WASHINGTON vs. SYRACUSE

Dawgs Kick Off 2007 Season Vs. Orange In Carrier Dome

THE GAME: The 2007 Husky football season gets underway this Friday, August 31, when the Huskies travel across the country to face Syracuse in the Carrier Dome. Kickoff for the nationally-televised game (ESPN) is set for 8:00 p.m. EDT/5:00 p.m. PDT. The Husky team will fly to Syracuse on Wednesday and return to Seattle early Saturday morning. The game kicks off a schedule that many national pundits are calling the nation's toughest. After the Syracuse game, the Huskies return home to face a pair of BCS bowl teams from last season – Boise State and Ohio State – before traveling to face UCLA. Then another BCS team, USC, comes to Husky Stadium to close out a challenging first month of the season.

HUSKIES vs. ORANGE HISTORY: Not surprisingly for two teams on the other sides of the country from one another, Washington's history vs. Syracuse is relatively brief. However, the two teams have played two games back in the 1970s, one at each team's home field. On Sept. 29, 1973, Syracuse traveled to Husky Stadium, where the UW picked up a 21-7 win. After a scoreless first quarter, the Huskies got on the board in the second when Steve Lipe blocked a punt and scored after a three-yard runback. In the third quarter, Husky QB Denny Fitzpatrick ran in from three yards out and, in the fourth, a 63-yard run from backup quarterback James Anderson made it 21-0. Syracuse QB Robert Sutton scored on a one-yard run about midway through the final period to account for the visitors' only points. Despite notching 22 first downs to the Huskies' nine, Syracuse was out-gained, 283 yards to 214, in total offense. Four years later, on Sept. 24, 1977, Syracuse evened the series with a 22-20 win at Archbold Stadium. The game was won on a 31-yard field goal by Dave Jacobs with only 23 seconds remaining. The Orange took the early lead with a first-quarter TD run from Jim Sessler and a second-quarter field goal from Jacobs. However, Washington took the lead by halftime as Warren Moon connected with receiver Spider Gaines on a pair of scoring passes (25 and 51 yards) in the second quarter. In the third, Jacobs kicked a second field goal and the Orange went back on top when a Husky punt was blocked and recovered in the endzone. After a two-point attempt failed, Syracuse led, 19-14. Moon put the Huskies back on top with a four-yard run with 3:38 remaining in the game (a two-point attempt also failed), but Bill Hurley led a drive that ended in Jacobs' third field goal of the day to win it. Hurley finished with 113 yards while Art Monk added 83 for the home team. Moon completed 16-of-25 passes for 257 yards and two TDs for the UW while Gaines caught seven passes for 169 yards. UW head coach Tyrone Willingham has faced Syracuse once before as a head coach. His Notre Dame squad lost, 38-12, at the Carrier Dome on Dec. 6, 2003. While Syracuse head man Greg Robinson has faced Washington as an assistant coach, he's never squared off with the UW, or Willingham, has a head coach.

TELEVISION: The Washington-Syracuse game will air live on ESPN, with Sean McDonough, Chris Spielman, Colin Cowherd and Rob Stone providing the commentary. Additionally, "Husky Football All-Access" airs each Thursday at 7:00 p.m. during the season on Fox Sports. The program is an up-close look at each Husky game, with one-on-one interviews and sideline video.

RADIO: The Husky Sports Network, with its flagship station KJR 950-AM, will carry the live broadcast of every football game to three different states and British Columbia, Canada, on 21 different radio stations. Longtime play-by-play man Bob Rondeau and color analyst Chuck Nelson are joined by sideline reporter Elise Woodward. Many game broadcasts will also be carried on XM Satellite Radio on channel 194, 195 or 196 and can be heard over the internet via the Dawg Channel at gohuskies.com, which is available for no charge this season.

