Texas Tech A to Z

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Modeled after La Universidad de Alcala de Hernaldes in Spain, the Administration Building was one of the original campus buildings. The most recognized building on campus, it has three floors and a basement, twin bell towers, salle port, double wings and a courtyard. Among the offices in the "Ad Building" are the Chancellor's Office, President's Office and Board of Regents Office in the east wing and the College of Education in the west wing.

ANDERSON, DONNY

While also arguably owning the most nicknames — "Stinnett Stingray," the "Golden Palomino" and "Donny Wonderful" — All-American Donny Anderson also held many of Texas Tech's football records when his legendary career ended with the 1965 season. He finished fourth in the 1965 Heisman Trophy race. Anderson later played nine seasons in the NFL, including on both of Green Bay's Super Bowl champion teams in 1967 and 1968. He scored a touchdown in the '68 Super Bowl against Oakland.

ARTIFICIAL TURF

The current carpet, installed in 1999, is the fifth different rug covering the Jones SBC Stadium floor since Tech switched to turf in 1970.

BOWLING

Texas Tech made its 27th post-season appearance in 2003 in the EV1.net Houston Bowl. Head Coach Mike Leach has led the Red Raiders to four bowl appearances in his first four seasons on the South Plains. Texas Tech has been bowl eligible for 11-consecutive seasons and is only one of three schools in the Big 12 Conference to be bowl eligible in each of the league's eight seasons.

BANGIN' BERTHA

Bertha is the bell on a trailer carried to all Tech football games by the Saddle Tramps. It was donated by the Santa Fe Railroad and is considered a spirit-raiser and tradition at Texas Tech. Bertha was designed in 1959 by Saddle Tramp Joe Winegar.

CAROL OF LIGHTS

This favorite of Tech traditions began in 1959 and is celebrated throughout the month of December. All the campus buildings on the Broadway entrance to Memorial Circle, on the Science Quadrangle and Engineering Key, are lined with thousands of red, white and yellow Christmas lights. A formal ceremony, torch-lighting parade, trumpeters and seasonal music precede the throwing of the switch that begins the month-long observance of the Carol of Lights. Traditionally, the kickoff event is held on the first Friday of December and is sponsored by the Residence Hall Association.

CAWTHON, PETE

Texas Tech's third football coach, Pete Cawthon had quite a friend in his corner. Notre Dame's legendary Knute Rockne was among those who recommended Cawthon for the job as Texas Tech's head football coach. Cawthon's squads posted a 76-32-6 record in his 11 years as head coach. Cawthon left Texas Tech in 1940 and later coached professionally in Brooklyn and Detroit. He also served as athletic director at Alabama. He died on Dec. 31, 1962, and is the subject of a book called "Tender Tyrant," written by Etta Lynch in 1976 and published by Staked Plains Press, Inc.

DAVIS, DR. J. WILLIAM

The "father of the national letter of intent," Dr. J. William Davis was chairman of Texas Tech's Athletic Council. He devised the form that insured coaches could not pirate another school's recruits. The measure was adopted in 1964 by the College Commissioners Association. Under the "Davis Plan," as a news service dubbed the program, major conferences agreed to honor each others' letters of intent; that is, agreements by high school athletes to accept an athletic scholarship from a particular school. A national letter of intent, embracing all NCAA members, failed to pass at the 1962 NCAA convention, when smaller colleges opposed the plan. Davis served as Southwest Conference president, NCAA vice-president and was a member of the NCAA Infractions Committee.

DOUBLE T

An image study in 1989 brought out loud and clear that to Texas Techsians the Double T represents tradition, pride and school identity. Historical evidence suggests that Tech's first football coaches, E.Y. Freeland and Grady Higginbotham, are the originators of this campus trademark, first using it on letter sweaters. No campus symbol is so readily identified with Texas Tech as the Double T.

DYKES, WILLIAM TAYLOR

Better known as "Spike," Texas Tech's 12th head football coach, Dykes posted a record of 82-67-1 in his 13 years of leading the Red Raiders and is the school's all-time winningest coach. He got his nickname from a Dick Tracy character from the World War II era. He was named the Southwest Conference's coach of the year three times and was the first coach to receive the honor from the Big 12 Conference. He took over the Tech football program in 1986 in December before the Red Raiders battled Mississippi in the Independence Bowl. He is Tech's all-time winningest coach in Southwest Conference games and led the Red Raiders to a school-record four-consecutive bowls entering 1997. He was born in Lubbock, went to high school in Ballinger and graduated from Stephen F. Austin in 1959. He was a high school head coach at Coahoma, Belton, Big Spring, Alice and Midland Lee. He was an assistant under Darrell Royal at Texas, and also coached at New Mexico and Mississippi State. Dykes came to Tech as defensive coordinator in 1984.

