WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - The semifinals are set in men’s and women’s singles and doubles at the 2018 NCAA Division I Tennis Championships being played at the Wake Forest Tennis Complex.

Three of the top four seeds advanced in men’s singles with only No. 2 William Blumberg of North Carolina being upset.

Top seed Martin Redlicki of UCLA advanced to the semifinals with a 6-4, 7-5 win over Alabama’s Mazen Osama. No. 2 seed Blumberg was defeated by No. 7 seed Borna Gojo of Wake Forest, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. Third-seeded Nuno Borges of Mississippi State advanced with a 7-6 (4), 6-4 win over Timo Stodder of Tennessee. Wake Forest’s Petros Chrysochos, the No. 4 seed, advanced to the semifinals with a 4-6, 6-2, 7-6 (2) win over Ohio State’s Mikael Torpegaard.

With both Gojo and Chrysochos in the semifinals, Wake Forest becomes the first school to put two singles players in the semifinals since Virginia in 2015.

In women’s singles, eighth seed Fernanda Contreras of Vanderbilt moved into the semifinals with a 7-5, 6-1 win over Anna Danilina of Florida while No. 6 seed Arianne Hartono of Ole Miss moved on with a 6-2, 4-6, 6-2 win over Pepperdine’s Luisa Stefani. Ashley Lahey of Pepperdine advanced over Andrea Lazaro of FIU, 7-5, 5-7, 6-3 while Mayar Sherif of Pepperdine defeated Vanderbilt’s Astra Sharma 6-2, 2-6, 7-6 (5).

Pepperdine will have both Lahey and Sherif in the semifinals marking the first time since Stanford in 2012 that a single school placed two players in the women’s singles semifinals.

In men’s doubles, the No. 1 seed fell as Mississippi State’s Nuno Borges and Strahinja Rakic lost to UCLA’s Martin Redlicki/Evan Zhu 4-6, 6-3, 10-7. Ryan Peniston and Andrew Watson of Memphis posted a 7-5, 6-3 win over Florida’s Johannes Ingildsen/Alfredo Perez. Martin Joyce/Mikael Torpegaard of Ohio State advanced over Florida’s team of McClain Kessler/Duarte Vale, 6-3, 6-2. UCLA put a second team in the men’s doubles semifinals as Austin Rapp and Keegan Smith advanced past No. 2 seed North Carolina’s Blumberg/Robert Kelly.

North Carolina’s women’s doubles team of Alle Sanford/Sara Daavettile posted a 6-4, 1-6, 10-7 win over No. 1 seed Paige Hourigan/Kenya Jones of Georgia Tech to move into the semifinals. LSU’s duo of Jessica Golovin/Eden Richardson advanced past Arizona State’s Ilze Hattingh/Lauryn John-Baptiste, 6-3, 6-4. Vladica Babic/Sofia Blanco of Oklahoma State defeated the Winthrop tandem of Megan Kauffman/Lauren Proctor 6-3, 6-2 to reach the semifinals. No. 5 seed Ellyse Hamlin/Kaitlyn McCarthy of Duke needed three sets to get past Fernanda Contreras/Astra Sharma of Vanderbilt, 5-7, 6-1, 10-5.

Sunday’s semifinals are scheduled to start at noon with women’s singles followed by men’s singles.
