TEXAS RETURNS HOME TO FACE NO. 12/11 OKLAHOMA STATE:

Texas (4-5, 2-4 Big 12) returns home for the first of a three-game homestand to close the regular season when they face No. 12/11 Oklahoma State (8-1, 4-1 Big 12) on Saturday (7 p.m. CT/ABC) at Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium. The Longhorns are coming off a 39-14 defeat at Kansas State, while the Cowboys won at home, 55-28, over Baylor.

GAME 10

THE OKLAHOMA STATE SERIES:

The Longhorns hold a 22-2 edge in the all-time series with the Cowboys and have won the last 12 meetings and 17 of the last 18 overall. The Horns are 14-1 against the Cowboys in Austin and are 12-0 against OSU in the Mack Brown era. In 2007, Texas defeated Oklahoma State, 38-35, in Stillwater on a last-second Ryan Bailey field goal. The Horns trailed by 21 points entering the fourth quarter, but ran off 24 unanswered points to seal the victory. In 2005, the Horns fell behind 28-9 before scoring 38 unanswered points to win, 47-28, in Stillwater. The year before, in Austin, the Longhorns rallied to defeat the Cowboys, 56-35, after trailing 35-7 for the largest comeback in school history. UT has won by an average score of 40-21 during the 12-game winning streak. The last time Oklahoma State defeated the Longhorns was a 42-16 victory in Stillwater on Oct. 4, 1997. Since the two schools joined the Big 12 Conference in 1996, the Horns have won 13 of 14 contests against the Cowboys. The 1998 (UT, 37-34), 2002 (UT, 17-15) and '07 (UT, 38-35) games were decided on the final drive.

TEXAS-OKLAHOMA STATE SERIES TRENDS:

UT and OSU have met 24 times with the Longhorns winning 22 of those contests ... Texas has won 14 of the 15

MONUMENTAL COMEBACKS: Texas' 28-point comeback against Oklahoma State in 2004 marked the largest deficit a UT team had come back from in its history, surpassing the previous mark of 19 points set in the 2001 Holiday Bowl against Washington. The Longhorns trailed the Cowboys 35-7 and responded with 49 unanswered points for the win. In 2005, Texas had to overcome another 19-point deficit against Oklahoma State before scoring 38 unanswered points to win, 47-28. The Horns also tied the second-largest comeback in school history and set the standard for fourth-quarter comebacks against the Cowboys in 2007. The Horns trailed by 21 points entering the fourth quarter, but scored 24 unanswered points and won the game on a last-second, 40-yard Ryan Bailey field goal.

TEXAS RIDING NATION-LEADING STREAK OF NINE CONSECUTIVE 10-WIN SEASONS: Texas posted at least 10 wins in each of the last nine seasons, becoming just the second team in college football history to win at least 10 games in nine straight seasons. The Horns' streak trails only Florida State's streak of 14 consecutive seasons. Overall, Texas' 132 victories over the last 13 years are the second-most in the nation. any other team in the conference during that time. In addition, Texas has won seven of its last nine bowl games, including three BCS triumphs and a BCS Championship Game victory. Mack Brown's eight bowl victories at UT are tied with Darrell Royal. In fact, UT's eight bowl victories over the last 12 seasons under Brown equal the amount Texas won in the 30 years prior to Brown's arrival.

JAMAIL FIELD ADVANTAGE:

During Mack Brown's 13-year tenure, Texas has won 67 of its 76 games (.882) at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium/Jamail Field. The Horns' .851 home winning percentage (40-7) since 2003 ranks sixth nationally. That is a dramatic improvement from the Horns' 40-23-1 record in the 12 seasons prior to Brown's arrival. Under Brown, the Horns have outscored their opponents by an average of 41-17 (3,108-1,272) and outgained them by an average of 453.9 yards to 278.8 (34,499-21,190) at home.

JAMAIL FIELD STREAKS:

The Horns have posted three of the six-longest home winning streaks in school history during the Mack Brown era. The Horns won 20 in a row at home from 1999-2003 (third-longest in school history). Then, from 2003-06, Texas won 16-straight home games, which is tied for the fourth-best string on UT record and had another 16-game string from 2007-10. The longest home winning streak in school history is a 41-game streak from 1968-

UT'S BIG 12 SUCCESS AT HOME:

Texas is 39-5 (.886) at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium/Jamail Field versus league opponents during the Mack Brown era. The 39 home victories are the most by any team in the conference over the last 12 years. In addition, the Horns set the league record with a 26-game home winning streak over Big 12 opponents, which was snapped in 2006. Prior to 2006, the last time UT had lost a home game against a league foe was 1999 (35-17 to No. 13 Kansas State).

THIRTEENTH YEAR UNDER MACK BROWN:

With Mack Brown in his 13th season at Texas, he is just the fourth coach in the 117 years of Texas football to coach the Longhorns for at least a decade and just the second UT coach to win 100 games while at Texas. Darrell Royal, who won 167 games, has the longest tenure at 20 years, while D.X. Bible and Fred Akers each coached in Austin for 10 seasons. Brown is the first coach in UT history to post 200 victories during a career. With a 132-32 (.805) record at UT, Brown has led Texas to the nation's most victories over the last 13 years. In addition, Brown has guided the Horns to a 105-21 (.833) mark over the last 10 seasons, which is the nation's best record over that timespan, and includes six 11-win seasons (2001, '02, '04, '05, '08 and '09). The 11-win seasons are third-best to UT's 13-win campaigns in 2005 and '09 and its 12-win season in '08. Texas is the only school in the nation that has posted at least 10 wins in each of the last nine seasons (a UT record). Brown is the lone coach nationally to lead his team to nine or more victories in 14 straight seasons. His 12 straight seasons of nine or more victories at UT are a school best.

Under Brown, the Horns have posted Top 10 finishes seven times in the last nine years (2001, '02, '04, '05, '07, '08 and '09). Prior to his arrival, the last time UT finished in the Top 10 was 1983. In addition, tion, Texas has played in a bowl game for a school-record 12-consecutive seasons, bettering the previous streak of nine straight from 1977-85. Brown's personal strings, including time at North Carolina, go back even further. He has posted 20 consecutive winning seasons and taken his teams to 18 consecutive bowl games. Both of those marks are the longest active streaks in the nation.

200 CAREER VICTORIES:

With a victory against Texas A&M in 2008, Mack Brown became the first head coach in UT history to reach the 200-victory plateau during a career and he currently has a career record of 218-106-1 (.672). Brown's 218 career wins rank 13th on the NCAA all-time victories list. Brown became just the 19th coach, who has spent at least 10 years at a NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) school, to win 200 games and the seventh-youngest coach to do so. He also is one of only four active coaches, who has spent at least 10 years at an FBS school, to reach the 200-victory mark. In addition, Brown is one of only eight active coaches at FBS schools who have won 100 games at their current school (132-32/.805). Of the 80 coaches that have ever won 100 games at a FBS school, Brown is the 14th fastest to reach the century mark (124 games) and the third-fastest among active coaches.

UT'S NO. 2 ALL-TIME:

Mack Brown has won 132 games at Texas. He is in second place on UT's all-time list behind only Darrell Royal, who tallied 167 victories from 1957-76. Brown moved ahead of Fred Akers, who posted 86 wins from 1977-86, during the 2006 season.

DOUBLE-FIGURE SUCCESS:

With 13 wins in 2009, Texas extended its nation-leading streak of 10-win seasons to nine. The nine straight years with at least 10 wins is the second-longest streak in NCAA history, trailing only Florida State's 14-year streak from 1987-2000. In addition, Texas posted 12-win seasons in back-to-back years for the first time in school history. Prior to Brown's arrival, the Horns had never before posted consecutive 11-win campaigns let alone consecutive 12-win seasons. As a matter of fact, Brown has led the Horns to six seasons with 11 or more wins. That compares to the four 11-win seasons (1963, '69, '77 and '83) in Texas history before Brown's arrival in 1998.

STRING OF SUCCESS: With a 2009 No. 2 final ranking, Texas has finished the year ranked among the nation's Top 15 in each of the last 10 seasons, a Longhorn best. In addition, UT has finished in the Top 10 in seven of the last nine seasons (2001, '02, '04, '05, '07, '08 and '09) and in the Top Five in four of the last six ('04, '05, '08 and '09). You have to go back to Darrell Royal's string of success in the late 1960s, when the Horns finished among the Top Five four out of five years (1968-72), to equal that consistency in UT history.

REWRITE THE RECORD BOOK: During Mack Brown's 13-year tenure at Texas, the Horns have set 215 school records. The offense has led the way by setting 136 team, individual, game, season and career records. UT also has set 14 defensive records, 32 special teams records and 28 freshman records. In addition, the Horns have set every major school attendance record during the Brown era.

BOWL SUCCESS: Texas played in a bowl game for a UT-record 12th straight season in 2009, bettering the previous mark of nine-straight from 1977-85. The Horns have won seven of their last nine bowls and have an 8-4 record under Mack Brown. In the 12 years prior to Brown's arrival, Texas went to five bowls and was 2-3. Brown is the first UT coach since Darrell Royal, who was 8-7-1 in bowl games, to post a .500 or better bowl record. With a 24-21 victory over No. 10 Ohio State in the 2009 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl, Texas won bowl games in five consecutive years for the first time in school history (2004-08). The Horns did win five straight previously (1963-64, '66, '68-69), but the streak was interrupted by seasons that did not result in a bowl. Brown's personal string, including time at North Carolina, goes back even further. He has directed his teams to 18 straight bowls, the longest active streak in the nation.