FIGHT SONG

The Fight Song was written by Carroll McMath, and updates the Matadors, Tech's original name for the athletic teams, to the Red Raiders. The spirited song is sung at many of Tech's sporting events.

*Fight, Raiders, Fight! Fight, Raiders, Fight!
Fight for the school we love so dearly.
You'll hit'em high, you'll hit'em low.
You'll push the ball across the goal,
Tech, Fight! Fight!
We'll praise your name, boost you to fame.
Fight for the Scarlet and Black.
You will hit'em, you will wreck'em.
Hit'em, Wreck'em, Texas Tech!
And the Victory Bells will ring out.*

FREELAND, E.Y.

Texas Tech's first football coach, E.Y. Freeland was hired in June 1925. He compiled a 21-10-6 record for four seasons from 1925-28.

GATOR BOWL

Texas Tech won two of its three appearances in the Gator Bowl, and Tech fans can point to added significance to the first trip in 1954. Tech claimed a 35-13 win over Auburn in the '54 Gator Bowl, which marked the first televised game ever for the school. The contest also gave birth to another long-standing Texas Tech tradition. Riding a horse named Blackie, Tech student Joe Kirk Fulton, wearing Levi's, red shirt, red and black cape and a black cowboy hat, led the team onto the field. Thus the "Masked Rider" was born.

GOIN' BAND FROM RAIDERLAND

Tech's stereo marching — the Goin' Band from Raiderland — is one of the largest spirit raisers on campus and among the finest bands in the country. The original band in 1925, numbering only 21 members, was dressed in matador uniforms. In recent years, the band's 400 members have returned to variations on that original look. The Goin' Band performs at home and away football games, parades and at other special events. Following home games, devoted fans stick around to join the band in their traditional march out of Jones SBC Stadium, through the engineering key, around the circle, by the Administration Building and ending at the band parking lot behind the Music Building. The band was the 1998 recipient of the prestigious Sudler Trophy as the nation's top marching band.

GUNS UP

The hand sign of Texas Tech was originated by a Tech graduate who was attending law school at Texas in 1972. It is made by extending the index finger outward while extending the thumb upward to form a gun. The idea is that Raider Red will shoot down his opponents.

History

HEISMAN TROPHY

Five Red Raiders have finished among the top vote getters in the race for college football's most prestigious trophy. Texas Tech's Byron Hanspard garnered 251 points in 1996 to finish sixth overall in the voting. Donny Anderson posted Tech's all-time highest finish in the Heisman voting when the running back received 408 points to finish fourth in 1965. E.J. Holub finished 10th in the 1960 Heisman ballot with 117 points. Quarterbacks Kliff Kingsbury and B.J. Symons finished ninth and tenth, respectively, in the voting in 2002 and 2003.

HOLUB, E.J.

Texas Tech's first consensus Division I All-America at center and linebacker, Lubbock native E.J. Holub was named to the Southwest Conference's Hall of Honor in 1994. Holub went on to a 10-year career in the NFL, playing for the Dallas Texans of the AFL and the Kansas City Chiefs of the NFL. He achieved an NFL first as the only player to start on both offense and defense in two separate Super Bowls. He was also inducted into the Texas Tech Athletic Hall of Honor in 1977 and is a member of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame and the College Football Hall of Fame.

HOMECOMING

Held each fall Homecoming brings back Tech-exes and fans to join with students for a bonfire and pep rally, parade, open houses, awards programs, and float competitions. Homecoming dates back to 1930 when Texas Tech lost 20-6 to Hardin-Simmons. A highlight of Homecoming is election of a queen, the first being Suzanne Matteson in 1954.

INSTANT REPLAY

The Sept. 18, 1965, Texas Tech game against Kansas – a 26-7 Tech win – was the first intercollegiate football contest to use instant video replay (Ampex). Robert "Daddy Warbucks" Walker, a Texas Tech grad, pioneered the equipment used by coach JT King to review plays immediately. However, the new twist was eliminated by the NCAA in 1967 because the technology was too costly for some schools.

