

Blogging With Brandi Hood

Hey y'all

It's Brandi Hood, middle blocker/hitter, here at Tech. Things have been really busy for all of us on the team this spring. We just finished up our 5:50 a.m. workouts and individuals. We are now able to start team practice so that we can build and improve for the 2008 season. Everyone is working hard on and off the court. The team has been busy with classes and volleyball, but we have also made time to do some fun community service at Cornerstone Court and Covenant Children's Hospital. Cornerstone Court is a retirement home for the elderly where we played bingo with the residents. Then at Covenant Children's Hospital, we visited the children and handed out miniature volleyballs that we had all signed. After spring break, we have our first spring tournament here at home in the United Spirit Arena, March 29th. It is free admission so you should definitely come and cheer us on!