RIVARLY REBOUND: Win or lose, the Longhorns have bounced back well from the emotion of the Red River Rivalry game under Mack Brown. Since Brown's arrival in 1998, Texas is a perfect 13-0 in its first game after the Texas-OU tilt. Six of those 13 victories have come against Top 25-ranked opponents and seven of the wins have come on the road. To put that in perspective, Texas was just 6-6 in its first game after the Red River Rivalry in the 12 seasons prior to Brown's arrival in 1998.

POST-OU SUCCESS: Regardless of the outcome of the Red River Rivalry, Texas has had great success in the second half of the season during Mack Brown's tenure. Since 1998, The Horns are 64-10 (.865) in regular season games following the OU game. That includes the 2006 losses to Kansas State and Texas A&M when starting quarterback Colt McCoy was injured, as well as a 1999 loss at Texas A&M when Big 12 offensive co-MVP Major Applewhite was sidelined by a stomach virus. The other seven losses came to Iowa State, Baylor and Kansas State in 2010, Texas A&M in 2007 and Texas Tech in Lubbock in 1998, 2002 and '08. UT has won at least four consecutive games following the Red River Rivalry in 10 of the last 11 seasons. That had only been done four times in 25 seasons prior to 1999. In fact, in the 14 years (dating back to 1984) prior to Mack Brown's arrival in 1998, UT was just 50-38 (.568) in games following the Red River Rivalry. Six times in Brown's previous 12 years, Texas has won all of its regular season games after the Oklahoma game. In addition, since 2004, including Big 12 Championship games in 2005 and '09 and a 5-1 record in bowl games, Texas is 40-8 (.833) post-OU with two of those losses coming after McCoy's injury in 2006. To put that in perspective, from 1984-97, UT was just 53-43 (.570) in overall games (Big 12 title and bowl games included) after the Red River Rivalry.

BIG 12 WINNING STREAKS: Texas' loss to Oklahoma (Oct. 2) ended its 13-game winning streak in league play, which was the longest active streak in the conference and the fourth-longest in league history. The Longhorns also own the record for the longest streak of 21 from 2004-06. In addition, Texas owns the top intraconference record (90-28, .763) since the Big 12 formed in 1996, eight wins ahead of Oklahoma (83-34).

ROAD WARRIORS: Texas is 65-23 (.739) away from home (road and neutral sites) over the last 13 years compared to a 36-38-1 (.487) record in the 12 years prior to Mack Brown's arrival in 1998. The Horns' 62-20 (.756) mark in road and neutral-site games since 1999 is the nation's best record over that span. Texas is 49-10 (.830) on the road (not including neutral-site games) and 41-6 (.872) versus unranked road foes during the Mack Brown era. Of the 10 true-road-game losses in Brown's 13-year tenure, two came in his first three games at UT. Prior to Brown's arrival, UT posted just four winning road records in the 12 seasons leading up to 1998. All totalled during that time, UT was just 27-30 (.474) in true road games. The Longhorns have won 44 of their last 49 true road games (.898). Four of the five losses during that stretch were a group of shootouts, 42-38 at Texas Tech in 2002, 45-42 at Kansas State in 2006, 38-30 at Texas A&M in 2007 and 39-33 at No. 6 Texas Tech in 2008. UT's loss at KSU in '06 snapped a school-record streak of 17 consecutive road wins. The 17-straight road wins eclipsed the previous record of 13 set from 1981-84. UT also won 12 consecutive road games from 2000-02. In addition, UT is currently on a streak of 11 consecutive non-conference road wins, which is a school record, bettering the previous streak of seven from 1956-63.

BIG 12 ROAD SUCCESS: Texas has won 33 of its last 38 (.868) true Big 12 road games (not including neutral-site games), including a league-record 13 consecutive conference road wins from 2002-06. The Horns are 37-7 (.840) in league road contests under Mack Brown. Highlighting the Horns' road record under Brown are victories at Nebraska (1998) to end the Huskers' nation-best 47-game home winning streak, another win that snapped a Nebraska 26-game home winning streak (2002) and a victory to break Oklahoma State's 10-game winning streak (2003).

LONGHORN RETURNEES: Entering the 2010 season, Texas returns 44 lettermen (25 offense/17 defense/two special-ists) and 18 players with starting experience (11 offense/seven defense) from the 2009 squad. The 18 players with starting experience have combined to start 337 games (162 offense/175 defense). When you add in five other returnees, who have combined to start 38 games (17 offense/21 defense), Texas' 2010 squad features 23 players with starting experience on offense or defense. That group has combined to start 375 games (179 offense/196 defense).

NATIONAL AWARDS WATCH: The Longhorns have six players named to 2010 national awards watch lists. Senior DE Sam Acho, a 2009 Lott Trophy semifinalist, has been named a 2010 Lott Trophy quarterfinalist, and a finalist for the Campbell Trophy, Lowe's Senior Class Award and ARA Sportsmanship Award this year, along with being on the Lombardi Award, Nagurski Trophy, Outland Trophy and Hendricks Award watch lists. Joining Acho on the Nagurski list are senior CB Curtis Brown, a 2009 honorable mention All-American, and junior CB Aaron Williams. Brown and Williams are joined by junior S Blake Gideon on the Thorpe Award watch list. Also on the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award watch lists is senior OT Kyle Hix. In addition, junior LB Keenan Robinson is a semifinalist for the 2010 Butkus Award.

ALL-AROUND ACHO: Senior DE Sam Acho has not only been successful on the field during his four-year career, but he's also been an academic standout and a presence in the community. Most recently, Acho was named to the 2010 AllState AFCA Good Works Team, one of just 11 FBS players honored, and he is a finalist for the Campbell Trophy, Lowe's Senior Class Award and ARA Sportsmanship Award. He is also a semifinalist for the Lombardi Award and a quarterfinalist for the Lott Trophy, which he was a semifinalist for in 2009. It honors the nation's Defensive IMPACT Player of the Year with IMPACT standing for: Integrity, Maturity, Performance, Academics, Community and Tenacity. In addition, Acho has been named a 2010 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete. He was also tabbed honorable mention All-Big 12 for his performance on the field and an Academic All-American last season. On pace to graduate in business honors in December, Acho is a three-time Academic All-District 6 selection, a six-time member of UT's Athletics Director's Honor Roll, a two-time Arthur Ashe Award honoree and the recipient of the 2009 Texas Exes Leadership Award. He is a member of UT's Student Advisory Council, was one of UT's representatives at the Big 12's Conference on Black Student Government and represented UT at the 2009 NCAA Leadership Conference. Acho is one of UT's regulars at community service events both on and off campus. In addition, he joins his brother, Emmanuel, and father on medical mission trips to Nigeria each summer. This season, Acho also earned a spot on the prestigious 2010 Preseason Playboy All-America team, was preseason first-team All-Big 12 and is on the watch lists for the Nagurski Trophy, Hendricks Award and Outland Trophy.

ACHO'S NUMBERS: During his career, Acho has seen his numbers increase from 10 tackles and 1.5 sacks as a freshman to 16 tackles and three sacks as a sophomore. Then, as a junior, Acho broke out with 63 tackles and 10 sacks, which led the team and tied for 20th nationally. He also tallied four fumble recoveries, which tied for the most nationally (t-No. 3 on UT's single-season list). Overall, he's posted 137 tackles, 20.5 sacks, 32 TFL, eight PBD, seven forced fumbles and six fumble recoveries in 47 career games (23 starts).

Back from 2009 is a quartet of wide receivers in seniors John Chiles (38 games/12 starts) and James Kirkendoll (40 games/24 starts), junior Malcolm Williams (36 games/18 starts) and sophomore Marquise Goodwin (23 games/seven starts). NO. 2 ALL-TIME: In 2008, Texas moved ahead of Notre Dame for second place on the NCAA all-time victory list. At 849 victories, Texas trails only Michigan in all-time wins. With the Longhorns in second place on that list, it marks the first time since 1932 that Michigan and Notre Dame do not occupy the one-two spots in all-time wins. Since Mack Brown arrived in 1998, Texas has posted a 132-32 (.805) record and moved ahead of Alabama, Notre Dame and Nebraska on the all-time victory chart.

BROWN'S TOP 10 HORNS: Mack Brown revived the Horns as a Top 10 regular beginning with a No. 5 preseason ranking in 2001. Since then, the Horns have earned a Top 10 standing in 125 of the last 150 AP polls. All totaled, UT has spent 132 weeks ranked among the Top 10 since Brown arrived in 1998. In the same 12-year stretch prior to his arrival, UT spent just 16 weeks rated among the Top 10. Brown has led the Horns to a final Top 10 ranking in seven of the last nine seasons. In 2008, Brown led Texas to its first regular-season No. 1 ranking since 1984. In 2005, he led UT to its first No. 1 ranking to end the season since 1969. Before Brown took over the program, the last time UT earned a Top 10 finish was 1983. From the start of the 1984 season to Brown's arrival in 1998, UT was in the Top 10 just 28 times in 14 seasons.

