven opponents to 14 points or fewer. The 2006 UT defense produced the school's second-best effort since 1990 by holding North Texas to just 95 total yards. UT also held Rice to -12 yards rushing, which marked the fourth time since 1990 that UT held a team to negative yards rushing. In fact, seven of UT's top 22 performances against the rush since 1990 came during the 2006 campaign.

2005: The Longhorns ranked 10th nationally in total defense (302.9 ypg), eighth in scoring defense (16.4 ppg), eighth in passing defense (172.0 ypg) and 33rd in rushing defense (130.9 ypg). Texas only allowed opponents to reach 300 yards of total offense five times and held the remaining eight opponents to 267 yards or fewer. Statistically, UT's best defensive performance came against Oklahoma in the Red River Rivalry. The Sooners only managed 171 total yards and one TD. The Longhorns weren't far off that pace by allowing only 191 yards and one field goal to Colorado in the Big 12 Championship game.

Prior to 2005: Texas held its opponents to 320.1 yards (23rd NCAA), 17.9 points (18th NCAA) and 107.4 yards per game (16th NCAA). Texas ranked 25th nationally in total defense (329.8 ypg) and allowed just 21.1 points per game in 2003, while holding its opponents to 307.7 yards (16th NCAA) and 16.3 points per game (eighth NCAA) in 2002. UT was one of only two teams to post three shutouts against NCAA Division I-A opponents in 2002. The Longhorns defense went from ranking 85th nationally in total defense in 1997, the year prior to Brown's arrival, to back-to-back top 10 finishes in total defense in 1999-2000 and captured an NCAA statistical title in total defense in 2001. UT's 236.2 yards per game allowed that season were the fewest it had allowed since 1983 (212.0 ypg). It marked the first time since '83 and only the third time in school history that UT led the nation in total defense. Texas also led the Big 12 in rushing (89.5 ypg/sixth NCAA), passing (146.7 ypg/third NCAA) and scoring defense (13.7 ppg/third NCAA) while establishing itself as one of only two defenses ranked among the nation's top 10 in every major defensive category in 2001.

AIR DEFENSE: Texas' pass defense has been ranked in the Top 10 in five of the last nine seasons. It has allowed opponents to complete 52.9 percent (2,019-of-3,820) of their passes for only 199.0 yards per game (23,281 in 117 games), while intercepting 130 passes (1.1 pg).

2009: After two games, Texas is allowing just 192.5 passing yards per game (54th NCAA), a 46.3% completion rate and an 88.4 pass efficiency rating (17th NCAA). UT opened the season by holding ULM's quarterback to 14-of-30 passing (46.7%) for 197 yards, while intercepting one pass and breaking up eight. ULM managed just 6.6 yards per attempt. If you subtract their long completion of 75 yards, the Horns allowed just 122 yards passing on 29 attempts (4.2 yards per attempt). At Wyoming, the Horns gave up 188 passing yards, including just 58 in the first half, on 23-of-50 (46.0%) for an average of 3.8 yards per attempt. Wyoming's longest pass play went for 14 yards and the Horns broke up five passes.

2008: The Texas secondary had to replace three of its four starters from 2007 and it did so with a senior, a junior and four underclassmen, including two true freshmen. Overall, the Horns had eight members of its secondary see significant action. UT gave up 259.4 yards per game, but held opponents to a 124.2 passer rating, which ranked second in the Big 12. The Horns held five teams to 220 yards passing or less. In addition, on 69 attempts, the Horns' defense only allowed 13 conversions of third down and 10 or more (18.8%).

2007: UT allowed 277.8 yards passing per game, held opponents to a 127.5 passer rating and intercepted 17 passes on the season. Marcus Griffin led the team in tackles (99) and INTs (five), while Ryan Palmer (80 tackles, 14 PBU) and Brandon Foster (71 tackles, four INTs, 12 PBU) finished second and third on the team in tackles.

2006: The 2006 campaign saw Aaron Ross win the Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back. It marked the second consecutive season that a Longhorn won the award after Michael Huff did so in 2005. Ross' six INTs helped UT total 13 for the season, and he also finished second nationally with 25 passes defended. Michael Griffin led the team in tackles for the second consecutive year and, along with Ross, earned All-America and first-team All-Big 12 honors.

2005: UT finished eighth nationally in pass defense (172.0 ypg). The Horns also finished fourth nationally in pass efficiency defense (96.7 rating) that year. Opponents averaged only 5.13 yards per pass attempt, which led the nation, and threw for only 10 TDs compared to UT's 11 INTs. In 13 games, Texas allowed only two teams, Texas Tech and USC, to throw for over 200 yards. Both of those teams finished in the top five nationally in passing offense.

Prior to 2005: The Horns intercepted 13 passes and ranked 31st nationally in pass efficiency defense (114.3 rating) in 2004. Texas allowed opponents to complete just 167-of-354 passes (47.2%/third NCAA) for 2,305 yards (177.3 ypg/ninth NCAA) and ranked 18th nationally in pass efficiency defense (106.5 rating) in 2003. UT's recent pass defense efforts continue a turnaround that started when Mack Brown took over the Longhorns' program in 1998. That year, UT was coming off a season that saw it rank 75th nationally in pass efficiency defense (132.7 rating). In just their third season (2000), UT led the nation in pass efficiency defense (88.3 rating). The Horns limited opponents to the second-lowest completion percentage in the nation (45.2%/171-of-378), 184.3 yards per game, 5.36 yards per pass attempt (second NCAA), while allowing just eight TD passes that season. The Horns put up comparable numbers in 2001, holding a schedule that featured several high-powered passing attacks to a Big 12-low 146.7 passing yards per game (third NCAA) and ranked fourth nationally in pass efficiency defense (88.0). Texas held its opponents to a NCAA-low 4.77 yards per attempt and just six TDs (t-2nd NCAA) in 2001. In 2002, Texas allowed opponents to complete just 192-of-400 passes (48.0%) for 2,147 yards (165.2 ypg/eighth NCAA). UT also ranked seventh nationally in pass efficiency defense (96.1 rating). Texas' 22 interceptions were tied for the fourth-most nationally and second-most in UT history. The Horns ranked 92nd nationally in pass efficiency defense (138.7 rating) in '98 and improved to 12th in '99 (101.6 rating) before leading the nation in 2000.

GROUND PATROL: Mack Brown and his staff inherited a ground defense that had ranked no better than 64th nationally in the five seasons prior to their arrival. In 12 seasons at Texas, they have turned that around dramatically. The Horns have limited 53 of their last 102 opponents to fewer than 100 yards rushing and allowed just twenty-eight 100-yard rushers in the last 129 games. In addition, at home over the last three seasons (21 games), Texas has only allowed six teams to break the 100-yard plateau and has only allowed three individual 100-yard rushers. In true road games over the last four seasons (12 games), Texas has only allowed five teams to reach 100 yards rushing and just two individual 100-yard rushers. Texas has held its opponent under 50 yards rushing 35 times during the Mack Brown era. During the last nine seasons (105 games), UT has held opponents to just 106.6 rushing yards per game (11,194 yards on 3,460 carries) and 3.2 yards per carry.

2009: Over the first two games, Texas is allowing 93.0 yards per game and just 2.7 yards per carry. UT allowed 101 yards rushing on 35 carries in the season opener against ULM for a 2.9 yards-per-carry average. At Wyoming, the Horns gave up 85 yards on 34 carries and just 2.5 yards per carry. In fact, 21 of Wyoming's 34 rushing attempts went for two yards or less.

Mack Brown era in BOLD

[^] 2005 Big 12 Championship game

2008: Texas gave up just 83.5 yards rushing per game (third NCAA/first Big 12) and allowed just eight rushing TDs, which tied for eighth nationally and was 11 fewer than the next best Big 12 team. Overall, Texas gave up just 1,086 rushing yards on 356 carries (3.1 ypc) and forced its opponents into 522 lost yards on sacks and TFL. The Horns allowed only five teams to rush for over 100 yards and just three individual 100-yard rushers, while holding the other eight opponents to less than 50 yards rushing.

2007: Texas allowed just 93.4 yards per game to rank sixth nationally. The Horns held seven of their 13 opponents under 100 yards rushing and gave up just 2.9 yards per carry. Highlighting the season were games against No. 19 TCU (43 yards), Rice (-11 yards), Baylor (eight yards), Texas Tech (10 yards) and Arizona State (22 yards). All five games rank in UT's top 35 performances since 1990. In fact, the minus-11 yards by Rice were the fourth-fewest since 1990 and the fifth time UT has held an opponent to negative rushing yards in that span. All five occasions have come during the Mack Brown era.

2006: The Horns rush defense gave up just 61.2 yards per game in 2006 (third NCAA), turning in the best performance on school record since 1942 (57.5 ypg). They gave up only 795 yards rushing on 345 carries (2.3 ypc). UT allowed just two teams to rush for 100 yards and held six teams to 27 yards or less, including two games in which the opponent rushed for negative yards (Texas Tech, -13; Rice, -12). In addition, seven of UT's top 22 performances against the rush since 1990 came during the 2006 campaign.

2005: Texas allowed 130.9 ypg on the ground, 3.7 ypc and gave up only 15 rushing TDs, while holding nine of their 13 opponents to under 120 yards.

Prior to 2005: The Horns ranked 16th nationally in rushing defense (107.4 ypg) in 2004, allowing just 60.0 yards per game over the final six contests. UT held six foes to 70 (or fewer) yards rushing that season. After inheriting a unit that ranked 104th nationally and allowed 241.5 yards per game in 1997, Brown and company guided the Horns to the nation's 17th-best run defense (105.7 ypg) in 1999 and the 12th-best ground defense (94.0 ypg) in 2000. UT's 94.0 yards allowed rushing per game in 2000 was, at the time, the fewest allowed by a Longhorns' squad since 1977 (91.1

ypg). UT followed that effort up in 2001 by allowing a Big 12-low 89.5 rushing ypg (sixth NCAA) and just 2.8 yards per carry.

GUARDING THE END ZONE: Texas' defense has made it difficult for opponents to reach the end zone over the last 10 seasons. Since 2000, the Horns have allowed only 242 TDs in 117 games (2.1 TDs per game), which ranks sixth nationally. Miami has allowed the fewest TDs, giving up only 212. UT's best season came in 2001, when the Horns' top-ranked unit gave up only 19 TDs. Texas has allowed 29 TDs or fewer in six of the last nine seasons. Conversely, Texas has scored at least 45 TDs in each of the last nine seasons, with a high of 81 scores in 2005. The Horns scored 74 TDs in 2008 and 542 TDs over the 10-year span, averaging 4.6 TDs per game.

FORCING TURNOVERS: Texas' defense has forced 308 turnovers during the Mack Brown era (143 games/2.2 per game), while only giving up 238 turnovers for a plus-70 turnover margin. Overall, the Horns have averaged a plus-six turnover margin per season during Brown's tenure. The Horns are even in the turnover margin in 2009 having forced four turnovers (three fumbles/one INT), while giving up four (two fumbles/two INTs). Last season, Texas forced 16 turnovers (10 fumbles/six INTs), while giving up 14 (six fumbles/eight INTs). In 2007, Texas forced 27 turnovers (10 fumbles/17 INTs), while giving up 26 (seven fumbles/19 INTs). In 2006, UT forced 32 turnovers (19 fumbles/13 INTs), while only giving up 23 (14 fumbles/nine INTs), for a plus-nine margin (T-No. 13 NCAA). The 32 takeaways were tied for the sixth-most in the nation and the 19 fumble recoveries tied for the most nationally. In 2005, UT forced 27 turnovers (16 fumbles/11 INTs). Three of those 27 turnovers were returned or recovered for scores, and the 16 fumble recoveries ranked fourth nationally. The Horns finished the season with a plus-nine turnover margin. Texas had a plus-five turnover margin, forcing 23 turnovers (10 fumbles/13 INTs) and losing 18, in 2004. UT forced 29 turnovers (14 fumbles/15 INTs) in 2003. UT's attacking unit provided several big plays in forcing 35 turnovers (T-No. 12 NCAA) in '02. The Longhorns combined for 22 INTs (T-No. 4 NCAA) by eight different players and recovered 13 fumbles.

