The Rebels' season came to an end on May 12 when the team was eliminated from the Mountain West Conference Tournament in a 1-0 defeat to Utah. The Rebels went 2-2 in tournament action, but couldn't overcome an early setback to the Utes. UNLV closed out the season with a 26-37 record, in what was a long and arduous season to say the least.

Mountain West Conference Sends Three To Regionals

For the first time in conference history, the Mountain West had three teams move on to post-season play. With Utah winning the automatic bid into the 2006 NCAA Tournament, the selection committee decided to take San Diego State (regular season champions) and BYU (second-place in the regular season), as well.

Prior to 2006, the most conference teams taken to the NCAA Tournament was two. In 2001, 2003 and 2005 the league had two schools make postseason trips. This year is the first, since the league began play that an even-numbered calendar year had more than one entry. The one constant in those even-numbered years, was that Utah was the lone school to advance. Utah kept its string of every other year appearances in the NCAA Tournament alive, while being joined by two familiar faces in SDSU and BYU.

Utah was shipped to the Austin Regional hosted by the third-seeded Texas Longhorns. Joining the Utes and 'Horns in Texas were the Indiana Hoosiers and the UTSA Roadrunners. The Utes dropped their first game to IU (3-0), but rebounded the following day with a win against those same Hoosiers (5-1). Following the victory, UU faced UTSA and disposed of them (3-2) for the right to play for the regional crown. Unfortunately, the host team knocked the Utes (3-0) out of the tournament.

San Diego State travelled north to Los Angeles for a regional hosted by the top-seeded UCLA Bruins. SDSU followed the same path that Utah took with two wins book-ended by two losses. The Aztecs were defeated by Long Beach State (1-0) and then picked up their first win over Missouri State (1-0). They exacted revenge on the 49ers with a 3-1 elimination win before succumbing to the Bruins in a 7-0 defeat.

BYU was the lone MWC school to host a regional, as Provo welcomed the 14th-seeded Washington Huskies, Kansas Jayhawks and Southern Utah Thunderbirds to town. BYU suffered a shut out 3-0 loss to KU on day one. The Cougars eliminated SUU 5-4 in their first game of day two, but were knocked out with a 2-1 loss to Kansas. Washington wound up winning the regional and advancing onto the Super Regionals.

2006 In Review

The 2006 season was an arduous one for the Rebels. The season began with high hopes and promise. The one constant coming in was that this would be one of the toughest schedules in UNLV softball history, as well as one of the most difficult in the nation.

The season began well for the Rebels with three straight wins in the Alexis Resort Kick Off Classic. The third win was punctuated with a Rosa Ordaz walk-off grand slam to defeat Illinois-Chicago. The team closed the classic with a 4-2 record.

The following week, UNLV hosted the Louisville Slugger Desert Classic with 23 other teams coming to town. The Rebels didn't have luck on their side as the team dropped its first game to Northwestern in late-inning fashion. The team then alternated wins and losses for to finish 2-3 overall. The biggest hit the team suffered was the loss of Jaci Hull for the remainder of the season due to a broken right hand suffered in a dramatic win against Kansas.

With the loss of Hull, UNLV's lineup was altered with Maggie Livreri shedding her catching gear and picking up a visor and an infielder's glove. Britney Hillyer took over catching duties for the remainder of the year with Rosa Ordaz getting some experience behind the dish, as well.

The team hit the road for the the Palm Springs Classic, but sandwiched three losses in between wins. The team defeated Oklahoma State and Ohio State, but lost close games to Texas A&M and Texas.

The Rebels returned home to host the UNLV Invitational, their third and final home tournament. UNLV won three of five and continued its dominance over its in-state rival, Nevada, Reno.

After hosting three of their first four weeks, the Rebels hit the road for 13 consecutive games over a three-week stretch. The squad traveled across the Pacific Ocean for five games at the Hawaiian Airlines Spring Fling Tournament. The Rebels won game one against Longwood. In its second game, Penn State got a walk-off grand slam to defeat the Rebels. UNLV wound up going 2-3 in Hawaii.

