About Tulane

Tulane enters the 2008 NCAA Tallahassee Regional 37-20-1 on the year, 13-9-1 in Conference USA play and holding the No. 3 seed in the Regional after earning an at-large bid.

As a team, the Green Wave are hitting .288 with a .448 slugging percentage on the strength of 106 doubles, 20 triples and 57 home runs. Freshman third baseman Rob Segedin leads the team with a .333 batting average while junior middle infielder Seth Henry and junior infielder/outfielder Anthony Scelfo follow with respective marks of .332 and .324. Scelfo paces the club with 12 home runs, Segedin has a club-best 56 RBI, and junior outfielder Aja Barto is 21-of-24 in the stolen base category.

From the mound, Tulane sports a 4.20 ERA and has held opponents to a .240 batting average. Green Wave hurlers have combined for 460 strikeouts and 224 walks in 519.0 innings. Junior right-hander Shooter Hunt leads the team with nine wins, 119 strikeouts, a 2.45 ERA, a .156 opponent batting average and 91.2 innings pitched. Junior right-hander Mason Griffin paces the staff with 25 appearances and has seven of the team's 13 saves during the regular season.

Tulane In Regional Play

Tulane's trip to Tallahassee, Fla., for the NCAA Regionals marks the Green Wave's 19th venture into the NCAA postseason – all since 1979 – and 12th under 15th-year head coach Rick Jones.

Tulane is 27-29 all-time in NCAA Regional play, including winning Regional titles in 2001, 2004 and 2005. Since 1999 – the year Tulane claimed its first-ever No. 1 Regional seed – the Wave are 19-11 in NCAA Regional action, including advancing to the championship game five times (1999 in Auburn, 2001 in New Orleans, 2004 in Oxford, 2005 in New Orleans and 2006 in Oxford).

The trip to the postseason marks Tulane's return to the NCAA Regionals after missing for the first time in a decade in 2007. Prior to being left out of the field last season, the Green Wave had played in the postseason from 1998-2006.

About The NCAA Tallahassee Regional

The Green Wave earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Regionals this year, and will head to Tallahassee, Fla., where Tulane take on Florida (34-22, 17-13 SEC) in the first round and compete with host Florida State (48-10, 24-6 ACC) and fourth-seeded Bucknell (29-22-2, 10-10 Patriot League) for the right to advance to the NCAA Super Regionals.

The trip to the Florida panhandle is the second in Tulane postseason history. Back in 1988, the Green Wave were picked as part of the NCAA East Regional and opened the tournament with a 1-0 shutout behind a solid pitching performance by Gerald Alexander. From there, Tulane dropped its next to games to Florida (8-6) and host Florida State (9-5).

The winner of the NCAA Tallahassee Regional will advance to play the winner of the NCAA Stillwater (Okla.) Regional – which features host Oklahoma State, Wichita State, TCU and Western Kentucky – in the 2008 Super Regional. Sites for the Super Regionals have yet to be determined, but the winners will advance to the NCAA Men's College World Series in Omaha, Neb.

Last Tulane Win: April 29, 1991 (Tulane def. Florida State, 2-1, in New Orleans)

2008 Season Notes

Florida State enters the 2008 NCAA Tallahassee Regional as the No. 4 national seed after going 48-10 overall and winning the ACC's Atlantic Division with a 24-6 league mark. As a team, the Seminoles are hitting .350 with a .566 slugging percentage on the strength of 138 doubles, 22 triples and 86 home runs. Buster Posey paces the club with a .467 batting average while Jack Rye and Stuart Tapley follow with respective marks of .404 and .393. Posey leads the team with 19 home runs and 73 RBI, while Tony Delmonico and Tyler Holt share club-high stolen base honors with 12 thefts apiece.

From the mound, Florida State sports a 3.77 ERA and has held opponents to a .246 batting average. Seminole hurlers have combined for 432 strikeouts and 231 walks in 508.0 innings. Matt Fairrel leads FSU with 10 wins, 86 strikeouts and 89.1 innings pitched while Elih Villanueva headlines the staff with a 3.23 ERA and a .223 opponent batting average. Jimmy Marshall paces the bullpen with 34 appearances and Posey has six of the team's 14 saves in 2008

Series History

If Tulane and Florida State are to meet in the 2008 NCAA Tallahassee Regional, it would mark the 54th meeting between the two schools on the diamond. The Seminoles lead the all-time series, 35-18, with the last meeting coming back on April 29, 1991, when the Green Wave defeated Florida State, 2-1, at the old Turchin Stadium. Tulane has played Florida State once in the NCAA postseason – May 27, 1988 – as the Seminoles sent the Wave to the loser's bracket of the NCAA East Regional with an 8-6 decision at Dick Howser Stadium.

2008 Season Notes

Florida enters the 2008 NCAA Tallahassee Regional as the bracket's No. 2 seed after going 34-22 overall and finishing second in the SEC Eastern Division with a 17-13 league record. As a team, the Gators are hitting .305 with a .460 slugging percentage on the strength of 93 doubles, 16 triples and 58 home runs. Avery Barnes paces the club with a .372 batting average while Cole Figueroa and Brandon McArthur follow closely with marks of .350 and .343, respectively. Figueroa leads the team with nine home runs and 57 RBI, while Barnes has succeeded in 26-of-29 stolen base attempts.

From the mound, Florida sports a 4.11 ERA and has allowed opponents to connect at a .288 clip. Gator hurlers have combined for 305 strikeouts and 182 walks in 490.1 innings. Patrick Keating leads Florida with eight wins, Billy Bullock paces the club with 61 strikeouts and 80.2 innings pitched, Stephen Locke has a team-best 3.07 ERA, and Tommy Toledo sports a club-low .258 opponent batting average. Tony Davis paces the bullpen with 32 appearances and Kyle Mullaney has three of the team's 10 saves in 2008.

Series History

Friday's first-round meeting between Tulane and Florida will mark the seventh time the two teams have met on the diamond, and the Gators lead the all-time series, 5-1. Tulane's lone win in the series came in the inaugural Busch Challenge in the Louisiana Superdome when the Green Wave defeated the Gators, 11-10, on March 1, 1991. Tulane has played Florida once in the NCAA postseason – May 27, 1988 – as the Gators ended Tulane's season at the NCAA East Regional with a 9-5 victory at Dick Howser Stadium.