UNEXPECTED OFFENSE: Even though Texas' offense is one of the most potent in the country, it has received help from the rest of the team when it comes to scoring TDs. Since 1999, UT has scored 64 TDs via returns, turnovers and blocked kicks. The 64 scores during that stretch rank third nationally behind Virginia Tech (73) and Kansas State (68). UT opened 2009 with one non-offensive TD, an 89-yard kickoff return TD by D.J. Monroe. Texas posted five non-offensive TDs in 2008 behind two INT returns, a fumble return, a kickoff return and a punt return. In 2007, UT posted five non-offensive TDs on three INT returns, a fumble return and a kickoff return, which was UT's first since 2003. The Horns scored eight non-offensive TDs in 2006 with four coming off fumble recoveries, two from punt returns, one on an INT return and one on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone. In the nine-season stretch, Texas scored the most non-offensive TDs in 2003 (nine).

SCORING DEFENSE: Texas' defense has been a scoring machine since 1999. During that time, the defense has accounted for 246 points and scored in 36 of the 131 games. The Horns' defense has scored at least three TDs in nine of the last 10 seasons, led by the seven TDs scored in 2000. That defense tallied 46 points, which is the most over the nine-year stretch. The 2003 unit scored six TDs, while the 2006 unit scored five TDs.

SHORT DRIVES: The Texas defense has prevented its opponents from moving the chains on 36.3 percent of their drives over the last eight seasons (105 games). During that time, UT has forced 488 three-and-outs or better in 1,346 possessions. In 2009, the Horns have forced 11 three-and-outs or better on 29 possessions (37.9%). UT opened against ULM by forcing five three-and-outs or better on 14 possessions and followed that by forcing six three-and-outs or better on 16 Wyoming possessions. The Horns forced 44 three-and-outs or better on 152 possessions (.289) in 2008, averaging over three three-and-outs per game. In 2007, UT forced 52 three-and-outs or better on 168 possessions (.310). Texas forced 60 three-and-outs or better on 154 possessions (.390) in 2006. Previously, the Horns held foes to three-and-outs or better on 73-of-178 possessions (.438) in 2005, 46-of-153 possessions (.307) in 2004, 56-of-181 possessions (.309) in 2003, 73-of-176 possessions (.414) in 2002 and 73-of-165 possessions (.442) in 2001.

"SPECIAL" TEAMS: The Texas special teams have been just that since Mack Brown took over the program in 1998. Since then, Texas has blocked 63 kicks (35 punts/16 FGs/12 PATs), an average of 5.7 per season. That is 38 more than the 25 recorded in the 11-year span prior to Brown's arrival. UT has blocked the most kicks in the nation since 2000 with 54 to lead Virginia Tech (46) and N.C. State (45). Since Brown arrived, the Longhorns have had players set or equal UT records for career blocked kicks, single-season blocked kicks, career blocked punts and single-season blocked punts. Texas also has improved its kick returning and defending on kickoffs and punts. The Longhorns have scored on eight punt returns, while only giving up three punt return TDs since Brown's arrival. It had been 101 games (Kansas State, 1999) since Texas had given up a punt return for a TD before Kansas State returned one in 2007. That is a major difference from the 12 years prior to Brown's arrival. During that time, Texas scored on four punt returns, while its opponents scored on seven returns. Texas has given up three kickoff returns for TDs during the Mack Brown era which is the same amount UT allowed in the 12 years prior to Brown's arrival.

When Brown arrived in 1998, Texas hadn't returned a kickoff for a score since 1978. The Horns snapped that string when Victor Ike returned a kickoff 93 yards for a TD in the 2000 Holiday Bowl. Selvin Young added a 97-yard kickoff return TD against New Mexico State in 2003, Quan Cosby posted a 91-yard kickoff return TD at Texas A&M in 2007, Jordan Shipley notched a 96-yard kickoff return TD versus Oklahoma in 2008 and D.J. Monroe scored on an 89-yard kickoff return in the 2009 season opener against ULM. In addition, four of Texas' most accurate field goal kickers (Kris Stockton, 1996, '98-2000, Dusty Mangum, 2001-04, Ryan Bailey, 2006-present and Hunter Lawrence 2006-present) also have come during Brown's time at Texas. Mangum (121), Lawrence (71), Bailey (60) and Stockton (57) also are at the top of UT's consecutive made extra points list.

LONGHORN RETURNEES: Texas returns 16 starters (eight offense/six defense/two specialists) and 49 lettermen (22 offense/21 defense/six specialists) from the 2008 squad. Among the returning offensive and defensive starters, UT welcomes back 16 players who, entering 2009, had combined to start 248 games (157 offense/91 defense). When you add in 11 other returnees, who had combined to start 35 games (19 offense/16 defense), Texas entered this season with a roster that featured 27 players with starting experience on offense or defense. That group combined to start 283 games (176 offense/107 defense).

2009 SENIORITY: A group of 16 seniors, who have played in a combined 506 games (209 starts), are leading the 2009 Longhorns. QB Colt McCoy (41 games/41 starts), WR Jordan Shipley (41 games/22 starts) and linemen Chris Hall (33 games/25 starts), Charlie Tanner (32 games/19 starts) and Adam Ulatoski (38 games/32 starts) return as starters on the offensive side of the ball, while CB Deon Beasley (33 games/11 starts), DT Lamarr Houston (37 games/20 starts), DE/LB Sergio Kindle (34 games/13 starts) and LB Roddrick Muckelroy (31 games/19 starts) lead the way for the defense. LB Jared Norton (38 games/eight starts), DS Will Harvey (28 games) and place-kickers Ryan Bailey (27 games) and Hunter Lawrence (34 games) also return with first-team experience. In addition, DT Ben Alexander (26 games) and TE Mac McWhorter (34 games) are providing senior leadership in 2009.

2008 SENIOR CLASS: The 2008 group of 23 seniors was one of the most accomplished classes in the Mack Brown era. They tied the 2005 class for the most victories (since freshmen became eligible in 1972) with a 45-7 (86.5%) record and won four consecutive bowl games, including two BCS games. In addition, the group went 25-6 (80.6%) in regular season Big 12 Conference games. The class helped Texas set a school record for victories in a season with 13 in 2005 on their way to the National Championship. It helped the Horns post a 21-game winning streak, the second-longest winning streak in school history, and matched the longest conference winning streak with 21 straight Big 12 wins. These seniors won 22 of 25 home games. They also helped Texas post at least 10 wins in eight consecutive seasons, becoming just the third team in college football history to post a streak of at least eight consecutive 10-win seasons, and eight straight Top 15 finishes for the first time in school history. This senior class' lowest final national ranking was No. 13 in 2006. They finished in the Top 10 three times and the Top Five twice, including the first No. 1 ranking to end a season since 1969.

DEPARTED SENIORS: Texas will enter the 2009 season seeking to replace a group of 12 seniors, who played in a combined 522 games (221 offense/301 defense). Out of that group, the senior class produced 11 players that started a game during their career and combined to start 211 games (76 offense/135 defense). WR Quan Cosby (52 games/35 starts), OG Cedric Dockery (41 games/30 starts) and RB Chris Ogbonnaya (47 games/seven starts) had starting experience on the offensive side of the ball, while LB Rashad Bobino (52 games/45 starts), DT Aaron Lewis (45 games/15 starts), DE Henry Melton (49 games, 24 at defensive end/10 starts), DT Roy Miller (49 games/19 starts), DE Brian Orakpo (47 games/21 starts) and CB Ryan Palmer (49 games/25 starts) led the way for the defense. DE Nic Redwine (10 games), FB Luke Tiemann (34 games/one start) and TE Peter Ullman (47 games/three starts) also provided senior leadership last season. The departing seniors were led by Orakpo, who claimed unanimous All-America honors and three national awards in the Nagurski Trophy (nation's top defensive player), Lombardi Award (nation's top lineman) and Hendricks Award (nation's top defensive end). The consensus Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, his 11.5 sacks in 2008 were tied for 10th on UT's single-season list and his 22 career sacks also tied for 10th on UT's all-time list. Cosby, who caught a pass in 44 straight games to close out his career (No. 2 on UT's all-time list), was a semifinalist for the Biletnikoff Award (nation's top receiver) and ranks second on UT's receptions list (212), third in yardage (2,598) and fourth in TD receptions (19). Also a dangerous kick returner, Cosby, who was a two-time All-Big 12 selection, was one of only four Longhorns to return a punt and a kickoff for a TD during a career and just the second Longhorn to post over 2,000 receiving yards and 1,500 kickoff return yards in a career. Ogbonnaya was a semifinalist for the Draddy Trophy, a second-team Academic All-America selection and an honorable mention All-Big 12 choice in 2008. He topped UT's single-season receptions by a running back list with 46 and ranked second with 540 yards. For his career, he ranks third on both lists with 75

OFFENSIVE RETURNEES: Texas returns 16 players in 2009 that have starting experience at every offensive position. That group, which includes the reigning National Player of the Year, two All-Americans and five players that earned mention on one of the All-Big 12 teams, helped pace an offense that ranked fifth nationally in scoring offense (42.4 ppg), seventh in passing offense (308.3 ypg) and ninth in total offense (475.8 ypg). Back from that offense are Walter Camp Football Foundation Player of the Year and Heisman Trophy runner-up senior QB Colt McCoy, a corp of wide receivers led by McCoy's favorite target senior All-America WR Jordan Shipley, a stable of three running backs and six offensive linemen with starting experience, including four full-time starters from 2008. McCoy is coming off the most productive season for a quarterback in UT history. He set a NCAA record with a 76.7 completion percentage and posted UT single-season marks with 3,859 passing yards, 34 TD passes, a 173.8 passer rating and 4,420 total yards. McCoy is the nation's only returning QB that passed for more than 3,500 yards and rushed for over 500 and leads all returning QBs in career passing yards with 10,386. Shipley, who earned All-America honors last season after posting 89 receptions for 1,060 yards and 11 TDs, currently ranks sixth on UT's all-time reception list with 147, sixth in receiving yards with 1,947 and second with 21 TD receptions. He is joined by juniors Brandon Collins (19 games/three starts) and James Kirkendoll (19 games/seven starts) and sophomore Malcolm Williams (15 games/eight starts). That group combined to catch 73 passes for 955 yards and seven TDs in 2008. The backfield trio of junior Vondrell McGee (26 games/five starts) and sophomores Cody Johnson (15 games/two starts) and Fozzy Whittaker (seven games/two starts) combined to post 998 yards and 16 TDs on 228 carries (4.4 ypc) in 2008. The offensive line returns seniors C Chris Hall (33 games/25 starts/11 starts, second-team All-Big 12 in 2008), OG Charlie Tanner (33 games/21 starts/10 starts, honorable mention All-Big 12 in 2008) and OT Adam Ulatoski (38 games/32 starts/13 starts, first-team All-Big 12 in 2008) and junior OT Kyle Hix (28 games/16 straight starts at right tackle). In addition, juniors OT Tray Allen (22 games) and OG Michael Huey (27 games/four starts) and sophomore C/OG David Snow (15 games/three starts) also return.

