Participation of Non-coaching Staff Members in Practice

Please note that any individual who participates in any manner in the coaching of a sport in practice, games or organized activities directly related to that sport must be counted as a coach as stipulated by NCAA Division I Bylaw 11.7. In addition to competitive equity, the intent of the coaching limitations is to restrict the actual coaching of student-athletes to those individuals who are identified as coaches. Other athletics department staff members, including managers and non-coaching staff members with sport-specific responsibilities (e.g., administrative assistants, directors of operations), do not have to be identified as coaches provided they do not engage in any on- or off-field coaching activities and are not involved in recruiting activities.

This means that member institutions are prohibited from hiring a manager to perform only on-court or on-field activities (e.g., ball shagging, bounce-passing drills, throw batting practice). Student managers may perform limited on-court or on-field activities provided they also perform traditional managerial functions (e.g., run clock at practice, laundry, fill water bottles). Under no circumstances can a manager provide skill instruction. Non-student managers may not perform any on-court or on-field duties at all.

Also, Director of Ops, Admin. Assistants and other individuals with sport-specific responsibilities may not perform any on-court or on-field duties that could be considered coaching (e.g., ball shagging, bounce-passing drills, throw batting practice) without counting in the coaching staff limitation.

Gambling: Stay Away

With the Super Bowl and NCAA men's and women's basketball tournaments quickly approaching, the Compliance Office reminds all Tulane Athletics staff members, coaches, and student-athletes that all forms of sports wagering involving both college and pro sports are prohibited. This includes providing information about your team to someone who might bet on sports, joining sports pools, and online gambling. The rules governing gambling on sports are in place to protect the integrity and personal safety of everyone involved in intercollegiate athletics.

Announcing the Compliance Competition!

The Compliance Office is pleased to announce the Compliance Competition. Each month, the Compliance Office will score each team and department on compliance-related issues. Twice monthly, the Compliance Office will email questions to all contestants, score the answers, and post the results in the following issue of the compliance newsletter. At the end of the competition, the team and department with the highest average will win a fabulous prize! The first questions will be sent the second week of February!

Interp of the Month

Submitted by:

Chris Neal, Women's Track & Field/Cross Country

Question:

Is there any way that an international prospective student-athlete can be admitted to Tulane without submitting a TOEFL score?

Answer:

Yes. Freshman candidates whose native language is English and/or who can submit sufficient SAT I verbal scores of approximately 550 may request that the TOEFL requirement be waived.

Approved NCAA Legislation

Attached* to this newsletter are all of the proposals that were adopted at the recent NCAA convention. Below are the adopted proposals that are effective immediately.