No. 4 Seed • Bucknell Bison

Overall Record: 29-22-2 • Patriot League Record: 10-10

Series Record: First Meeting

Last Meeting: N/A

Last Tulane Win: N/A

2008 Season Notes

Bucknell enters the 2008 NCAA Tallahassee Regional as the bracket's No. 4 seed after going 29-22-2 overall, finishing fourth in the regular-season Patriot League standings with a 10-10 league record and winning the Patriot League Tournament title by sweeping second-seeded Navy in the Patriot League Championship Series on May 25. As a team, the Bison are hitting .313 with a .438 slugging percentage courtesy of 92 doubles, 12 triples and 37 home runs. Jason Buursma paces the club with a .372 batting average while Mark Angelo and Dane Grandizio follow closely with marks of .335 and .332, respectively. Buursma leads the team with 12 home runs, shares the RBI lead with John Avanzino with 35 each, and Grandizio headlines the club with 13 stolen bases in 17 tries.

From the mound, Bucknell sports a 5.25 ERA and has allowed opponents to connect at a .287 clip. Bison hurlers have combined for 335 strikeouts and 190 walks in 445.2 innings. In addition to his prowess at the plate, Buursma also leads Bucknell on the mound with nine wins, a 2.72 ERA, 75 strikeouts and a .233 opponent batting average, while Eric Jarrett has thrown a team-best 82.0 innings. David Solan paces the bullpen with 18 relief appearances, and Trey Frahler has two of the team's five saves in 2008.

Series History

If Tulane and Bucknell were to meet in the 2008 NCAA Tallahassee Regional, it would mark the first time the two teams would meet on the diamond in the history of either school's program. While Tulane and Bucknell have never played each other, the Green Wave are not totally unfamiliar with the Patriot League as Tulane is 4-1 all-time against Navy and 1-0 vs. Army.

Tulane Head Coach Rick Jones

In his 15th season at the helm of the Green Wave program and 28th as a collegiate coach, Rick Jones is regarded as one of the winningest coaches in the nation.

Since taking over as head coach prior to the 1994 season, Jones has led Tulane to the NCAA Regionals in 12 of his 15 seasons, including a school-record nine consecutive trips from 1998-2006, three Super Regional appearances and two trips to the College World Series.

Under Jones' tutelage, Tulane has 10 40-win seasons and set a school record with a nation-leading 56 wins in 2001 and 2005. In addition, 51 Wave players have earned all-conference honors on 77 occasions, 18 players have received All-America recognition, 12 players were named Freshman All-Americans, 50 players have gone on to play professional baseball – including a trio of first-round selections and a sandwich pick – and five have earned positions on the USA National Team during the Jones era.

The winningest coach in the history of Conference USA, Jones helped Tulane win four Conference USA regular-season championships, and the team has won the league tournament title a league-record five times. A Tulane student-athlete was named C-USA Player of the Year six times from 1999-2006, to give the Green Wave more than every other league team combined. In addition, six of the 13 C-USA Freshmen of the Year have donned a Green Wave jersey as have three of the league's Pitchers of the Year.

While Tulane has achieved unprecedented success on the diamond under Jones, it has enjoyed the same amount of accolades in the classroom as Green Wave players have earned C-USA Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll recognition 158 times since 1996. Since 1994, three players have earned Academic All-America honors, including James Jurries and Tommy Manzella, the only to student-athletes in school history to earn athletic and academic All-America honors in same season.

How We Got Here

The Green Wave claimed their 19th NCAA Regional berth after putting together a 37-20-1 season, finishing third in the Conference USA regular-season standings at 13-9-1 and posting a 1-2 showing in the ever competitive C-USA Tournament.

Tulane fielded one of the most inexperienced teams in the Rick Jones era in 2008 as the roster features 15 newcomers to the program – three Division I transfers, five junior college graduates and seven true freshmen – and had to replace five every-day position players and three of its top four pitchers from a year ago.

Of the 30 student-athletes to see time on the field in 2008, only two positions players – middle infielder Seth Henry and outfielder Warren McFadden – have started a postseason game for the Green Wave. From the hill, Tulane has just two hurlers with NCAA Regional experience: senior right-hander Trey Martin and junior righty Jonathan Garrett, who tossed a combined 6.2 innings in the 2006 NCAA Oxford Regional at Ole Miss.

Tulane claimed an at-large bid to the NCAA postseason, marking the 11th time in school history the Green Wave has done so. The other eight came via automatic bid after winning either the Metro or Conference USA Tournament Titles.

Tulane vs. The Regional Field

Tulane has played 10 teams selected to participate in the 2008 NCAA postseason this year, and sports a 12-13 record in those contests.

The Green Wave have played a pair of the No. 1 seeds, falling twice to LSU (7-5 on March 19 in Baton Rouge, 8-4 on April 22 in New Orleans) and getting swept by Rice (6-0, 8-4, 6-2 from May 15-16 in New Orleans).

In addition, the Green Wave swept East Carolina (5-4, 10-8, 10-8 on May 9-10 in Greenville, N.C.), which earned the No. 2 seed in the Conway Regional, and Illinois Chicago (6-0, 4-3, 9-2 on Feb. 22-24 in New Orleans), which is the No. 4 seed at College Station, Texas.

In addition, Tulane took the weekend series from Baton Rouge Regional No. 2 seed Southern Miss (W 4-3, W 4-2, L 10-8 on April 18-20 in New Orleans) and won the lone meeting with Stillwater's No. 3 seed TCU (5-3 on March 2 in Minneapolis, Minn.) while going 1-2 against New Orleans (L 4-2, W 8-4, L 9-8) – the No. 3 seed in Baton Rouge – College Station No. 3 seed Houston (L 4-3, W 7-5, L 11-7 on April 11-13), and Lincoln No. 2 seed UC Irvine (W 2-0, L 7-3, L 5-1 on March 7-9). The Wave also dropped a single-game matchup with Stanford's second-seeded Pepperdine (4-2 on Feb. 29 in Minneapolis, Minn.).

C-USA Well Represented...

Tulane is one of five teams from Conference USA participating in this weekend's NCAA Regional, joining No. 1 seed Rice (Houston Regional), No. 2 seeds Southern Miss (Baton Rouge, La.) and East Carolina (Conway, S.C.), and No. 3 seed Houston (College Station, Texas).