THREE KEY OFFENSIVE STARTERS NEED TO BE REPLACED:

Texas will need to replace three key veterans on offense, who each earned All-Big 12 honors last year, for the 2009 season. The trio combined to play in 140 games (72 starts). Two-time All-Big 12 WR Quan Cosby finished his career with 212 receptions (No. 2 on UT's all-time list), 2,598 yards (No. 3 on UT's all-time list) and 19 TDs (No. 4 on UT's all-time list). Cosby also is the top kickoff returner in UT history, having returned 73 kickoffs (No. 1 on UT's all-time list) for 1,731 yards (No. 1 on UT's all-time list). He is one of just four players in Texas history to return a punt and a kickoff for a TD during a career. OG Cedric Dockery, who also was a two-time All-Big 12 selection, played in 41 career games, making 30 starts. RB Chris Ogbonnaya, who was a semifinalist for the Draddy Trophy (Academic Heisman) and an honorable mention All-Big 12 performer, finished his career with 597 yards and eight TDs on the ground to go along with 75 receptions for 792 yards, which both rank third on UT's all-time list for running backs.

THE REAL MCCOY: Colt McCoy's 34-7 record as a starter ranks first on UT's all-time victories list ahead of Vince Young (30-2, 2003-05) and is eight victories shy of tying Georgia's David Greene for the all-time NCAA wins record (42). With a victory at Wyoming, McCoy passed Nebraska's Tommie Frazier on the all-time list. McCoy already holds 43 school records including 13 career, 12 single-season, five single-game, six freshman and seven miscellaneous marks. During his 41-game career, McCoy has completed 876-of-1,251 passes (70.0%) for 10,386 yards and 90 TDs against 35 INTs for a passer rating of 157.9. McCoy's 876 completions, 1,251 attempts, 70.0 completion percentage, 10,386 yards, 90 TDs and 157.9 passer rating rank first on UT's all-time list and he is the first Longhorn to pass for more than 10,000 yards. He holds three of UT's top seven single-season marks for passing yardage (No.

1, 3,859, 2008; No. 3, 3,303, 2007; No. 7, 2,570, 2006). In combining his passing (90) and rushing (18) TDs, McCoy ranks first on UT's TD responsible for list with 108, having passed Ricky Williams (76) and Vince Young (81). McCoy joined Major Applewhite as the only two Texas QBs to surpass 2,000 yards passing in three seasons and McCoy is only the fifth to record multiple seasons of at least 2,000 passing yards. He has thrown for at least 200 yards 31 times in 41 career games, which ranks first on UT's all-time list ahead of Applewhite, and has thrown for at least 300 yards 12 times, which is a UT record. In fact, McCoy has thrown for at least 300 yards in seven of his last nine games. McCoy holds the school record for consecutive completions and consecutive completions in a game with 18 against No. 7 Oklahoma State. He now holds nine of UT's top 13 consecutive-completion streaks. McCoy has produced 68 plays of 30 yards or more, 26 of 40 yards or more and 18 of 50 yards or more during his career. He has thrown a TD pass in 38 of 41 career games, at least two TD passes in 29 games, which is the most in UT history, and at least four TD passes in seven games. McCoy has thrown a TD pass in 19 consecutive games, which is tied for first with Applewhite on UT's all-time list. McCoy is the only quarterback in Texas history who has recorded three seasons of at least 20 TD passes. McCoy's 56 TDs over the last two seasons (22, 2007; 34, 2008) are the most in consecutive years, bettering his own mark of 51 (29, 2006; 22, 2007) and Chris Simms' total of 48 (22, 2001; 26, 2002). In addition, McCoy has rushed for 1,264 yards and 18 TDs on 334 carries (3.8 ypc) and has rushed and passed for a TD in the same game 13 times during his career. Overall, McCoy is UT's all-time leader in total offense, having produced 11,650 yards

MCCOY'S CAREER HONORS: Colt McCoy, who is a three-time UT MVP and three-time bowl game Offensive MVP (Alamo '06, Holiday '07, Fiesta '08), has already filled the trophy case during his three seasons at Texas. As a junior in 2008, McCoy was named the Walter Camp Football Foundation Player of the Year, the Chevrolet Offensive Player of the Year, the Archie Griffin Award winner and was a consensus first-team All-American. In addition, he was the runner-up for the Heisman Trophy, a finalist for the Maxwell Award (college player of the year), Davey O'Brien Award (nation's top quarterback) and Manning Award (nation's top quarterback) and was tabbed the Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year by The Associated Press. McCoy also picked up numerous weekly awards during his junior campaign, being named the Walter Camp Football Foundation National Offensive Player of the Week once, the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback of the Week three times and Big 12 Player of the Week three times. As a freshman in 2006, McCoy was a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien Award (nation's top QB) and was named The Sporting News and Touchdown Club of Columbus National Freshman of the Year. He also was named the Big 12 Freshman of the Year, becoming the sixth UT player to win that honor. McCoy was twice named the Cingular All-America Player of the Week and earned the Walter Camp Player of the Week and Master Coaches Survey Game Ball once.

STAT FACT

Colt McCoy is the nation's only returning QB that passed for over 3,500 yards and rushed for at least 500 in 2008.

GOOD WORK: Colt McCoy was named to the 2008 Allstate AFCA Good Works Team. McCoy was one of just 11 players selected from the entire Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS), who are being honored for the embodiment of the true spirit of "teamwork" and "giving back" through selfless contributions and commendable acts of kindness. McCoy became the sixth Longhorn to be selected to the team in its 17-year history, following Vince Young in 2005, Ricky Williams in 1998, Tyson King in 1996, Tony Brackens in 1995 and Robert Reed in 1994. Among his many community service activities, McCoy spent his 2008 and '09 Spring Breaks on missions to Peru, where he volunteered at a weeklong Christian Sports camp that hosted less fortunate children in the areas of rainforests on the Amazon. He also earned a spot on the Big 12 Good Works team in 2007.

MCCOY'S ACADEMIC HONORS: Boasting better than a 3.0 GPA, Colt McCoy was an Academic All-America nominee in 2007 and is on pace to graduate in December with a degree in sports management. McCoy is a three-time Academic All-Big 12 honoree and has earned a spot on UT's Athletics Director's Honor Roll four times.

MCCOY VS. THE TOP 25: Colt McCoy is 8-3 versus ranked opponents. His only losses came to No. 1 Ohio State in just the second start of his career, to No. 10 Oklahoma in 2007 and at No. 6 Texas Tech in 2008. In the 11 games, McCoy has gone 276-of-388 (71.1%) for 2,932 yards and 18 TDs (seven INTs) for a passer rating of 146.3. He has also rushed for 219 yards and five TDs. McCoy is averaging 286.5 total yards and two TDs per game. TERRIFIC IN YEAR THREE:

Already entrenched in the record books after two seasons, Colt McCoy was even better as a junior. McCoy was one of just two QBs nationally who posted over 3,500 yards passing and 500 yards rushing. He also rushed and passed for a TD in eight games and became the first Longhorn to rush and pass for a TD in three of the first four games of a season. For the year, McCoy went 332-of-433 (76.7%) for 3,859 yards and 34 TDs, with eight INTs, for a passer rating of 173.8. His 76.7 completion percentage set an NCAA record, bettering Daunte Culpepper's mark (73.6%, 296-of-402, 1998). In addition, McCoy's 173.8 passer rating ranked third nationally and set a UT single-season record. His 3,859 passing yards, 34 TDs and 332 completions also are UT single-season records. He threw for at least 300 yards six times, which broke Major Applewhite's single-season record of five (1999). In addition, McCoy led the team in rushing with 561 yards and 11 TDs on 136 carries (4.1 ypc). Overall, McCoy posted a single-season school record with 4,420 yards of total offense (3,859p/561r), bettering Vince Young's 4,086 total yards in 2005, and averaged 7.8 yards per play and 340.0 total yards per game, which ranked fifth nationally. His 4,420 total yards were more than 49 teams in the FBS. He also was responsible for 21.1 points per game, which ranked sixth nationally. His 45 total TDs were more than 75 teams in the FBS.

FAU: In Texas' 52-10 victory over FAU, McCoy threw for 222 yards and three TDs, while notching his second career 100-yard rushing game with 103 yards on 12 carries (8.6 ypc). He joined Vince Young as the only players in UT history to pass for 200 or more yards and rush for 100 or more yards in a game more than once in a career. McCoy also accomplished the feat with 282 passing yards and 106 rushing yards against Oklahoma State in 2007. McCoy opened the season by completing his first 13 passes, which set a single-game record (previous record: Vince Young, 12, vs. Oklahoma St., 2004), on his way to completing 24-of-29 passes (82.8%). He shared Big 12 Player of the Week honors for his efforts.

at UTEP: McCoy completed 20-of-29 passes (70.0%) for 282 yards and four TDs. He started fast against the Miners, completing 14-of-16 (87.5%) for 187 yards and three TDs in the first half. It marked the fifth time in his career that he threw for at least four TDs in a game.

RICE: McCoy threw four TD passes, which moved him into first on UT's career TD passes list with 62. He went 19-of-23 (82.6%), including 13 consecutive completions to tie the single-game record he set against FAU, for 329 yards (no INTs). McCoy's 260.2 passer rating for the game was the highest of his career. In the first half alone, McCoy went 15-of-18 (83.3%) for 269 yards and two TDs. The 269 first-half yards tied for the third-highest first-half total in UT history. In addition, McCoy's 175 passing yards in the second quarter are the eighth-most for an individual quarter in Texas history. McCoy also rushed for 83 yards and a TD on eight carries (10.4 ypc). His 412 total yards were a career high and rank fourth on UT's single-game list.

ARKANSAS: McCoy set a then-personal best in completion percentage (17-of-19, 89.5%), while helping UT set a school record in single-game completion percentage (21-of-23, 91.3%). He threw for 185 yards and three TDs, while rushing for 84 yards and two TDs on nine carries (9.3 ypc). McCoy produced 180 (100p/80r) of his 269 total yards and three of his five TDs in the first half, while helping UT take a 31-3 lead.

at COLORADO: McCoy went 23-of-30 (76.7%) for 262 yards and two TDs to go along with 39 yards rushing. With 301 total yards, it marked the third time this season McCoy has eclipsed the 300-yard mark. He also moved into second place on UT's all-time total offense list with 8,132 yards (7,153p/979r), trailing only Vince Young's 9,167 yards (6,040p/3,127r).

NO. 1 OKLAHOMA: McCoy posted a 155.9 passer rating against an Oklahoma defense that entered the game leading the nation in pass efficiency defense (85.6 rating) after going 28-of-35 (80.0%) for 277 yards and a TD (no INTs). He also rushed for 31 yards to give him 308 total yards, his second consecutive game of at least 300 total yards. In addition, McCoy was 7-of-10 for 89 yards and a TD on third down.