THE COACH: Tyrone Willingham was named Washington's 22nd head football coach on December 13, 2004. A former head coach at Notre Dame and Stanford, Willingham became the first African-American to serve as the Huskies head coach. Now in his third season at the UW, he brings an impressive resume with him to resurrect the Husky program, Willingham has acquitted himself well among his peers for much more than just fielding winning teams. Over the past 30 years Willingham has developed a coaching style that emphasizes toughness, enthusiasm, intelligence, discipline, commitment and unselfish play. The result has provided his players with more than just the opportunity to enjoy victories on the field. His guiding principles have prepared his players to be successful in life. Willingham, who turned 53 last Dec. 30, served as the head coach at Stanford (1995-2001) and Notre Dame (2002-2004) before coming to the UW. His Stanford teams enjoyed a 44-36-1 record while he was 21-15 with the Fighting Irish. In his inaugural season with the Irish in 2002, he wasted no time reversing the tide of the Irish program, leading Notre Dame to a 10-2 regular-season record and a trip to the 2003 Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. He was named Sportsman of the Year by The Sporting News after the 2002 season, while also picking up several national coach of the year awards. Prior to his tenure at Notre Dame, Willingham directed the Stanford program for seven seasons. In 1999, the Cardinal won the Pac-10 and earned a trip to the Rose Bowl for the first time since 1972, earning Willingham Pac-10 Coach of the Year honors. He also led the Cardinal to the 1995 Liberty Bowl, the 1996 Sun Bowl and the 2001 Seattle Bowl. Willingham, who grew up in Jacksonville, N.C., played both football and baseball at Michigan State, earning three letters in both sports and was awarded the Big Ten Conference Medal of Honor as the outstanding scholar-athlete in the league. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater in 1977 and, aside from his two previous head coaching stints, has served as a full-time assistant at Central Michigan, Michigan State, North Carolina State, Rice and Stanford, as well as with the Minnesota Vikings. Here's a look at Willingham's head coaching career:

PAC-10 DOUBLE DIP: Having spent seven seasons as head coach at Stanford, Tyrone Willingham became the second head coach in UW history (following his predecessor Keith Gilbertson, who also was the head man at Cal) to come to Washington after having been head coach at another Pac-10 school. In fact, it's relatively rare for a coach to have served in that capacity at more than one Pac-10 institution. In recent years, Bruce Snyder (California and Arizona State), Dennis Erickson (Washington State at Oregon State) and Larry Smith (Arizona and USC) have done it. Earlier examples include Tommy Prothro (Oregon State at UCLA) and Washington's own Leonard "Stub" Allison, who coached one season at the UW (1920) before eventually spending 10 seasons as Cal head coach (1935-44).

WILLINGHAM vs. THE PAC-10: Thanks mostly to his time at Stanford, but also via frequent games vs. western teams while at Notre Dame, Tyrone Willingham has amassed a lengthy record against Pac-10 teams. Overall, Willingham is 51-39 against Pac-10 teams. Interestingly, his teams have struggled the most against UW, as he went 1-6 against his current team. Here's Willingham's record against each Pac-10 team: Arizona (4-3), Arizona State (4-5), California (7-2), Oregon (4-3), Oregon State (3-5), Stanford (3-1), UCLA (4-5), USC (4-8), Washington (1-6), Washington State (7-3).

COACHING STAFF: Washington's coaching staff, under third-year head coach Tyrone Willingham, saw little turnover from Willingham's first year with only one new assistant coach on this year's staff – receivers coach Charlie Baggett, who came to the UW from the Miami Dolphins and was a teammate of Willingham's at Michigan State. The UW's current list of assistants includes a number of names that are familiar to savvy Pac-10 football fans. Willingham, of course, spent seven seasons in charge of Stanford, where he'd previously served as an assistant (1989-91) for three seasons. And, two members of the Husky staff from 2004 season were held over as well, lending more than a little familiarity. Defensive line coach Randy Hart is working for his fifth different head coach as a member of the Husky staff while linebackers coach Chris Tormey, is beginning his 16th season at the UW, spread over three different stints. Aside from those three, several other UW coaches came to Seattle with experience in or around the Northwest. Defensive coordinator Kent Baer has coached in the Pac-10 at California, Arizona State and Stanford, as well as at Idaho. Spokane native Tim Lappano previously worked at Idaho, Washington State, California, Oregon State and with the Seattle Seahawks. Mike Denbrock (offensive line) and Trent Miles (running backs) both worked one season each at Stanford. Only tight ends/special teams coach Bob Simmons, the former Oklahoma State head coach, and Baggett, who has spent much of his career in the NFL, don't trace their coaching roots through the Pac-10 before coming to the UW. The Huskies' two graduate assistants this year are also both familiar names as former Stanford linebacker Anthony Gabriel and former North Carolina quarterback Luke Huard will serve in those roles this year. Gabriel won four letters for the Cardinal (1998-2001) and Huard is the youngest of the three Huard brothers, a trio that includes former Husky signalcallers Damon and Brock Huard.

