WACHOVIA-GREAT SMOKIES INTERCOLLEGIATE PREVIEW

Cullowhee, N.C. - With the 24-team field set, the Western Carolina Lady Catamount golf team is preparing to host the Sixth-Annual Wachovia-Great Smokies Intercollegiate at the par 72, 5,828-yard Waynesville Country Club in Waynesville, N.C.

The event, one of -- if not the -- largest women's intercollegiate golf tournaments in the nation, starts on Sunday, October 17 with practice rounds and a dinner at the club. The first and second rounds will follow Monday and Tuesday, October 18-19, with shotgun starts at 9:30 and 9:00 am each day on the Carolina and Blue Ridge courses. Scoring will include the Top Four players from each squad.

Three teams have taken the team title in the first five years of the event. Tennessee Tech won the crown back-to-back in 1999 and 2000, with Elon securing the 2001 title. The host Lady Catamounts have brought home the top prize each of the past two years, shooting a tournament record-low 586 en route to the title in 2002 and just missing their own record last year with a two-round total of 592. All three previous tournament team champions will tee it up this year.

The field includes defending, and two-time champion, Brandy Andersen of Western Carolina, who holds the tournament records for lowest single (66 in Round 1, 2002) and two-round (66-75=141 in 2002) scores. Andersen also holds the distinction of tallying a hole-in-one on Number Four on the Carolina Course (Par 3, 140 yards) in 2002.

The Lady Cats have won the individual portion of the event each of the past three years, with Tennessee Tech's Cherry Bevis and Kylie Crouch medaling in 2000 and 1999, respectively.

The two-round event is open to the public.

ABOUT THE VENUE:

Since 1926 Waynesville country club has provided a first-class golfing challenge in an incomparable mountain setting.

Today's Club stands on the site of a former dairy farm, once owned by Frank Welch. Older Waynesville residents recall how, as children, they would watch him work his fields, now the ninth fairway on Blue Ridge and the first and sixth on the Dogwood course, then rush out to hunt for arrowheads, pottery and other artifacts unearthed by his plow.

Waynesville Country Club Inn
Waynesville, NC

Mountain vistas blend with quiet rolling fairways to make a great game of mountain golf. Our picturesque 27 hole course consists of three separate and distinct par 35, 9 hole courses that start and finish at the clubhouse. There are three starting tees, making each 9 holes play from as little as to 2245 yards to as much as 2969 yards. Blue junipers clearly mark 150 yards to the center of our painstakingly manicured bent grass greens.

TOURNAMENT RULES:

- TEES: All players will compete from the Blue tee markers.
- RULES: U.S.G.A. rules and decisions will be in effect as well as local rules where applicable.
- LOCAL RULES: Ball may be moved one club length through the green. There will be a drop area on holes #2, #9, Blue Ridge.
- ONE BALL RULE: One ball rule is not in effect.
- FORMAT: 36 hole stroke play ... best 4 out of 5 scores per team.
- TIES: Ties for first place team will be decided by a sudden death playoff. Ties for first place individual will be decided by a sudden death playoff.
- STARTING TIME: All players shall start at the scheduled time. If a late player is ready to play within five (5) minutes of her groups' official start time, she may play but will be assessed a two-stroke penalty. After five (5) minutes, the late player will be disqualified.
- SLOW PLAY: Any group falling behind more than one complete hole will first be warned and then, if slow play continues, a two-stroke penalty will be assessed each member of the group unless the individual causing the slow play can be identified. If in doubt of the location of an errant tee shot - play a provisional ball.
- OUT OF BOUNDS: OB is defined by the inside edges of white stakes or lines. (Rule 27) ... the whole ball must be outside the defining point to be out of bounds.
- HAZARDS: Water hazards are defined by yellow lines or stakes; lateral hazards are defined by red lines or stakes (Rule 26).
- DOUBT AS TO PROCEDURE: Rule 3-3 provides for the play of a second ball if in doubt as to a rule or procedure. Report the situation to the rules committee before signing your scorecard, after completion of the round.
- COURSE CONDUCT: Inappropriate conduct on this facility will not be tolerated and will result in disqualification ... i.e., club throwing, abusive language, course abuse, ect.
- STOPPAGE OF PLAY: In event of rain, all players must continue unless notified by an official to stop. In case of lightning, play must be stopped at once. The player does not have the option to continue play.
- COACHING: We ask that all spectators stay in the rough areas during play. Only coaches may advise players. Coaching from parents is not allowed, however, parents may talk to players between the green and the next tee. Please do not disrupt the flow of play.
- SCORECARDS: Scorecards must be signed and attested. Each player is responsible for her reported hole-by-hole score (not total score). If a player reports a score greater than what she made on the hole, it will stand as the score. If she reports a score less than what she made, she will be disqualified for that round. All score cards must be collected by each team's coach.

MEDALIST

Brandy Andersen, Western Carolina ..... 71-74=145

2002 TOURNAMENT RECAP:

WAYNESVILLE, N.C. - Western Carolina shattered the school's two-round tournament record by 15 strokes and went on to win the Wachovia-Great Smokies Women's Intercollegiate for the first time in the tournament's four year history. The team finished with a two-round score of 586, 15 strokes ahead of their next closet opponent, Murray State in the second largest women's golf tournament in the country

WCU freshman Brandy Andersen was crowned the individual champion, shooting a 66 followed by a 75 to equal 141.

Joining Andersen on the all-tournament team were Laura Terebey of Radford, Lynn Mantooth of Austin Peay State and Crystal Anglea of Western Kentucky, who all three finished in a tie for second at 145. Also making the list was WCU teammate Johanna Lundberg, who finished fifth with a 146 and Kelly Wren from Murray State, finishing in sixth with a 147. Rounding out the list were Hannah Storey of Gardner-Webb, Julie Smith of Tennessee Tech and Nikki Orazine of Murray State, who all finished in a tie for seventh with a 148.

2003 TOURNAMENT RECAP:

WAYNESVILLE, N.C. - Western Carolina had four individuals finish in the Top Five of the 24-team field to rally from six strokes down to win the Wachovia-Great Smokies Intercollegiate for the second-consecutive year.

Lady Catamount sophomore Brandy Andersen claimed the medalist honors, edging Xavier's Emily Shoplik by one stroke. Andersen carded a 71 and 74 for a two-round total of 145.

The individual race tightened in the final round as just five strokes separated first and eighth place. Following Andersen and Shoplik was Murray State's Lee-Anne Pace who finished third with a 147, just two strokes out of the lead. Finishing fourth were WCU's Becca Twiner, Bianca Melone, and Ashley Hovda was Austin Peay's Lynn Mantooth and in eighth with a 150 was Wofford's Laura Robinson.

The top seven individuals, including the four players tied for fourth, were named to the all-tournament team at the conclusion of the event.

1999 TOURNAMENT RECAP:

WAYNESVILLE, N.C. - After a close first-round, Tennessee Tech fired a top final round of 317 to pull away and win the Great Smokies Women's Collegiate Championship at the Waynesville Country Club.

Host Western Carolina finished second in the tournament with a two-day total of 642. Rounding out the Top Five were Western Kentucky in third three strokes behind the Lady Catamounts at 645, and a three-way tie for fourth with Elon, East Tennessee State, and the University of Maryland (647).

Tennessee Tech's Kylie Crouch shot a 74 in the first round and carded a 78 on the second day -- but needed a sudden death playoff to win the tournament over Amanda Phillips of Austin Peay State, who mirrored Crouch over the two-rounds.