NO. 11 MISSOURI: McCoy set a UT record by completing 90.6 percent of his passes (29-of-32), while throwing for 337 yards, which was just nine shy

MCCOY'S 2007 HIGHLIGHTS

NO. 19 TCU: Colt McCoy helped defeat a ranked opponent for the third time in his career by going 25-of-38 (65.8%) for 239 yards and a TD.

at UCF: McCoy completed a UT single-game record 32 passes and tied the school record in attempts with 47.

RICE: McCoy posted his first 300-yard game of the season with 333 yards on 20-of-29 passing (69.0%) and three TDs (no INTs). His 295 yards passing in the first half are the second-most in a half on UT record.

vs. NO. 10 OKLAHOMA: McCoy threw for 324 yards and two TDs. His 324 yards passing were the second-most ever by a Longhorn QB in a Red River Rivalry game. Major Applewhite's 328 yards in 1999 rank first.

at BAYLOR: McCoy posted 337 yards of total offense behind 293 yards passing and 44 yards rushing.

NEBRASKA: McCoy notched 236 yards of total offense behind 55 yards rushing in helping Texas to a come-from-behind 28-25 victory.

at OKLAHOMA STATE: McCoy set a career high with 388 total yards, which is the 11th best total in school history. FANTASTIC FIRST SEASON: After redshirting in 2005, Colt McCoy took over the reins of the Longhorn offense from former National Player of the Year and NFL Pro Bowler Vince Young in 2006. He progressed throughout the season and earned The Sporting News and Touchdown Club of Columbus National Freshman of the Year awards, while becoming a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien Award (nation's top quarterback). McCoy also shared UT's MVP honors with Aaron Ross. He finished his redshirt-freshman campaign with a 161.8 passer rating (eighth NCAA), completing 217-of-318 passes (68.2%) for 2,570 yards (No. 7 on UT's single-season list/No. 1 on UT's freshman single-season list) and a then UT-record 29 TDs (T-No. 2 on NCAA single-season freshman list), while throwing just seven INTs. freshman list. During 2006, he posted 14 plays of 30 yards or more, nine of 40 yards or more and six of 50 yards or more. McCoy opened the season by throwing for 200 yards in only one of the first six games, but finished by exceeding the 200-yard mark in five of the final seven games, including two games over 300 yards. The two games he didn't throw for 200 yards over that stretch were the Kansas State and Texas A&M games, when he was suffering from an injury. During 2006, McCoy had a streak of 10-straight games with a TD pass, which is the second-longest in UT history. He threw a TD pass in 11 of 13 games and two TDs in 10 of 13. He also spread the ball around, completing passes to 12 different receivers and TD passes to nine different players. In addition, McCoy tied the then-UT record for consecutive completions at 15 after completing the final four passes against Oklahoma state, his only four attempts at Kansas State and the first seven passes versus Texas A&M. In total, McCoy tallied a UT freshman record 2,740 yards of total offense (No. 7 on UT's single-season list). He became UT's first freshman QB to win a season opener since Bobby Layne in 1944.

He ended the game going 21-of-32 (65.6%) for 275 yards, while rushing for another 26. The 301 yards of total offense rank seventh on UT's freshman list. He was named the Cingular All-America Player of the Week for his performance.

at NEBRASKA: McCoy went 25-of-39 (64.1%) for 220 yards, two TDs and no INTs in the snow. He helped the Horns come back twice from fourth-quarter deficits to win that game.

at TEXAS TECH: McCoy went 21-of-31 (67.7%) for 256 yards and four TDs, while rushing for 68 yards on nine carries (7.6 ypc) in helping UT come back from a 21-point deficit, which is tied for the second-largest comeback in UT history. As a result, McCoy earned the Cingular All-America Player of the Week, the Walter Camp Player of the Week and the Master Coaches Survey Game Ball.

OKLAHOMA STATE: McCoy set a career high with 346 yards on 23-of-29 (79.3%) passing. His 352 yards of total offense was the second-best effort by a freshman in UT history.

vs. IOWA: McCoy sustained a pinched nerve in his neck on the first drive, a TD drive, at Kansas State that sidelined him for that game. That injury slowed him against Texas A&M, but he returned to form, capping his rookie campaign by earning Offensive MVP honors at the Alamo Bowl. He completed 26-of-40 passes (65.0%) for 308 yards and two TDs in leading the Horns to a 26-24 come-from-behind victory.

RECORD-BREAKING FRESHMAN SEASON: As a freshman in 2006, Colt McCoy threw 29 TD passes, which set the UT single-season mark, breaking the record of 26 shared by Chris Simms (2002) and Vince Young (2005). He also tied the then-NCAA freshman record held by Nevada's David Neill (1998). Against Baylor in 2006, McCoy threw six TD passes, which set the UT record for TD passes in a game and tied the NCAA freshman mark. The six TD throws eclipsed the previous mark of five set by James Brown (at Baylor, 1994) and matched by Chris Simms (at Oklahoma State, 2001). McCoy's 2,570 yards passing as a freshman rank first on UT's single-season freshman list and seventh on the overall single-season list. His 2,740 yards of total offense also rank first on UT's freshman single-season list and seventh on the overall single-season list. He produced 352 yards of total offense against Oklahoma State in 2006, which ranks as the second-highest single-game total by a freshman in UT history. He also posted 324 yards of total offense at Texas Tech (No. 6 on UT's freshman single-game total offense list) and 301 yards of total offense against Baylor (No. 8 on UT's freshman single-game total offense list). His 72-yard TD pass to Jamaal Charles in the 2006 Alamo Bowl is the fourth-longest pass play by a freshman in UT history, while his 62-yard TD pass to Billy Pittman against Baylor ranks seventh. He also threw a 50-yard TD pass to Limas Sweed against Baylor to become just the second freshman QB, along with Major Applewhite, to throw two TD passes of 50 or more yards in the same game. McCoy had a streak of 10-straight games with a TD pass, which is the third-longest in UT history.

COMEBACK KID: Over the past few seasons, Texas has developed a never-say-die attitude that has helped pull off comebacks on several occasions. Much like his mentor Vince Young, who engineered six fourth-quarter comebacks and eight second-half comebacks, Colt McCoy has proven that he is capable of leading the Horns when they are behind. He has already posted 10 second-half comebacks, including seven fourth-quarter comebacks, during his career.

vs. NO. 14 OKLAHOMA (2006): The first comeback of McCoy's career came after Texas trailed 10-7 at halftime, but seven pass catchers. The Longhorns had three players with 40 or more receptions in the same season for the first time in school history. The Horns also had three players with 500 or more receiving yards for just the third time in school history. In addition, McCoy completed passes of at least 50 yards to four different players.

FAMILIAR TARGET: Since Colt McCoy and Jordan Shipley began seeing the field at the same time, the duo has become one of the most prolific tandems in UT history. Of Shipley's 147 career catches, McCoy has been the quarterback for 142 of them. Their 142 connections rank second on UT's QB-to-WR combo chart. McCoy-to-Quan Cosby ranks first all-time with 191 connections (2006-08), while Chris Simms-to-Roy Williams (131, 2000-02) ranks third.

CLUTCH COMBO: Colt McCoy and Jordan Shipley have established themselves as one of the best one-two punches in college football but what they did on third down in 2008 is just as impressive. In 24 pass attempts to Shipley on third down, the two connected 20 times (83.3%). Eighteen of the 20 plays went for first downs, totaling 253 yards and three TDs.

BELITNIKOFF AWARD CANDIDATE JORDAN SHIPLEY: Senior Jordan Shipley returns as one of the most versatile and dangerous pass catchers in the nation. Shipley has recorded 147 receptions (No. 6 on UT's all-time list) for 1,947 yards (No. 6 on UT's all-time list) (13.2 ypc) and 21 TDs (No. 2 on UT's all-time list) during his 41-game career (23 starts). Shipley has caught a TD pass in 12 of his last 18 games. Last season, he scored a TD in 10 of 13 games with a 45-yard punt return for a TD at No. 6 Texas Tech accounting for a score in one of the games he didn't catch a TD pass. Combining the 45-yard punt return against the Red Raiders with his 96-yard kickoff return for a TD against No. 1 Oklahoma, Shipley became just the fourth Longhorn to return a kickoff and a punt for a TD during a career. He is one of only three players returning in the NCAA FBS that returned a punt and a kickoff for a TD last season. Shipley also serves as UT's holder.

2009: Over the first two games, Shipley has caught 15 passes (t-eighth NCAA) for 241 yards (10th NCAA) (16.1 ypc) and a TD. He opened the season by recording eight receptions for 180 yards (22.5 ypc) and a TD against ULM. The 180 receiving yards were the most ever by a UT receiver in an opener and tied for seventh on UT's single-game list. It also was a career high for Shipley and was the fourth-most receiving yards nationally during the opening weekend. Of Shipley's 180 yards, 164 came in the first half, which ranks third on UT's first-half list. At Wyoming, Shipley added seven catches for 61 yards.

2008: A third-team All-American and a first-team All-Big 12 selection, Shipley posted 89 receptions for 1,060 yards (11.9 ypc) and 11 TDs. The 89 receptions rank third on UT's single-season list, the 1,060 yards rank sixth and the 11 TDs are third. He set the UT record by catching a TD pass in eight consecutive games to open the season, bettering Limas Sweed's seven-game streak in 2006. Shipley's 6.9 recpetions per game ranked 18th nationally and his 81.5 yards per game ranked 31st. Over his last 11 games, Shipley notched 82 receptions for 973 yards (11.9 ypc) and nine TDs. He posted at least five receptions in nine of 13 games and three 100-yard at the time. He posted his second career 100-yard receiving game (112) and caught a TD against the Sooners. Shipley also added a 96-yard kickoff return for a TD, which was the only kickoff return for a TD in Red River Rivalry history, and the third-longest in UT history. His 225 all-purpose yards were also a career high. Shipley set a UT single-game record with 15 catches against No. 7 Oklahoma State, while posting a career-high 168 yards and a TD. The 15 receptions bettered Roy Williams' mark of 13 against Nebraska in 2002. Against No. 6 Texas Tech, Shipley added six receptions for 42 yards and posted a 45-yard punt return for a TD. He became just the fourth Longhorn to return a kickoff and a punt for a TD during a career.

2007: Shipley notched 27 receptions for 417 yards and five TDs. His 15.4 yards per catch average led the team (20+ receptions). He saw his first action at receiver in 2007 against UCF after suffering from a hamstring injury and notched four receptions for 47 yards. Shipley posted 71 yards, while notching the first multiple TD game of his career, including a 58-yarder, at Iowa State. He added two receptions for 70 yards, including a career-long 60-yarder to set up UT's game-tying score late in the fourth quarter, at Oklahoma State. Shipley posted six receptions in

ON THE BIG STAGE: Jordan Shipley saved the best game of his career for a Red River Rivalry match-up between two Top Five teams in No. 5 Texas and No. 1 Oklahoma in 2008. He earned Walter Camp Football Foundation National Offensive Player of the Week and AT&T ESPN All-America Player of the Week honors to go along with an ESPN Helmet Sticker for his efforts. Shipley tallied 11 receptions for 112 yards (10.2 ypc) and a TD and returned a kickoff 96 yards for a TD. The 11 receptions are the most for anyone in a Red River Rivalry game, the 112 yards are the third-most in Shipley's career and his 225 all-purpose yards were also a career high. On top of that, Shipley became the first player in Red River Rivalry history to return a kickoff for a TD. It was the longest return in the storied rivalry and was the third-longest in UT history.