JONES SBC STADIUM

Completed in 1947 and named for former Texas Tech president Clifford B. Jones and his wife Audrey, Jones SBC Stadium originally seated 18,000. The first game was played on November 29, 1947, with a 14-6 Texas Tech victory over Hardin-Simmons. Following the last game of the 1959 season, the stadium was widened to the east for additional seating and the playing field lowered to a depth of 28 feet. Successive additions in 1969 and 1972 took the stadium to its current seating capacity of 50,050. In 1979, the Lettermen's Lounge was completed on the north end of the stadium. A large Double T scoreboard was added on the south end, and athletic department offices were renovated and expanded in 1990. Texas Tech celebrated the 50th anniversary of the stadium in 1997. West side renovations were recently completed and include the addition of a new press box, club seats and luxury suites and increased capacity to 52,702.

LAMB, ARCH

The founder of the Saddle Tramps in 1936, Arch Lamb was head cheerleader when he formed the all-male booster organization. The group was founded based on three principles – spirit, service and leadership. The Texas Tech legend passed away in March 2004.

LETTERMEN'S LOUNGE

Found on the north end of Jones Stadium on 4th Street, the Lettermen's Lounge holds memorabilia of Tech's most prominent athletes. Meetings and meals can be held in the facility, whose windows look right out onto the football field. It is connected to the Athletic Ticket Office and was constructed in 1979.

MASCOTS

Texas Tech has had several, including the current Masked Rider. The first, a black calf, was donated to the team after Tech's first victory, a 30-0 decision in the third game of 1925. The calf was branded with the winning score and later slaughtered and barbecued for the team with the idea that the hide would be tanned and placed in the trophy room. However, the hide did not retain its hair and thus was lost. One accomplishment the calf made during its one-year reign was that no opposing fan and was ever able to ride it without being thrown. This became a regular performance during halftime at Tech's first games.

MASKED RIDER

The Masked Rider is a colorful symbol of Texas Tech school spirit and pride, and also carries with it a certain mystique. Wearing black riding clothes, mask, bolero hat and red cape, the Masked Rider, mounted on a black quarter horse, leads the football team on to the field. Early Tech students started the tradition on Sept. 26, 1936. Called Ghost Riders because no one knew their identity, the rider wearing a scarlet satin cape and mounted on a palomino stallion, would appear mysteriously during home football games, circle the field at breakneck speed, and disappear for the remainder of the game. Years later, George Tate, a member of the class of 1937, owned up to being the first Ghost Rider. On Jan. 1, 1954, when Tech played in the Gator Bowl, a horse named Blackie was loaned by Jim St. Clair to Joe Kirk Fulton, a student chose to ride him. Wearing Levi's red shirt, red and black cape and a black cowboy hat, Fulton led the team onto the field. The Atlanta Constitution described Fulton as "cowboy in a red cape on a charger" and noted that the event was "typically Texas." The dramatic entry by the horse and rider electrified the crowd as well as the team, which beat Auburn 35-13. Ed Danforth of the Atlanta Constitution wrote: "No team in any bowl game ever made a more sensational entrance." In 1997 Fulton reenacted the famous first ride prior to the family day game against Kansas State.

McMURRY

Texas Tech played its first football game on Oct. 3, 1925, against McMurry. The game ended in a controversial 0-0 tie. The referee ruled that time had expired before Texas Tech's Elson Archibald made his apparent game-winning 20-yard field goal. The decision came much to the dismay of the players and fans that were in the midst of a wild celebration. Reports after the game explained that the referee was getting revenge on Texas Tech because he was not named the school's football coach.

NEIMAN-MARCUS

The Dallas-based department store drew the wrath of Texas Tech fans after the school's attempt to join the Southwest Conference was denied in 1952. Red Raider fans were so angry that many cut up their Neiman-Marcus charge cards and mailed them to the store. Legend has it that Stanley Marcus got involved and helped sway SMU's vote toward Tech's favor.

NFL

From Donny Anderson to B.J. Symons, Texas Tech has made its mark on the National Football League. Fifteen Red Raiders have been drafted in the last nine NFL drafts, including two second round selections. In the 1990s, 15 Red Raiders were drafted by the NFL. Center Dylan Gandy, offensive tackle Daniel Loper and linebacker Mike Smith were selected in the 2005 NFL Draft.

