2015-16 PRESEASON NOTES

MEN'S BASKETBALL FASTBREAK POINTS

- University of Massachusetts men's basketball produced winning records overall and in Atlantic 10 Conference games for the fourth consecutive season in 2014-15 and finished 17-15 on the year with a 10-8 mark against league foes.
- Head coach Derek Kellogg completed his seventh season at the helm of the program in 2014-15. Kellogg, a 1995 graduate of the University of Massachusetts, sports a 126-101 career record, the third-most wins by a head coach in the 115 year history of the program.
- Senior center Cady Lalanne was drafted into the NBA by the San Antonio Spurs with the 55th overall selection on June 26, 2015. He was the 16th Minuteman taken in the NBA draft in program history and first since Stephane Lasme heard his name called in 2007. Lalanne was the only Atlantic 10 Conference player chosen this year.
- Donte Clark emerged as a freshman scoring threat over the course of the 2014-15 season and started the final 18 games of the year. The 6-foot-4 guard averaged 9.6 points, 2.5 rebounds and 2.0 assists in 23.2 minutes per game. He scored in double figures 15 times and led the team in points during five games. A scoring threat from outside, Clark made 29 3-pointers and had at least one in 18 games. In addition to his perimeter game, Clark ended the year 13th in the Atlantic 10 for free throw percentage (.762; 96-126).
- Trey Davis cemented his impact at the point as the Texas native recorded single-season personal bests in points per game (10.8), field goals made (110), three-point field goals made (47), free throws made (79), total rebounds (89) and assists (121). Davis finished second in the Atlantic 10 for free throw percentage (.823; 79-96) and was also fifth in assists per game (3.8) and sixth for assist-to-turnover ratio (1.9).
- Jabarie Hinds improved his three-point field goal shooting accuracy during league games in 2014-15 and capped his junior year tied for 15th among A-10 shooters with a .379 conversion rate. Hinds also improved his assist-to-turnover ratio to 1.33 against Atlantic 10 defenders.
- Trey Davis' junior season catapulted him into the University of Massachusetts record book for career free throw percentage. Davis begins 2015-16 with the fifth-best conversion percentage (.787) all-time at UMass with 177 made in 225 attempts.
- The Minutemen moved into their new home during the Summer 2015, the John Francis Kennedy Champions Center for UMass Basketball. The 53,000 square foot dedicated facility features full practice courts, a strength and conditioning suite, state-of-the-art athletic training space, office and meeting areas for the coaches and team, a theatre-style film room, a UMass basketball hall of fame as well as additional spaces for team meals, equipment management and miscellaneous team-related resources.

FREE THROW SHOOTING CARRIES MINUTEMEN

UMass ranked 55th in the country for free throws made (532) and 23rd in attempts (756), with per game averages of 17.1 made and 24.2 attempts, during the 2014-15 season. The Minutemen have made at least 10 free throws in 29 of 32 games and hit more than their opponents attempted on 11 occasions.

Among all NCAA Division I men's basketball programs, the Minutemen had the most free throws made among teams who played in 32 or fewer contests during 2014-15.

DAVIS TURNING IT UP

Trey Davis dialed up his performances during the final two months of the season and averaged 11.8 points, 4.0 assists and 2.8 rebounds during the second half of the campaign. He has made 35 of the team's 102 3-pointers during the stretch, which encompasses the last 21 games.

The East Dallas native had been automatic at the free throw line, where he made 33 consecutive attempts prior to a second-half miss at Rhode Island on Feb. 18. His streak tied Chaz Williams for the UMass record of consecutive makes against a conference opponent. Donta Bright holds the school record for consecutive made free throws from when Bright knocked down 40-straight from Jan. 10-Feb. 1, 1996. Davis made 43-of-47 (.915) taken during the final minute of play in 2014-15.

Davis notched 15 double-figure scoring games as a junior, with nine in Atlantic 10 play, and he finished the year third among Minutemen in scoring at 10.8 points per game.

CONTROLLING THE GLASS

UMass helped control the tempo and possession over the final 17 games of the year with its rebounding prowess, highlighted by Cady Lalanne's 9.5 boards per appearance in 2014-15. The Minutemen out-rebounded their opponent in 15 of the final 17 games. Below is a rebounding breakdown as well as how those boards translated into second chance points opportunities.