UT AND THE AP TOP 10: As a result of its loss at Kansas State in 2006, Texas had its string of 46-straight weeks in The AP Top 10 snapped. Prior to that, the last time the Horns were not among The AP Top 10 was in the final poll of the 2003 season. The 46-straight weeks was the longest for the Horns in the Mack Brown era. The longest Texas streak in The AP Top 10 is 60 weeks from 1961-65. With its loss to UCLA (Sept. 24, 2010), Texas had its streak of 33 consecutive weeks ranked in the Top 10 broken. In addition, prior to the poll on Sept. 12, 2010, the Horns had been ranked in The AP Top 5 for 30 consecutive weeks, which was the longest active streak in the nation and is the longest streak in the Mack Brown era, bettering a 19-week streak from 2005-06.

have come to Top-10 ranked teams. That's a continuation of the success the Longhorns have had against ranked foes during the Mack Brown era. In Brown's 13 years in Austin, UT is 34-20 (.630) versus Top 25 opponents. That compares to a 14-31-2 (40.5%) mark in the 12 years before Brown arrived. In fact, the Longhorns have posted a winning record against ranked opponents in each of the last nine seasons as compared to just two seasons in the 12 prior to Brown's arrival.

AP TOP 25 STREAK SNAPPED AT UT RECORD 162 STRAIGHT WEEKS:

With the loss to Oklahoma (Oct. 2), Texas had its nation-leading and UT-record streak 162 straight weeks in The Associated Press Top 25 snapped. The streak bettered a 114-week stretch from 1968-76. It was the sixth-longest streak in the history of the poll. The next longest active streak is Ohio State's 92 weeks. Prior to the poll on Sept. 12, 2010, the Horns had been ranked in The AP Top 5 for 30 consecutive weeks, which was the longest active streak in the nation and is the longest streak in the Mack Brown era. Texas has finished the year ranked among The AP Top 25 in each of Mack Brown's 12 years in Austin. That marks the first time in school history Texas has finished in The AP Top 25 for 12 straight years, bettering the previous record of eight straight seasons from 1968-75. Dating back to his days at UNC, Brown's teams have finished the year ranked among The AP Top 25 in each of the last 14 seasons, including nine Top 10 finishes.

UT ENDS RECORD 190 STRAIGHT WEEKS IN COACHES POLL:

Prior to Texas' loss to Oklahoma (Oct. 2), UT had been ranked among the USA Today Coaches Poll for 190 straight weeks dating back to late in the 1998 season. The 190 straight weeks was the longest UT streak in any poll and the nation's longest active streak in the coaches poll. The next longest active streak is 92 weeks by Ohio State and Florida. The Horns' previous longest streak in the coaches poll was 54 weeks from 1977-80. Texas has been ranked in the first and last coaches poll in all 12 of Mack Brown's seasons in Austin, a UT best. Dating back to his days at UNC, Brown's teams have finished the year ranked among the coaches' Top 25 in each of the last 14 seasons, including nine Top 10 finishes.

Of the 44 Longhorns, 34 have started games during their NFL careers, including 31 who were 2009 starters and 29 that started as rookies. Among that group of 44, eight have earned a spot in a Pro Bowl and six have played in a Super Bowl with four coming away as Super Bowl Champions. The group also represents a wide array of positions with at least three NFL Longhorns in each position group except for quarterback. The defensive line leads the way with nine. The nine defensive linemen is tied for second in the nation and is the most in the Big 12.

DKR'S RENOVATIONS: As Texas football proceeds through the 21st century, Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium continues to evolve as a state-of-the-art facility at the forefront of college football. Following the 2008 season, Texas installed FieldTurf as its playing surface and permanent bleachers were added to the south end of the stadium. Combined with the previous year's north end zone project, DKR-Texas Memorial Stadium now has a stadium capacity of 100,119, which is the fifth-largest college stadium in the country and the largest college stadium in the southwest. The north end zone expansion project that was completed prior to the 2008 season featured an upper deck, club seating, an academic center and a war memorial plaza. The expansion added approximately 2,108 club seats and 47 suites. The lower deck of the north end zone was completed for the 2007 season. Another major upgrade was made prior to 2007, when a new video board was installed at the south end of the stadium. At the time, the scoreboard was the nation's largest high-definition video display board thanks to DAKtronics. The $8-million Prostar Video Board is 55 feet high by 134 feet wide. In addition, the interior of the Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Complex, most notably the players' lounge, is consistently being upgraded. Prior to 2009, a new academic center was constructed. It is approximately three times the size of the old one at Moncrief-Neuhaus. It features writing, math and computer labs, numerous tutoring areas, a multimedia classroom and academic staff office space. It is all part of a $176.5 million renovation project at the Longhorns' stadium.

"FAN"-TASTIC: Texas has been one of the best-attended programs in the nation over the past 10 years. The Horns, who have played in front of a sellout crowd in their last 63 home games, have attracted 49 of the top 50 crowds in UT history since

Mack Brown took over in 1998. In addition, the top 25 home crowds at Texas have come since '06. Texas' school-record season-ticket sales of 84,100 in 2009 are more than double the 39,743 sold in 1997, the UT record when Brown arrived. With the completion of the stadium expansion project, the Horns opened 2009 against ULM by hosting 101,096 fans. They upped the single-game attendance record to 101,297 during the Texas Tech game. Then, against Kansas, UT bettered the record with a showing of 101,357 fans. The 2010 season opened with the second-largest crowd in school history with 101,339 then Texas once again upped the single-game attendance record hosting a crowd of 101,437 against UCLA on Sept. 24, which is the largest crowd to see a college sporting event in the Southwest. UT's previous single-game attendance record of 98,621 was established when it hosted Texas A&M on Thanksgiving night in 2008. Texas also set a total-attendance record in 2009 after playing in front of 1,163,845 fans, breaking the 2008 mark of 1,066,158. Its home season-attendance record came in 2008 with a total of 686,324, which bettered the Horns' previous season best of 619,534, set in 2006. In addition, Texas has attracted record crowds in nine of its road games over the past five seasons, at Oklahoma State (58,516, 2009), vs. Oklahoma in the Cotton Bowl (96,009, 2009 and 92,182, 2008), at Texas Tech (60,454, 2010, 56,333, 2008 and 56,158, 2006), at UTEP (53,415, 2008), at Texas A&M (88,253, 2007) and at Nebraska (85,187, 2006).

During the 2009-10 academic year, 84 members of the Texas Football program earned 3.0 GPAs or better for a semester.

CAPS AND GOWNS: In 12 seasons under Mack Brown, the Longhorn football program has had a great deal of success when it comes to graduating its student-athletes. Over the last four years, that success in the classroom has reached an all-time high. By the end of the 2010 summer semester, 104 of Texas' 120 (86.7%) seniors, who completed their eligibility at Texas during that stretch, were expected to have earned their degrees. Early graduation also has been a positive trend at UT over the last five years. During that timespan, over 50 percent (62-of-120) of Texas' seniors graduated prior to the Longhorns' bowl game. The Longhorns' 2009 class included 20-of-21 seniors that are on pace to earn their degrees by the summer of 2010 with 14 earning their degrees prior to the BCS National Championship game. The 2008 class featured 19-of-23 (82.6%) graduates by the end of spring with all 23 on schedule to complete their degrees by the spring of 2010. Twenty-two of 24 seniors (91.7%) from the class of 2007 have graduated with the other two on pace to complete their degrees in 2009. From the 2006 group of 23 seniors, 19 (82.6%) have graduated and four more are less than two semesters short of their degrees. Of the group of seniors on the Horns' National Championship team in 2005, 26-of-29 (89.7%) earned their degrees by last May. Eighteen of those seniors had received their diplomas prior to UT's victory over USC.

HORNS' FINISHING TOUCH: One of the mantras of the Texas football program under Mack brown is "finish," and the Horns have done just that since Brown arrived. Over Brown's 12-year tenure, UT has gone 27-5 (.844) in games decided by four points or less and 19-4 (.826) in games decided by three points or less. The Longhorns' have won 16 of their last 17 (.941) games decided by three points or less. The only loss came in a shootout at Kansas State, 45-42, in 2006, when Colt McCoy was sidelined by injury after the opening drive. The success under Brown is an improvement from the 12 years prior to his arrival when UT went 18-15-2 (.543) in games decided by four points or less and 16-11-2 (.586) in games decided by three points or less.

COMEBACKS UNDER MACK BROWN: During Mack Brown's 12 seasons at Texas, the Horns have registered 24 second-half comebacks, including 13 fourth-quarter comebacks. UT has recorded the six largest comebacks in school history during the Mack Brown era.

vs. NO. 21/20 NEBRASKA (2009): Texas held the lead against Nebraska for much of the second-half, but a Nebraska field goal with 1:44 left gave the Cornhuskers a 12-10 lead. The Horns quickly moved down the field on the ensuing possession, setting up a Hunter Lawrence 46-yard field goal as time expired, giving UT a 13-12 victory and the 2009 Big 12 Championship.

vs. NO. 20/18 OKLAHOMA (2009): The Horns trailed 6-3 at halftime but scored 10 points on their first two drives of the second half to take a 13-6 lead. The Sooners came back with a TD to make it 13-13, but UT answered with a field goal early in the fourth quarter to take a 16-13 lead, which would end up being the final score. After giving up the TD with 4:39 left in the third quarter, the defense didn't allow the Sooners into Texas territory for the rest of the game, allowing just 35 yards on 17 plays (2.1 ypp) with two INT.

vs. NO. 10 OHIO STATE (2008): Texas trailed 6-3 at the half before taking a 17-6 lead entering the fourth quarter. But, the Buckeyes ran off 15 straight points to take a 21-17 lead with just 2:05 remaining. From there, Colt McCoy led an 11-play, 78-yard drive that culminated with a 26-yard TD pass to Quan Cosby with 16 seconds left to give UT the 24-21 victory.

vs. NO. 1 OKLAHOMA (2008): The Horns erased two 11-point deficits in the first half and trailed by one, 21-20, at halftime. OU went up 28-20 before Texas scored 10 straight to take a 30-28 lead late in the third quarter. OU answered with a TD early in the fourth to make it 35-30, but UT scored the game's final 15 points over the last 7:37 to win, 45-35. In total, Texas went on a 25-7 run to seal the victory.

at OKLAHOMA STATE (2007): Texas erased two fourth-quarter deficits and a second-half deficit, including the largest fourth-quarter comeback in school history against Oklahoma State. The Horns trailed 2006: Texas finished the 2006 season ranked sixth nationally in scoring offense (35.9 ppg), ninth in passing efficiency (155.9 rating) and 22nd in total offense (391.5 ypg). The Horns registered at least 400 yards in seven of the 13 games and scored at least 35 points in eight contests.