NICKNAMES

Interestingly, Texas Tech was almost nicknamed the Dogies, as suggested by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. But the first athletic teams became known as the Matadors, instead, thanks to the head coach's wife. Mrs. Ewing Young Freeland preferred Matadors because of the Spanish architectural influence on campus. The college colors of scarlet and black and team name of Matadors were adopted by students on March 15, 1926, during convocation. The teams remained as Matadors until 1936 when Red Raiders was adopted. The name-change from Matadors to Red Raiders came from Lubbock Avalanche-Journal sports writer Collier Parris, reflecting on their red uniforms and a strong season. Covering a football game in 1932, he wrote: "The Red Raiders from Texas Tech, terror of the Southwest this year, swooped in the New Mexico University camp today." The name caught on and by 1936, the Matadors had faded into history, replaced by the Red Raiders.

RAIDER ALLEY

One of the most popular events associated with Texas Tech football is Raider Alley. Raider Alley is Texas Tech's answer to tailgating. Food, beverages, games, live entertainment and merchandise are available in a festive pregame atmosphere. Raider Alley is shoulder-to-shoulder football fans gearing-up for the upcoming game. It usually begins three hours prior to kickoff.

RAIDER RECRUITERS

Since 1975, Texas Tech University athletic recruiting has benefited from the diligent work of the Raider Recruiters. Each season this group of Texas Tech enthusiasts help Tech's football coaches sort through lists of names and get to know the faces and personalities behind them. The Raider Recruiters' knowledge about Texas Tech, the athletic department, Lubbock and the entire South Plains helps ensure that recruits feel at home during their visits to campus. Planning gameday events, coordinating promotions, and providing important information to prospective student-athletes are just some of the group's many duties. They offer a student's perspective to the recruits, and focus on promoting Texas Tech to both the prospects and their families. The group features more than 70 members, selected through interviews. They are required to work at all home football games, serving as hostesses when recruits make their official and unofficial visits.

RAIDER RED

Prior to the 1971 season, the Southwest Conference passed a rule that prevented members of the conference from taking live animals to non-home games unless the host team had no objections. So Jim Gaspard, a member of Saddle Tramps, created Raider Red from a drawing by the late Lubbock cartoonist Dirk West as an alternative to the Masked Rider when the horse couldn't travel with the football team. Raider Red's student persona is kept a secret from the Tech community. Red is a public relations mascot who shakes hands with the crowds at athletic events and poses for pictures. Raider Red fires his two 12-gauge shotguns using powder-filled shells after every Tech touchdown and field goal.

RAILROAD TRACKS

To accommodate the $2 million stadium expansion after the 1959 season, each of the seven sections – estimated at 10 million pounds – were moved back more than 200 feet on railroad tracks with long steel rollers. The move was considered an engineering marvel for the times.

RAINOUT

The 1965 Texas Tech matchup with Kansas was the only game involving a Southwest Conference team called early because of bad weather. The game was called 56 seconds into the final period after heavy rains, strong winds and a tornado alert threatened the 35,300 fans in attendance.

RETIRED JERSEYS

Three Red Raider football players have had their jersey numbers retired. E.J. Holub's No. 55 was retired on Dec. 19, 1960, and Donny Anderson's No. 44 was retired Nov. 11, 1995. Dave Parks' No. 81 jersey was retired Nov. 17, 2001. Both Holub and Anderson are members of the College Football Hall of Fame.

SADDLE TRAMPS

Formed by Tech student Arch Lamb in 1936, this all-male booster organization supports men's athletics at Texas Tech.

The Midnight Raiders "paint the campus red" with crepe paper before big home games and form the legendary "Bell Circle" just moments before kickoff. Tramps ring Bangin' Bertha, a large bell donated by the Santa Fe Railroad; participate in parades and other campus events, including the large Carol of Lights; and ring the Victory Bells after Red Raider victories.

SEAL

Designed by the campus master planner, William Ward Watkin in 1924, the Texas Tech seal was officially approved in 1953. It actually first appeared on Tech diplomas in 1948. The seal's symbols are the lamp, which represents "school," the key for "home," the book for "church," and the star stands for "state." Cotton bolls represent the area's strong cotton industry and the eagle is suggestive of the United States. On April 27, 1972, the seal was placed at the Broadway and University entrance to campus in what became known as the Amon G. Carter Plaza. It is made of red granite and stands 12 feet high.