Unfortunately, the trip to the Islands began a downward spiral. The team went on a stretch of losing 10 straight contests and 12 of 13 overall.

After returning to Las Vegas for a day, the team headed West to California for a single game against then-No. 3 UCLA and to play in Cal State Fullerton's Judi Garman Classic. The Rebels made the affair in Los Angeles close until the Bruins opened up the scoring late.

In the Judi Garman Classic, the tea's competition was primarily top-25 caliber, except for Cal State Northridge. The team wound up going 0-5 in Fullerton.

The Rebel woes continued into the final weekend of the road trek. At Arizona State, UNLV was swept by the Sun Devils in a doubleheader.

Back in Las Vegas, the team hosted Missouri for a three-game set. The Tigers pushed UNLV's losing streak to 10 games, but the Rebels turned the tables and won games two and three of the series.

The first half of the Mountain West Conference season wasn't kind to the Rebels. UNLV dropped its first five games before closing out the first half 2-8. The second time around facing MWC foes, the team played .600 ball going 6-4.

A highlight of MWC play was ruining San Diego State's bid at an undefeated conference season. The Aztecs rolled into Las Vegas with a perfect mark and ranked 24th in the ESPN/USA Softball poll. But UNLV wrecked that with a 3-0 blanking.

In between MWC play, the Rebels went to Fullerton for the second time. In this trip, UNLV played Cal State Fullerton and wound up taking a split.

In the MWC Tournament, UNLV went 2-2 while alternating wins and losses. The Rebels defeated Colorado State and New Mexico, while suffering losses to San Diego State and Utah.

The loss to Utah was tough, in that, UNLV gave up the only run of the game on a sacrifice fly in the first inning. Christie Robinson entered the contest in the second inning and shut down the Ute offense. She did not allow a hit in 6.0 innings of work. The Rebels could only muster two hits by Brittany Freight and were eliminated in the 1-0 contest.

MWC Tournament, Offensively

In the four games of Mountain West Conference Tournament, the Rebels hit at a .213 clip as opposed to their opponents .233 batting average.

Brittany Freight led the team with a .400 (4-for-10) average.

Shannon Crisp plated three RBI, while collecting three hits (one home run) and scoring twice. Crisp was the lone Rebel named to the all-tournament team. She was the designated player.

MWC Tournament, Pitching

In the four games of Mountain West Conference Tournament, the Rebels held an ERA of 1.08, while their four opponents gave up 2.55 runs-per-game.

Shannon Crisp held an ERA of 0.00 in three appearances. Crisp went 2-1 in 15.0 innings. She struck out nine, while walking one. She allowed three runs to score, but all were unearned.

Never Backed Down

While many teams were playing lesser opponents, UNLV didn't shy away from the toughest competition. According to the website, WarrenNolan.com, the Rebels have the 16th toughest schedule in the country and an RPI of 68.

The Rebels finished 11-games below .500 with a 26-37 record. In those 37 losses, 16 of them came to programs ranked in the top 25 at gametime.

Of the losses UNLV has suffered this season, it can be said the team was in 25 of those 37 games. Although some of those final scores may have a wider margin of a run deficit, the game was close until the late innings.

Yeah, We Played Them

The Rebels played 63 games in 2006. The difficulty of this season's schedule can be broken down by stating how many games the team played against squads that reached the NCAA Regionals.

UNLV played a total of 41 games (65%) against 24 teams that advanced into post-season play. The team went 11-30 overall in those tussles.

Seven of the 16 teams that won regionals (UCLA, Northwestern, Texas, Washington, Arizona State, California and Arizona) were on this season's schedule.

Five of the eight teams that won NCAA Super Regionals (UCLA, Northwestern, Texas, Washington, Arizona State and Arizona) were on this season's schedule.