ROSTER BREAKDOWN FOR THE 2015-16 CAMPAIGN

Massachusetts men's basketball returns key starters at guard in Trey Davis and Donte Clark and looks to reload with a trio of new big men in graduate student Antwan Space and freshmen Malik Hines and Rashaan Holloway as the Minutemen look to contend for their fifth consecutive winning season in 2015-16.

Davis led the Minutemen at the point as a junior, his first season starting at the position. The Texas native notched a team-best 121 assists for an average of 3.8 per game, the fifth-highest total in the Atlantic 10 Conference. A threat to shoot as much as to pass, Davis added the third-most points per game on the team (10.8) and led the squad with 47 made three-point field goals.

Clark produced one of the best rookie campaigns in recent years at UMass with 9.6 points, 2.5 rebounds and 2.0 assists per game over 32 appearances and 18 starts. Clark led the team in scoring during five games while he provided an additional threat from outside with 29 made 3-pointers and had at least one in 18 games.

Also back is a key reserve guard with explosive scoring capability in Jabarie Hinds, who played off the bench in all but six games during 2014-15. Hinds totaled 8.1 points, 2.2 assists, 1.2 rebounds and 1.0 steals per game in his first season playing for the Minutemen after he spent his freshman and sophomore seasons at West Virginia.

Space joins the program from Texas A&M (2012-15) by way of Florida State (2011-12). Over his three competitive seasons at A&M, Space notched 5.5 points and 3.9 rebounds per game during 55 appearances, including 24 starts at forward. He will help guide a young group of post players alongside senior Tyler Bergantino as two rookies in Hines and Holloway figure to see important minutes.

Hines drew interest from major college basketball programs such as Kentucky, Louisville and LSU before signing with UMass. He completed his senior season at Life Center Academy in New Jersey after three years at Murrah High School in Jackson, Miss., which included a junior season where Hines averaged 15 points and nine rebounds per game. Holloway enters his UMass career as a three-star recruit according to ESPN, ranked as No. 7 player from New Jersey, No. 38 at center and No. 42 in his region. Holloway also held offers from Delaware, Drexel, La Salle, Marshall, Rider, Seton Hall and Temple.

Seth Berger adds depth at forward as he returns from an injury that sidelined him for the final 24 games in 2014-15 after Berger began the season as a starter in the first eight contests. Disruptive on the defensive end in particular, Berger had 11 steals over his limited time on the court, including at least one each of his last six games prior to injury.

Two additional underclassmen will look to improve on their flashes of success in limited time during 2014-15 as true sophomore C.J. Anderson and redshirt sophomore Zach Coleman enter their second competitive seasons with the Maroon and White. Anderson played in 29 games and had 41 rebounds with 30 points, 17 assists and nine steals as a rookie while Coleman chipped in 2.5 points and 1.9 rebounds per game with an appearance in each contest during 2014-15.

Zach Lewis, a transfer from Canisius College who must sit out the season due to NCAA policy, and Zach Turcotte, a walk-on forward and Massachusetts native, round out the 12-man roster. Lewis played in 65 games with 52 starts and averaged 30.4 minutes per appearance over two seasons at Canisius, where he earned MAAC all-conference and all-rookie team honors. He brings 717 points (11.0 per game), 169 rebounds (2.6) and 135 assists (2.1) with him to Amherst.

FRESHMAN SUCCESS STORY

Donte Clark provided one of the best recent rookie season success stories in UMass basketball history in 2014-15 as the true freshman produced 9.6 points, 2.5 rebounds and 2.0 assists in 23.2 minutes per game. Clark started the final 18 games and appeared in all 32 contests while he scored in double figures during 15 contests.

Clark led the team in scoring during five games while he provided an additional threat from outside with 29 made 3-pointers and had at least one in 18 games. The Charlotte, N.C., native set a career high with 25 points, including a 3-of-4 line from outside the arc in Springfield against Florida Gulf Coast on Dec. 7 while he added a team-high 23 points with four assists on a career-best 5-for-7 performance from 3-point range during a 66-59 win over La Salle at home on Feb. 8.

UMASS IN THE MULLINS CENTER

UMass was successful in the Mullins Center during 2014-15 and finished with a 10-4 record. Over the past four seasons, the Minutemen went 39-11 in regular-season games and 23-10 in Atlantic 10 contests in the facility. UMass completed its 22nd season playing at the William D. Mullins Memorial Center and holds an all-time record of 211-92 (.702) at the facility.