The 2008 season marks the seventh consecutive season that the league has sent at least four teams to the NCAA postseason, and the five teams ties the C-USA record set back in 2002 when East Carolina, Houston, Louisville, USF and Tulane all made a Regional. Only the SEC (nine), ACC (six) and Big 12 (six) have more teams participating in the NCAA Regionals than C-USA.

The five bids this season give C-USA 44 NCAA appearances in the 13-year history of the league. A current C-USA team has advanced to the NCAA Super Regional in eight consecutive years (Houston in 2000, 2002 and 2003; Tulane in 2001, 2004 and 2005; East Carolina in 2004; Rice in 2006 and 2007), and earned a berth in the NCAA Men's College World Series a total of four times (Tulane in 2001 and 2005, Rice in 2006 and 2007).

...So Is The State

In addition to the five teams from Conference USA earning a spot in the NCAA postseason, the Green Wave are also one of three teams from the state of Louisiana to get a bid to the Regionals.

Tulane is joined in the NCAA's by host and No. 7 national seed LSU and Baton Rouge Regional No. 3 seed New Orleans. Of the three Louisiana teams playing in the postseason, only UNO is making a return trip in 2008. LSU missed the Regional in both 2006 and 2007, while the Green Wave saw their streak of nine consecutive postseason berths snapped last season.

The three state teams in the Regionals marks the most by Louisiana since 2005 when Tulane, LSU, Louisiana-Lafayette, Southern and Northwestern State all earned bids. In 2006, Tulane was the only state school invited to the NCAA postseason while UNO and UL-Lafayette were Louisiana's lone Regional representatives last season.

Return To Where It All Started

While Tulane will be playing its first NCAA Regional in Tallahassee since 1988, Dick Howser Stadium is the site that the Green Wave earned their first-ever postseason bid back in 1979.

Florida State served as the host site for that year's Metro Conference Tournament, and the Green Wave rolled through the field by downing Louisville, 11-4, in the opener, edging Virginia Tech 4-3 in round two, and sweeping the host Seminoles 10-5 and 5-2 on May 12 to punch their first NCAA Regional ticket. That year, Tulane was shipped to Starkville, Miss., for the NCAA South Regional where it lost to Murray State, 5-3, and host Mississippi State, 12-4.

Tulane In Tallahassee

While the Green Wave have not played at Florida State since April 28, 1991, Tallahassee is not foreign soil for the Tulane baseball team.

Tulane used to play Florida State regularly as the two teams were members of the now defunct Metro Conference from 1978-1991. Tulane was forced to leave the Metro from 1986-89, but rejoined in 1990 and was a member until it folded and Conference USA was founded for the 1996 season. Florida State, meanwhile, left the Metro to become a member of the ACC following the 1991 season.

All told, Tulane has played a total of 52 games at Florida State and sport a 21-31 record in those games. The Wave are 7-25 when playing the Seminoles on their home field, but Dick Howser Stadium served as the host site of the Metro Conference Tournament annually from 1978-85 as well as the 1988 NCAA East Regional.

In tournament games held in Tallahassee, Tulane is 17-12, including a 14-6 record on a neutral surface. The Green Wave won the Metro Conference Tourney titles there in 1979 and 1982 and went 1-2 in the 1988 Regional.

Entering On A Downswing

The Tulane team does not exactly enter the 2008 NCAA Tallahassee Regional on fire as the Green Wave have now lost five of their last six ballgames, including a 1-2 showing in the 2008 Entergy Conference USA Championship held in New Orleans at the new Greer Field at Turchin Stadium.

That does not mean, however, that Tulane does not expect to play well this weekend. In fact, all the team has to do is look in its own record book to find proof that the past does not equal the future.

In 2004, Tulane entered the NCAA Oxford Regional as a No. 3 seed after dropping two of three in the final weekend of the regular season and going 0-2 in the C-USA Tournament. One week later, however, the Wave were rolling into the Super Regionals after opening the Oxford Regional with a 3-2 win over Washington, downing Western Kentucky 7-0 in round two and overcoming a slow start to defeat Washington in the championship game 12-3.

That season, Tulane advanced to the NCAA Fullerton Super Regional where it lost to eventual national champion Cal State Fullerton, 9-0 and 10-7.

Hunt Named C-USA Pitcher of the Year

After another outstanding season in a Green Wave uniform, junior right-hander Shooter Hunt was named 2008 Conference USA Pitcher of the Year.

A member of the All C-USA first team as well, Hunt earned the honor after leading Tulane and the league in opponent batting average (.156), total strikeouts (119), and strikeouts looking (46). He also leads the team and is tied for the C-USA mark with nine wins and paces the club while ranking second in the conference with a 2.45 ERA and 91.2 innings pitched.

Hunt becomes the third Tulane player in the 13-year history of Conference USA to claim the league's Pitcher of the Year title, joining Jason Navarro in 1997 and Josh Bobbitt in 1998.

More On Hunt

While Shooter Hunt was named Conference USA Pitcher of the Year and first-team All C-USA, the honors are likely not the last for the native of Wyckoff, N.J., as he has consistently been one of the premier pitchers in the country throughout the 2008 season.

With 119 strikeouts so far this year, Hunt becomes the fourth Tulane hurler in as many years to eclipse the 100-K mark in a season. In addition, Hunt ranks third in the NCAA in hits allowed per nine innings (4.52), fourth in total strikeouts, 11th in strikeouts per nine inning (111.55), 15th in wins and 19th in ERA (stats through May 18 as posted on the NCAA site).

Since joining the Green Wave prior to the 2007 season, Hunt is a combined 14-9 with a sparkling 2.54 ERA and a .197 opponent batting average. Hunt has started 28 of the 29 games he has appeared in during his Tulane career, during which time he has posted a 10.50 strikeout-per-nine-inning average and a 2.75 strikeout-to-walk ratio after fanning 223 batters and walking just 81 in 191.1 innings.

Tulane & The All-Conference USA Team

Six Tulane baseball standouts claimed All-Conference USA honors in 2008 as junior pitcher Shooter Hunt and junior utility athlete Anthony Scelfo claimed first-team recognition, junior middle infielder Seth Henry and freshman third baseman Rob Segedin garnered second-team honors and the rookie tandem of Segedin and relief pitcher Nick Pepitone claimed a spot on the All-Freshman Team.

