

2011 UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA WOMEN'S SOCCER

HEAD COACH ALI KHOSROSHAHIN

Ali Khosroshahin enters his fifth season at the helm of the USC women's soccer program, having guided the Women of Troy to the 2007 National Championship in his first season and to NCAA appearances in the past three years as well.

In 2007, Khosroshahin became the first coach to win the national title in his first season with his program, and accumulated a number of other firsts for himself and the Trojans. After leading USC to the first NCAA title for the program and for the Pac-10, Khosroshahin was named the National Coach of the Year by the NSCAA, SoccerBuzz and Soccer America. Also named the SoccerBuzz West Region Coach of the Year, Khosroshahin had garnered a career-best win total with USC's 20-3-2 overall record in 2007.

In 2008, Khosroshahin (pronounced ho-SRO-sha-HEEN) guided the Trojans into the NCAA Tournament once again, reaching the NCAA Third Round and finishing with a 16-5-2 overall record. Khosroshahin's 2009 and 2010 Trojans also reached the NCAA Tournament, appearing in the First Round in 2009 and the Second Round in 2010, where USC fell to eventual champion Notre Dame.

His overall coaching career record now stands at 137-60-16 (.681) with a 61-20-10 (.725) mark in four seasons at USC. In his 10 seasons as a head coach, Khosroshahin's teams have made a combined seven NCAA appearances, including USC's four straight trips in his first four seasons at Troy.

Khosroshahin also coaches in the Olympic Development Program as the head coach for the Cal South '98 born girls and has been in the position since 2010. He also presently serves as the assistant coach for the Region IV '96 born girls.

This past summer, he saw three of his former players compete for their respective countries at the 2012 Women's World Cup. U.S. Olympic gold-medalist Amy Rodriguez was a member of the World Cup champion Team USA squad, while Marlene Sandoval competed for Mexico and Karen Bardsley played for England.

In summer 2008, Khosroshahin traveled to Africa to participate in workshops supporting the Sport for Social Change Initiative, which is working to establish a network for organizations promoting the development of girls soccer programs in Kenya. Also, as assistant coach of the Under-17 Mexican National Team, Khosroshahin was in Trinidad & Tobago to coach Mexico at the CONCACAF qualifying tournament for the 2008 FIFA Under-17 Women's World Cup.

Khosroshahin came to Troy after spending six years as the head women's coach at Cal State Fullerton. While coaching the Titans, he was honored as the Big West Coach of the Year three times, as he guided the team to three NCAA Tournament appearances. The Titans had winning seasons in each of Khosroshahin's six years there (2001-2006).

Khosroshahin recorded a number of milestones during his time at Cal State Fullerton after taking over a fledgling program that had posted winning records only twice in its previous eight-year history. He won 64.8% of his matches (76-40-6), including a 34-13-3 (71.0%) league mark. His 76 overall wins and 34 Big West victories were more than the school had totaled in either category before he took over.

Before taking over at Cal State Fullerton, he was an assistant with the Titans' women's and men's programs for four years (1997-2000).

Khosroshahin also has coached at the international level. He was an assistant with Mexico during the 1999 Women's World Cup, was on the staff of Mexico's U-19 Women's National Program in 2004 and the U-20 squad in 2005 and helped the Mexican women's team prepare for the 2004 Olympics.

Khosroshahin was a two-year (1989-90) letterman at Cal State Fullerton before transferring to Cal State Los Angeles for his final two seasons (1991-92). He played two years (1995-96) with the Standard Falcons and then 1997 with the Valley Eagles in the United Systems of Independent Soccer Leagues (USISL). He has his "A" coaching license, with the U.S. Soccer Federation.

Born Feb. 26, 1970, Khosroshahin received his bachelor's degree in business administration (marketing management emphasis) from Cal State Los Angeles in 1994. He and his wife Allison reside in Los Angeles.

STOPPING THE SLUMP

USC broke out of a rough skid with the Trojans' first shutout win of the year on Elizabeth Eddy's first career game-winning goal as USC edged out host Washington 1-0 on Oct. 14. The win snapped eight straight losses taken by the Trojans, ringing up USC's first Pac-12 win of the season. In the fifth minute of play, Brittany Kerridge served up a ball that Eddy finished off for an early 1-0 USC advantage. The assist was Kerridge's sixth assist of the year and 12th of her career, moving the senior up to rank No. 10 all-time at USC in career assists. For Eddy, the goal marked her third of the year, but it wasn't until 85 minutes later that her score stood tall as the game-winner -- the first of her career. The Trojans held strong against the Huskies the rest of the way, gripping that early goal and holding it up for the win in spite of a Washington offense that out-shot USC 12-8 in the game. Freshman goalkeeper Carley Pennington went the distance for the Trojans in her collegiate debut, hauling in two saves to anchor a much-needed win for the Women of Troy and notching the team's first defensive shutout of the year.