DEREK KELLOGG

EIGHT SEASON AS HEAD COACH MASSACHUSETTS, 1995

In his eighth season at the helm of his alma mater, UMass men's basketball head coach Derek Kellogg has guided the Minutemen back to prominence with national postseason appearances in the NCAA Tournament and NIT, culminating in 126 head coach victories for the 1995 UMass graduate entering 2015-16.

Kellogg, already the third-winningest coach in the 100-plus year history of UMass basketball, moved the Minutemen down the block to the program's new home, the John Francis Kennedy Champions Center for UMass Basketball ahead of the 2015-16 season. The 53,000-square foot basketball-centric facility offers one of the top homes in college basketball with dedicated practice courts, full athletic training and strength and conditioning suites, a cinema-style film room and additional space for team meetings and meals, coach and administrative offices and a connector tunnel to the Mullins Center.

Kellogg's noted success as a recruiter, combined with the new dedicated home for basketball at UMass, helped the eighth-year leader land a top-25 class for the 2016-17 school year. The group, comprised of Chris Baldwin, Brison Gresham, DeJon Jarreau and Unique McLean, ranks 22nd in the nation according to 247Sports and 25th via ESPN and Rivals.

Massachusetts picked up its fourth consecutive winning season in 2014-15, spearheaded by Kellogg and a pair of then-seniors and current professional basketball players, Maxie Esho and Cady Lalanne. Esho, who recently signed an NBA D-League contract, and Lalanne, the 55th pick of the 2015 NBA Draft (San Antonio Spurs), assisted Kellogg in winning 17 games and finishing tied for sixth in the talent-rich Atlantic 10.

In 2013-14 those efforts brought the program back to the national spotlight. UMass opened the year with 10-consecutive victories and collected the Charleston Classic championship as it rose to a top-20 ranking - its first time in the polls since early in the 1998-99 campaign. The squad eventually was slotted as high as No. 12 in the coaches poll and No. 13 in the Associated Press ledger and spent 10 weeks and played 15 games as a ranked team.

The year secured UMass a No. 6 seed in the NCAA Tournament after the program had not achieved that benchmark since 1998. Senior Chaz Williams capped his Minuteman career with his third consecutive appearance on first team all-district and all-conference listings.

UMass also continued its rise at the gate as the team averaged 6,600 fans, putting season attendance numbers at a 100 percent increase over the previous three years. The Minutemen sold-out six games at the Mullins Center and, by year's end, UMass' home attendance had increased by 1,345 fans from 2012-13 to 2013-14, ranking 10th nationally.

The 2013-14 campaign marked the second-consecutive year the Minutemen appeared in the top-30 for the largest increase from the previous year. The 6,600 home attendance average was the highest since the 1998-99 campaign, while the single-season increase was the largest since moving into the Mullins Center midway through the 1992-93 year. It was also the eighth-highest average in school history.

The Minutemen posted 21 victories during 2012-13, including their second NIT appearance in as many seasons. Williams picked up his second consecutive first team all-conference and NABC all-district laurels and became the first player to go back-to-back in both categories since Rashaun Freeman (2005-07).

During 2011-12, Kellogg's tutelage led Massachusetts to a 25-11 overall record and advanced to the semifinals of the Atlantic 10 Championship and the NIT. Kellogg's energy as a coach, mimicked by the squad on the court, earned UMass a tied for fifth finish in the A-10 after the squad was picked 12th in the preseason poll. Kellogg also installed his up-tempo offense to go along with a pressure defense that resulted in a team breaking the school record for steals, while ranking in the top five nationally in possessions per game.

Leading the way during 2011-12 was Williams, who tallied first team all-Atlantic 10 and NABC all-district after averaging 16.9 points, 6.2 assists and 4.4 rebounds per game. Williams set UMass sophomore records for assists (231) and steals (81).

The friendly confines of the Mullins Center and its home crowd helped the team earn a 15-1 mark during games played in Amherst. The Minutemen played before four crowds of more than 6,200 in the final six games, including a season-high 8,399 in the victory over Saint Louis.

In addition to infusing energy on the sidelines and court, Kellogg-led UMass teams have re-dedicated themselves to the local and regional community the cheers on the Minutemen. Kellogg serves as the Honorary Co-Chairman of the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation for the Northern Connecticut/Western Massachusetts chapter, while participating with the entire team in the JDRF Walk to Cure Diabetes. He has also lent his time to the Clarke Schools for Hearing and Speech and Baystate Children's Hospital of Springfield/Children's Miracle Network.