Hunt's honor was the second of his career, claiming first-team All C-USA honors as a sophomore last season, while the other five players earned all-league recognition for the first time in their respective careers. Tulane now has at least one All C-USA member for the 13th consecutive year, giving the Green Wave a total of 46 first-team all-league members since the conference's inception in 1996. With a pair of second-teamers, Tulane now has 69 all-league players overall. Both marks are C-USA records.

Segedin and Pepitone, meanwhile, become the 18th and 19th Tulane student-athletes to earn C-USA All-Freshman Team honors – making Tulane the only team in league history to have at least one rookie on the squad in all 13 years of the league's existence.

A Little Extra

On the surface, it appears as if the Tulane offense is a little down in 2008 as the Green Wave enter the weekend ranked seventh in Conference USA with a .288 batting average.

The Wave, however, have made the most of their hitting opportunities and rank in the top half of the league in all three extra-base categories – tying for sixth in doubles (106), first in triples (20) and fifth in home runs (57). As a result, the Green Wave are fifth in the league runs scored (408).

All nine of Tulane's starting position players have at least one double, one triple and one home run, marking the first time a Green Wave lineup has at least nine student-athletes ranking in each of the extra-base hit categories since 1981. That year, the Tulane team featured a school-record 10 players with at least one double, one triple and one home run.

Come Together

No, the Tulane team does not feature anyone with hair down to his knees or anyone named Flattop who comes grooving up slowly. Instead, the Green Wave have followed the Beatles hit song "Come Together" in 2008.

Taking the field back in February with a total of 15 newcomers – three Division I transfers, five Junior College graduates and seven true freshmen – Tulane has experience its share of growing pains throughout the season, but have slowly meshed and are perhaps playing their best baseball of the year in May.

As the individual players have found their role on the team and gotten comfortable in that, the Green Wave have now won 12 of their last 19 regular-season games and four of five Conference USA weekend series down the stretch.

All told, the new faces on the Tulane roster have combined to hit .281 (252-for-898) with a .433 slugging percentage on the strength of 46 doubles, five triples and 27 home runs while driving in 163 runs and stealing 33 bases. From the mound, Green Wave newbies have joined forces to post 16 wins, 11 saves and 166 strikeouts in 208.2 innings of work.

Getting It Done On 'D'

While the faces around the Tulane program have changed with the passing years, the one thing that remains a constant is the Green Wave's ability to play tough defense.

2008 has followed suit, and at the conclusion of the regular season, the Green Wave have lead Conference USA with a .973 fielding percentage. Tulane has led C-USA in fielding percentage five times in the previous 12 years, including a string of three straight from 2005-07.

Earlier in the year, the Green Wave had a streak of 73 innings without committing an error – a stretch that spanned seven games. During that time, Tulane had 207 putouts and 91 assists while turning seven double plays, picking off a pair of runners and throwing out another two would-be base stealers.

If the Green Wave 'D' can maintain their current pace through the end of postseason play, Tulane will have paced the conference in the category six times, marking the most by any team in league history. The only other team to lead C-USA in fielding percentage more than twice is Houston, which paced the league in 1997, 1999 and 2000.

Hunt Named Spikes, Howser, Clemens Semifinalist

Junior right-hander Shooter Hunt has been among the nation's top pitchers throughout the 2008 season. On Thursday, Hunt was recognized as such as the native of Wyckoff, N.J. was named a semifinalist for the Golden Spikes Award by USA Baseball, the Dick Howser Trophy by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association and for the Roger Clemens Award by the Greater Houston Baseball Foundation.

While Hunt's numbers speak for themselves (see Shooting Them Down on page 5), his honors this year have been equally as eye popping. Hunt has been named Conference USA Pitcher of the Week three times in 2008 and claimed Louisiana Sports Writers Association Pitcher of the Week honors twice.

In addition to making the semifinals of the Howser Trophy and Clemens Award, Hunt was named to the Watch Lists for the Brooks Wallace lists for National Player of the Year at the beginning of the year.

Heating Up At The Plate

While the Green Wave offense got off to a bit of a slow start to the 2008 season, hitting just .251 over the first 14 games of the year. Since then, however, Tulane hitters have been swinging the bat much better over the last 44 ballgames and are hitting .300 (455-for-1518) with a .474 slugging percentage on the strength of 88 doubles, 13 triples and 50 home runs since March 12.

That brings Tulane's overall batting average to .288, which is the highest it has been at the conclusion of the regular season since 2005 when the Green Wave entered the NCAA New Orleans Region hitting .316 before advancing to the 2005 NCAA Men's College World Series

In that game against Northwestern State, the Wave broke out for a season-best 23 hits in an 18-11 win over the Demons. After that, Tulane has double-digit hit totals in 26 of its last 44 ballgames, including two 18-hit outings, one 15-hit contest, six 14-hit contests, four 13-hit games, four 12-hit ballgames, three 11-hit affairs, and five 10-hit matchups.

Steady Seggy

Throughout the 2008 season, Tulane freshman Rob Segedin has shown why he is one of the top freshmen in the nation as the native of Old Tappan, N.J., is leading the Green Wave with a .333 batting average, 18 doubles and 56 RBI.

He also chips in with a triple, six home runs and a pair of stolen bases offensively, and has made an impact on the mound as well where he has a win, four saves and 21 strikeouts in 13 appearances and 18.1 innings of work.

Segedin follows in a long line of two-way players in Tulane baseball history, joining the likes of Craig Brown, Nick Bourgeois, Michael Aubrey, Brian Bogusevic and Micah Owings. If he can maintain his current pace at the plate, Segedin will become the first freshman to lead the Green Wave in hitting since Barry Butera paced the team with a .360 clip in 1975. His four saves are the most by a Tulane freshman since Sean Morgan had five saves during the Wave's College World Series season in 2005.

Slamming Scelfo

While Tulane has had several two-sport athletes dot its roster over the years, junior Anthony Scelfo is the latest on the list and is enjoying a career-year in 2008.

After throwing for 1,396 yards and six touchdowns as the starting quarterback during the fall, Scelfo currently leads the baseball team with 12 homers, six triples, 125 total bases and a .587 slugging percentage, and ranks third on the team with a .324 batting average.

His athleticism has allowed him to lineup all over the field - starting games at first, second, and third base, as well as all three outfield positions - and he also paces the club with 53 walks - including two of the intentional variety - and a .459 on-base percentage.