2005: UT led the nation in scoring offense (50.2 ppg), ranked second in rushing offense (274.9 ypg) and finished third in total offense (512.1 ypg). The Horns produced at least 600 yards of offense three times in 2005, which was a first in UT history. Texas also came close to having three more 600-yard games with 591 against La.-Lafayette, 585 at Missouri and 556 in the Rose Bowl versus No. 1 USC. UT's 600-yard games came in three consecutive contests against Oklahoma State (606), Baylor (645) and Kansas (617). Texas rushed for at least 300 yards six times in 2005, matching 2004's total for the most by a Texas team since 1977. UT averaged a balanced 274.9 rushing yards and 237.2 passing yards in 2005, marking just the fifth time in school history the Horns averaged better than 200 yards both rushing and passing.

Prior to 2005: UT ranked second in the nation in rushing (299.2 ypg), seventh in total offense (464.4 ypg) and 12th in scoring (35.3 ppg) in 2004. The Horns posted at least 600 yards of offense twice. They recorded 673 yards of offense (third-most in UT history) versus North Texas and 600 total yards against No. 19 Oklahoma State. In 2003, Texas averaged 232.5 rushing yards (eighth NCAA) and 206.6 passing yards, which was the fourth time in school history UT averaged better than 200 yards for each. Texas also averaged 439.2 yards of offense (20th NCAA) while averaging 41.0 points per game

(sixth NCAA) in 2003. That came one year after UT averaged 250.1 passing yards and 33.8 points per game (16th NCAA) in 2002. In 2001, the Horns' led the Big 12 in scoring (39.2 ppg/sixth NCAA) and pass efficiency (136.1 rating/27th NCAA). Brown's first UT squad produced a school-best 692 yards against Rice in 1998 and averaged a balanced 266.5 yards passing per game and 204.2 yards rushing per game.

LONGEST DRIVE: Leading 17-14 with 3:51 remaining in the third quarter at Texas Tech this season, the offense took ball control to a new level by starting on its own 20-yard line and putting together the longest drive in terms of plays and time in the Mack Brown era at Texas. The 22-play, 9:25 drive surpassed the previous highs of 19 plays and 9:04 set on a drive at Iowa State in 2002. The resulting TD gave Texas its final margin of 24-14 and left just 9:26 to go in the game.

SCORING SPREE: Texas averaged 39.0 points per game in the last decade (2000-09), which ranked second nationally and first among BCS conference schools. The Horns averaged at least 35 ppg in nine of the 10 seasons, including three seasons of at least 40 ppg. In 2005, UT set a then-NCAA record with 652 total points and a school record by averaging 50.2 ppg. During the Mack Brown era, Texas has averaged at least 34 ppg in each of the Nebraska in 1983, and the previous UT record was 533 in 2003. The team also set school marks with 50.2 points per game (41.4, 1969), 6,657 total yards (5,709, 2003), 512.1 yards per game (472.1, 1969) and 5.91 yards per carry (5.84, 2004). UT became one of only four teams in NCAA history to average 50 or more points and 500 or more yards per game for a season, and the first to do it since 1995. Texas scored at least 40 points in each of its last 11 games and 12-of-13 contests on the season. In 2005, only one other team in the nation (USC) scored 40 points in more than nine games. Texas scored at least 50 points in a game seven times in 2005. UT was the only school in the nation besides USC to accomplish that (versus NCAA Div. I-A). That is the most 50-point games the Horns have ever had in a season, surpassing the previous best of four set in 2003. As for 60-point games, Texas registered at least 60 points four times, which was also a UT first.

PRODUCTIVE PERFORMERS:

Since Mack Brown and offensive coordinator Greg Davis took over UT's offense in 1998, Texas has produced its only 2,000-yard rusher (2,124, Ricky Williams, 1998), 1,000-yard receivers (1,292, Jordan Shipley, 2009/1,188, Kwame Cavil, 1999/1,142, Roy Williams, 2002/1,123, Quan Cosby, 2008/1,087, Wane McGarity, 1998/1,079, Roy Williams, 2003/1,060, Jordan Shipley, 2008), 3,000-yard passers (3,859, Colt McCoy, 2008/3,357, Major Applewhite, 1999/3,328, Colt McCoy, 2009/3,303, Colt McCoy, 2007/3,207, Chris Simms, 2002/3,036 Vince Young, 2005) and 1,000 yard rusher/passers (Vince Young, 2004 and '05) in a season in school history. UT has seen players record school single-season bests for rushing touchdowns (28, Ricky Williams, 1998), TD passes (32, Colt McCoy, 2008), TD receptions (12, Roy Williams, 2002/Limas Sweed, 2006), total TDs (45, Colt McCoy, 2008), passing yards (3,859, Colt McCoy, 2008), receptions (100, Kwame Cavil, 1999), receiving yards (1,292, Jordan Shipley, 2009), scoring (168, Ricky Williams, 1998) and total offense (4,420, Colt McCoy, 2008). In addition, Colt McCoy set the NCAA single-season completion percentage record at 76.7% (332-of-433) in 2008 and is one of just five QBs in NCAA history to post four seasons with at least 2,500 yards passing. Benson became the fifth player in NCAA history to rush for over 1,000 yards in four straight seasons and finished his career ranked sixth on the NCAA all-time rushing list (5,540 yards). Vince Young became the first player in UT history to rush (1,079 yards) and pass (1,849 yards) for more than 1,000 yards in the same season in 2004 and then repeated the feat in 2005 with 1,050 yards rushing and 3,036 yards passing. He became the first player in NCAA history to rush for 1,000 yards or more and pass for at least 3,000 yards in the same season. He came within two rushing yards of becoming just the third freshman QB in NCAA history to post 1,000 yards rushing and passing in a season in 2003. The Longhorns' freshman records for rushing yards (1,053, Cedric Benson, 2001), rushing TDs (12, Cedric Benson, 2001/12, Cody Johnson, 2008), total TDs (13, Cedric Benson, 2001), 100-yard rushing games (5, Cedric Benson, 2001), passing yards (2,570, Colt McCoy, 2006), total offense (2,740, Colt McCoy, 2006), receptions (41, B.J. Johnson, 2000), receiving yards (809, Roy Williams, 2000), TD catches (8, Roy Williams, 2000) and TD passes (29, Colt McCoy, 2006) have also been set in the Brown era. In addition, McCoy's 29 TD passes in 2006 tied the NCAA record for freshmen.

MUSCHAMP'S STINGY SCORING D:

During his time at Texas, defensive coordinator Will Muschamp has led a Longhorn defense that has held 31-of-36 opponents under their season scoring averages and 19 teams to 14 points or less, including three of the nine games in 2010. In 2009, the Horns held 12-of-14 opponents under their scoring averages and didn't allow an offensive TD in four of 14 games. Overall, Texas gave up just 234 total points for a 16.7 points-per-game average (12th NCAA).

In 2008, UT's defense allowed just 18.8 points per game (18th NCAA/first Big 12). That's a trend that goes back a few years for one of the nation's premier defensive coordinators. Over the last five seasons at Auburn and Texas, Muschamp has led defenses that have allowed 21 points or less in 45 of the last 61 games (73.8%), including 14 or less 33 times. On average, his units are giving up just 17.1 points per game during that stretch. Previously, while at Auburn, Muschamp led a group that finished sixth nationally after allowing just 16.9 points per game in 2007. The Tigers held opponents to 20 points or less in 10 of their 13 games, including six with 13 points or less. In 2006, Muschamp's D ranked seventh nationally after allowing just 13.9 points per game, including seven games with 14 points or less and two shutouts.

PRESSURE AT A PREMIUM: Texas leads the nation in sacks with 444 since 1999. Since Will Muschamp took over the defense in 2008, the pressure statistics have continued to go up. During that span, Texas' 118 sacks rank first nationally and are 16 more than any other team in the country and its 297 TFL also rank first nationally. Texas has already amassed 25 sacks and 76 TFL in nine games this season. Last season, the Horns registered 46 sacks, 136 TFL, 143 pressures and 186 hits on opponents' quarterbacks. The 46 sacks were the second-most nationally and the 136 TFL led the country. In 2008, Texas led the nation in sacks with 47, which was also the most in the Mack Brown era, bettering the 43-sack total in 2000. It marked the first time in school history that Texas led the country in sacks. In addition, the 2008 defense produced 99 TFL, 170 pressures and 129 hits on opponents' quarterbacks.

DEFENSIVE DOMINANCE: After inheriting a program that ranked among the NCAA's bottom half in total defense for the five seasons prior to his arrival, Mack Brown and his staff have reversed that trend. Texas has ranked among the nation's top 25 in total defense in nine of the last 12 seasons and ranks fifth in 2010.