In 2010-11, Kellogg guided UMass to its best start since the 1995-96 Final Four campaign as the Minutemen opened the year with a 7-0 mark. UMass also posted its first seven-game win streak since 1998 and finished 15-15 in 2010-11.

Kellogg capped his second season with an Atlantic 10 Tournament appearance and first round victory, the first in eight years, as UMass knocked off No. 6 seed Charlotte, 59-56. In his first year as the head coach at UMass, Kellogg led the Minutemen to one of their most thrilling wins in recent memory, an epic win over defending NCAA Champion Kansas in Kansas City before a nationally-televised audience on ESPN. UMass senior Tony Gaffney was honored as the Atlantic 10's Defensive Player of the Year in 2009 as well as being named to the A-10 All-Conference Second Team. Gaffney led the A-10 in rebounding and averaged a double-double with 11.5 points and 10.2 rebounds per game. He was UMass' first player to average a double-double in 30 years. Ricky Harris collected Atlantic 10 All-Conference Third Team after he produced 18.2 points per game, the highest scoring average for any returning player in 2009-10.

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS MEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM RECORD BOOK

Kellogg's first full recruiting class at UMass (Sampson Carter, Javorn Farrell, Raphiael Putney, Freddie Riley and Terrell Vinson) was named one of the nation's top groups and the consensus best class in the Atlantic 10 according to multiple publications. Kellogg guided Putney, Riley and Vinson to 1,000-point careers at UMass while members of the quintet went on to help Kellogg win 97 games from 2009-14 and make three national postseason appearances.

Kellogg was named the 21st head coach in University of Massachusetts men's basketball history on April 23, 2008. He returned to his alma mater for his first head coaching opportunity after serving as an assistant coach for 12 years, the last eight at the University of Memphis under former UMass head coach and Naismith Hall of Fame inductee John Calipari. The energetic and hard-working Kellogg is largely credited for recruiting many of the student-athletes who helped Memphis reach the 2008 NCAA Championship Game and record eight consecutive 20-win seasons with as many consecutive postseason berths, and Kellogg has continued his strong recruiting efforts at UMass.

Kellogg spent eight years on the Memphis staff alongside Calipari where he brought his "coach on the floor" mentality at UMass to the sidelines, and it produced results for the Tigers. In Kellogg's eight seasons in Memphis, he helped the Tigers to eight-straight 20-win seasons and eight consecutive postseason berths (NCAA: 2003, '04, '06, '07, '08; NIT: 2001, '02, '05). It marked the first time the Memphis basketball program reached eight consecutive national postseasons, breaking the previous mark of six-in-a-row from 1988-93.

In 2007-08, Kellogg was an integral part of another magical Tiger campaign, which continued through to the 2008 NCAA Tournament Championship Game. The NCAA Final Four appearance was the Tigers' first since 1985 and the NCAA title contest was the program's first since 1973. Memphis set an NCAA single-season record for victories with 38 wins (38-2 mark) and held down the No. 1 spot in both national polls for five-straight weeks during the season. The Tigers finished 2007-08 ranked No. 2 in the nation, the highest final ranking in school history. Memphis also won a school-record 26-straight games and swept the Conference USA regular season and tournament titles for a third-consecutive season.

The Tigers won 30 games for a third-straight year in 2007-08, becoming the second school in NCAA Division I history to accomplish the feat. Kentucky was the first to do so from 1947-49 and 1996-98. UCLA joined the elite group later in 2007-08. From 2005-06 to 2007-08, Memphis won 104 games (104-10 record) and tied the 1996-98 Kentucky squads for the most victories in a three-year period in NCAA Division I history.

In 2006-07, Kellogg helped lead Memphis to another record-setting campaign. The Tigers won 33 games for a second-straight season (33-4 record) and captured their second-consecutive Conference USA regular season and tournament titles. The back-to-back outright regular season crowns were a first for the Memphis program, and the consecutive tournament championships were the Tigers first since they won two-straight Metro Conference Tournaments in 1984 and 1985. Memphis advanced to the NCAA Tournament Elite Eight for a second-straight year (2006, 2007), marking the first time in school history that happened.