He has at least one hit in 34 of the last 46 games, including a streak of 12 in a row from April 20-May 10 when he hit .479 (23-for-48) with three doubles, a triple, five home runs and 11 RBI.

Down The Stretch They Come

The Tulane team has played its best baseball down the stretch, winning four of its final five Conference USA weekend series. Tulane won four series in a row during the streak, and the Green Wave won 12 of their last 19 regular-season games.

During that stretch, Tulane claimed weekend series over from Southern Miss (W 4-3, W 4-2, L 10-8; April 18-20), Memphis (W 17-4, W 15-3; April 25-26), UCF (W 5-2, W 6-1, L 12-1; May 2-4) and East Carolina (W 5-4, W 10-8, W 10-8; May 9-10).

Rice broke up the streak in the final weekend of the year by taking all three games (L 6-0, L, 8-4, L 6-2). The Green Wave have put the bump in the road behind them, however, as Tulane opens play in the 2008 NCAA Tallahassee Regional on Friday, May 30, with a noon (CDT) showdown with second-seeded Florida.

How Sweep It Is

By taking all three games of their weekend series against Conference USA foe East Carolina in Greenville, N.C., from May 9-10, the Green Wave posted their first sweep of a league team in 2008.

It was their first three-game sweep (home or away) of a C-USA opponent since May 23-25, 2007, when Tulane swept Marshall in Charleston, W.Va. It also marked the first time in Tulane history that the Green Wave went on the road to take all three games from a team ranked in the Top 25. Prior to last weekend, the closest Tulane ever came to pulling off that feat came in 1996 when the Wave traveled to then-No. 8 South Florida and won 6-5 (April 26) and 9-7 (April 27) before falling in the finale 8-7 (April 28).

The sweep was the fifth three-gamer of the year for Tulane as the Green Wave also won all three games against Illinois-Chicago (Feb. 22-24), Oakland (March 14-16), Sacred Heart (March 21-23) and Nicholls State (April 2, 8, 29). In those games, Tulane is hitting .322 (165-for-512) with a 516 slugging percentage after belting 31 doubles, seven triples and 18 home runs.

Hanging Goose Eggs

With an 8-0 Friday win and a 12-0 Sunday victory in the weekend series vs. Sacred Heart, the Tulane pitching staff posted its sixth and seventh shutout victory of the 2008 seasons.

With two blankings over the weekend, the Green Wave have now posted shutouts in five of their last seven ballgames. The seven shutouts this season already ties last year's mark and stands tied for fifth in Green Wave history.

Three teams (1978, 2004, 2005) hung eight goose eggs in a season, and the Tulane record for shutouts in nine, set by the 1976 club in 39 ballgames.

Mom I'm Coming Home

Tulane has only one player on its roster that hails from The Sunshine State - junior outfielder Warren McFadden.

McFadden is from Plantation, Fla., and starred at Nova High School where he was a Prep All-American for the Titans.

None of the student-athletes from Florida, Florida State or Bucknell, meanwhile, hail from the state of Louisiana.

Tulane On The Tube

May 16's split double header against Rice (L 8-4, L 6-2) was nationally televised on CBS College Sports Television, marking the sixth and seventh times in 2008 that Tulane played before a national or regional audience

At the conclusion of the regular season, the Green Wave are 2-5 in televised contests. Tulane's first two televised games came in the first two contests of the Houston series back on April 11-12, when the Wave dropped the opener, 4-3, before bouncing back for a 7-5 victory. Back on April 22, Tulane's 8-4 loss to state-rival LSU at Greer Field at Turchin Stadium was picked up by the Jumbo Sports Network. Tulane also dropped last Tuesday's game to cross-town rival UNO, 9-8 in a game carried by Cox Sports Television, but bounced back on May 7 on the same network to down Southern, 10-3, in Baton Rouge, La..

While it has not been finalized as of Tuesday night, select games during the 2008 NCAA Tallahassee Regional will be televised on Sun Sports Network, giving the Wave a chance to improve on that TV record.

Tulane vs. The State

Following last May 7's 10-3 win at Southern, Tulane is now 11-5 against teams from the state of Louisiana in 2008.

The Green Wave opened their slate against the state with a 4-3, 12-inning victory over Southeastern Louisiana on Feb. 26, and followed that up by dumping then-No. 25 Louisiana-Lafayette 10-1 the very next day. Tulane also has a 14-6 win over Southern (March 5) and the 4-3 (March 11/11 innings) and 18-11 (March 12) victories over Northwestern State. In addition, Tulane has 11-2 (April 2) and 8-1 (April 8) wins over Nicholls State, a 10-3 victory over McNeese State (April 1), an 8-4 win at UNO (April 9) and a 4-1 win against Southeastern (April 15).

The five losses to a state team so far for Tulane came on March 4 when the Wave dropped a 4-2 contest to cross-town foe UNO, on March 19 when the Wave fell 7-5 at LSU, a 12-11 loss at Southeastern Louisiana on March 25, an 8-4 decision to LSU on April 22 and Tuesday's 9-8 loss to the Privateers.

Since 2001, the Green Wave are 74-25 (.747) against Louisiana teams, including a 72-22 mark (.766) during the regular season. During that span, Tulane went undefeated against state teams during the regular season in 2001 (11-0) and 2005 (10-0).

Henry & The 33

For the first two-plus years of his Tulane career, junior middle infielder Seth Henry swung a 34-inch bat during his trips to the plate. Forty-one games ago, however, he made a move to a 33-inch bat and the results have been eye-popping.

A career .241 hitter entering the 2008 season, Henry opened the year swinging a 34 and was hitting .226 as of March 15. Since moving to a 33-inch bat, however, Henry is hitting a team-best .366 (59-for-161) with a .627 slugging percentage courtesy of 15 doubles, three triples and seven home runs. Since the Sunday game against Oakland (March 16), Henry has a team-leading 46 RBI, a .451 on-base percentage and is 9-for-13 in stolen bases. He has 15 multiple-hit and 11 multiple-RBI games during that stretch, including a four-hit game at East Carolina (May 10) and a trio of four-RBI games.

For the season, Henry is hitting .332 (69-for-214) with a .547 slugging percentage, a .410 on-base percentage and 53 RBI.