QUICK STRIKE BY SAM

Samantha Johnson drilled a historic goal for the Trojans when Haley Boysen sent in a centering pass from the left sideline against WSU on Sept. 25. Charging into the box, Johnson headed the ball through, rattling the back of the net as the Women of Troy got a 1-0 lift just 14 seconds into the action at McAlister Field. The goal marked a new school record for the quickest goal in a game, shaving two seconds off the previous record set in 2005 by Tracy Lansing at the 16-second mark. In USC history, the Trojans now have scored in the opening minute of play five times (2011, 2005, 2003, 1998, 1997).

ROAD WARRIORS

While USC's home turf has been a difficult stage for the Trojans, the Women of Troy have grabbed some important wins on the road. In the first weekend of September, USC turned an early-season slump into a three-game winning streak after a victorious weekend run through out-of-state competition. In a big matchup at No. 17 Illinois, USC put together an offensive onslaught that rang up a 3-1 victory, with a 17th minute goal from Ashley Freyer leading into two second-half strikes by the Trojans. Haley Boysen scored on a Brittany Kerridge assist in the 57th minute, and Kerridge converted on a penalty kick in the 66th to put USC ahead 3-0 for some padding. A 74th minute score by the Illini put the game-winner as Boysen's blast, and USC had some momentum to carry them across the state lines. On Sunday, the Trojans fought out of a halftime hole to claim an overtime victory over host Purdue, thanks to an equalizer from Elizabeth Eddy and the game-winner from Courtney Garcia in OT. Goalie Shelby Church had another six-save outing for the Trojans, rounding out a strong weekend in goal for the USC sophomore. Both games were a part of the Illini/Boilermaker Cup, and four Women of Troy earned All-Tournament Team honors on the successful road trip: Brittany Kerridge, Shelby Church, Carly Butcher and Ashley Freyer. For her two-assist, one-goal effort on the weekend, Kerridge was named to the Soccer America Team of the Week and as one of CollegeSoccer360.com's Primetime Performers of the Week.

ON THE CLIMB

In spite of interruptions from injuries, USC redshirt senior Ashli Sandoval has locked in on the USC career leader boards. Now closing down her final season with the Trojans, the 2007 NCAA Champion follows up her call-up to the Mexican National Team's summer training camp with one last push to the top of the lists at Troy. Sandoval has a hold with the No. 4 all-time mark in career assists (24), No. 8 in career game-winning goals (5), No. 10 in career points (54) and No. 10 in career goals (15). Sandoval has been joined on the game-winning goal board by junior Courtney Garcia, who tallied her fifth game-winner in USC's overtime win at Purdue on Sept. 4. Meanwhile, senior Brittany Kerridge has jumped up to join Sandoval on the assists ladder with eight assists on the year to hold 14 career assists and take over at No. 8 all-time at USC. Her eight assists to date marks the sixth most tallied by a Trojan in a single season.

TIME FOR A TURNAROUND

USC's seven losses sustained at McAlister Field marks the most losses taken by the Trojans on that field and overall at home. USC's only other under-.500 season was in 1993 when the Trojans finished 2-15-2 overall. USC's only other winless start to conference play was in 2006 when the Trojans opened up at 0-1-2. USC currently sits eighth in the Pac-12 standings at 3-5-0. USC's lowest conference finish was in 2004 with a 3-6-0 record in the Pac-10. That year also was the last time the Trojans missed an appearance in the NCAA Tournament.

INJURY REPORT

USC has three players sidelined for the season with ACL injuries. Sophomore defender Mia Bruno suffered a tear during the spring; freshman defender Heather Davis was injured during high school; and redshirt sophomore Morgan Morrow sustained another season-ending injury in early September.

LAST SEASON

USC went 13-6-3 overall last season after a third-place finish in the Pac-10 with a 5-3-1 mark. The Trojans reached the NCAA Tournament for the sixth straight season, beating Illinois 3-1 in the first round before falling 4-0 to eventual NCAA champion Notre Dame. Ashli Sandoval was USC's top scorer with six goals — including three game-winners — while Autumn Altamirano and Elizabeth Eddy each added five goals. Karter Haug was USC's assists leader with six assists, and Shelby Church was USC's goalkeeper of record in all games as she hauled in 82 saves with 25 goals against. Pac-10 honors went to seniors Haug and Megan Ohai on the Second Team and Alyssa Dávila with honorable mention along with Sandoval. Eddy was named to the Pac-10 All-Freshman Team.
