LAMONT SMITH

Head Coach

2nd Year

The University of San Diego introduced Lamont Smith as its head coach for men's basketball on April 1, 2015 in the Jenny Craig Pavilion Warren Hospitality Suite that included media, key campus members, supporters of Torero Basketball, and family members and friends. Smith, who replaced Bill Grier, became the Toreros' twelfth head coach in program history and just the fifth coach since USD moved to the NCAA Division I ranks in 1979-80.

Smith, 40, enters his second year at the helm of the Torero basketball program. He came to USD from the University of New Mexico where he had been on staff the last two years as the Associate Head Coach under Craig Neal. Smith brought with him plenty of west coast and regional recruiting ties, plus a reputation for developing student-athletes and being one of the hot up-and-coming coaches in the collegiate ranks. Smith returned to USD where he was a member of the men's basketball team from 1994-99. He started all 27 games his senior year in 1998-99 for the 18-9 Toreros. He was named the Toreros' Defensive Player of the Year in 1997 and 1999 and served as the team captain from 1997-99. Smith earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communications from the University of San Diego in 1998.

In 2013-14, Smith's first season with the New Mexico program, the Lobos became one of the nation's best defensive teams over the final half of the season, allowing just 66.1 points per game. For the third straight year, the Lobos held opponents under 40% shooting, limiting its competition to 38.9 percent from the field. UNM's scoring defense dropped almost 15 points over the course of the season with Smith handling the defensive calls.

Smith spent 2012-13 with the University of Washington under Lorenzo Romar, where the Huskies went 18-16 overall and 9-9 in league play, advancing to the NIT, where Washington lost at BYU. It marked the second time that Smith had coached with Romar, as he got his start in coaching as a graduate assistant at Saint Louis from 1999-2001 when Romar was the coach of the Billikens.

Smith, a native of The Colony, Texas, was a graduate assistant coach at Saint Louis. Smith's duties with the Billikens included coordinating the team's video editing and film exchange, while assisting with team recruiting, scouting and strength and conditioning programs.

Washington was Smith's second Pac-12 stop after spending four seasons (2008-12) at Arizona State. While at Arizona State, the Sun Devils had a pair of 20-win seasons with Smith on the bench and advanced to the NCAA Second Round in 2009. Smith also played a vital role in developing 2009 Pac-10 Player of the Year James Harden.

Prior to joining Herb Sendek's staff at Arizona State, Smith was at Santa Clara from 2007-08 as Kerry Keating's top assistant. He helped recruit one of the top classes in the West Coast Conference during his time with the Broncos. Smith spent 2001-2007 as an assistant on the staff of Randy Bennett at Saint Mary's before joining Santa Clara. Bennett and Smith knew each other from their time on Romar's Saint Louis staff.

Saint Mary's was 2-27 the year before Bennett and Smith arrived, and the Gaels won nine games the first year, 15 the second, 19 in the third and a then-school record 25 in 2004-05. The 2004-05 team made the NCAA Tournament for just the third time in the history of the program while the 2003-04 team set a school record by scoring 2,377 points. In the first four seasons he was at Saint Mary's College, the Gaels led the WCC in scoring defense.

Lamont and his wife Kimberly have two daughters -- Payton and Olivia.

RUSSELL SPRINGMANN

Assistant Coach

Russell Springmann begins his second year with the Torero coaching staff. He joined the USD staff in April of 2015 after a 17-year stint with the University of Texas, including the last 14 years as a full-time assistant coach under former head coach Rick Barnes.

In his 14 seasons as a full-time assistant at UT, Springmann helped the Longhorns post a 334-149 overall record while making 13 NCAA Tournament appearances. Texas made five "Sweet 16" showings during his 14 years, including a trip to the Final Four in 2003 and the "Elite Eight" in both 2006 and 2008. During this stretch, with Springmann playing a key role in Longhorn recruiting, a total of 14 McDonald's All-Americans made their way to UT, including two that would go on to earn National Player of the Year honors in T.J. Ford (2003) and Kevin Durant (2007). In his first three seasons at Texas, Springmann served as an administrative assistant.

"Russell Springmann is one of the most respected coaches in all of college basketball," stated Lamont Smith. "His 17 years of recruiting and coaching experience with the University of Texas will be immensely valuable to myself and the team. Above all, his character and core values are unmatched."

Springmann arrived in Texas after spending two seasons (1996-98) working in the basketball office at the University of Florida. Prior to his stint at Florida, Springmann served four seasons as the boys' varsity coach at Mardela (Md.) High School. He began his coaching career in 1990-91 as an assistant coach at Salisbury State University in Salisbury, Md. He spent two seasons there before accepting the position at Mardela High.

Springmann graduated from Salisbury State in 1990 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. A four-year letterwinner in basketball, he served as team captain during his junior and senior seasons. A native of Silver Spring, Md., Springmann and his wife, Neissa, have one son, Durant, and one daughter, Malaine.

SAM SCHOLL

Assistant Coach

2nd Year (9th overall)

Sam Scholl returned to his alma mater in April of 2015 after spending eight seasons on the Santa Clara coaching staff. Scholl played two seasons at USD (1998-2000) and was a teammate of Lamont Smith's during the 1998-99 campaign. The Toreros' lone senior on the team's 20-9 squad from 1999-2000, USD would post a 38-18 two-year record during Scholl's playing career.