The 2006-07 Tigers also pulled a first in Conference USA history. Memphis posted a perfect 16-0 regular season mark and captured the league's postseason tournament. The Tigers were the second squad in C-USA history to go 16-0 in the regular season as Cincinnati did so in 1999-2000. That Bearcat team, though, did not win the Conference USA Tournament title. The Tigers received a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament and finished in the top 10 in both national polls (No. 5/AP; No. 7/ESPN-USA Today).

Kellogg also played an integral role in the Tigers' 2005-06 remarkable season. Memphis posted a 33-4 record and won the Conference USA regular season and tournament titles. The conference regular season crown was the Tigers' second in three years. The 2005-06 Memphis squad earned the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament No. 1 seed and advanced to the Elite Eight for the first time since 1992. The Tigers finished the season ranked in the top 10 of both national polls (No. 4/AP; No. 6/ESPN-USA Today). Those final rankings were the highest in Memphis basketball history at the time.

From when Kellogg joined the Memphis staff in 2000-01, the Tigers won the 2002 National Invitation Tournament Championship, claimed a share of the 2004 Conference USA regular season crown and took home the 2002 and 2003 C-USA National Division titles. The Tigers posted 219 overall victories (27.3 wins per year) and 101 conference wins (12.6 league victories per year) in his eight seasons. The eight years prior to that span, the Tigers only had 140 total wins and 66 conference victories.

In addition to the 2006-08 final national rankings, the Tigers also finished the 2003 (No. 19) and 2004 (No. 24) seasons ranked in the final Associated Press poll. Prior to the 2002-03 and 2003-04 seasons, the last time Memphis was ranked in the final polls in consecutive years was the 1984-85 and 1985-86 campaigns.

Kellogg was an off-campus recruiter for the Tigers and also assisted in scouting opponents. His hard work -- especially on the recruiting trail -- gained him national recognition. In the summer of 2007, Rivals.com listed Kellogg (No. 7 spot) as one of the nation's 10 assistants "ready to move up." A year earlier in 2006, the same web site named Kellogg as one of the nation's top 25 recruiters, and HoopScoop magazine tabbed him as one of the nation's top assistant coaches.

Prior to joining Calipari's staff, Kellogg spent one season at Youngstown State. In his lone year at Youngstown State, Kellogg was a member of a coaching staff led by former UMass assistant John Robic that rallied a community around Penguin basketball. Youngstown State finished fourth in the Mid-Continent Conference regular season standings, despite the absence of leading scorer Elmer Brown for the final seven games of the regular season. Youngstown State signed a freshman class that included three top-100 recruits during Kellogg's tenure.

Kellogg joined the Youngstown State staff after two seasons at George Mason University in Fairfax, Va., where he worked for Jim Larranaga. The Patriots posted a 19-11 record during the 1998-99 season, captured the Colonial Athletic Association regular season and tournament championships and earned an automatic bid to the 1999 NCAA Tournament.

As a four-year letterwinner at Massachusetts from 1992-95, Kellogg played on four Atlantic 10 Conference regular season and tournament championship teams. The Minutemen were just the second team in NCAA history to win four-straight outright season and tournament championships.

During his four-year career at UMass under Calipari, the Minutemen were 111-24, including 51-11 in the Atlantic 10, and advanced to the NCAA Tournament each year, including the Elite Eight in 1995. Kellogg was named the team's captain as a junior and senior, earned Atlantic 10 All-Conference in 1995 and picked up three Atlantic 10 All-Academic honors. Kellogg ranks fifth in assists (453) and seventh in three-pointers (138) as well as seventh in three-point percentage (38.1) all-time at UMass.

Kellogg played his high school basketball at Springfield Cathedral where he was a two-time Massachusetts All-State player and McDonald's All-America Honorable Mention.

Following graduation from UMass, Kellogg pursued professional basketball before he began his coaching career at his alma mater. He was a graduate assistant and part-time radio broadcaster at UMass for the 1996-97 season after he played a season with the Connecticut Skyhawks in the United States Basketball League in 1995.

Kellogg, 42 (born June 20, 1973), is a 1995 graduate of Massachusetts with a degree in real estate and finance. In May 2005, he married Nicole Flory, who graduated from UMass in 1997. The couple welcomed their first child, Maximus Antonio, on April 28, 2008, five days after he was hired at UMass. Kellogg's parents, George and Ruth, currently reside in Belchertown, Mass.