SHIPLEY'S STRETCH: Jordan Shipley played the best football of his career during Texas' four-game stretch against teams ranked in the Top 11 in 2008. He tallied 40 receptions for 411 yards (10.3 ypc/102.3 ypg) and three TDs. The stretch started when he posted 11 catches for 112 yards and a TD against No. 1 Oklahoma in the Red River Rivalry. He also returned a kickoff 96 yards for a TD in that game to post a career-best 225 all-purpose yards. He followed that by notching eight receptions for 89 yards and a TD versus No. 11 Missouri before tallying career highs with 15 receptions and 168 yards, to go along with another TD, against No. 7 Oklahoma State. Shipley added six catches for 42 yards and returned a punt 45 yards for a TD at No. 6 Texas Tech to become just the fourth Longhorn to return both a kickoff and a punt for a TD during a career. In five games total against teams ranked in the Top 25 in 2008, Shipley posted 50 receptions for 489 yards and three TDs.

SCORING FAST: Jordan Shipley became the fourth player in the Mack Brown era to score on UT's first offensive play from scrimmage in a game. He opened the Iowa State game in 2007 with a 58-yard TD reception to join Jamaal Charles, who scored on a three-yard run on the first play at Missouri in 2005, Cedric Benson, who notched a 38-yard TD run against North Texas in 2004, and Hodges Mitchell, who scored on an 80-yard run at Oklahoma State in 1999.

FRESH FACES: With the departure of Quan Cosby, a quartet of young receivers, who all saw action in 2008, will be asked to step up and fill the void. The group of junior James Kirkendoll, sophomore Malcolm Williams, junior Brandon Collins and sophomore Dan Buckner combined to post 78 receptions for 1,039 yards and nine TDs last season.

James Kirkendoll: Kirkendoll started the season opener against ULM and made two receptions for 19 yards. He posted the first 100-yard receiving game of his career at Wyoming, going for 102 yards on seven catches. He notched a 25-yard TD reception and a career-long 42-yard reception. Last season, Kirkendoll played in all 13 games, making five starts, and caught 21 passes for 221 yards and a TD. Kirkendoll also made one of the most important catches of the season when he converted a fourth down with just 38 seconds left in the game to extend UT's game-winning drive against No. 10 Ohio State in the Fiesta Bowl. He saw action in four games at wide receiver er as a true freshman in 2007 before an injury shortened his season. For his career, Kirkendoll has made 30 catches for 342 yards and two TDs in 19 games.

Malcolm Williams: Williams, who started the first four games of 2008, caught 17 passes for 304 yards and three TDs as a redshirt freshman. His 304 yards rank fifth on UT's single-season freshman list and his three TDs are tied for second. The first big play of Williams' career came against No. 11 Missouri, when he made a leaping grab for a 32-yard TD. Then, at No. 6 Texas Tech, Williams posted 182 yards on four receptions. He notched a 91-yard TD catch and a 37-yard TD reception. The 91-yarder was the fifth-longest reception in UT history and the second-longest by a freshman. His 182 receiving yards rank fifth on UT's single-game chart and are the second-most by a freshman in UT history. So far in 2009, Williams has made three catches for 31 yards.

Brandon Collins: After appearing in seven games at wide receiver and on special teams as a true freshman in 2007, Collins posted 35 receptions for 430 yards (12.3 ypc) and three TDs in 2008. He showed flashes of his potential against No. 11 Missouri, posting six catches for 76 yards, including a 38-yarder. He added a 40-yard TD reception against Baylor and a 36-yard TD at Kansas. Collins posted the first 100-yard game of his career against Texas A&M, tallying 103 yards and a TD on six receptions.

Dan Buckner: Buckner entered the rotation as a true freshman in 2008, posting five catches for 84 yards and two TDs. He made the first catch and first TD reception of his career at UTEP and had a 51-yard TD reception against No. 11 Missouri. In 2009, Buckner has become a more focal part of the offense. After two games, Buckner has posted 11 catches for 148 yards (13.5 ypc) and a TD. He opened the year against ULM by posting five receptions for 62 yards. He followed that up with career highs in receptions (six) and yards (86), including a 33-yard TD reception, at Wyoming.

CHILES TO WR: The receiving corps is bolstered by John Chiles' switch from quarterback to receiver. Chiles moved to receiver in the spring of 2009 after spending his first two seasons at quarterback, where he produced 488 yards of total offense (322r/166p) and six TDs (4r/2p) in limited action. Chiles spent time at wide receiver as a prepster and posted 694 receiving yards and eight TDs as a junior before making the full-time switch to quarterback. In his first game at wide receiver at Texas, Chiles caught three passes for 35 yards and a TD in UT's season-opening victory over ULM. Then, at Wyoming, Chiles caught five passes for 49 yards, including a 26-yard TD reception. For the season, he's got eight catches for 84 yards and two TDs.

TWO-SPORT STAR: Texas true freshman WR Marquise Goodwin saw the first action of his career against ULM and made three catches for 39 yards. He added a nine-yard reception at Wyoming. As a prepster, he posted 132 receptions for 1,709 yards and 17 TDs over his three-year career, but he made a name for himself as a track and field standout. Goodwin, the national high school record holder in the long jump with a mark of 26-10, is a two-time World Junior Champion (long jump, 4x100) and four-time Texas 5A state champion (long jump (2), triple jump, 4x100). Boasting a personal best 10.24 in the 100 meters, Goodwin's leap of 26-4.75 to win the 2009 state long jump championship would have won the Big 12 Championship in that event.

THREE-BACK ATTACK: With Chris Ogbonnaya playing in the NFL with the St. Louis Rams, Texas returns three running backs with significant game experience for 2009. The group includes junior Vondrell McGee and sophomores Cody Johnson and Foswhitt "Fozzy" Whittaker. That three-some combined to rush for 998 yards and 16 TDs on 228 carries (4.4 ypc) in 2008.

Vondrell McGee: McGee earned the starting nod for UT's season-opening victory over ULM. He tallied 70 yards and a TD on 15 carries (4.7 ypc). McGee added 61 yards on 11 carries (5.5 ypc) at Wyoming. For the season, McGee has carried the ball 26 times for 131 yards (5.0 ypc) and a TD, while making four receptions for 14 yards. In 2008, McGee carried the ball 88 times for 376 yards and four TDs, while making nine receptions for 49 yards. He opened the season against FAU by posting 63 yards and a TD on 12 carries (5.2 ypc). He added 58 yards on six carries (9.7 ypc) against No. 11 Missouri and 55 yards on 10 carries versus Baylor. McGee posted 75 carries for 325 yards (4.0 ypc) and eight TDs as a redshirt freshman in 2007. His eight TDs are tied for sixth all-time on UT's freshman list. For his career, McGee has rushed for 743 yards and 13 TDs on 178 carries (4.2 ypc).

Cody Johnson: As a redshirt freshman in 2008, Johnson rushed 76 times for 338 yards and 12 TDs. His 12 TDs tied for first on UT's freshman list with Cedric Benson. Johnson opened 2008 with a streak of seven straight games with a TD, which was snapped against No. 7 Oklahoma State. The streak is a UT freshman record and is tied for fourth on UT's overall list. As UT's goal-line specialist, Johnson converted 10 of his 12 carries inside the five into TDs, including three against No. 1 Oklahoma. Johnson posted the first 100-yard game of his career against Texas A&M with 102 yards and two TDs on eight carries (12.8 ypc). He opened the 2009 campaign with three rushing TDs against ULM and finished the game with 27 yards on 11 carries.

Fozzy Whittaker: Whittaker spent the 2007 season gaining valuable experience on the scout team after finishing his prep career ranked sixth on the all-time Texas 5A rushing chart with 5,717 yards. After missing the 2008 season-opener against FAU with a knee injury, he saw his first action as a Longhorn at UTEP and rushed for 72 yards on 12 carries (6.0 ypc). He added 20 yards on two carries against No. 11 Missouri and 42 yards on six carries at No. 6 Texas Tech. Whittaker earned the first start of his career against Baylor and rushed for 77 yards on 15 carries. On the season, Whittaker posted 284 yards on 64 carries. Whittaker has missed the first two games of 2009 with a knee injury.

SPECIAL START: Redshirt freshman RB D.J. Monroe saw the first action of his career in the 2009 season opener against ULM and made the most of his opportunities. Monroe averaged 7.1 yards per carry after notching 64 yards on nine attempts. But, that wasn't the most impressive part of his day. Midway through the second quarter, Monroe, who was the 2006 Texas 4A State 100-meter Champion, fielded a kick-off at his own 11-yard line, darted through a hole created by the key blocks of Antwan Cobb and Malcolm Williams and took it 89 yards to record the first touchdown of his career. Overall, Monroe posted 175 all-purpose yards on 11 plays (15.9 ypp).

TRE'S TURN: Redshirt freshman Tre Newton saw the first action of his career late in the 2009 season opener against ULM and carried the ball four times for 28 yards (7.0 ypc). He built on that last week at Wyoming, rushing for 62 yards and a TD on eight carries (7.8 ypc). He also had a 15-yard reception and averaged 8.6 yards per touch on nine plays. For the season, Newton has carried the ball 12 times for 90 yards (7.5 ypc) and a TD. A three-time all-state selection, Newton, who is the son of former Dallas Cowboy great Nate Newton, is accustomed to running out of the spread. He produced 4,728 yards and 49 TDs on the ground and 784 yards and six TDs receiving in a Southlake Carrol spread offense that went 59-2 and won three state titles with Newton in the backfield.

RECENT O-LINE SUCCESS: The Texas offensive line has been one of the nation's steadiest units over the past five seasons, and despite five linemen moving on to the NFL over the previous three seasons, the Horns rushed for 167.5 ypg and tallied 475.8 ypg (ninth NCAA) in 2008. The pipeline to the NFL over the last four years began with OT Jonathan Scott, who was taken in the fifth round of the 2006 NFL Draft by the Detroit Lions and is now playing with the Buffalo Bills. Then, in the 2007 draft, the Horns had two players, OL Justin Blalock and OG Kasey Studdard, picked. Blalock was selected in the second round by the Atlanta Falcons and has started all 31 games of his professional career, while Studdard was taken in the sixth round by the Houston Texans. In addition, C Lyle Sendlein signed with the Arizona Cardinals as a free agent and has played in 34 career games, starting 22, including all 20 of Arizona's 2008 run to the Super Bowl. Then, in 2008, the Horns dealt with the departure of two seniors from 2007 in OT Tony Hills, a first-team All-America selection who was drafted in the fourth round by the Pittsburgh Steelers, and C Dallas Griffin, who won the Draddy Trophy and was an honorable mention All-Big 12 selection. This season, the Horns will have to make up for the loss of OG Cedric Dockery, who was a second-team All-Big 12 selection and played in 41 career games, starting 30.

VETERAN FRONT: Texas' offensive line, led by four returning starters, including three seniors, returns nearly intact in 2009. That foursome, which has combined to post 94 career starts, is led by a trio of seniors. LT Adam Ulatoski (32 starts) is in his fourth year as a starter while C Chris Hall (25 starts) and LG Charlie Tanner (21 starts) are in their third year as starters. The fourth returning starter on the line, junior RT Kyle Hix (16 starts) is a second-year starter. Junior Michael Huey, who started three games in 2008, earned the start against ULM to open 2009, but missed the Wyoming game with an ankle injury. Ulatoski has played in 38 career games and is a two-time All-Big 12 selection. After playing right tackle during his first two seasons, he moved to left tackle in 2008 to fill the void caused by Tony Hills' graduation. Hall (33 games) settled in at center for 2008 and started the first 10 games before missing the final two regular-season games with a knee injury. He returned to start the Fiesta Bowl. In 2007, he started at least one game at all five line positions. Tanner, who was tabbed honorable mention All-Big 12 in 2008, has seen action in 33 career games and is a three-time Academic All-Big 12 performer. Hix (28 games) has started the last 16 games at right tackle. He also saw action in all 13 games of 2007 and started at right tackle in UT's Holiday Bowl victory over No. 12 Arizona State. Huey has played in 27 of 28 games during his first three seasons, including all 26 during his first two seasons.