WASHINGTON-SYRACUSE TIES: Not surprisingly, considering the geography, there aren't many ties between players on the Washington and Syracuse rosters. The Orange roster does not include any players from the state of Washington while the Husky roster has no one from the state of New York. In fact the UW roster's easternmost import is Charles Hawkins, who came to Seattle from Chicago. However, Syracuse does have two California's listed on its media guide roster: long snapper Ian Hammond (Mission Viejo) and cornerback Ryan Howard (Carson). Neither attended the same high school as any UW player, but Hammond and UW long snapper Danny Morovick both went to Saddleback CC in Mission Viejo. However, despite playing the same position, they weren't teammates as Morovick didn't play football at Saddleback in the one semester he attended there (and because Hammond is several years older). Syracuse also has one other player from the northwest: freshman Jonathan Meldrum, from Boise, Idaho. Even despite Syracuse head coach Greg Robinson's west-coast ties, there aren't many more relationships between the teams' coaching staffs than there are between their players. Robinson coached at UCLA from 1982 to 1989, but no current Husky coaches ever served on a Bruins staff, and most of the rest of the Syracuse staff hails from the eastern part of the country. However, Phil Earley, the Orange QBs coach, was a member of Chris Tormey's staff when Tormey was head coach at both Idaho and Nevada. Early has also worked at both Washington State and Western Washington. He is a graduate of Port Angeles (Wash.) High School and has degrees from both Pacific Lutheran and Western Washington.

HUSKIES vs. THE BIG EAST: Washington has played against only three current football-playing members of the Big East Conference: Connecticut, Pittsburgh and, of course, Syracuse. The Huskies are 3-5 all-time against that trio. Aside from their 1-1 record against the Orange (detailed earlier), the Dawgs are 1-0 against UConn (a 21-17 win in Seattle in 1974) and 1-4 against the Panthers. Washington and Pitt first played in the 1937 Rose Bowl (a Panthers win). Pitt also won a 1939 game at Husky Stadium. In slightly more recent times, the Huskies won in Seattle in 1961, lost at Pitt in 1963 and lost in Seattle in 1979. The last time the UW played a game at a Big East opponent's home was the 1977 game at Syracuse.

DAWGS IN THE EAST: Washington's trip to Syracuse this week will mark a rare occasion for a UW football team – a trip to a state bordering the Atlantic Ocean. In fact, the Huskies' previous visit to Syracuse remains the easternmost game the Huskies have ever played as Syracuse is, in terms of its longitude, east of both Durham, N.C. (where the UW played Duke in 1973), and Miami, Fla. (where the Huskies have played vs. Miami and in the Orange Bowl game), the two closest competitors for the Huskies' easternmost games of all time. The Huskies' only other New York-based opponent has been Army, but both Army-UW games (1988, 1995) were played in Seattle.

SEASON OPENERS: Washington is 80-31-6 all-time in season openers, good for a mark of .709. Since 1989, Washington has posted a 10-7 record in season openers – 6-1 at home, 4-5 on the road, 0-1 neutral site. In that 17-season span, the Huskies have opened vs. a ranked team eight times: vs. No. 15 Stanford in 1993 (W, 31-14), at No. 17 USC in 1994 (L, 24-17), at No. 20 Arizona State in 1996 (L, 45-42), vs. No. 19 BYU in 1997 (W, 42-20) at No. 8 Arizona State in 1998 (W, 42-38), vs. No. 11 Michigan in 2001 (W, 23-18), at No. 12 Michigan in 2002 (L, 31-29) and at No. 2 Ohio State in 2003 (L, 28-9).