2010: After nine games, Texas ranks fifth in the nation in total defense (267.3 ypg), second in passing defense (132.4 ypg), and 37th in rushing defense (134.9 ypg). The Longhorns allowed Kansas State just 270 yards of total offense, including nine yards passing. They held a No. 25/24 Baylor team that entered the game ranked fifth in the nation in total offense (510.8 ypg) to 328 total yards, including 109 on the ground, 69 of which came on one play. Baylor also entered as the fifth-ranked passing offense (314.4 ypg) and was limited to 219 yards, 59 of which came on one play. Texas allowed 335 total yards to Iowa State, including just 136 passing yards. The defense limited a No. 5/4 Nebraska offense that entered the game ranked seventh in the nation in total offense (494.4 ypg) and second in rushing offense (337.6 ypg) to 202 total yards and 125 rushing, which includes 21 yards on 13 carries by Huskers QB Taylor Martinez, who entered the game as the nation's fourth-leading rusher (147.4 ypg). No. 8 Oklahoma recorded 360 total yards in the Red River Rivalry. The Longhorns allowed just 291 total yards to UCLA, including just 27 passing yards, and two of the Bruins scoring drives were under four yards following turnovers. At Texas Tech, the Horns limited the Red Raiders to just 144 total yards, including minus-14 rushing yards. The 144 total yards were the fewest Texas Tech has gained against Texas since 1982 (134) and the fewest overall since gaining 127 against Nebraska in 1997. Meanwhile the 158 passing yards were the fewest since 1999 (137) and the minus-14 rushing yards marked the fourth time the Longhorns have not allowed the Red Raiders to reach positive rushing yards since 2004. The 14 points were the fewest Texas Tech has scored in Lubbock in the series since 1984 (10) and the fewest overall in the series since 2001 (7). Texas also held Texas Tech to minus-four yards overall in the first quarter. The Longhorns held Wyoming to just seven points and 257 total yards, including 58 rushing yards (1.9 ypc). Texas allowed Rice just 17 points to open the 2010 season with seven coming on a tipped pass at the end of the first half and seven more with 24 seconds remaining with the game already decided. The Longhorns held the Owls to just 219 total yards, including zero yards in the third quarter.

2009: The Texas defense allowed 16.7 points (12th NCAA), 251.9 total yards (third NCAA), a 100.5 pass efficiency rating (10th NCAA) and 72.4 rushing yards per game (first NCAA). On 185 total drives, the Horns gave up 23 TDs and 15 FGs. Four of the field goals came after possession changes when the Horns gave up just 32 yards on 20 plays. The Horns held 9-of-14 opponents to 14 points or less, including eight of the last 11. On 185 drives, the Horns' D forced 77 three-and-outs or better (41.6%) and gave up two first downs or less on 133 of the 185 drives (71.9%). Overall, the Texas defense allowed just 3,527 total yards on 918 plays for a 3.8 yards-per-play average. The unit ranked first nationally in third-down defense, allowing only 53 conversions on 200 attempts (26.5%). In addition, the Horns forced 37 turnovers (25 INTs/12 fumbles), which tied for first nationally.

2008: The Texas defense led the Big 12 in scoring defense (18.8 ppg/18th NCAA), total defense (342.9 ypg/51st NCAA) and rushing defense (83.5 ypg/third NCAA) and was second in the conference in pass efficiency defense (124.2 rating). In addition, the Horns led the nation in sacks with 3.62 per game (47 total sacks) and posted at least four sacks in five of UT's 13 games. The unit gave up just 29 TDs, which tied for the 18th fewest nationally and were 12 fewer than any other Big 12 team. UT's opponents converted on only 64 of their 183 third-down attempts (35.0%) and the Horns allowed only 31 scores on 42 red-zone possessions (74.0%), which tied for 11th nationally, and gave up just 20 TDs (47.6%).

2007: Texas allowed 25.3 points, 371.2 total yards and 93.4 rushing yards per game (sixth NCAA) in 2007, while holding opponents to a 127.5 passer rating. UT held seven teams under 100 yards rushing, including three games of 10 yards or less. Texas held Rice to -11 yards rushing, which marked the fourth-best performance by the Longhorn D since 1990. The Horns also held five opponents to 14 points or fewer.

2006: Texas finished 2006 ranked third nationally against the run (61.2 ypg), 22nd in total defense (297.4 ypg) and 26th in scoring defense (18.3 ppg). The Horns only allowed two teams to rush for 100 yards and held seven opponents to 14 points or fewer. The 2006 UT defense produced the school's second-best effort since 1990 by holding North Texas to just 95 total yards. UT also held Rice to -12 yards rushing, which marked the fourth time since 1990 that UT held a team to negative yards rushing. In fact, seven of UT's top 22 performances against the rush since 1990 came during the 2006 campaign.

2005: The Longhorns ranked 10th nationally in total defense (302.9 ypg), eighth in scoring defense (16.4 ppg), eighth in passing defense (172.0 ypg) and 33rd in rushing defense

(130.9 ypg). Texas only allowed opponents to reach 300 yards of total offense five times and held the remaining eight opponents to 267 yards or fewer. Statistically, UT's best defensive performance came against Oklahoma in the Red River Rivalry. The Sooners only managed 171 total yards and one TD. The Longhorns weren't far off that pace by allowing only 191 yards and one field goal to Colorado in the Big 12 Championship game.

Prior to 2005: Texas held its opponents to 320.1 yards (23rd NCAA), 17.9 points (18th NCAA) and 107.4 yards per game (16th NCAA). Texas ranked 25th nationally in total defense (329.8 ypg) and allowed just 21.1 points per game in 2003, while holding its opponents to 307.7 yards (16th NCAA) and 16.3 points per game (eighth NCAA) in 2002. UT was one of only two teams to post three shutouts against NCAA Division I-A opponents in 2002. The Longhorns defense went from ranking 85th nationally in total defense in 1997, the year prior to Brown's arrival, to back-to-back top 10 finishes in total defense in 1999-2000 and captured an NCAA statistical title in total defense in 2001. UT's 236.2 yards per game allowed that season were the fewest it had allowed since 1983 (212.0 ypg). It marked the first time since '83 and only the third time in school history that UT led the nation in total defense. Texas also led the Big 12 in rushing (89.5 ypg/sixth NCAA), passing (146.7 ypg/third NCAA) and scoring defense (13.7 ppg/third NCAA) while establishing itself as one of only two defenses ranked among the nation's top 10 in every major defensive category in 2001.

SHUTDOWN QUARTERS: In the first quarters of Texas' games against UCLA (minus-six) and Texas Tech (minus-four), the defense held the opposition to a combined minus-10 yards. That marks the fifth and sixth time the defense has held an opponent to zero or fewer yards in a quarter since Will Muschamp arrived. There have been three times this season, including the third quarter of Texas' 34-17 win over Rice when the defense held the Owls to zero total yards. Last season, it held UTEP to minus-seven yards in the first quarter and minus-one yard in the third. It then held Baylor to minus-20 in the second quarter.

AIR DEFENSE: Texas' pass defense has been ranked in the Top 10 in five of the last 10 seasons and is second (132.4 ypg) in 2010. It has allowed opponents to complete 53.5 percent (2,356-of-4,405) of their passes for only 192.8 yards per game (26,602 in 138 games), while intercepting 159 passes (1.2 pg).

2010: Texas is second in the nation in pass defense (147.9 ypg) through nine games. The Longhorns limited Kansas State to just nine yards passing. They held a No. 25/24 Baylor team that entered the game as the fifth-ranked passing offense (314.4 ypg) to 219 yards, 59 of which came on one play. They allowed Iowa State to record just 136 yards passing on 11-of-23 attempts with an interception. They limited No. 5/4 Nebraska to just 77 yards on 8-of-21 attempts. Oklahoma entered the Red River Rivalry as the nation's 10th-ranked passing offense at 308.8 ypg and was held to 236 yards, including five receptions for 36 yards by Ryan Broyles, who entered the game leading the nation in receptions (10.25 pg) and ranking fourth in receiving yards per game (120.5). Against UCLA, the Longhorns allowed just 27 passing yards, which is the third time in the Mack Brown era the defense has allowed only 27 yards, which is tied for 13th in UT history. At Texas Tech, the Horns limited the Red Raiders to just 158 passing yards, which is the fewest the defense has allowed them since 1999 (137). Texas posted two INT and four sacks in Lubbock, while holding Tech to just 4.4 yards per attempt and 7.5 yards per completion. The Longhorns allowed Wyoming just 199 passing yards and no TDs on 20-of-31 attempts with three sacks. Texas limited Rice to 131 passing yards on 12-of-18 attempts with one TD and one INT. Forty-seven of those yards and the TD came on a tipped pass at the end of the first half. Over the last 20 games, plus the fourth quarter against Texas Tech in 2009, UT's opponents have thrown 537 passes and Texas intercepted 29 of them or one in every 18 pass attempts.

2009: Texas allowed just 179.6 passing yards per game (19th NCAA), a 55.4 completion rate and a 100.5 pass efficiency rating (10th NCAA). UT held 9-of-14 opponents to less than 200 yards passing, including six opponents to under 100 yards. The Longhorns intercepted 25 passes, which led the nation, and posted an INT in 12-of-14 games. They had at least two INTs in seven games, including two games with four INTs.

2008: The Texas secondary had to replace three of its four starters from 2007 and it did so with a senior, a junior and four underclassmen, including two true freshmen. Overall, the Horns had eight members of its secondary see significant action. UT gave up 259.4 yards per game, but held opponents to a 124.2 passer rating, which ranked second in the Big 12. The Horns held five teams to 220 yards passing or less. In addition, on 69 attempts, the Horns' defense only allowed 13 conversions of third down and 10 or more (18.8%).