LINE DEPTH: In addition to the five projected starters, Texas has a group of returnees that have combined to play in 78 games. Juniors OT Tray Allen (22 games), OT Britt Mitchell (27 games) and OG Steve Moore (14 games) will help solidify the offensive line in 2009, while sophomore David Snow returns after playing in all 13 games as a true freshman. Snow started the last two games of the 2008 regular season at center against Kansas and Texas A&M, replacing an injured Chris Hall, and earned the start at Wyoming, replacing an injured Michael Huey.

THE GO-TO GUY: Senior Chris Hall entered 2007 as the starting right guard, but the right-guard label was quickly changed to offensive lineman as the versatile Hall became the go-to-guy at all five line positions for a Longhorn line that battled injuries. Hall started the second game of 2007 against No. 19 TCU at left guard before moving in as the starter at right tackle for an injured Adam Ulatoski against UCF and Rice. Hall moved back to left guard against Kansas State, but was back filling injured Ulatoski's shoes at right tackle for the Oklahoma game. Hall continued to plug holes along the offensive line by starting at left guard at Iowa State, right guard at Baylor and left guard against Nebraska before not starting against Oklahoma State due to his own injury. But, when Dallas Griffin sustained a season-ending knee injury in Stillwater, Hall slid over and played most of the game at center. He then started for Griffin at center against Texas Tech before moving to left tackle after Tony Hills sustained a season-ending leg injury. Then, Hall started at left tackle against Texas A&M, which meant he started at least one game at every offensive line position in 2007. In comparison, only three recent linemen have even started at the combination of center/guard or guard/tackle during a season. Justin Blalock started at right guard and right tackle (2006), Derrick Dockery started at right guard and right tackle (2002) and Dan Neil started at right guard and center (1993).

ULI: Senior Adam Ulatoski has been a mainstay along the offensive line during his five-year career. After redshirting in 2005, Ulatoski has seen action in 38 of UT's 41 games since 2006, including 32 starts. He earned a starting position at right tackle for the seventh game of 2006 and held that spot for the remainder of the season. In 2007, Ulatoski started nine games at right tackle before making the switch to left tackle for Texas' Holiday Bowl victory over No. 12 Arizona State. He remained at left tackle for the 2008 season, when he started all 13 games. During his career, Ulatoski has earned two All-Big 12 honors, a first-team honor in 2008 and an honorable mention nod in 2007. In addition to his on-field skills, Ulatoski earned his degree in corporate communications in December of 2008 and is now working towards a master's degree in advertising. He has been recognized as an Academic All-Big 12 performer twice and has been a member of UT's Athletics Director's Honor Roll eight times.

DEFENSIVE RETURNEES: The Longhorns' defense returns six starters at four positions and 10 players with starting experience for the 2009 season. Texas' 10 returnees with starting experience have combined for 120 career starts. The veteran group is led by five seniors in CB Deon Beasley, DT Lamarr Houston, LB Sergio Kindle, LB Roddrick Muckelroy and LB Jared Norton. Beasley has played in 33 games, making 11 starts (nine in 2008). Houston has seen action in 38 career games (21 starts) and started eight games at defensive tackle in 2008 after switching from defensive end prior to the season. Kindle, an honorable mention All-America selection in 2008, has played in 34 career games, making 13 starts. Muckelroy, a second-team All-Big 12 selection in 2008 and UT's top returning tackler, has played in 30 career games (19 starts/13 in 2008). Norton has appeared in 38 career games and made eight starts. DT Ben Alexander (26 games) also will provide senior leadership for the unit in 2009. Juniors CB Chykie Brown and Curtis Brown and sophomores S Blake Gideon, S Earl Thomas and CB Aaron Williams also return with starting experience. Chykie Brown has played in 26 games, making 10 starts, while Curtis Brown has played in 28 games and started six of the last eight. Gideon and Thomas have started all 15 games of their careers in the secondary, while Williams has seen action in 15 games, starting three. In addition, juniors DE Sam Acho (26 games/two starts), LB Dustin Earnest (27 games) and DE Eddie Jones (26 games) and sophomores LB Emmanuel Acho (12 games), S

UT SEEKS TO REPLACE FIVE DEFENSIVE STARTERS:

The Longhorns will need to replace a group of five defensive starters, including the National Defensive Player of the Year and five All-Big 12 performers as they enter the 2009 season. The group combined to play in 247 games (121 starts). DE Brian Orakpo, who was named the Nagurski Trophy, Lombardi Award and Hendricks Award winner, anchored a defense that led the nation in sacks (47) and the Big 12 in scoring defense (18.8 ppg/18th NCAA), total defense (342.9 ypg) and rushing defense (83.5 ypg/third NCAA) in 2008. Orakpo played in 47 career games, starting 21, and posted 22 sacks (T-No. 10 on UT's all-time list), 38 TFL and 62 pressures. His 11.5 sacks in 2008 ranked sixth nationally, while his 19 TFL tied for seventh. LB Rashad Bobino was a three-time All-Big 12 performer, who started on UT's 2005 National Championship team. He played in 52 career games (45 starts) and finished his career with 235 tackles. DE Henry Melton, who earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors in 2008 just one year after switching over from running back, played in 49 career games (24 at defensive end/11 starts). DT Roy Miller, the 2008 Fiesta Bowl Defensive MVP, played in 49 career games, starting 19, and earned first-team All-Big 12 honors last season. CB Ryan Palmer, who was a second-team All-Big 12 selection in 2008, played in 50 career games and made 25 starts. In addition, DL Aaron Lewis played in 45 games and made 15 starts at defensive end and defensive tackle during his career.

PRESSURE AT A PREMIUM: Texas posted 47 sacks in 2008, which led the nation and was the most for UT during the Mack Brown era, bettering the 43-sack total in 2000. It marked the first time in school history that Texas led the country in sacks, but the Horns have been applying the pressure since Mack Brown's second season. Since 1999, Texas is tied for third nationally in sacks at 379 with Virginia Tech behind USC (384) and TCU (384). After finishing 2004 with 22 total sacks, the Longhorn defense improved to 34 sacks in '05 and 39.5 sacks in '06 before notching 28 sacks in '07. In addition to the sacks, the 2008 Texas defense produced 100 TFL, 170 pressures and 129 hits on opponents' quarterbacks. In 2009, Texas must replace the 11.5 sacks from National Defensive Player of the Year Brian Orakpo, who was taken with the 13th overall pick by the Washington Redskins. In addition, the Horns will be without DT Roy Miller, who tallied 5.5 sacks and was picked in the third round by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, and Henry Melton, who notched four sacks and was a fourth-round choice by the Chicago Bears. So far in 2009, the Horns have posted five sacks with all five coming at Wyoming. The Horns got one sack each from seniors DE Sam Acho and DT Lamarr Houston, junior LB Dustin Earnest and freshmen DT Calvin Howell and CB Marcus Davis. DE/LB Sergio Kindle is the leading returning sack artist after finishing second on the team in 2008 with 10 sacks, which tied for 20th nationally. The Horns have eight others returning that combined for 11.5 sacks entering the season, including three from Acho.

KINDLE TIME: While splitting time at LB and DE in 2008, senior Sergio Kindle posted 10 sacks en route to honorable mention All-America and first-team All-Big 12 honors. On the heels of that breakout year, Kindle elected to pass on early entry into the NFL Draft to return to Texas and spent the spring focusing on his pass rushing skills from the defensive end position. He'll continue to work at both LB and DE in 2009, but with the departure of DEs Brian Orakpo and Henry Melton, will be counted on to be a focal part of Will Muschamp's Longhorn defense. So far in 2009, Kindle has posted eight tackles, eight pressures and a PBU. In UT's season-opening win over ULM, Kindle notched three tackles, a PBU and two pressures. He added five tackles and six pressures at Wyoming. A member of the prestigious Playboy Preseason All-American team, Kindle played in all 13 games in 2008, starting 11. He finished second on the team in sacks with 10 (t-21st NCAA) and TFL with 14 to go along with 15 quarterback pressures. His 53 tackles ranked fifth on the team. Kindle was particularly effective during UT's four-game stretch against Top 11 teams. He tallied 19 tackles, four sacks, one in each game, five TFL and six pressures. Kindle also finished the season strong, posting 3.5 sacks, six TFL and three pressures over the final three games. After playing in 11 games as a true freshman in 2006 and notching 21 tackles and three TFL, he appeared in eight games in 2007, posting 32 tackles, a half sack, four TFL, five pressures and a PBD. For his career, Kindle has played in 34 games (13 starts) and posted 114 tackles, 10.5 sacks, 21 TFL, 28 pressures, four PBU, two fumble recoveries and a forced fumble.

RETURNING DEFENSIVE ENDS: Texas has two other veterans at defensive end who have made an impact over their first two seasons in juniors Sam Acho and Eddie Jones. The duo has combined to notch 74 tackles, eight sacks, 15 TFL, 26 pressures, nine PBD and three fumble recoveries during their three seasons. Acho has seen action in 26 career games (two starts) and tallied 35 tackles, 5.5 sacks, eight TFL, 13 pressures, six PBD, a forced fumble and three fumble recoveries. In his first career start in UT's 2009 season-opening victory, Acho posted four tackles, a pressure, two PBD and two fumble recoveries. He added five tackles, a sack, two TFL, a pressure and a fumble recovery at Wyoming. For the season, Acho has notched nine tackles, a sack, two TFL, two pressures, two PBD and three fumble recoveries. Jones, who redshirted in 2006, has appeared in 26 career games and posted 39 tackles, 2.5 sacks, seven TFL, 13 pressures, an INT and three PBD. He has posted three tackles and two pressures in 2009.

MANNING THE MIDDLE: The defensive tackles unit has been a major reason why Texas' rush defense has ranked in the Top Six nationally in each of the last three seasons. The Horns finished third in 2008 after allowing 83.5 ypg, sixth in '07 (93.4 ypg) and third in '06 (61.2 ypg). Of the group manning the middle over the last three seasons, three have gone on to the NFL. DTs Frank Okam and Derek Lokey combined to play in 83 games, while making 60 starts during their four-year careers that included '06 and '07. Okam, who was a third-team All-American in '07 before being drafted in the fifth round by the Houston Texans, finished his career with 160 tackles, 10 sacks, 28 TFL, 12 PBD, one forced fumble and five fumble recoveries. Lokey garnered first-team All-Big 12 honors in '07 and earned a spot on the Kansas City Chiefs' practice squad. He finished his career with 101 tackles, three sacks, 18 TFL, three PBD and a fumble recovery. Roy Miller played a major role on all three defenses prior to being drafted in the third round of the 2009 NFL Draft by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Miller finished his career with 138 tackles, 10 sacks, 25 TFL, 44 pressures, six PBD, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

NEXT UP AT DT: Next in line to carry on UT's DT tradition is senior Lamarr Houston. After playing his first two seasons at defensive end, Houston made the switch to defensive tackle prior to the 2008 season. For his career, he has tallied 112 tackles, eight sacks, 24 TFL, 44 pressures, 10 PBD and a forced fumble in 38 games

Sophomore Kheeston Randall, who saw action in eight games as a true freshman, earned the first start of his career against ULM to open 2009 and notched two tackles. He added two tackles and a pressure at Wyoming.