Stealing The Show

One of the new, yet old, wrinkles the Tulane squad has added to the arsenal in 2008 is the ability to steal bases. After posting a combined 125 swipes over the last two seasons, this year's club already has 93 steals in 115 attempts during the regular season.

Tulane's 2008 stolen base total is already 37 more than last season and is 24 more than both the 2005 and 2006 clubs. The last time a Green Wave club had more than 93 steals in a season was back in 2003 when the team had 116 swipes.

Aja Barto leads the team with 21 steals in 24 attempts, while Josh Prince is 18-for-23. Seth Henry has 11 thefts in 16 attempts, and Scott Powell is a perfect 10-for-10 in the category. Not to be left out, Drew Allain and Anthony Scelfo have eight steals each, and Warren McFadden has six.

In Remembrance

While most teams are focusing on both baseball and academic affairs as the month of April comes to an end, the 2008 Tulane baseball team has had to deal with the loss of a pair of player's fathers this season.

The first bit of bad news came on March 7, when word of sophomore pitcher Preston Claiborne's father, Michael Claiborne, died of a heart attack. Then, on April 14, news that junior infielder Jonny Weiss' father, Stephen Weiss - who was in a coma for a week - lost his battle in the early morning hours. Claiborne has remained with the team throughout the season, missing just one game to attend the funeral, but Weiss missed some time to be with his family back home in Greenwich, Conn.

The memory of the two Green Wave dads lives on, however, and the team is honoring each in their own way. As you may have noticed, the team has the initials "MC" and "SW" just above the bill on the left side of their caps to honor the fallen fathers.

Tulane fans can once again gain an insider's perspective of Green Wave baseball as senior captain Grayden "G-Money" Griener will write a by-weekly journal entitled "Money Talks."

An on-line weekly journal through the official website of Tulane Athletics - www.tulanegreenwave.com - Money Talks provides fans and media members with the human side of the game. Griener's latest journal is already live on the web and can be accessed by clicking on the "Money Talks" button located on both the front of the baseball page of the website.

Winning The Weekend

While season records and Conference USA standings are a combination of all games played, the Green Wave have done a good job of focusing on the task at hand and winning weekend series.

Heading into the final weekend of the 2008 season, Tulane is 8-3 in weekend series and also won a trio of midweek series with at least two wins against common opponents. Below is a list of the weekend series victories for the Green Wave this year. The rankings in parenthesis denote the national ranking at the time the game was played.

Date	Opponent	Location	Results
Feb. 22-24	Illinois Chicago	New Orleans, La.	W 6-0, W 4-3, W 9-2
March 13-15	Oakland (Mich.)	New Orleans, La.	W 3-0, W 19-0, W 16-0

Jones Claims Another Milestone Victory

One week after posting his 900th career victory, Tulane head coach Rick Jones recorded career Division I win No. 800 with a 4-3 decision over Southern Miss on April 15.

In now his 24th season as a head coach, Jones is 913-397-3, including a 811-365-2 mark as the skipper of a four-year program. Tulane's weekend sweep at East Carolina from May 9-10 also moved him closer to an additional milestone victory as Jones is now four victories shy of the Tulane record of 641 set by Joe Brockhoff from 1975-93.

Jones' head coaching career began at Ferrum Junior College (now a four-year program) where he went 102-32-1 from 1982-84 before moving to Elon where he posted a 174-61 mark from 1985-89. Since taking over the Tulane program in 1994, Jones is 637-304-2.

Going For Three

While the NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Champion was crowned a month ago in St. Petersburg, Fla., the concept of shooting for three lives on with the Tulane baseball team.

Heading into NCAA Regional play, the Green Wave hitters have combined for 20 doubles - and average of .364 three-baggers per game. The 2008 team already has 11 more triples than last year's squad (9) and nine more than the season total from 2006.

The last time the Wave posted at least 20 triples in a season was back in 1996 when Tulane had 20 three-baggers. At their current pace, the Green Wave would finish the regular season with 22 doubles - which is just five shy of the school-record of 27 set by the 1981 squad.

Junior second baseman Anthony Scelfo leads the team with six triples - which is already fourth in Tulane single-season history - and junior middle infielder Seth Henry is next with four. Junior outfielders Aja Barto, Drew Allain and Warren McFadden have two triples apiece, while freshman third baseman Rob Segedin, junior catcher Jared Dyer, junior first baseman Sam Honeck and junior designated hitter Andrew Rodgers all have one each.

Going Deep

By hitting a pair of home runs in Saturday's C-USA Tournament loss to Marshall, Tulane now has 57 bombs on the year which is already 22 more than the season total of a year ago and nine more than the 2006 club.

While some may assess that playing in the cavernous Zephyr Field in 2007 had something to do with the low number last season, but the numbers are up all around. In 2007, the Green Wave had 19 home runs in 38 home games, 13 homers in 20 road games and three bombs in two neutral-site contests.

So far in 2008, Tulane has 32 home runs in 38 games at the new Greer Field at Turchin Stadium, 24 in 17 road games and one in a pair of neutral-site ballgames.

Junior infielder/outfielder Anthony Scelfo paces the 2008 team with 12 home runs while junior designated hitter Andrew Rodgers is close behind with 10. Junior first baseman Sam Honeck and junior middle infielder Seth Henry are third on the team with seven round trippers each while freshman third baseman Rob Segedin is next with six. Junior catcher Jared Dyer has five homers apiece, junior outfielder Aja Barto has three, and junior outfield duo of Drew Allain and Scott Powell each have a pair.

Familiar Surroundings

While Tulane has not played at Florida State since 1991, there are a pair of Green Wave coaches who have seen their fair share of contests inside Dick Howser Stadium.

Green Wave head coach Rick Jones spent four years (1990-93) as the pitching coach at Georgia Tech, who was a member along with Florida State of the ACC. In addition, Jones and the Yellow Jackets also played in a Regional at Howser.

Tulane associate head coach/recruiting coordinator Mark Kingston, meanwhile, experienced Florida State as a player at North Carolina from 1989-92. He also saw time in the dugout as an assistant coach at the University of Miami from 2000-01. While the two schools were in different leagues at the time, Miami and Florida State played annually in midweek competition.

Tulane & The CG

After not having a single complete-game pitching performance over the first 45 games of the year, Tulane had a pair of hurlers accomplish the feat in a span of four contests.