2007: UT allowed 277.8 yards passing per game, held opponents to a 127.5 passer rating and intercepted 17 passes on the season. Marcus Griffin led the team in tackles (99) and INTs (five), while Ryan Palmer (80 tackles, 14 PBU) and Brandon Foster (71 tackles, four INTs, 12 PBU) finished second and third on the team in tackles.

2006: The 2006 campaign saw Aaron Ross win the Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back. It marked the second consecutive season a Longhorn won the award after Michael Huff did so in 2005. Ross' six INTs helped UT total 13 for the season, and he also finished second nationally with 25 passes defended. Michael Griffin led the team in tackles for the second consecutive year and, along with Ross, earned All-America and first-team All-Big 12 honors.

2005: UT finished eighth nationally in pass defense (172.0 ypg). The Horns also finished fourth nationally in pass efficiency defense (96.7 rating) that year. Opponents averaged only 5.13 yards per pass attempt, which led the nation, and threw for only 10 TDs compared to UT's 11 INTs. In 13 games, Texas allowed only two teams, Texas Tech and USC, to throw for over 200 yards. Both of those teams finished in the top five nationally in passing offense.

Prior to 2005: The Horns intercepted 13 passes and ranked 31st nationally in pass efficiency defense (114.3 rating) in 2004. Texas allowed opponents to complete just 167-of-354 passes (47.2%/third NCAA) for 2,305 yards (177.3 ypg/ninth NCAA) and ranked 18th nationally in pass efficiency defense (106.5 rating) in 2003. UT's recent pass defense efforts continue a turnaround that started when Mack Brown took over the Longhorns' program in 1998. That year, UT was coming off a season that saw it rank 75th nationally in pass efficiency defense (132.7 rating). In just their third season (2000), UT led the nation in pass efficiency defense (88.3 rating). The Horns limited opponents to the second-lowest completion percentage in the nation (45.2%/171-of-378), 184.3 yards per game, 5.36 yards per pass attempt (second NCAA), while allowing just eight TD passes that season. The Horns put up comparable numbers in 2001, holding a schedule with several high-powered passing attacks to a Big 12-low 146.7 passing yards per game (third NCAA) and ranked fourth nationally in pass efficiency defense (88.0). Texas held opponents to a NCAA-low 4.77 ypa and just six TDs (t-2nd NCAA) in 2001. In 2002, opponents completed just 192-of-400 passes (48.0%) for 2,147 yards (165.2 ypg/eighth NCAA). UT also ranked seventh nationally in pass efficiency defense (96.1 rating). Texas' 22 interceptions were tied for the fourth-most nationally and second-most in UT history. The Horns ranked 92nd nationally in pass efficiency defense (138.7 rating) in '98 and improved to 12th in '99 (101.6 rating) before leading the nation in 2000.

GROUND PATROL: Mack Brown and his staff inherited a ground defense that had ranked no better than 64th nationally in the five seasons prior to their arrival. In 13 seasons at Texas, they have turned that around dramatically. The Horns have limited 65 of their last 123 opponents (52.8%) to fewer than 100 yards rushing and allowed just thirty-four 100-yard rushers in the last 150 games (22.7%). The Horns have been ranked in the top six in rush defense in each of the last four seasons, including a No. 1 national ranking in 2009 (72.4 ypg). During that span (62 games), UT has held opponents to just 85.8 yards per game (5,322 yards on 1,959 carries) and just 2.7 yards per carry. In addition, at home over the last four seasons (30 games), Texas has only allowed nine teams to break the 100-yard plateau and has only allowed six individual 100-yard rushers. In true road games over the last five seasons (20 games), Texas has allowed only nine teams to reach 100 yards rushing and just four individual 100-yard rushers. Texas has held its opponent under 50 yards rushing 42 times during the Mack Brown era.

2010: Texas ranks 37th in nation in rushing defense (134.9 ypg). No. 25/24 Baylor rushed for 109 yards against the Longhorns, however 69 of that came on one play and the Bears had been averaging 196.5 ypg. The defense held a No. 5/4 Nebraska offense that entered the game ranked second in rushing offense with 337.6 ypg to 125 yards rushing (63% below average), which includes 21 yards on 13 carries (1.6 ypc) by Huskers QB Taylor Martinez, who entered the game the nation's fourth-leading rusher (147.4 ypg) and led the nation with 10.8 yards per carry. The Longhorns held Texas Tech to minus-14 yards (-0.8 ypc), which was the fourth time since 2004 Texas has not allowed Texas Tech to reach positive rushing yards. Against Wyoming, the Horns surrendered only 58 rushing yards, including minus-12 in the third quarter, with no Cowboy rushing for more than 30. The Longhorns opened the season allowing Rice to rush for just 88 yards on 42 attempts (2.1 ypc), including minus-six yards in the third quarter, with no player rushing for more than 47 yards in the game.

2009: Texas allowed just 72.4 rushing yards per game to claim the No. 1 national ranking in rush defense. In total, the Horns allowed just 1,013 yards rushing, while tallying 579 yards in losses via tackles for loss and sacks, and just 2.2 yards per carry. The Horns only allowed four opponents to eclipse the 100-yard mark and forced two into negative rushing totals. The Horns held Texas Tech to minus-six yards rushing on 18 attempts. Tech gained just 51 yards and lost 57 on nine TFL. Then, the Texas defense held Oklahoma, which came into the game averaging 187.8 ypg, to minus-16 rushing yards, the lowest total by either team in the 104-game series.

2008: Texas gave up just 83.5 yards rushing per game (third NCAA/first Big 12) and allowed just eight rushing TDs, which tied for eighth nationally and was 11 fewer than the next best Big 12 team. Overall, Texas gave up just 1,086 rushing yards on 356 carries (3.1 ypc) and forced its opponents into 522 lost yards on sacks and TFL. The Horns allowed only five teams to rush for over 100 yards and just three individual 100-yard rushers, while holding the other eight opponents to less than 50 yards rushing.

2007: Texas allowed just 93.4 yards per game to rank sixth nationally. The Horns held seven of their 13 opponents under 100 yards rushing and gave up just 2.9 yards per carry. Highlighting the season were games against No. 19 TCU (43 yards), Rice (-11 yards), Baylor (eight yards), Texas Tech (10 yards) and Arizona State (22 yards). All five games rank in UT's top 35 performances since 1990. In fact, the minus-11 yards by Rice were the fourth-fewest since 1990 and the fifth time UT has held an opponent to negative rushing yards in that span. All five occasions have come ypg). They gave up only 795 yards rushing on 345 carries (2.3 ypc). UT allowed just two teams to rush for 100 yards and held six teams to 27 yards or less, including two games in which the opponent rushed for negative yards (Texas Tech, -13; Rice, -12). In addition, seven of UT's top 22 performances against the rush since 1990 came during the 2006 campaign.

2005: Texas allowed 130.9 ypg on the ground, 3.7 ypc and gave up only 15 rushing TDs, while holding nine of their 13 opponents to under 120 yards.

Prior to 2005: The Horns ranked 16th nationally in rushing defense (107.4 ypg) in 2004, allowing just 60.0 yards per game over the final six contests. UT held six foes to 70 (or fewer) yards rushing that season. After inheriting a unit that ranked 104th nationally and allowed 241.5 yards per game in 1997, Brown and company guided the Horns to the nation's 17th-best run defense (105.7 ypg) in 1999 and the 12th-best ground defense (94.0 ypg) in 2000. UT's 94.0 yards allowed rushing per game in 2000 was, at the time, the fewest allowed by a Longhorns' squad since 1977 (91.1 ypg). UT followed that effort up in 2001 by allowing a Big 12-low 89.5 rushing ypg (sixth NCAA) and just 2.8 yards per carry.

UNEXPECTED OFFENSE: Since 1999, UT has scored 75 TDs via returns, turnovers and blocked kicks. The 75 scores during that stretch rank second nationally behind Virginia Tech (80). UT scored 11 non-offensive TDs in 2009, which led the nation and is the most in UT history. Prior to 2009, the most non-offensive TDs came in 2003, when the Horns posted nine. The 11 TDs came on 89 (ULM) and 91-yard (UTEP) kickoff returns by D.J. Monroe, a 95-yard kickoff return by Marquise Goodwin (Texas A&M), 46 (Texas Tech) and 74-yard (Colorado) punt returns by Texas posted five non-offensive TDs in 2008 behind two INT returns, a fumble return, a kickoff return and a punt return. In 2007, UT posted five non-offensive TDs on three INT returns, a fumble return and a kickoff return, which was UT's first since 2003. The Horns scored eight non-offensive TDs in 2006 with four coming off fumble recoveries, two from punt returns, one on an INT return and one on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone.