HOUSTON'S SECOND YEAR INSIDE:

Senior Lamarr Houston spent his first two seasons at Texas as a productive defensive end before making the switch to defensive tackle during the spring of 2008. He went on to post 22 tackles, 1.5 sacks, seven TFL, 11 pressures and five PBD in 12 games (eight starts) despite battling a foot injury for much of the season. Now in his second year at defensive tackle, Houston has notched 10 tackles, a sack, three TFL, seven pressures and a PBD in 2009. He opened the season by posting four tackles, a TFL and two pressures against ULM. At Wyoming, Houston notched six tackles, a sack, two TFL, five pressures and a PBD. A former prep linebacker and running back, Houston was named honorable mention All-Big 12 by The Associated Press in 2007 at defensive end after tallying 66 tackles, 12 TFL, 4.5 sacks, 24 pressures, four PBD and a forced fumble. After opening the season as a backup, Houston replaced an injured Brian Orakpo in the week two starting lineup and posted six tackles, a sack, a forced fumble and a PBD against No. 19 TCU. He went on to start 11 of the final 12 games. As a true freshman in 2006, Houston saw action at defensive end and on special teams and notched 14 tackles, two TFL and a sack. In total, Houston has posted 112 tackles, eight sacks, 24 TFL, 44 pressures, 10 PBD and a forced fumble in 38 career games (21 starts).

SENIOR LINEBACKING TANDEM:

The Longhorns return a pair of senior linebackers for 2009 in outside linebacker Roddrick Muckelroy and middle linebacker Jared Norton. The duo has combined to play in 68 games, making 27 starts, and posted 330 tackles (195 solo), 24 TFL, eight sacks, 13 pressures, two INTs, seven PBU, six forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries.

Roddrick Muckelroy:

Senior Roddrick Muckelroy has tallied 202 tackles (126 solo), 15 TFL, 3.5 sacks, eight pressures, an INT, five PBU, three forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries in 30 career games (19 starts). He has posted seven 10-tackle games during his career. After two games in 2009, Muckelroy has tallied 13 tackles, two TFL, two pressures and a PBU. He opened the year by notching a team-high seven tackles to go along with two TFL, a pressure and a PBU. He added six tackles and a pressure at Wyoming. A second-team All-Big 12 selection in 2008, Muckelroy posted five 10-tackle games and led the team with 112 tackles (71 solo) to go along with four TFL, six pressures, four PBU, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. His 8.6 tackles per game ranked 50th nationally and fifth in the Big 12 and his 71 solo tackles tied for the 17th-most nationally. Muckelroy earned UT's Most Productive Performer award at UTEP after posting 14 tackles and a pressure, while returning a fumble 26 yards for his first career TD. He set a career high with 16 tackles versus No. 1 Oklahoma to go along with a forced fumble and a PBU. As a red-shirt freshman in 2006, Muckelroy earned a starting position and was off to a great start before an injury ended his year. He started the first three games of 2006, posting 10 tackles, three TFL and a sack before sustaining a ruptured tendon in his ring finger, which forced him to miss the rest of the season. Back at full strength in 2007, Muckelroy posted 67 tackles, 2.5 sacks, six TFL, an INT, two forced fumbles and a fumble recovery. He finished the year strong, tallying 29 tackles, 2.5 sacks, five TFL and two forced fumbles over the final four games, including the Holiday Bowl victory over No. 12 Arizona State, when he notched three tackles, a sack, two TFL and a forced fumble in his only start of the season.

Jared Norton: During his 38-game career (eight starts), senior Jared Norton has posted 128 tackles (69 solo), nine TFL, 4.5 sacks, five pressures, an INT, two PBU, three forced fumbles and a fumble recovery. He recorded six tackles in UT's season-opening victory over ULM, but missed the Wyoming game with a shoulder injury. In 2008, Norton finished fourth on the team with 54 tackles (34 solo) to go along with four TFL, 2.5 sacks, three pressures, two PBU and a forced fumble. His 2008 campaign was highlighted by a five-tackle, one-sack performance against No. 11 Missouri that came just before he posted a career-high nine stops against No. 7 Oklahoma State. In 12 games in 2007, Norton tallied 53 tackles, two sacks, four TFL, an INT and a forced fumble. He capped the year by earning the first start of his career in the Holiday Bowl victory against No. 12 Arizona State and posted four tackles, a TFL and a pressure. Norton also played in 12 games as a true freshman at linebacker and on special teams. He notched 15 tackles, a TFL, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

HALLSVILLE PRIDE:

Longhorn senior WLB Roddrick Muckelroy may be a self-professed small town country kid from the East Texas town of Hallsville (population is about 3,000) but he made big plays on the field in 2008. Including a 14-tackle game in which he returned a fumble 26 yards for a TD at UTEP and a career-high 16 tackles versus No. 1 Oklahoma, Muckelroy led the Horns with 112 tackles (71 solo). His 8.6 tackles per game ranked 50th nationally and fifth in the Big 12 and his 71 solo tackles tied for the 17th-most nationally. Muckelroy has been UT's most productive linebacker over the past three seasons, but even more so over the last 17 games. During that stretch, Texas' hard-hitting linebacker has posted 138 tackles (8.1 pg), 11 TFL, three sacks, five PBU, two forced fumbles and a fumble recovery.

FAMILIAR FACES FOR A CHANGE:

Entering the last two seasons, the Longhorn secondary has had to replace three of its four starters from the previous year. In 2008, the Horns had to replace first-team All-Big 12 performer S Marcus Griffin, second-team All-Big 12 honoree CB Brandon Foster and S Erick Jackson, who started 10 of 13 games, from the 2007 secondary. The year before, Texas needed to replace three players who are currently playing in the NFL in CB Tarell Brown (San Francisco 49ers), S Michael Griffin (Tennessee Titans) and CB Aaron Ross (New York Giants). Brown was a three-year starter, who played in 51 career games. Griffin earned first-team All-America honors from Pro Football Weekly, was a semifinalist for the Lott Trophy (Defensive IMPACT Player of the Year) and finished his career as UT's eighth all-time leading tackler (364 tackles). Ross was a Thorpe Award winner and first-team All-American, who led the team in INTs (six) and PBU (19), while making 80 tackles, as a senior in 2006. In addition, the Horns secondary produced two NFL starters from its 2005 squad in Thorpe Award winner and seventh overall pick S Michael Huff and first-team All-Big 12 performer and second-round NFL Draft pick CB Cedric Griffin. But, in 2009, the secondary returns almost completely intact with the only loss coming in the form of DB Ryan Palmer, who was a two-year starter and second-team All-Big 12 selection in 2008. The Horns have nine members of the secondary returning with game experience and six returning with starting experience including senior Deon Beasley (33 games/11 starts), juniors Chykie Brown (26 games/10 starts) and Curtis Brown (28 games/six starts) and sophomores Nolan Brewster (15 games), Blake Gideon (15 games/15 starts), Christian Scott (13 games), Earl Thomas (15 games/15 starts), Ben Wells (14 games) and Aaron Williams (15 games/three starts).

Deon Beasley: Senior Deon Beasley has played in 33 career games, starting 11, at cornerback, posting 84 tackles (66 solo), a sack, six TFL, three INTs, 16 PBU and a fumble recovery. In 2008, Beasley tallied 40 tackles (27 solo), a sack, three TFL, six PBU and a fumble recovery. He posted a career-high nine tackles at No. 6 Texas Tech and led the team with eight tackles to go along with a TFL, a PBU and a fumble recovery at Kansas. In 2007, he tallied 37 tackles, three TFL, three INTs and nine PBU. His three INTs tied for the team lead, while his nine PBU ranked third. In his only start of the season against Rice, Beasley posted six tackles and two PBU. He capped the regular season by posting seven tackles, a TFL and an INT at Texas A&M.

Chykie Brown: Junior Chykie Brown has seen action in 26 career games, making 10 starts, and tallied 43 tackles (29 solo), a sack, three TFL, 11 PBU and a forced fumble. A 2009 preseason second-team All-Big 12 selection, Brown opened the season by tallying three tackles, a TFL and a forced fumble against ULM. He added a tackle and two PBU at Wyoming. Last year, he posted 28 tackles, a sack, two TFL and nine PBU, which was tied for second on the team, despite being limited in three and a half games due to an ankle injury. As a redshirt freshman in 2007, Brown saw action in all 13 games at cornerback and on special teams.

Curtis Brown: Junior Curtis Brown has played in 28 career games, making six starts, and posted 49 tackles (38 solo) and 14 PBU. In two games of 2009, Brown has posted eight tackles and four PBU. He opened against ULM with five tackles and a PBU and followed that by notching three tackles and three PBU at Wyoming. In 2008, Brown tallied 27 tackles (24 solo), two pressures and nine PBU. He stepped into the starter's role against No. 7 Oklahoma State when Chykie Brown was injured and posted three tackles and two PBU, while helping to hold one of the nation's leading receivers, Dez Bryant, scoreless and 40 yards below his season average. Also a special-teams standout, Brown tied for second on the team with nine special-teams tackles. He also made a key play in the Red River Rivalry when he chased down OU punter Mike Knall from behind on a fake punt, stopping the Sooners just shy of a first down.

Blake Gideon: Sophomore Blake Gideon was tabbed second-team Freshman All-American and honorable mention All-Big 12 after starting all 13 games as a true freshman in 2008. He finished third on the team with 64 tackles (41 solo) to go along with a TFL, eight pressures, seven PBU and a forced fumble. Gideon posted eight

Now in his second year, Gideon opened 2009 by posting four tackles versus ULM. He added eight stops and a PBU at Wyoming. For his career, Gideon has started all 15 games and tallied 76 tackles (49 solo), a TFL, eight pressures, eight PBU and a forced fumble.

Earl Thomas: Sophomore Earl Thomas, who was named first-team Freshman All-American and is a 2009 preseason second-team All-Big 12 selection, started all 13 games as a redshirt freshman. He finished second on the team with 72 tackles (51 solo) to go along with three TFL, two INTs, 17 PBU (No. 1 on UT's freshman list) and four forced fumbles in 2008. In the first start of his career against FAU, Thomas posted five tackles, two PBU, a forced fumble and blocked a punt that led to a Texas TD. In his first Red River Rivalry against No. 1 Oklahoma, Thomas notched three tackles, two INTs, two PBU and a forced fumble. He had the first double-digit tackle performance of his career at No. 6 Texas Tech, posting 10 tackles and two PBU. Now in his second season, Thomas has posted five tackles and four PBU in 2009. He opened the season by notching three tackles and two PBU versus ULM before tallying two tackles and two PBU at Wyoming. For his career, Thomas has started all 15 games and posted 77 tackles (54 solo), three TFL, two INTs, 21 PBU and four forced fumbles.