Both teams (Northwestern and Arizona) that reached the championship series played against UNLV this season.

Second Half Of The Mountain

After the first 10 games of Mountain West Conference play the Rebels sat 2-8. In the second half of conference play, UNLV played host to six games (San Diego State, BYU and Utah) as opposed to only four in the first 10.

Below is a breakdown of how the team had fared in the first and second halves of its season.

Year	1st	2nd
2006	2-8	6-4
2005	8-2	9-1

2003	2-6	2-8
2002*	3-7	5-1
2001	5-5	2-8
2000	1-9	2-8

*In '02, UNLV lost four games in the second half of the season - a DH against Utah was deemed as non-conference contests, while the two games at BYU were cancelled.

Year-By-Year Results

2004:	25-35
2005:	44-19*
2006:	26-37
Total:	95-91

*Third-most wins in school history.

Lonni Alameda has been at the helm of the UNLV softball program for three seasons now. She holds a 95-91 overall mark.

She has won at least 25 games in each season and in 2005 she took the Rebels to the schools' eighth postseason appearance.

2005's 44 wins ranked as the third-most in school history, while many records were broken and various student-athletes were recognized on the conference and national level for their achievements. She was named the MWC's Coach of the Year, while the NFCA recognized the staff as a whole as the West Region's Staff of the Year.

She came to UNLV following eight seasons spent on The Farm at Stanford University as an assistant/associate head coach.

Losing Three Seniors

With the end of the 2006 season, three seniors wore a Rebel softball uniform for the last time. Becky McDonald and Britney Hillyer played at Eller Media Stadium since they came to UNLV in 2003, while Maggie Livreri spent the final two years of her collegiate career as a Rebel.

Becky McDonald - In the record books: Ranked 10th in career pitching appearances (85) and 8th in career strikeouts (249).

Out of the circle, she started 94 of 141 games played. As a pitcher, she started 40 games and appeared in 85. She went 10-32 with two saves in 302.2 innings pitched.

Britney Hillyer - She spent her career behind the dish as a catcher with 114 starts in 147 games played. Defensively, she held a .985 fielding percentage in her four years.

Maggie Livreri - In the record books: Ranked in a tie for 10th for most games played in a single season (2006 w/ 63), 8th in single-season doubles (2006 w/ 12), in a tie for 8th in single-season RBI (38), in a tie for 4th in single-season walks (2006 w/ 31) and 6th in single-season walks (2005 w/ 29). In the career record books, she is 9th in RBI (75) and 8th in walks (60).

In 2005, Livreri was named MWC All-Conference and All-Tournament, while earning one player of the week honor. She played all of 2005 behind the plate and started 2006 there, but was forced to play short when Jaci Hull went down with an injury.

She hit .271 in her two season and racked up 87 hits which were broken down into 19 doubles and 12 home runs. She had 75 RBI, while scoring 55 runs.

The Disabled List

Prior to the 2006 season, the Rebels had high hopes with their returning players from 2005 and the new crop of freshmen. A fall injury to Jenn Newman (ACL) sidelined her for the season, while Brittany Meade's (back) sophomore season was put on hold.

Once play began, Jaci Hull went down in game two (hip), but returned to play nine more games before sitting out the rest of the season with a broken hand suffered against Kansas.

Marissa Nichols (health), who lit up pitchers and racked up All-America numbers in 2005, had to shut down her 2006 season in game 2006, while playing in Hawaii.

Even Caitlyn Paus (foot) had to miss three the three-game series with Missouri after stepping on first base incorrectly at Arizona State.

Those Returning

The 2007 Rebel lineup could be dangerous with the return of Marissa Nichols, Brittany Meade, Jaci Hull and Jennifer Newman from the disabled list. Joining those four will be nine players that saw considerable action in 2006.

In the circle, Shannon Crisp and Christie Robinson return for their junior and sophomore seasons, respectively. Between the two of them, they logged 54 starts and 87 appearances and held a combined record of 21-29.