SCHOOL SONG

The Matador Song was written by Harry Lemaire and R.C. Marshall. Lemaire was band director at Tech from 1925-34. He composed the music. Marshall, editor of the La Ventana, wrote the words in 1930. The words and title represent Texas Tech's original athletic teams' name of Matadors. It is sung at athletic events and occasions such as Commencement.

*Fight, Matadors, for Tech!
Songs of love we'll sing to thee,
Bear our banners far and wide.
Ever to be our pride,
Fearless champions ever be.
Stand on heights of victory.
Strive for honor evermore.
Long live the Matadors!*

SCOVELL

A familiar name in the annals of Texas football. The elder Field Scovell was considered "Mr. Cotton Bowl." In fact, his name is on the winner's trophy after serving as the bowl's chairman of team selection for nearly four decades. He has sent several family members to Texas Tech that have made a substantial impact on Red Raider football. Scovell's son, John, played quarterback and ran for 175 yards in the 1967 win over Texas, the Red Raiders' first victory over their bitter rivals in 12 years. His grandson, Field, was a four-year member of the Texas Tech football team (1993-96). One of the nation's top scholar-athletes, he led the '95 Texas Tech squad in catches and yards and played in three-consecutive bowl games. Grandsons, King and Dupree, graduated in 2001 and 2003, respectively.

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE CIRCLE

Now unused, the Southwest Conference Circle contains the teams which comprised the SWC. The landmark was constructed when Texas Tech was admitted into the conference in 1956. It was the site of pep rallies and spirit-raising events for many years.

SUN BOWL

Of its 26 bowl appearances, Texas Tech has gone to the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Texas, eight times, all coming from 1938 to 1972. The 1938 appearance marked Texas Tech's first-ever bowl trip. Texas Tech went to the Sun Bowl three times in their first four bowl appearances. The Red Raiders also made an appearance in the John Hancock Bowl in El Paso in 1993 three years after the bowl changed names.

SUPER BOWL

Several Texas Tech football players have made significant impacts in the Super Bowl. In 1988, Timmy Smith gained a Super Bowl-record 204 yards and ran for two scores – one on a 58-yard jaunt – for Washington against Denver in Super Bowl XXII. Bam Morris rushed for a game-high 73 yards on 19 carries and scored a touchdown for Pittsburgh in Super Bowl XXX. Donny Anderson played for Green Bay in the first two NFL classics and scored a touchdown against the Raiders in Super Bowl II. Maury Buford was the starting punter for the Super Bowl XX champion Chicago Bears in 1985.

TELEVISION

The 35-13 win over Auburn in the 1954 Gator Bowl was Texas Tech's first televised game. Bowl MVP Bobby Cavazos had 141 yards on 13 carries and scored three touchdowns in the triumph over Auburn and quarterback Vince Dooley.

TEXAS SPORTS HALL OF FAME

Head women's basketball coach Marsha Sharp and former Lady Raider and Olympic star Sheryl Swoopes were inducted into the Hall in 2000. Legendary football coach Pete Cawthon and All-Americans Donny Anderson and E.J. Holub are members of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame. Field Scovell, inducted in 1986, sent son, John, to Texas Tech. Longtime Baylor head coach Grant Teaff served one year as an assistant football coach at Tech.

History

TEXAS TECH ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Known as The Ex-Students Association until recently when its name changed to the Texas Tech Alumni Association, the organization began in 1927 with the first graduating class and its senior president Edmund W. "Ned" Camp. The organization began as Tech's Alumni Association. Then in April 1935, its name was changed to the Alumni and Ex-Students Association. Since September 1949, it was the Ex-Students Association until the recent change. The organization represents all who have attended Tech, not just its graduates. The Texas Tech Alumni Association provides numerous academic scholarships, support for the University and student groups, and it sponsors various campus-wide Homecoming events, awards programs and chapter activities.

TEXAS TECH(NOLOGICAL) UNIVERSITY

From 1959-69, debates were held and feuds erupted over what name should replace Texas Technological College. It was agreed that the word "university" was necessary to reflect the growth in size and prestige of the "college." Strongest support was for retaining the Double T, despite what name was selected for the university. By 1963, the board of directors officially approved "Texas Tech University," preserving aspects of the original name and retaining the trademark Double T. The State Legislature, on Sept. 1, 1969, formally approved the board's suggestion.