Sophomore southpaw Matt Petiton threw Tulane's first complete game of 2008 on May 3 in a 6-1 win over Conference USA foe UCF. Four days later, junior right-hander Jonathan Garrett did it in a 10-3 win over Southern University in Baton Rouge on May 7.

The no hitter was the first of each student-athlete's respective careers. In his CG against the Knights, Petiton retired 14 batters in a row between the end of the fourth and beginning of the ninth innings and gave up only four hits and one earned run.

Garrett, meanwhile, posted four strikeouts and allowed three runs on six hits. He faced just four more than the minimum and was able to throw a complete game on just 95 pitches after not issuing a walk and getting the benefit of a pair of double-play groundouts.

Segedin Ties Tulane Hits Mark

Third baseman Rob Segedin may be in just his first season playing collegiate baseball, but 15 games into his career, he has already made his presence felt in the Tulane record book.

By going 6-for-6 at the plate in March 12's 18-11 victory over Northwestern State, Segedin tied the Tulane single-game record for hits - equalling the mark originally set by Dan Wagner on March 25, 1986 vs. Cornell and matched by Steve Shirley on May 12, 2000 vs. USF.

Against the Demons, Segedin singled in the second, capped a six-run third with a two-run homer, posted base hits again in the fourth, sixth and seventh inning before wrapping up his day with a two-run double in the eighth.

Tulane & The All-Tournament Team

At the conclusion of Tulane's stay in the 2008 Dairy Queen Baseball Classic last weekend in Minneapolis, Minn., the duo of junior first baseman Sam Honeck and rookie third baseman Rob Segedin were named to the All-Tournament Team.

Honeck hit a team-best .400 (4-for-10) during the tournament, posting a double and an RBI. He also posted a .500 on-base percentage with a walk and a hit by pitch. Segedin, meanwhile, hit .364 (4-for-11) with a pair of RBI.

Young Upperclassmen?

On the surface, the 2008 Tulane baseball roster appears to be one of a veteran team with 18 juniors and three seniors among the 36 student-athletes listed.

While outfielders Aja Barto and Warren McFadden along with catcher Jared Dyer and infielders Seth Henry and Anthony Scelfo have a full two years with the Green Wave program under their collective belts, seven of those juniors - including every-day starters Drew Allain, Sam Honeck and Andrew Rodgers - joined the team this season after transferring from junior colleges.

All told, seven position players in their first years at Tulane have started at least one game in 2008 - true freshmen Nick Boulosa and Rob Segedin, JuCo transfer catcher Steve Moritz, and sophomore transfer Josh Prince.

New Season, New Stadium

While the Green Wave will be opening a new season over the weekend against Illinois Chicago, the Tulane team will also open a new facility as Friday's game will be the first contest ever played in the new Greer Field at Turchin Stadium.

A pro-style stadium with a capacity of 5,000, Greer Field at Turchin Stadium features a grandstand design of structural steel, which increases the number of chair-back seats from 900 to over 2,700. In addition the new facility also features private suites, an open-air club suite, a partially covered seating area and a new press box.

The Green Wave's new facility will also feature a different playing surface as FieldTurf - the same surface used by several Major League Baseball and NFL stadiums - replaces the natural-grass surface that the old Turchin Stadium had since its opening. The entire field, with the exclusion of the pitcher's mound, will be FieldTurf, which all but eliminates the possibility of inclement weather making the field unplayable.

Weekend Shutouts

With 3-0, 19-0 and 16-0 victories over Oakland University on March 14-16, the Tulane pitching staff combined to shutout the Golden Grizzlies in all three games over the weekend.

The shutouts marked the third time the Green Wave blanked a weekend opponent in all three games since 2004 as Tulane shutout Utah from Feb. 27-29, 2004, and Siena from March 16-18, 2007. For the weekend, nine Green Wave hurlers combined to hold Oakland to a .152 batting average - 14 singles in 92 at-bats - while striking out 20 and walking just nine in 27.0 innings of work.

By hanging three straight goose eggs, Tulane now has five shutouts on the year which is just two off of the season total from a year ago and is already tied for eighth in Green Wave single-season history.

Hunt Earns Preseason Accolades

While the 2008 season officially starts with Friday's 7 p.m. showdown between the Green Wave and the Flames of Illinois Chicago, junior right-hander Shooter Hunt has been piling up the awards as the native of Wykoff, N.J., claimed four preseason honors.

Hunt was named second-team Preseason All-American by Baseball America, claimed a spot on the Preseason All-Conference USA Team, earned a spot on the Roger Clemens Award Watch List as one of the nation's top pitchers, and was named to watch lists for the Golden Spikes Award, Dick Howser Trophy and Brooks Wallace Watch Lists for National Player of the Year as well as the Roger Clemens Award for the nation's top pitcher.

Coming in 2009

While they won't be here for another year, the future of Tulane baseball continues to look bright as the Green Wave signed high school seniors Carson Blair, Jamie Bruno, Ryan Doiron, T.J. House, J.P. Ramirez, Jeremy Schaffer and Ross Seaton along with junior college transfer Jarrod Parks during the NCAA Early Signing Period back in November.

Among the incoming freshmen to sign National Letters of Intent with the Wave, Ramirez of New Braunfels, Texas (OF, 5-10, 185, Canyon HS) and T.J. House of Picayune, Miss (LHP, 6-1, 185, Picayune HS) bring experience with the USA Jr. National Team, and Houston native Ross Seaton (RHP/OF, 6-4, 225, Second Baptist HS) joins the Team USA pair as a member of Baseball America's Top 100 prospects.

In addition, Tulane added Louisiana natives Doiron (RHP, 6-0, 180, Barbe HS) of Lake Charles and Bruno (1B/LHP, 6-2, 210, Mandeville HS) of Mandeville, as well as Texas natives Jeremy Schaffer (C, 6-2, 205, Bellair Prep) of Bellaire and Carson Blair (INF, 6-2, 190, Liberty Christian HS) of Argyle. Junior college transfer Parks (INF, 6-1, 190) of Meridian Community College rounds out the Green Wave's class to date.

Tulane Claims Highest Grade From Baseball America

Long considered among the premier teams in the country year in and year out, the Tulane University baseball program garnered another national honor when Baseball America awarded the Green Wave an "A" impact rating in a recent study based on performance since the NCAA expanded its postseason field from 48 to 64 teams in 1999.