Returning to the infield will be Rosa Ordaz, Caitlyn Paus, Kendall Fearn and Sandy Nakamura.

In the outfield, Brittany Freight, Brittany Bolinger and Bri Bernardi.

Those Coming To Vegas

Head coach Lonni Alameda signed three student-athletes to join the Rebel Softball program in 2007. They are: Olivia Hawkins (San Antonio, Texas), Lauren Briones (San Bernardino, Calif.) and Casey Thompson (Lakewood, Colo.).

Hawkins is a senior at Churchill High School in San Antonio, Texas. She is a multiple sport student-athlete. In her four years of high school, split between Churchill and McKinney North H.S. (McKinney, Texas), she has participated in basketball, track, cross country and softball.

Briones is a senior at Cajon High School in San Bernadino, Calif. She has been a two-sport student-athlete as she has played volleyball and softball all four years.

Thompson comes to UNLV as a junior in standing. She has played the past two seasons at Otero Junior College in La Junta, Colo. She is a pitcher that helped her team to the National Junior College Athletic Associations (NJCAA) Nationals in Florida the past two seasons. She attended Bear Creek High School in Lakewood where she primarily pitched, but also played second and first.

Going Yard

The 2006 Rebels came up six home runs shy of tying the 50 hit in 2005's record-setting campaign.

Of the 44 homers hit, 16 came off the bats of Shannon Crisp and Kendall Fearn. Both collected eight each for the team lead.

The surprising fact is that the 2006 offense did it without the help of the main contributors from the '05 team. Marissa Nichols had 18 in 2005, but none in her 26 games played this season. Caitlyn Paus and Maggie Livreri each hit nine in 2005, but only mustered six and three, respectively, this season.

Rosa Ordaz came up big with five roundtrippers (two were grand slams), while Bri Bernardi and Jaci Hull had three each.

Walking Around

At the start of the 2006 season, UNLV was on pace to come close to the all-time program mark of 201 walks in a single season. This year's team took 172 free passes to first base - 40 more than allowed to its opponents.

Leading the way for the second straight year was Maggie Livreri. She took first base on 31 base on balls. That amount was good enough to move her into a fourth-place tie in a single-season. Her 29 walks in 2005 have her in sixth-place.

Brittany Bolinger came close to Livreri's numbers with 25 walks of her own.

Final Innings

In 2006, there were 11 games that went down to the wire in the late innings and saw the team leading near the end lose the contest.

UNLV came away with six of those wins, while its opponents won five. Of the six wins, three of those were in extra innings.

The six games that the Rebels won were against Illinois-Chicago, Kansas*, Portland State, New Mexico*, Cal State Fullerton and Utah*. (* indicates extra inning wins).

The five games that UNLV allowed its oppoents to win in the late innings were: Northwestern, Texas A&M-1, Arizona State-1, Penn State and San Diego State-1.

Award Winning Achievements

In 2006, there were three players were singled out for their performances on the field.

Christie Robinson was named twice as the Mountain West Conference's Pitcher of the Week (Feb. 14 & May 2).

Brittany Freight was tabbed to the MWC's All-Conference Team for her efforts throughout the league's campaign. The team was voted on my the conference's six head coaches.

Shannon Crisp was selected to the MWC's All-Tournament Team for her offensive efforts as the designated player in the Rebels' four games. The team was voted on my various media members at the tournament.

Making History, Part 2

Marissa Nichols and Brittany Bolinger will go down in the NCAA record books after their second at bats against Texas' Cat Osterman in Palm Springs. The all-everything Longhorn pitcher struck out Nichols to tie Courtney Blades's (Southern Miss/Nicholls State) record of most career strikeouts. Bolinger followed and K'd to give Osterman sole ownership of the record.

Osterman left the game with a 4-0 lead through three and gave way to a reliever to collect the win. In the nine outs recorded by Osterman, she sent seven back to the dugout with three strikes.