Aaron Williams: Sophomore Aaron Williams saw action in all 13 games, starting one, as a true freshman in 2008. He posted 16 tackles, a TFL, an INT, three PBU, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. Williams returned his interception 81 yards for a TD against Arkansas. The 81-yard return is the seventh-longest INT return in UT history. In addition to his play in the secondary, Williams also was a special-teams standout. He blocked four punts, which tied for first on UT's single-season list, and tied for second on the team with nine special-teams tackles. Now in his second season, Williams earned a starting position and has posted six tackles, a PBU and a forced fumble. He opened the season against ULM with two tackles and added four stops, a TFL, a PBU and a forced fumble at Wyoming. For his career, Williams has tallied 22 tackles, two TFL, an INT, four PBU, two forced fumbles and a fumble recovery.

CONSISTENT PLACE-KICKING:

Senior place-kickers Ryan Bailey and Hunter Lawrence have combined to hit 143-of-144 PATs and 32-of-39 FGs, including 12-of-15 from over 40 yards, over the last three seasons. Bailey handled the place-kicking duties in 2007, going 58-of-59 on PATs and 18-of-22 on FGs, including 8-of-10 from over 40 yards. A former walk-on who earned a scholarship in 2007, Bailey took over the place-kicking duties at No. 17 Nebraska in 2006, attempting and making the first field goal of his career, a 22-yarder, late in the game to give Texas a 22-20 victory. He went on to finish that season going 6-of-6 on FGs and 17-of-18 on PATs. He was successful on two PAT attempts in UT's 2009 season-opening victory against ULM. After serving as UT's kickoff specialist during his first two seasons, Lawrence won the place-kicking job in 2008 and was a second-team All-Big 12 selection. He was perfect on PATs, going 60-for-60, and made 10-of-12 field-goal attempts, including 4-of-5 from at least 40 yards, for 90 points. After his performance against No. 1 Oklahoma last season, Lawrence was named the Lou Groza Star of the Week for posting a career-high 13 points after making all three of his field-goal attempts (26, 28 and 33) and all four PATs. Lawrence opened the 2009 season against ULM by going 6-of-6 on PATs, while converting a 32-yard field goal. He added five more PATs and two field goals (29, 32) at Wyoming. Lawrence's current streak of 71 consecutive made PATs ranks second on UT's all-time list, while Bailey's streak of 60 consecutive made PATs during the 2006 and '07 seasons ranks third.

IMMEDIATE IMPACT: Ten true freshmen, Eryon Barnett, Marcus Davis, Garrett Gilbert, Marquise Goodwin, Calvin Howell, Barrett Matthews, Tevin Mims, Alex Okafor, Kenny Vaccaro and Mason Walters, have seen action for Texas in 2009. Mack Brown has played 103 of a possible 276 true freshmen (37.3%) in his 12 seasons at Texas.

ATTENDANCE: 101,069 • FSN PPV

WEATHER CONDITIONS: CLOUDY (82 DEGREES)

No. 2/2 Texas rolled to its 10th consecutive season-opening victory with a 59-20 win over ULM. The game was the Horns' first on the newly resurfaced Joe Jamail Field and expanded south end zone with a record crowd of 101,069 at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium, the largest crowd ever to see a football game in the state of Texas. The win moved Mack Brown (202) into a tie for 15th place with Don Nehlen on the All-Time Wins list among NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision coaches. The Longhorns racked up 311 yards of total offense in the first half to build a 38-10 lead at the intermission and rolled up 562 yards of total offense for the game (363 passing/199 rushing). Texas had four scoring drives of 10 plays or more and two TD drives of 90 yards or more. The Longhorns scored on all seven of their trips into the red zone with all the scores being TDs except for a 32-yard field goal as the gun sounded to end the first half. Despite playing just one snap into the fourth quarter, Colt McCoy led the Horns on offense with 314 total yards. McCoy went 21-of-29 (72.4%) through the air for 317 yards and two TDs (one INT). He became the first Texas player and the fourth player in Big 12 Conference history to reach the 10,000-yard mark in career passing yardage, ending the game with 10,049. McCoy extended his school career mark for 300-yard passing games with 11 and passed Major Applewhite for the UT career record for 200-yard passing games with 30. McCoy connected with eight different receivers. Jordan Shipley led the UT receiving corps with a career-high 180 yards (t-No. 7 UT single-game list) and one TD on eight receptions. The 180 receiving yards were the most-ever in a UT season opener. He scored on a career-long 78-yard pass reception from McCoy late in the first half. Shipley logged 164 receiving yards in the first half (No. 3 UT first-half list). Dan Buckner (5-62), Marquise Goodwin (3-39) and John Chiles (3-35) each posted career-highs in both receptions and receiving yardage. Chiles, in his first full game at receiver, hauled in his first career TD reception with a 14-yard score in the third quarter. D.J. Monroe provided a spark for the Horns at running back and on special teams with 175 all-purpose yards. He scored on his first-ever collegiate play, returning a kickoff for an 89-yard TD midway through the second quarter. For the game he returned two kickoffs for 111 yards and rushed for 64 yards on nine carries. Cody Johnson equaled a career-high with three TD runs, all from one yard out and finished the game with 27 yards. Vondrell McGee led the ground game with 70 yards and one TD on 15 carries. Defensively, the Horns forced three turnovers, five three-and-outs and held ULM to 298 total yards (197p/101r). Texas held ULM to just 188 yards and eight first downs through the first three quarters. Of those 188 yards through the first three quarters, 75 came on one play. On ULM's other 47 plays through three quarters, they managed just 118 yards (2.4 ypp). The Warhawks started drives inside the UT 40-yard line three times and on those drives the Horns held ULM to just three points. Rodrick Muckelroy led the Horns with seven tackles, including two TFL, one PBU and one pressure. Jared Norton and Kenny Vaccaro each added six tackles, including four solos apiece. Sam Acho had a pair of fumble recoveries to go with four tackles, two PBU and one pressure. Alex Okafor add four tackles and two TFL. Nolan Brewster recorded his first career interception to account for the third ULM turnover.

GAME 2: #2/2 TEXAS (41) VS. WYOMING (10)

SEPTEMBER 12 • WAR MEMORIAL STADIUM • LARAMIE, WYO.

ATTENDANCE: 31,017 • VERSUS

WEATHER CONDITIONS: OVERCAST (53 DEGREES)

Trailing 10-6 with under two minutes remaining in the first half, No. 2/2 Texas ran off 35 unanswered points in a 41-10 road win in front of 31,017 at Wyoming's War Memorial Stadium. The win extended UT's non-conference win streak to 15 games and improved its school-record non-conference road winning streak to 10 games. Texas' defense highlighted the win. The Longhorns defense did not allow Wyoming to enter the red zone the entire game, with the Cowboys making their lone red zone appearance after a failed fake punt attempt by the Horns. On that possession, UT's defense forced Wyoming to kick a field goal after gaining just nine yards on a drive that started at the Texas 14-yard line. Wyoming managed to reach Texas territory just twice in their final 11 drives of the game and eight of Wyoming's 16 drives for the game went for 10 yards or less. Blake Gideon led the Horns with eight tackles, including five solos. Lamarr Houston, Roddrick Muckelroy and Ben Alexander had six tackles apiece with Houston adding two TFLs, one sack and five pressures. Sam Acho contributed five solo tackles, two TFL, one fumble recovery and one sack. Sergio Kindle had five stops and harassed the Pokes offense with six pressures. Dustin Earnest, Marcus Davis and Calvin Howell each added one sack and Aaron Williams forced a fumble. Texas fell behind 10-6 with 1:32 remaining in the first half as Wyoming capitalized on a failed UT fake punt for a field goal and a blocked punt return for a TD while holding the Longhorns to two field goals on their first two trips to the red zone. Texas turned the tables quickly as the Longhorns needed just 1:08 to drive 70 yards on six plays, culminating in a James Kirkendoll 25-yard TD reception from Colt McCoy to close out the first half. The Horns started the second half with a 41-yard kickoff return by D.J. Monroe to set up a 5-play, 40-yard drive ending in a McCoy nine-yard TD run and Texas found itself with a 20-10 lead with 13:24 remaining in the third quarter. In the Horns' dominant second and third quarter surge, UT outgained the Cowboys 366 yards (51 plays/7.2 ypp) to 126 and tallied 31 points. That included a 165-21 advantage in the second quarter. The Longhorn offense racked up 544 yards (353 passing/191 rushing), including 301 in the second half. After completing just 12-of-23 for 101 yards and one interception through the first 28:28 of play, McCoy rebounded to complete 18-of-24 for 236 yards and three TDs down the stretch. He finished the game completing 30-of-47 (63.8%) for 337 yards and three TDs (one INT). He threw for at least 300 yards for the fourth consecutive game and the fifth time in the last six contests. McCoy extended his streak for consecutive games with a TD pass to 19 games to tie Major Applewhite for the school record. McCoy connected with nine different receivers. Kirkendoll was UT's leading receiver, registering his first-career 100-yard game, hauling in seven catches for 102 yards and one TD. Jordan Shipley caught seven passes for 61 yards. Dan Buckner (6-86) and John Chiles (5-49) each grabbed one reception and posted career-highs in both receptions and receiving yards. Tre' Newton led Texas in rushing for the first time in his career, logging 62 yards and his first career TD run on eight carries. Vondrell McGee rushed for 61 yards on 11 carries. Hunter Lawrence was perfect on two field goal attempts.

SPANISH LANGUAGE BROADCAST

The Longhorns Sports Network will also offer a Spanish Language Radio broadcast of all Texas Football games. The games will be broadcast on a statewide network (Flagship: HITZ 107.7 FM) and on the web at www.univision.com.

USE OF AUDIO/VIDEO IN COVERAGE

Any media entity collecting "video or audio materials" (film, traditional video or audio, digital video or audio, photos, etc.) from University of Texas Athletics events (games, practices, post-practice/post-game interviews and press conferences) may use that material only for traditional television newscasts, Web-based or print coverage, or other electronic transmission as approved by The University in writing, with a limitation of up to three (3) minutes in length from any single event. Its usage also must be used only as supporting video/audio for a reported story and not simply as rebroadcasted/streamed highlights or interview sessions. Such media entity may not offer any live video, audio or other coverage of the event (or tape-delay rebroadcast coverage in its entirety) without the advance, written permission of The University of Texas Athletics Department.

POSTGAME

The Longhorns' locker room is closed. Interview requests should be given to Assistant AD for Media Relations John Bianco. Requested players will be brought to the Moncrief-Neuhaas Athletics Complex meeting rooms following home contests and to a designated interview area at road games. NO INTERVIEWS ARE TO BE CONDUCTED ON THE FIELD FOLLOWING THE GAME. After a NCAA required and team-enforced 10-minute cooling off period, players and coaches will be escorted to the interview area. Failure to abide by this rule will result in termination of credential.

POST-PRACTICE AVAILABILITY

Practices are closed to the public and media. Players and assistant coaches are available by request after Tuesday's practice and head coach Mack Brown is available prior to Wednesday's practice to wrap up the week. Your requests should be given to Assistant AD for Media Relations John Bianco. All post-practice interviews are done at the Moncrief-Neuhaas Athletics Complex.

PHONE

Phone interviews with Longhorns players and assistant coaches should be requested at least 24 hours in advance through Assistant AD for Media Relations John Bianco (office: 512/471-1346/cell: 512/748-9315). Based on their schedules, the call will either be made following practice or at an assigned time. The last chance for player/assistant coach interviews is after Tuesday's practice. Phone interviews with head coach Mack Brown should be requested at least 24 hours in advance through Bill Little (office: 512/471-6062/cell: 512/748-9316).
