SIMPLY REB!

Please remember that UNLV (acronym on all references) is home to the REBEL baseball team. Only the men's basketball team is nicknamed the RUNNIN' REBELS. The women's basketball and women's tennis teams are the only squads nicknamed the LADY REBELS.

ROGER BARNSON FIELD AT EARL E. WILSON STADIUM

The UNLV baseball program boasts one of the top facilities in college baseball. The 3,000-seat Earl E. Wilson Baseball Stadium at Roger Barnson Field is a beautiful attraction, drawing the best teams in college baseball to Las Vegas.

The latest upgrade to the stadium was the installation of a new scoreboard in left field that has a readerboard to display statistics, advertisements and other announcements. The new scoreboard was part of UNLV's agreement with International Sports Properties, Inc. (ISP Sports) to work together with UNLV's multi-media rights and corporate sales and sponsorship development for athletics, special events and entertainment.

The home of the Rebels received close to $25,000 in renovations in December of 2007, as the stadium received a new playing surface. The old infield was removed, new infield dirt was brought in and the infield was laser-leveled and finish graded. A new infield irrigation system was installed, new infield sod was laid, as well as new grass along the edge of the outfield and the area behind home plate.

The stadium dedication was held on Saturday, January 29, 1994 in conjunction with the UNLV Alumni game. A crowd of 2,500 attended the game and grand opening ceremonies.

A gift of $1.2 million was used for the construction of Wilson Stadium. The total gift of $6.6 million was donated from the estate of the late Earl and Hazel Wilson.

The Wilsons, married for over 50 years, came to Las Vegas in the 1930's and were involved in a number of Las Vegas business ventures. Earl Wilson held a gaming license since 1948 and was a major stockholder in the Golden Nugget Hotel. He once played semi-professional baseball in Oregon and was an avid golfer.

"Earl was a big baseball fan," said Mel Wolzinger, who is the co-trustee of the Wilson Estate. "Baseball was one of his great loves. It's a great honor to have his name associated with this outstanding facility. The stadium is a first class facility, which symbolizes the first class people that Earl and Hazel were.

"The Wilsons were involved in the Las Vegas community for more than 50 years. It's a great tribute that they could help the University of Nevada, Las Vegas both academically and athletically with this donated gift."

Ground was broken on August 2, 1993, and the stadium was completed in January of 1994. The stadium features two types of seats - 2,500 theater-type seats and 500 bleacher-back seats. Other assets include a 60-foot enclosed press box, restrooms and concession areas for fans, a public address system, batter's eye in center field, a backstop, paved parking for 400 cars, and stadium entrance complete with disabled access (tunnel and ramp).

Originally named Hustlin' Rebel Field, the ballpark's official stadium dedication was held on April 1, 1973 when the USC Trojans defeated the Rebels 9-2 in front of nearly 1,500 fans.

From 1980-93, the ballpark was renamed in honor of the late UNLV assistant athletic director, Roger Barnson. An avid baseball supporter and former mound ace at Arizona State University, Barnson lost his life in an automobile accident on March 14, 1980.

Television arrived at the UNLV baseball diamond in May of 1977 when the University of Hawaii televised a three-game series with UNLV. In May of 1977, the stadium attendance record was set when over 5,000 people crammed into Rebel Field to watch the Kenny Rogers Celebrity-News Media Softball Game benefiting the Nevada Special Olympics.

Night baseball came to UNLV when lights were installed in June of 1982. The lights consist of eight standards for a total of 144 fixtures, with 1,500 watt metal halide. The lights, which came to a total cost of $180,000, were installed by Stratton Electric of Las Vegas.

In July of 1984, the infield grass was replaced with Santa Ana Hybrid, and the infield dirt was replaced with crushed brick added with a powder stabilizer from Phoenix, Arizona. In August of 1997, the infield was replaced with Aquarius soil underneath and infield dirt from Las Vegas rock infield mix. The outfield fence was also replaced and now stands twelve feet high. The fence, in place since the 1997 season, displays advertising.

In September of 1984, a $155,000 scoreboard was installed beyond the left field fence by Young Electric Sign Company. The scoreboard stood 35 feet high with "message grams" on both sides of the board.

Former Rebel head coach Fred Dallimore worked on the project for two years. He helped negotiate a lease purchase arrangement with Young Electric Sign Company. "The one item I would like to stress is that the scoreboard will not take anything away from the educational dollars that the state provides for the University," Dallimore said, in 1984.

The park dimensions are 335 feet down the left and right field lines, 375 feet in the power alleys, and 400 feet to straightaway center field.