The grades, which were based on a "Conference Report Card" study performed by Baseball America, focused on each programs' national impact, overall competitiveness, fans and facilities, and academics. Of the eight top conferences - all six BCS leagues (Atlantic Coast, Big 10, Big 12, Big East, Pacific-10 and Southeastern), plus Conference USA and the Big West - Tulane is one of 16 teams to receive an "A" grade.

The 2008 Baseball America study issued five points for each Regional appearance since 1999, seven for each Super Regional appearance, 10 for each College World Series appearance, 20 points for each national title, five points for each first-team All-American, three points for each second-team All-American, and two points for each third-team All-American. The 2008 study also awarded five points for producing a National Player of the Year and two points for producing a National Freshman of the Year.

The most recent study also factored in each teams' overall competitive level both inside its respective conference and against the nation's Top 50 programs. NCAA attendance figures and facilities also graded into the equation, as well as the NCAA's new Academic Progress Rate (APR), which Tulane stands well ahead of the national curve.

-----Tulane Players of the Week-----

Shooter Hunt

Conference USA Pitcher of the Week

CollegeBaseballInsider.com Central Region Pitcher of the Week
-- March 10 --

Hunt struck out a then season-high 11 batters in Tulane's 2-0 victory over UC Irvine. He allowed just three base-runners during his time on the mound - three via walk, one on an error, one on a hit-by-pitch and one hit - and just two Ant eater runners got as far as second base. Hunt had a no-hitter going into the sixth before UC Irvine shortstop Ben Orloff hit a two-out single to left. Hunt posted at least one strikeout in each inning, including two-K stanzas in the third, fifth, sixth and seventh innings. Of the nine non-strikeout outs recorded during his time on the mound, six were of the ground ball variety and only one reached the outfield.

Shooter Hunt

Conference USA Pitcher of the Week

-- March 17 --

Hunt posted 10 strikeouts and gave up just a pair of hits while throwing a season-best 8.0 innings in a 3-0 victory over Oakland. Facing an Oakland team that entered the weekend hitting a robust .315, Hunt held the Golden Grizzlies to two singles and posted at least one strikeout in each inning, including two-K stanzas in the fifth and the eighth. He allowed just six base runners on the day - two via hit and four via walk - and allowed just two runners to get past second base. While the defense was perfect behind him, Hunt helped his own cause by picking off a runner at first in the sixth inning.

Seth Henry

Louisiana Sports Writers Association Hitter of the Week

-- March 31 --

Henry hit .625 (10-for-16) with a 1.125 slugging percentage on the strength of five doubles and a home run while driving in eight runs and scoring five more in Tulane's four-game week. He had at least two hits in all four games, including three-hit performances at Southeastern Louisiana on March 25, and at UAB on March 29. He also recorded at least one extra-base hit and one RBI in each contest. Henry went 3-for-4 with a double and four RBI at SLU before going 2-for-3 with a double, a home run and two RBI in the opener vs. UAB. He posted his second three-hit game of the week in game two when he posted a double and an RBI, and wrapped up the week by going 2-for-5 with a pair of doubles and an RBI.

Matt Petiton

Conference USA Pitcher of the Week

Louisiana Sports Writers Association Pitcher of the Week

-- April 14 --

Petiton came out of the bullpen to post a pair of wins, eight strikeouts and no walks while allowing just one run on two hits in 10.0 innings of work. For the week, he posted a 0.90 ERA and a .067 opponent batting average (2-for-30). Against Nicholls State on April 8, he allowed one run on two hits and a pair of strikeouts while facing just one more than the minimum in 4.0 innings. Against Houston on April 12, he was even better.no-hit innings to earn the victory. Petiton entered the ballgame with runners at first and second and nobody out in the fourth, and after plunking the first batter he faced, retired the next 18 in a row - including six via strikeout, which tied his career best - to lead the Green Wave to a 7-5 victory.

Rob Segedin

Conference USA Co-Hitter of the Week

College Baseball Foundation National All-Star Lineup
-- April 21 --

Segedin hit .600 (9-for-15) with a 1.000 slugging percentage with two home runs and seven RBI during his time at the plate while also posting a pair of saves, a .071 opponent batting average (1-for-14) and a flawless 0.00 ERA in two appearances and 4.0 innings of work on the mound. He posted at least two hits and an RBI in all four games last week, including a three-hit outing in Sunday's series finale vs. Southern Miss. In addition to his prowess at the plate, Segedin also got the job done on the mound. Against SLU, he allowed a double in the eighth and was able to pitch himself out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth to earn his first career save. In game two of the Southern Miss series, he was even better as he retired all six batters he faced, including three via strikeout.

Shooter Hunt

Louisiana Sports Writers Association Pitcher of the Week

-- April 21 --

Hunt posted his sixth victory of the 2008 campaign after striking out a season-best 12 batters in seven-plus innings in a 4-3 victory over Southern Miss. He tallied at least one strikeout in six of the seven innings he tossed, including a pair of two-K stanzas while striking out the side in both the sixth and seventh innings. Hunt anned all three batters in the sixth on nine consecutive pitches.

He had a no-hitter through four and only gave up two hits during his time on the hill. Of the two runs he allowed, the first came on an inside-the-park home run that saw the outfielder collide with the wall and lay motionless while the runner plodded all the way around the bases, and the other came after he left the game in the eighth.

Shooter Hunt

Conference USA Pitcher of the Week

Louisiana Sports Writers Association Pitcher of the Week

-- May 12 --

Hunt tallied nine strikeouts and allowed just one earned run on five hits and three walks in a 5-4 series-opening victory over C-USA foe East Carolina. He did not allow more than one base runner in any of his seven-plus innings - giving up a two-out triple in the first, one-out singles in the second and fourth innings, a leadoff single in the fifth and single walks in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. The only runners to advance 90 feet on any occasion came when East Carolina designated hitter Kyle Roller and right fielder Jamie Ray stole second base in the third and seventh innings, respectively. Overall, Hunt held the Pirate hitters to an 0-for-15 showing with runners on base.

6 • Jonny Weiss
Jr. • INF • 5-11 • 185
Greenwich, Conn. • Greenwich HS/Boston College

Season Highlights

Played in seven games as a junior...came off the bench to play third base primarily where he has two assists in as many opportunities...has just four at-bats in 2008 and is still looking for his first hit of the season...had to overcome the loss of his father during the year, as Stephen Weiss passed away back on April 14.