GUARDING THE END ZONE: Texas' defense has made it difficult for opponents to reach the end zone over the last 11 seasons. Since 2000, the Horns have allowed only 288 TDs in 138 games (2.1 TDs per game), which ranks fourth nationally. Miami has allowed the fewest TDs, giving up only 251. The Longhorns allowed two TDs to Rice to open the 2010 season, however one came on a long tipped pass at the end of the first half and the other came with 24 seconds left in the game with the outcome decided. They then surrendered just one TD against Wyoming and one at Texas Tech. The 14 points were the fewest Texas Tech has scored in Lubbock in the series since 1984 (10) and the fewest overall in the series since 2001 (7). UCLA reached the end zone four times, however three of the drives were 50 yards or fewer with one drive of only four yards and two drives coming off turnovers in Texas territory. Oklahoma scored four TDs, however three of the four drives were kept alive by penalties. The defense held No. 5/4 Nebraska out of the end zone with the Huskers only score coming on a punt return. Iowa State scored four touchdowns, however two of them came on drives of 37 and 40 yards. The Longhorns allowed four TDs to No. 25/24 Baylor with one coming on a one-play drive and another on an 11-yard drive. Kansas State scored five TDs and one FG, however the defense faced a short field in all but one of those, including scoring drives of 38, -1, 10 and 14 yards. In 2009, the Horns' defense allowed just 23 TDs on 185 possessions (12.4%). UT's best season came in 2001, when the Horns' top-ranked unit gave up only 19 TDs. Texas has allowed 29 TDs or fewer in seven of the last 10 seasons. Conversely, Texas has scored at least 45 TDs in each of the last 10 seasons, with a high of 81 scores in 2005. The Horns scored 68 TDs in 2009 and 597 TDs over the 10-year span, averaging 4.6 TDs per game.

SCORING DEFENSE: Texas' defense has been a scoring machine since 1999. During that time, the defense has accounted for 279 points and scored in 40 of the 152 games (26.3%). It posted four TDs and a safety in 2009 for 30 points. The Horns' defense has scored at least three TDs in 10 of the last 11 seasons, led by seven TDs scored in 2000. That defense tallied 46 points, which is the most over the nine-year stretch. The 2003 unit scored six TDs, while the 2006 unit scored five TDs.

FORCING TURNOVERS: Texas' defense has forced 352 turnovers during the Mack Brown era (164 games/2.2 per game), while only giving up 285 turnovers for a plus-67 turnover margin. Overall, the Horns have averaged a plus-five turnover margin per season during Brown's tenure. The Horns were plus-nine in the turnover margin in 2009, which ranked 15th nationally, having forced 37 turnovers (12 fumbles/25 INTs), while giving up 28 (12 fumbles/16 INTs). UT's 37 forced turnovers tied for first nationally. In 2008, Texas forced 16 turnovers (10 fumbles/six INTs), while giving up 14 (six fumbles/eight INTs). In 2007, Texas forced 27 turnovers (10 fumbles/17 INTs), while giving up 26 (seven fumbles/19 INTs). In 2006, UT forced 32 turnovers (19 fumbles/13 INTs), while only giving up 23 (14 fumbles/nine INTs), for a plus-nine margin (T-No. 13 NCAA). The 32 takeaways were tied for the sixth-most in the nation and the 19 fumble recoveries tied for the most nationally. In 2005, UT forced 27 turnovers (16 fumbles/11 INTs). Three of those 27 turnovers were returned or recovered for scores, and the 16 fumble recoveries ranked fourth nationally. The Horns finished the season with a plus-nine turnover margin. Texas had a plus-five turnover margin, forcing 23 turnovers (10 fumbles/13 INTs) and losing 18, in 2004. UT forced 29 turnovers (14 fumbles/15 INTs) in 2003. UT's attacking unit provided several big plays in forcing 35 turnovers (T-No. 12 NCAA) in '02. The Longhorns combined for 22 INTs (T-No. 4 NCAA) by eight different players and recovered 13 fumbles.

SHORT DRIVES: The Texas defense has prevented its opponents from moving the chains on 37.2 percent of their drives over the last eight seasons (126 games). During that time, UT forced 601 three-and-outs or better in 1,614 possessions. In 2010, that number is even better at 42.9 percent (48-of-112), including 3-of-14 at Kansas State, 3-of-11 against Baylor, 8-of-14 against Iowa State, 7-of-11 at Nebraska, 4-of-13 against Oklahoma, 9-of-13 at Texas Tech, 5-of-11 against Wyoming and 7-of-13 at Rice. In 2009, the Horns forced 77 three-and-outs or better on 185 possessions (41.6%) and averaged 5.5 three-and-outs or better per game. The Horns forced 44 three-and-outs or better on 152 possessions (.289) in 2008, averaging over three three-and-outs per game. In 2007, UT forced 52 three-and-outs or better on 168 possessions (.310). Texas forced 60 three-and-outs or better on 154 possessions (.390) in 2006. Previously, the Horns held foes to three-and-outs or better on 73-of-178 possessions (.438) in 2005, 46-of-153 possessions (.307) in 2004, 56-of-181 possessions (.309) in 2003, 73-of-176 possessions (.414) in 2002 and 73-of-165 possessions (.442) in 2001.

GETTING UNDER CENTER: With the departure of Colt McCoy, sophomore Garrett Gilbert steps under center. Through nine games this season, Gilbert has completed 206-of-351 passes (58.7%) for 2,060 yards with seven TDs and 14 INTs. He has also rushed for 269 yards and three TDs on 62 carries. At Kansas State, Gilbert rushed for a career high 93 yards and completed 32-of-59 passes for 272 yards and one TD with five INT. He completed 22-of-39 passes for 231 yards and one INT against No. 25/24 Baylor, while rushing for 79 yards and one TD on eight carries. Against Iowa State, he completed 34-of-57 passes for 344 yards with two TDs and three INTs. He recorded 71 yards

RECORD-SETTING ROOKIE

RECEIVER: Freshman WR Mike Davis has made a significant impact during his rookie campaign, leading the team with 38 receptions (No. 3 on UT freshman list) for 380 yards (No. 5 of UT freshman list) and two TDs. The 38 receptions are three shy of B.J. Johnson's freshman school record (41 - 2000), and trail only Johnson and Roy Williams (40 - 2000) overall. At Kansas State, Davis set the UT freshman single-game record with 11 receptions, passing Johnson's mark of nine against Baylor in 2000. He also recorded his second 100-yard receiving game, making him just the third UT freshman to have two, along with Johnson and Williams. Davis' other 100-yard game came when he caught seven passes for 104 yards, including a 45-yard TD, in his home debut against Wyoming, which made him the ninth UT freshman to record a 100-yard game. By doing so in his second overall game, he tied for second-fastest to have a 100-yard game. His seven receptions were also tied for second on the UT freshman single-game list at the time before he exceeded that with eight against Iowa State. With the Kansas State game, he now ranks first, second and tied for fourth on the single-game list. Following Wyoming, Davis went on to catch six passes for 45 yards and a TD at Texas Tech and added three catches for 34 yards against UCLA. He missed the game against No. 8 Oklahoma and was limited against No. 5/4 Nebraska with an injury prior to the eight receptions for 50 yards against the Cyclones. He caught three passes for 38 yards against No. 25/24 Baylor.

FOUR-BACK ATTACK: Last season, the trio of Tre' Newton, Cody Johnson and Fozzy Whittaker combined for 1,099 rushing yards and 22 rushing TDs on 256 carries. The trio combined to rush for 171 yards and three TDs in the 2010 season opener at Rice with each rushing for at least 50 yards, led by Newton with 61. It marked the first time since the Kansas game in 2005 that three Texas RBs rushed for 50 yards in the same game. They followed with 131 yards and three TDs against Wyoming with Whittaker leading the way with 62 yards on seven carries (8.9 ypc), including a 39-yard TD run. At Texas Tech, they rushed for 103 yards and a TD. Whittaker saw most of the time against No. 8 Oklahoma with nine carries for 52 yards, including a 24-yard run, and six catches for 25 yards. Against No. 25/24 Baylor they rushed for 74 yards on 23 carries. They then combined for 59 yards and a TD on 15 carries at Kansas State. In the last six games, D.J. Monroe has also emerged as a contributor in the backfield. Monroe has 16 carries for 150 yards (9.4 ypc) and a TD this season, including a 60-yard TD run against No. 8 Oklahoma.

Cody Johnson: Johnson has 76 carries for 293 yards and four TDs in eight games in 2010. He added 36 rushing yards and 43 receiving yards in the Big 12 Championship game against Nebraska and followed with 44 yards rushing in the National Championship Game against Alabama. At Kansas State, he rushed five times for 35 yards and caught four passes for 11 yards. He rushed for 28 yards on 11 carries and had one reception for 41 yards that led to a TD at No. 5/4 Nebraska. Against No. 8 Oklahoma, he rushed nine times for 53 yards, including a 24-yard run, and caught six passes for 25 yards. He pulled in a career-high six receptions against UCLA. He began the season by rushing nine times for 51 yards, including a long of 21 yards, at Rice. 2009: After missing the first three games of 2009 with a knee injury, Whittaker returned against UTEP and posted 38 yards and a TD on four carries. Oklahoma and rushed 18 times for 71 yards. He added 36 yards on nine carries, including an 11-yard TD run, at Missouri. For the season, he rushed for 212 yards and four TDs on 53 carries (4.0 ypc). 2008: After missing the 2008 season-opener against FAU with a knee injury, he saw his first action as a Longhorn at UTEP and rushed for 72 yards on 12 carries (6.0 ypc). He added 20 yards on two carries against No. 11 Missouri and 42 yards on six carries at No. 6 Texas Tech. Whittaker earned the first start of his career against Baylor and rushed for 77 yards on 15 carries. On the season,

BALL SECURITY: Since Major Applewhite began coaching running backs in 2008, the Texas RBs who have started at least one game in their careers have fumbled only seven times and lost only three. Of those seven, only three belong to backs on the 2010 team and of those, only one has been lost (Fozzy Whittaker 2-0, Tre' Newton 1-1).

