

Sept. 23, 2005

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FROZEN TUNDRA HOCKEY CLASSIC TICKETS GO ON SALE OCT. 19:
TICKETS AVAILABLE THROUGH TICKETSTAR

Tickets for the Frozen Tundra Hockey Classic, featuring the Wisconsin Badgers vs. the Ohio State Buckeyes on Feb. 11, 2006, will go on sale at 10 a.m., Oct. 19, and be available online, via the telephone and in person through TicketStar's Resch Center box office.

Prices are as follows: $24 for adults, $16 for students (including college), $14 for children (under 12) and $45 for indoor and outdoor club seats. Purchases will be limited to eight tickets per transaction to allow more fans the opportunity to obtain tickets.

Fans planning to purchase tickets on the internet should log on to www.packers.com at 10 a.m., Oct. 19, for the direct link to order tickets.

Over the telephone, tickets can be purchased by calling 920/494-3401 in Green Bay, or toll free, 800/895-0071, from any other location.

Fans wishing to purchase tickets in person can go to TicketStar's Resch Center box office location, 1901 S. Oneida St., in Ashwaubenon.

A presale involving supporters of both the University of Wisconsin and Ohio State programs is currently underway.

A group ticket sale program is being offered to Wisconsin youth hockey clubs who are interested in purchasing more than eight tickets. Interested parties can download the order form from packers.com or obtain it from the Packers' ticket office (920/569-7501).

Lambeau Field's nickname, "Frozen Tundra," will take on a whole new meaning when the Badgers and the Buckeyes face off at 3 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 11. A portable rink will be set up on the north half of Lambeau Field. Fans are advised that due to the classic football seating arrangement of Lambeau Field, different viewing angles will exist for the hockey rink. Seats in the lower portion of the bowl will be closer to the action and provide a unique experience, but due to the lower viewing angle, a more limited view of the ice exists. Seats located higher in the bowl will afford fuller views of the ice.

The game will also serve as the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame Game, with a portion of the proceeds supporting the Hall of Fame.

#

Media Contact:

Aaron Popkey
(920) 569-7211