TEXAS TOM CATS

State Representative R.A. Baldwin, instrumental in the creation of Texas Tech and it being located in Lubbock, was in favor of naming Texas Tech's athletic teams the "Texas Tom Cats." As the story goes, after the vote was taken in the House of Representatives on passage of the bill to create the institution, Rep. George Purl turned to Rep. Baldwin and remarked: "We'll call the Tech football team the 'Texas Tom Cats' - TTC for Texas Technological College and also for Texas Tom Cats."

TIE

Texas Tech was involved in one of the strangest games in college football history. A 0-0 tie with Centenary in 1939 was played in a driving rainstorm and featured an NCAA-record 77 punts (67 on first down!). Interestingly, Field Scovell (featured earlier under Scovell) was a game official in the game, which was played in Shreveport, La. Charlie Calhoun still owns the NCAA record for number of punts in a single game. He punted 36 times for 1,318 yards in the game.

UNDEFEATED

The 1938 squad remains as the only Texas Tech football team to go through the entire regular season unbeaten. Under Coach Pete Cawthon, the 10-0 squad lost to St. Mary's (Calif.), 20-13, in the Cotton Bowl.

VICTORY BELLS

The class of 1936 gave the Victory Bells as their gift to Tech. They rang for the first time at the group's graduation. They rang all night until 6:00 a.m. after Tech beat TCU, keeping Lubbock residents awake. Thereafter, the ringing of the bells was limited to 30 minutes after men's and women's athletic victories and special occasions, such as when Tech joined the Southwest Conference and, more recently, the Big 12. The Victory Bells - one large and one small, which combine to weigh 1,200 pounds - hang in the east tower of the Administration Building.

WEST, DIRK

The late Lubbock cartoonist designed Raider Red, an additional mascot that could travel with Texas Tech's athletic teams. West became familiar to thousands of Red Raider fans by poking fun at Tech's SWC rivals in his weekly newspaper sketches and on the cover of Tech's football programs.

WILL ROGERS AND SOAPSUDS

Will Rogers, a humorist in the 1920s and '30s, donated $200 for the Tech band to play at the football game against TCU on Oct. 20, 1926. He wanted people to hear "a real band." During this trip, Rogers was encouraged by his longtime friend Amon G. Carter to put up $1,500 to buy the new uniforms. Carter matched the contribution. In 1948, the Amon G. Carter Foundation presented to Tech a statue of Rogers and his horse, Soapsuds, titled "Riding into the Sunset." Executed by Electra Waggoner Biggs, who was only 18 years old at the time, the statue is one of four like it in the United States. The statue was physically erected on what was known as Soapsuds Pavilion, east of Memorial Circle, and offset 23 degrees north from west in order to face the rear of the horse toward Texas A&M.

ZACH THOMAS

Zach Thomas gained hefty credentials as a consensus All-America linebacker for the Red Raiders. He is a current Pro-Bowl linebacker with the Miami Dolphins. Thomas will be most remembered in Tech annals for his interception return for the game-winning touchdown in the '95

National Awards

National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame

Kliff Kingsbury

E.J. Holub

Donny Anderson

The National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame recognizes those who made an impact on college football during their careers. There are only 800 members currently in the Hall of Fame, picked from a pool of over four million players throughout collegiate football history. Two are from Texas Tech – E.J. Holub and Donny Anderson. Kliff Kingsbury was honored by the organization in December 2002 with an $18,000 post-graduate scholarship.

Doak Walker Award

Since the inception of the Doak Walker Award in 1990, Texas Tech is the only school to have two different players receive the honor. Byron Morris garnered the honor following the 1993 season, while Byron Hanspard received the award in 1996.

Hall of Honor

The Texas Tech Athletic Hall of Honor was established in 1961 to recognize a select group of people who have had a special impact on Texas Tech athletics. Induction into the Hall is not limited to past athletes or administrators, although many Red Raider stars are among the members. To be eligible for consideration, the candidate should not have brought distinction to the Texas Tech athletic program, but also have displayed qualifications such as sportsmanship, character, and integrity. A former athlete is not eligible until 10 years after his/her class has graduated. Full-time Texas Tech athletic employees are not eligible. Inductees are honored at the annual Hall of Honor Banquet on Friday night before the Texas or Texas A&M home football game. Since the Hall of Honor's initial ceremony, 120 people have been inducted. More detailed information can be found at www.TexasTech.com and click on Hall of Honor.