OPENING ON THE ROAD: Washington has opened its season on the road only 11 times in the last 31 seasons (not counting the Air Force game in 2005, which was played at a neutral site (Seahawks Stadium) despite being Air Force's home game), and has gone 6-5 in those games. The most recent road opener was a 28-9 loss at defending national champ and No. 2-ranked Ohio State in 2003 in Keith Gilbertson's first game as head coach. The year before, the Dawgs lost 31-29 at No. 13 Michigan. Prior to that was a 35-28 loss at BYU in 1999 in Rick Neuheisel's first game in charge of the Huskies. In 1998, the Huskies used the "Miracle in the Desert" (a 67-yard pass from Brock Huard to Reggie Davis on 4th-and-17 with 0:28 left) to beat Arizona State, 42-38, in a road opener. Others in the last 31 seasons: 42-20 win at BYU (1997), 45-42 loss at ASU (1996), 24-17 loss at USC (1994), 31-7 win at ASU (1992), 42-7 win at Stanford (1991), 20-6 win at Purdue (1988) and 34-0 win at Northwestern (1983).

TEAM NOTES

ONLY THE BIG BOYS: As of Sept. 1, 2007, Washington will be one of just six NCAA Division I-A programs that has never faced a non-Division I-A opponent since the current division setup was established in 1978 (the division's names have undergone a change this year, but the setup is still the same). Both Michigan and Ohio State will fall out of the club as the Wolverines open the season with Appalachian State and the Buckeyes with Youngstown State on Sept. 1. The five remaining schools that have yet to play a non-Division I-A opponent since the advent of the current format are Michigan State, Notre Dame, USC, UCLA and Washington.

DECADE AFTER DECADE: Washington has won a conference title and a trip to the Rose Bowl in each of the last nine decades, dating back to the 1920s when Washington won the berth in 1923 and 1925. In the 1930s, the Dawgs won the '36 title. In the '40s, Washington earned the trip in 1943 and then barely slipped in under the wire in the 1950s, winning the 1959 crown. The Huskies won two Rose Bowl berths in the 1960s -- 1960 and 1963 -- and one in the 1970s (1977). Titles in 1980 and 1982 did it for that decade and three straight trips to Pasadena to begin the 1990s covered that 10-year span. Now in the 2000s, UW was the first team to earn Rose Bowl berths in nine straight decades. USC joined the Dawgs in that distinction in 2004 after their New Year's Day appearance in Pasadena.

FINISHING FIRST OR SECOND: Despite a lower division finishes in the Pac-10 the last three years, Washington has finished either first or second in the conference (including ties) in 18 of the last 30 seasons, dating back to a fourth-place finish in 1976. Over that span, Washington has won the championship (outright or shared) eight times -- 1977, 1980, 1981, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1995 and 2000 -- while finishing second 10 other times.

THE 100-YARD FACTOR: Since the 1947 season, Washington is 163-41-3 (.795) when a Husky player rushes for 100 yards in a game. The Huskies went 3-1 in such games in 2003, 1-1 in 2004 and 2-3 in '05. In the 2006 season opener vs. San Jose State, two Huskies (Louis Rankin, 145 yards; Isaiah Stanback, 102) ran for 100 or more in a UW win. Rankin then went for 112 in the loss at Oklahoma and ran for 118 in the Apple Cup win at Washington State.

ROSTER CHANGES: A notable (and noticable) change has been made to the format of the UW football roster this year; namely, listing the athletes by their academic year. In other words, all first-year students are listed as freshmen, all second-year students as sophomores and so forth, whether or not they've preserved a possible fifth year of eligibility by not participating (commonly, but technically not accurately, called "redshirting"). Fifth-year seniors are marked with a ^ and players who have preserved a year of eligibility have an asterisk (*) after their names. So, a player listed as a junior, who has an asterisk after his name is a third-year student who has the possibility of three more seasons of college eligibility ahead of him (including this season), while a player listed as a junior with no asterisk is a third-year player who has participated in games in each of his previous two seasons and thus has two years remaining to play two seasons of football (assuming he doesn't "redshirt" from here on out).