RECENT O-LINE SUCCESS: The Texas offensive line has been one of the nation's steadiest units over the past five seasons, and despite five linemen moving on to the NFL over the previous three seasons, the Horns ranked third in scoring offense (39.3 ppg) and 29th in total offense (421.2 ypg) in 2009. The pipeline to the NFL over the last five years began with OT Jonathan Scott, who was taken in the fifth round of the 2006 NFL Draft by the Detroit Lions and is now playing with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Then, in the 2007 draft, the Horns had two players, OL Justin Blalock and OG Kasey Studdard, picked. Blalock was selected in the second round by the Atlanta Falcons and has started all 31 games of his professional career, while Studdard was taken in the sixth round by the Houston Texans. In addition, C Lyle Sendlein signed with the Arizona Cardinals as a free agent and has become the starter, including all 20 games of the Cardinals' 2008 run to the Super Bowl. Then, in 2008, the Horns dealt with the departure of two seniors from 2007 in OT Tony Hills, a first-team All-America selection who was drafted in the fourth round by the Pittsburgh Steelers, and C Dallas Griffin, who won the Draddy Trophy and was an honorable mention All-Big 12 selection.

SOLID FRONT: Despite losing three starters from last year's offensive line, the 2010 line featured four seniors and a junior at the core entering the season. Gone from 2009 are LT Adam Ulatoski (44 starts), C Chris Hall (37 starts) and LG Charlie Tanner (33 starts). Last season's right side moved over to the left with senior OT Kyle Hix (37 starts) and senior OG Michael Huey, who started 20 career games prior to an injury this season against Baylor that will have him out at least through the regular season. True freshman Trey Hopkins made his first career start at Kansas State in place of Huey. In addition to Hix and Huey, senior OT Britt Mitchell has started all nine games at right tackle this season and has played in 48 career games, while senior Tray Allen (31 games) had been slated to start at right guard prior to a preseason injury. Redshirt freshman OG Mason Walters moved into that spot and has started all nine games. Junior C David Snow took over for Chris Hall as the starting center this season after playing in all 36 games over the last three seasons with 16 starts. Snow started the last two games of the 2008 regular season at center against Kansas and Texas A&M, replacing an injured Hall, and earned starts in five games in 2009, along with the first nine games of 2010. The group paved the way for 412 total yards at Kansas State, 428 yards against No. 25/24 Baylor and 440 yards total offense against Iowa State after earning 271 yards at No. 5/4 Nebraska. That included 202 yards rushing, marking the first time in 24 games the Huskers

Brown took over in 1998. Since then, Texas has blocked 69 kicks (41 punts/16 FGs/12 PATs), an average of 5.3 per season. That is 44 more than the 25 recorded in the 12-year span prior to Brown's arrival. UT has blocked the second-most kicks in the nation since 2002 with 47 behind Fresno St. (53). Last year, the Horns blocked five punts with two of them being returned for TDs. Since Brown arrived, the Horns have had players set or equal UT records for career blocked kicks, single-season blocked kicks, career blocked punts and single-season blocked punts.

RETURN GAME: Texas has improved its kick returning and defending on kick-offs and punts since Mack Brown arrived. Since 1998, the Horns have produced 11 of UT's 28 all-time punt returns for TDs and seven of the 14 kickoff returns for TDs. In contrast, UT has only given up four punt return TDs during the Mack Brown era. It had been 101 games (Kansas State, 1999) since Texas had given up a punt return for a TD before Kansas State returned one in 2007. That is a major difference from the 12 years prior to Brown's arrival. During that time, Texas scored on four punt returns, while its opponents scored on seven returns. When Brown arrived in 1998, Texas hadn't returned a kickoff for a score since 1978. Then, in the 2000 Holiday Bowl, Victor Ike returned a kickoff 93 yards for a TD, snapping the 265-game streak. Selvin Young added a 97-yard kickoff return TD against New Mexico State in 2003, Quan Cosby posted a 91-yard kickoff return TD at Texas A&M in 2007 and Jordan Shipley notched a 96-yard kickoff return TD versus Oklahoma in 2008. D.J. Monroe returned two kickoffs for TDs in 2009, an 89-yarder against ULM and a 91-yarder versus UTEP. He is the first player in Texas history to notch two kickoff return TDs in a career. Marquise Goodwin added a 95-yard kickoff return for a TD at Texas A&M. With a punt return for a TD against Colorado, Jordan Shipley tied UT's all-time mark for career punt returns with three. When you add in his 96-yard kickoff return for a TD against Oklahoma in 2008, Shipley set the UT career record for return TDs with four. Texas' five return TDs (two punt/three kickoff) in 2009 are a school record. The Longhorns had two apiece in 1973, 2002, '05, '06 and '08.

PLACE-KICKS: Since 1998, four of Texas' most accurate field goal kickers (Kris Stockton, 1996, '98-2000, Dusty Mangum, 2001-04, Ryan Bailey, 2006-09 and Hunter Lawrence 2006-09) have come during Brown's time at Texas. Lawrence (34-of-39/.872), Bailey (25-of-30/.833) and Stockton (58-of-77/.753) rank first, second and third, respectively, on UT's field-goal accuracy chart (min. 25 attempts). Junior PK Justin Tucker is in line to join that group having made 18-of-22 (.818) kicks in his career and needing just three more attempts to reach the minimum. Mangum (121), Lawrence (76), Bailey (60) and Stockton (57) also are at the top of UT's consecutive made extra points list.

LONG RANGE: Junior PK Justin Tucker's 51-yard field goal attempt at the beginning of the second quarter against Rice was the third-longest initial field goal attempt ever by a UT player (Mark Schultis - 55, at Texas Tech (1994); Kris Stockton - 52, vs. New Mexico State (1998)). All three field goal attempts were made. Tucker joined Schultis (55, at Texas Tech - 1994); Stockton (52, vs. New Mexico State - 1998) and Phil Dawson (50, at Pittsburgh - 1994) to become the fourth UT player to make a field goal of 50 or more yards on his first collegiate attempt. Tucker also became the first UT player to start his career with two field goal attempts of 50 or more yards. For the season, Tucker is now 18-of-22 on FG and 19-of-19 on PAT. He earned Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Week honors against No. 5/4 Nebraska when he punted four times for an average of 47.2 yards, including kicks of 67 and 55 yards with two stopping inside the Huskers' 5-yard line. He also made FGs of 27 and 28 yards and two extra points for a total of eight points. He matched the UT single-game high for made FGs with five against No. 25/24 Baylor, including one from 49 yards out.

DOUBLE LONG RANGE: With a 67-yard punt at No. 5/4 Nebraska, junior Justin Tucker became the fourth player in UT history since 1953 to record both a 50-yard FG and a 60-yard punt in the same season. The others were John Goodson in 1980, Mike Dean in 1974, and Russell Erxleben, who accomplished it three times from 1976-78.

THAT 70s KICK: K Justin Tucker kicked a 70-yard punt against Iowa State, becoming the first UT punter in 105 games to clear 70 yards. The last one was 71 yards by Brian Bradford against Oklahoma State in 2002.

The group includes DB Carrington Byndom, S Demarco Cobbs, WR Mike Davis, DT Ashton Dorsey, LB Jordan Hicks, OG Trey Hopkins, DE Jackson Jeffcoat, QB Case McCoy, DB Adrian Phillips, DB A.J. White, WR Darius White and DE Reggie Wilson. Mack Brown has now played 115 of a possible 300 true freshmen (38.3%) in his 13 seasons at Texas.

The Longhorns Sports Network will also offer a Spanish Language Radio broadcast of all Texas Football games. The games will be broadcast on a statewide network (Flagship: HITZ 107.7 FM) and on the web at www.univision.com.

USE OF AUDIO/VIDEO IN COVERAGE

Any media entity collecting "video or audio materials" (film, traditional video or audio, digital video or audio, photos, etc.) from University of Texas Athletics events (games, practices, post-practice/post-game interviews and press conferences) may use that material only for traditional television newscasts, Web-based or print coverage, or other electronic transmission as approved by The University in writing, with a limitation of up to three (3) minutes in length from any single event. Its usage also must be used only as supporting video/audio for a reported story and not simply as rebroadcasted/streamed highlights or interview sessions. Such media entity may not offer any live video, audio or other coverage of the event (or tape-delay rebroadcast coverage in its entirety) without the advance, written permission of The University of Texas Athletics Department.

POSTGAME

The Longhorns' locker room is closed. Interview requests should be given to Assistant AD for Media Relations John Bianco. Requested players will be brought to the Moncrief-Neuhauser Athletics Complex meeting rooms following home contests and to a designated interview area at road games. NO INTERVIEWS ARE TO BE CONDUCTED ON THE FIELD FOLLOWING THE GAME. After a NCAA required and team-enforced 10-minute cooling off period, players and coaches will be escorted to the interview area. Failure to abide by this rule will result in termination of credential.

POST-PRACTICE AVAILABILITY

Practices are closed to the public and media. Players and assistant coaches are available by request after Tuesday's practice and head coach Mack Brown is available prior to Wednesday's practice to wrap up the week. Your requests should be given to Assistant AD for Media Relations John Bianco. All post-practice interviews are done at the Moncrief-Neuhauser Athletics Complex.

PHONE

Phone interviews with Longhorns players and coaches should be requested at least 24 hours in advance through Assistant AD for Media Relations John Bianco (office: 512/471-1346/cell: 512/748-9315). Based on their schedules, the call will either be made following practice or at an assigned time. The last chance for player/assistant coach interviews is after Tuesday's practice.