Scholl would go on to spend seven seasons on the USD coaching staff under former head coach Brad Holland, including helping the 2002-03 team win the 2003 WCC Basketball Championship and reach the 2003 NCAA Division I Tournament for the third time in program history.

"I'm also very excited to bring another fellow Torero back to San Diego," added Smith. "Sam Scholl and I have known each other for 17 years and his knowledge of USD and the WCC will be incredibly important to our team's success."

For the past eight seasons Scholl was on the Santa Clara University staff, and in September of 2013 was promoted to Associate Coach under head coach Kerry Keating. At SCU Scholl helped the Broncos to 26 wins in 2012-13 and 24 victories in 2010-11. The Broncos won the College Basketball Invitational post-season tournament in 2013 and the Col-legeInsider.com Tournament in 2011. Scholl and Lamont Smith worked together at Santa Clara for one season during the 2007-08 campaign.

A native of Gig Harbor, Wash., Scholl completed his undergraduate degree in Sociology at USD in 2001. Prior to arriving at USD he played two seasons at Tacoma Community College in Tacoma, Washington, and was the point guard on the 1996 2A Washington State championship team for Gig Harbor High School. Sam and his wife, Heather, have three daughters - Riley, Reese and Regan.

CHRIS GERLUFSON

2nd Year

Chris Gerlufsen enters his second season as an assistant coach, joining Sam Scholl and Russell Springmann as a full-time assistant coaches. Prior to USD, Gerlufsen turned in an eight-year stint at Hartford University, including the last two years as the Associate Head Coach under head coach John Gallagher.

In his eight seasons with the Hawks, Gerlufsen's primary responsibilities included working with both the perimeter and post players as well as serving as the staff's recruiting coordinator. Accountable for tapping into the Texas pipeline over his last few years, Gerlufsen attracted several quality basketball players to Hartford from the Lone Star State. Among the student-athletes on that list are forward Mark Nwakamma, a 2012-13 America East All-Conference First Team pick, as well as guards Wes Cole, Evan Cooper and Yolonzo Moore II.

During his tenure at Hartford, Gerlufsen has helped implement a perimeter-oriented motion offense for the Hawks, which has accounted for six consecutive seasons with 225 or more made three pointers, including a school-record 312 in the 2007-08 campaign, which also set an America East Conference record. Last season's squad drained 235 shots from long range, the fourth-most in Hartford's Division I era. Gerlufsen has also been instrumental in the development of Hartford's defense, which in 2012-13, held opponents to a stingy 61.2 points per game, a mark that proved to be a Division I school record. Holding opponents to 60 points or less 15 times that season while conceding 50 points or less on six occasions, the Hawks' defense was one of the calling cards to that season's success.

Forcing opponents into turnovers in 24.4 percent of its possessions, the Hawks were 11th in the nation in 2012-13 while ranking 21st nationally after forcing 16 turnovers per contest, a league-high. Hartford also finished on top of the America East in steals, snagging 8.2 per game. Several other Hawks have had individual success under Gerlufsen's guidance including Joe Zeglinski and Milton Burton, a pair of 2011 graduates. Zeglinski garnered postseason all-conference honors four times during his collegiate career, including America East All-Conference First Team honors as well as a nod to the All-Rookie Team. Burton, a point guard, earned a spot on the conference's All-Defense Team after topping the league in steals averaging 2.2 per game while ranking in the top-20 in both scoring and rebounding.

Prior to his arrival at Hartford, Gerlufsen spent five years as an assistant at The Citadel as a member of head coach Pat Dennis' staff. He joined the staff in 2000 as a graduate assistant coach and worked his way to the top assistant spot by the 2003-04 season.

While at The Citadel, he had on-floor coaching responsibilities with the guards and wings and coached five 1,000-point scorers and two freshmen of the year. He also acted as the recruiting coordinator and assisted in scheduling. A 1998 graduate of Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va., Gerlufsen played for Hal Nunnally, who won over 400 career games. A native of Philadelphia, Pa., he was a starting guard for two and one-half seasons and served as the team captain during both his junior and senior seasons. Gerlufsen ranked ninth all-time in steals for the Yellow Jackets and was a member of the team that was ranked third nationally in scoring defense. He helped Randolph-Macon to the NCAA Division III Tournament twice, once in 1996 and again in 1998.

RYAN HARBOUR

Director of Operations

5th Year

Ryan is entering his 5th overall year on the USD staff, and his 4th straight as the Director of Operations. Ryan is responsible for all day-to-day operations of the program, which include team travel, Torero Basketball summer camps, academics, video and community service.

After graduating from USD with a Political Science degree in 2011, Ryan joined the Torero staff as Video Coordinator for the 2011-2012 season. He spent the 2012-2013 season at Arizona State University under Head Coach Herb Sendek, as the Director of Basketball Technology. The Sun Devils finished the season with a 22-13 record and a trip to the NIT post-season tournament. Sun Devil senior, Carrick Felix, was selected 33rd overall in the 2013 NBA Draft.

He returned to the Torero staff for the 2013-14 season and has been the Director of Operations since. Ryan played for the Toreros under Head Coach Bill Grier from 2007 - 2011. He was part of the 07-'08' team that won the West Coast Conference Tournament and advanced to the 2nd round of the NCAA Tournament after upsetting the 15th-ranked UConn Huskies in the tourney opener.

A Chicago native, Ryan played high school basketball for Fenwick High School, where he was an All-Catholic League player.
