COMMODORE FOOTBALL TRADITIONS

History and tradition combine with great facilities and the excitement of SEC football to create unforgettable college gameday experiences at Vanderbilt.

Star Walk

Before the game, the team makes their way to Vanderbilt Stadium along a star-painted path lined with cheering fans.

The Anchor

Leading the Star Walk are players chosen by the team to carry the Commodore anchor, a symbol of strength, support and unity for the team. The anchor travels to road games and has a permanent home in a special display case in the football locker room.

Stadium Horn

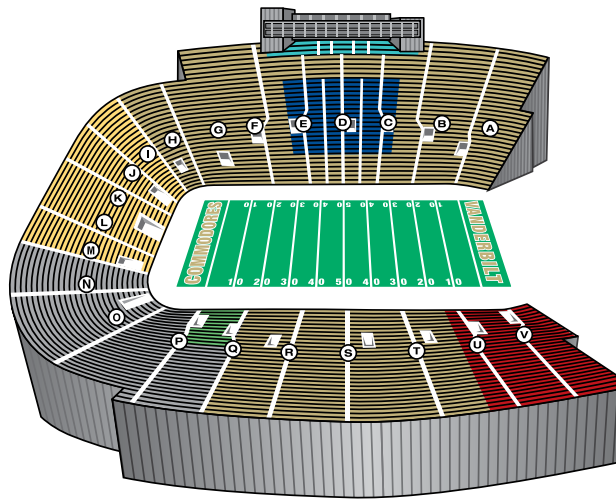

The naval horn atop the pressbox at Vanderbilt Stadium sounds when the team takes the field and after every Commodore score. Vanderbilt's Naval ROTC has the honor of sounding the horn.

Victory Flag

Fans look for the Victory Flag, a solid black Vanderbilt Athletics flag hoisted above the west side of Vanderbilt Stadium for seven days after every win.

"No part of this program will settle. Everything we do will be about championships. This administration is in, this coaching staff is all in, and we need everybody to be ALL IN!"
