2008 WESTERN CAROLINA CATAMOUNT FOOTBALL – HEAD COACH DENNIS WAGNER –

Cullowhee, N.C. – Western Carolina Director of Athletics Chip Smith announced the hiring of Dennis Wagner, former offensive line coach at the University of Nebraska and head coach at Wayne State, as the 12th head coach of the Catamount Football program on December 31, 2007. Wagner, who has seven years of head coaching experience, was formally introduced at a press conference on Jan. 4.

“I am excited about being the next head football coach at Western Carolina University,” said Wagner by phone Monday afternoon. “Now is a great time to take over the Catamount program with the commitment that has been made by the administration. I am looking forward to working with our current players – they do not just want to hear about the future, but what we are going to do now. So, I am looking forward to getting there, rolling up my sleeves and getting to work.”

Wagner comes to Cullowhee with more than two decades of coaching experience.

“This search process has been both intensive and extensive,” said Smith. “From the beginning, it was our goal to find an experienced head coach, someone who had the ability to build and maintain a quality football program and who was a proven winner. Dennis Wagner fits that description perfectly. His background as a coordinator, head and assistant head coach, as well as his experience at the University of Nebraska – one of the nation’s most storied football programs – makes him perfectly suited for taking on this responsibility.”

“(Dennis) is a hard worker and an excellent recruiter. Teams with which he has been associated have been very productive offensively and exciting for the fans. This is truly a new beginning for the Western Carolina Football program,” Smith added. “He and his family, wife Cyndi, daughter Whitney and son Josh, will be great additions to the Western Carolina University and the entire community. I am pleased that they will be joining the Catamount family and very excited about the future of Catamount Football.”

Wagner spent the last four seasons at Nebraska leading the Cornhusker offensive linemen during the program’s transition from the option-based offensive attack to the West Coast offense. In his first season in Lincoln, Wagner’s protégés cleared the way as the Husker offense averaged 176 yards rushing and 187 yards passing per game in its first season away from the option ground attack. In 2005, the Nebraska line made significant gains in setting up the passing game. It helped first-year quarterback Zac Taylor set Husker records, including single-game passing yards (431) against Iowa State, while Kurt Mann was a second-team All-Big 12 selection.

Two seasons ago, the ‘Huskies experienced a resurgence on offense, ranking 14th in the nation in total offense while also ranking 23rd in both passing and rushing offense behind Wagner’s line.

During Wagner’s tenure on the staff at Nebraska, the Cornhuskers went to a pair of bowl games, including winning the 2005 Alamo Bowl. He additionally coached two All-Big 12 linemen (2005 & ’06) and three players who went on to the NFL.

Prior to his stint at Nebraska, Wagner served as assistant head coach and offensive line coach for seven years at Fresno State. He quickly helped the Bulldog’s offensive line become one of the top units in the country as his O-line was ranked among the top 10 in 2002 by The Sporting News. His offensive linemen helped NFL No. 1 pick David Carr post record-shattering passing numbers in 2001 (4,299 yards, 42 touchdowns passing), while running back Paris Gaines rushed for more than 1,000 yards and the team averaged 501.6 total yards per game.

In each of his last two years at FSU, one of his linemen earned first-team freshman All-America honors, including tackle Logan Mankins (an eventual NFL first-round selection) in 2002 and center Kyle Young in 2003. Wagner

THE DENNIS WAGNER FILE:

DATE AND PLACE OF BIRTH:

(assistant head coach/offensive line);
2004-07, Nebraska (assistant coach/offensive line)

helped head coach Pat Hill lead the Bulldogs to bowl games in each of Wagner's last five years (1999-2003).

A native of Waverly, Iowa, Wagner was the head coach at Wayne (Neb.) State from 1989 to 1996, leading the Wildcats to a 44-37-1 record while guiding the team from NAIA to NCAA Division II classification. He quickly turned around a program which had lost 12-consecutive games just prior to his arrival and had only won two of its last 29 games overall. For his efforts, Wagner was inducted into the Wayne State College Hall of Fame in 2005 and was twice named the Nebraska Coach of the Year by the Omaha World-Herald in 1990 and 1993.

In his last four seasons at Wayne State, the Wildcats finished no lower than third nationally in total offense, leading the nation with 581.5 yards per game in 1993.

Before his eight-years as the head coach at Wayne State, he coached four seasons at St. Cloud (Minn.) State from 1985 to 1988, serving as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach, while also overseeing the strength and conditioning program at SCS. He has also served as an offensive line coach at Luther College in 1980; served on the UNLV football staff in 1981 and 1982 where he coached the tight ends and offensive line; was the head track & field coach at William Penn College in 1983; and served as assistant strength coach for UNLV's PCAA and California Bowl championship team in 1984.

Beginning his collegiate playing days at Drake in 1976, Wagner transferred to Ellsworth (Iowa) Community College where he was a JUCO All-American and team captain as a center. He finished his playing career as a team captain his senior season at the University of Utah, earning All-Western Athletic Conference (WAC) honors and honorable-mention All-America honors as an offensive guard.

He and his wife, Cyndi have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Joshua. Wagner earned his bachelor's degree in psychology from Utah in 1982 and his master's degree in athletic administration from St. Cloud State in 1987.

– WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT DENNIS WAGNER –

Pat Hill, Head Coach at Fresno State:

"Dennis (Wagner) has an outstanding knowledge of the game. He is a great leader and a strong communicator who has the strength to stay the course – and that's what is important when leading a football program at a University level. He will stay the course and do what is right for the program. I think he will do a great job."

2007 MAC Coach of the Year

"Western Carolina is getting a coach in Dennis Wagner who does a tremendous job of getting players to respond. He is interested in those in his program as a whole person, not just as a football player. He has a way of getting his players to perform at their best. He is a great leader and is well organized and detailed. I really feel like Western Carolina got a good one with Coach Wagner."

Steve Pederson, Athletic Director at the Univ. of Pittsburgh:

"Coach Wagner is an excellent coach, an excellent recruiter and an outstanding man. He will be a credit to Western Carolina. He has a wonderful family and the Catamount fans will enjoy getting to know all of the Wagners."

Mark Linder, Athletic Director at Univ. of North Alabama:

"When Coach Wagner took over the Wayne State program, I was a sophomore and we had just gone 0-11. He had the vision to see what we could be and demanded excellence both on and off the field. He was able to change the culture from apathy to excellence, from losing to winning. As we all know, being a champion is a mindset. With 'Wags' as the head coach, we became a mentally tough team committed to the playing the game with emotion, enthusiasm and execution. Due to his vision, mental toughness, and commitment to excel, we went 7-4 my senior year."

"I will always be grateful to Coach Wagner because he gave me the opportunity to get involved in college athletics. He allowed me to coach the spring following my senior year. He allowed me to be involved with the program and to be surrounded by some great assistant coaches. He invested in my professional growth and demanded the best of me. He insisted on excellence, not only from himself, but also his assistants. My career in athletics started 16 years ago as the assistant DL coach at a small Division II school. Today, I am the Director of Athletics at the University of North Alabama. There is no question in my mind that Wagner's influence did, and still does contribute to my professional successes."

(Linder played two seasons under Wagner at Wayne State; coached at Wayne State with Wagner)
