2006-07 MILESTONES & ACCOMPLISHMENTS

• UC Davis completed its fourth and final year of the reclassification process to NCAA Division I membership. The NCAA will officially notify the university of its D-I status later in the summer of 2007. Seventeen of the 26 Aggie teams will begin competition in the Big West Conference this fall. The media relations office will unveil an upgraded CSTV athletics website, which should go “live” in August.

• Five former student-athletes and a former coach were inducted into Cal Aggie Athletics Hall of Fame in June. Alphabetically, the 25th induction class consisted of Tea Austin (swimming), Peter Faeth (soccer), Patrick Foster (swimming/water polo), Dante Ross (basketball) and Allison Stonebarger (lacrosse); plus former volleyball coach Marlene Piper. The annual Hall of Fame ceremonies also featured the student-athlete awards. Derek Moore (wrestling, see below) won the Colby E. “Babe” Slater Award as outstanding male athlete of the year, Katherine O'Rourke (water polo) captured the Heitman Award as female athlete of the year and Louie Bishop (golf) earned the W.P. Lindley Award as the university's top scholar-athlete of the year. Additionally, women's cross country picked up its sixth Marya Welch Award while men's water polo and men's swimming & diving shared the Lysle Leach Award for the top team GPAs for the year.

• On April 1, UC Davis women's lacrosse soundly defeated Saint Mary's, 17-5, in the historic first contest at Aggie Stadium, the university's new multi-use stadium. Although the facility was only partially operational at the time, Aggie Stadium later hosted the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation Championships. The six-team tournament showcased the stadium's sound system and video screen. The new facility, the crown jewel of the 1999 Facilities And Campus Enhancement (FACE) Initiative, will host its first UC Davis football game on September 1. The Aggie football team ended its 57-year run at Toomey Field with a 191-86-8.

• Derek Moore captured the 141-pound title at the NCAA Wrestling Championships, defeating Northwestern's Ryan Lang in a nationally televised bout in Auburn Hills, Mich. In doing so, he became the first Aggie wrestler to earn Division I All-America honors and the first UC Davis student-athlete to win an NCAA D-I title. Furthermore, he was selected as the Outstanding Wrestler of the national tournament, helping the Aggies post a 22nd-place finish. Moore later was named Pacific-10 Conference Wrestler of the Year, while Lennie Zalesky won Coach of the Year, both becoming the first Aggies to garner those honors. As a team, UC Davis finished at No. 25 in the National Wrestling Coaches Association final poll, yet another first for the program.

• During the Division I reclassification process, UC Davis student-athletes were not eligible to officially rank among NCAA statistical leaders in most sports, but were listed alongside the rankings for reference purposes. Among the notable “would be” Aggie leaders, football's senior safety Jonathan Barsi posted six interceptions in 11 games, which would have placed him in a tie for third. Women's lacrosse midfielder Megan O'Connor finished 10th nationally with 3.22 ground balls per game. Quarterback Jon Grant was among the Division I Championship Subdivision (formerly I-AA) top 10 in total offense, passing yards, passing yards per game and completions per game.

• Junior infielder Daniel Descalso was selected in the third round (112th overall pick) by the St. Louis Cardinals in the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft in June. He is the program's highest-ever Aggie pick, surpassing pitcher Justin Reid, who was selected by the Pittsburgh Pirates in the fourth round (No. 122) in 1999. Senior outfielder Aaron Hanke (Arizona) and junior outfielder Ryan Royster (Cleveland) were second-day selections in the draft, taken in the 38th and 44th rounds, respectively. Descalso and Hanke reported to their clubs later in the month, joining Dave McKae (Double-A Connecticut), Ryan Coultas (High-A St. Lucie) and Tyler LaTorre (Short Season-A Salem-Keizer) among former Aggies in minor league baseball.

• Cal Aggie Athletics Hall of Fame member Pam Gill-Fisher retired from athletics at the conclusion of the 2006 calendar year, ending a distinguished career as a coach and administrator. Most recently the senior woman administrator and senior associate athletics director, Gill-Fisher had served on numerous NCAA and National Association of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators (NACWAA) committees. In 2001, she was selected as the NCAA Division II Administrator of the Year for the latter organization. Gill-Fisher returned to a faculty position, teaching a popular upper-division physical education course titled “Sports In American Society”. She was replaced in March by Nona Richardson, previously the associate director of athletics at Ball State.

• With a 37-27 victory over the University of San Diego, the Aggie football team secured its 37th straight winning season, extending a streak that dates back to Jim Sochor's first season at the helm. After the season, wide receiver Tony Kays (Cincinnati) and offensive tackle Elliot Vallejo (Arizona) each signed free-agent contracts.

• Highlighting a string of accolades that concluded his senior season, Louie Bishop was selected by the Golf Coaches Association of America (GCAA) as one of five finalists for the 2007 Byron Nelson Award, presented by Cleveland Golf. Bishop, who earned ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America third-team honors and set a school record with a 70.7 scoring average, is the first UC Davis golfer to earn such consideration for the Nelson.

• The 2006-07 athletics year was a particularly decorated one for two former UC Davis football players. On January 3, Chris Petersen (1985-86) guided Boise State to a thrilling 43-42 victory over Oklahoma in the 36th-annual Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz. Petersen, a member of the Cal Aggie Athletics Hall of Fame and winner of the Colby E. “Babe” Slater Award as a senior, took over as Bronco head coach after another Aggie, Dan Hawkins, was selected for the football helm at the University of Colorado. More than six months later and almost 6,000 miles away, quarterback J.T. O'Sullivan (1998-2001) was selected as Co-Offensive MVP of NFL Europa. O'Sullivan led the league in passing rating (104.8), passing yards (2,201) and touchdown passes (16), helping the Frankfurt Galaxy to a 7-3 record and a berth in World Bowl XV.