HISTORY LESSON: Successfully rushing the football and winning go hand-in-hand for the Huskies. Since 1990, Washington has rushed for 200 yards in a game 65 times. The Huskies' record stands at 56-8-1 (.869) in those contests. Since the 1995 season, Washington is 31-5-1 (.851) when rushing for 200 yards. In their season opening win over San Jose State last season, the Huskies won behind 300 rushing yards in a win, but then ran for 204 in the loss at Oklahoma.

PLAYING AT HOME: Washington has gone unbeaten at home 13 times in its history, including six times in the last 18 seasons. Washington has won 77 of its last 106 (.731) games at Husky Stadium with one tie (77-28-1). Since 1980, the Huskies stand 125-39-2 (.759) at home. Since 1990, the Huskies are 48-21-1 (.693) at Husky Stadium vs. Pac-10 opponents.

HISTORIC HUSKY STADIUM: The 2006 season marks the 88th season of play in Husky Stadium. Original construction on the facility was completed in 1920 when Washington played one game in the new campus facility. Thanks to several major renovations, Husky Stadium's seating capacity has increased to its current total of 72,500. UW's all-time record in Husky Stadium currently stands at 342-151-21 (.686).

CAPTAINS: Washington does not have season-long captains as Coach Tyrone Willingham will name game captains each week. Each game's set of captains were informed of the honor the Friday night before each game and revealed to the fans, etc., when those four designated players take the field for the coin flip prior to each game. After the season gets underway, a list of captains for each week's game will follow here.

DEGREES OF SUCCESS: Last June, a total of 11 current Husky football players participated in graduation ceremonies at the UW. While all remain enrolled and none have technically collected their diplomas, all have completed their coursework. Here's a list of the 11 current UW football players who went through graduation ceremonies last June: Wilson Afoa (American ethnic studies), Carl Bonnell (history), Cody Ellis (sociology), Robert Lewis (Spanish), Roy Lewis (American ethnic studies), Chad Macklin (general studies), Louis Rankin (American ethnic studies), Jordan Reffett (political science), Anthony Russo (American ethnic studies), Corey Williams (art history) and Sho Yoshinaga (electrical engineering).

FAMILY TIES: As is the case with most seasons of Husky football, there are a number of players on the Washington football team related to either current or former Huskies. Linebacker Trenton Tuiaosopo is a first cousin of former Huskies Marques and Zach Tuiaosopo as well as older sister, Leslie, a standout Husky volleyball player and now an assistant coach for the UW volleyball team. Fullback Luke Kravitz' father Al, was a defensive end that lettered at the UW in 1970 and 1971. Sophomore fullback Paul Homer is a cousin, by marriage, of former Husky offensive lineman Aaron Dalan, who married former Washington women's basketball player Gena Pelz. Sophomore defensive end Fred Wiggs is the younger brother of former Husky defensive lineman Sekou Wiggs and, finally, freshman safety LonZell Hill is the son of former standout receiver Lonzell Hill.

OFFENSIVE POSITION-BY-POSITION NOTES

* QUARTERBACKS *

#10 Jake Locker, So., 6-3, 210 – Poised to make first college appearance as starter at Syracuse ... suited up and traveled for all games last season as a true freshman, but didn't see any game action ... led Ferndale HS to 14-0 record and Washington state 3A title in 2005 ... named state player of the year in both football and baseball ... accounted for 51 touchdowns (27 passing, 24 rushing) as a senior at Ferndale.

#11 Carl Bonnell, 5th-Sr., 6-3, 215 – Enters his senior season having started 7 games -- 5 in 2006 and 2 in 2004 ... started the last 5 games of last season, culminating with win over Washington State in the Apple Cup ... 14-for-27 for 271 yards and 2 TDs vs. WSU ... nearly pulled off upset in 1st start of season at No. 11 Cal: 17-for-31, 5 INTs, 2 TDs, 284 yards in OT loss to #11 Bears, when his 49-yard pass to Marlon Wood on the final play of regulation sent game into OT ... also 9-64-1 rushing at Cal ... in 2004, appeared in 4 games, starting 2 ... started at Stanford, completing 9-of-25 for 118 yards, and vs. San Jose State in '04 ... 2001 state player of the year at Kentwood HS ... originally signed at Washington State ... nephew of former Mariner Barry Bonnell. Career Highs: 31 att., 17 comp., 284 yds., 2 TDs.

#8 Ronnie Fouch, Fr., 6-1, 195 – Freshman enters season as No. 3 QB ... graduated from high school early to join UW last spring ... threw for 2,690 yards and 23 TDs last year for Redlands East Valley ... won league titles as junior and senior ... teammate of fellow UW freshman Marquis Persley.

FIRST-TIME QB STARTERS: In 2004, Casey Paus became the first opening-day starting quarterback without a previous career start since 2001, when Cody Pickett did the same. Prior to Pickett, the last Husky QB to make his first career start in a season-opener was Shane Fortney in 1996. Assuming that Jake Locker starts Friday at Syracuse, he'll be the Huskies' first new starter since 2004, when Paus, Carl Bonnell and Isaiah Stanback all picked up their first career starts (Paus in the opener and the other two later in the season). Additionally, Locker is set to become the first "redshirt freshman" (to use the common vernacular) ever to start season-opener at quarterback for the Huskies (no true freshman has ever done it either). Here's a look at the Huskies' new opening day starters and their performance in that first game, as well as other notable UW quarterbacks' first career starts (that didn't come in season openers):

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES

OVERALL ATHLETIC SUCCESS: Having firmly established itself as one of the top broad-based Division I intercollegiate athletics programs in the country, the University of Washington once again placed in the top echelon in the annual U.S. Sports Academy Directors' Cup competition in the 2006-2007 academic year. Husky athletics finished 29th among all NCAA Division I institutions in the annual standings. Washington scored a total of 64.25 points in the Director's Cup, which is based solely on NCAA championship competition (and therefore didn't include the Huskies' national championship in men's rowing, which is not an NCAA sport). The 2006-07 Washington athletic season was highlighted by a number of team and individual successes, including the Husky volleyball team's third straight trip to the NCAA Final Four and the softball team's appearance in the Women's College World Series.

GRADUATION SUCCESS RATE: The UW football team once again had a good showing in the most recent NCAA Graduation Success Rate report, released at the end of September, 2006. In the 2006 ranking (which measures graduation success rates for those who enrolled from 1996 to 1999 and graduated within six years), the UW football team ranked second in Pac-10 Conference at 66 percent, trailing only Stanford (94). Washington had also ranked second in the 2005 rankings at 75 percent. Here are the Pac-10's 2006 NCAA Graduation Success Rate rankings (2007 stats will be included here after they've been released):

- 1. Stanford 94
- 2. Washington..... 66
- 3. Oregon State..... 60
- 4. UCLA 59
- 5. Oregon..... 59
- 6. Washington State..... 57
- 7. Arizona State 56
- 8. USC 55
- 9. California..... 44
- 10. Arizona 39

CHANGES TO MEDIA GUIDE: Not unusually, there are many changes to the roster that appears in the 2007 media and the roster as it appears now. For the most up-to-date Husky football roster, please refer to the final two pages of this release. However, here are some of the more significant changes between what appears in the guide and the roster as it stands now: The only number change thus far is now-#18 Bryon Davenport. The following are not on the current roster: Devin Aguilar, Anthony Boyles and Ian McMilan. The following players have been added: Taylor Bean, Pete Galbraith, Ben Hayes, LonZell Hill, Kiel Rasp, Cory Rutkowski, Romeo Savant and Tobias Togi.
