Todd Oehrlein was named the Big Ten Co-Coach of the Year in 2011.

Now in his ninth season as head coach, Todd Oehrlein continues to mold Wisconsin women's golf into his vision of a successful program having come off one of the most successful years in school history. The 2011 team followed the success of the record-breaking 2010 team, but went one better with the selection to the NCAA Central Regionals. It was the first NCAA team selection since 2003.

The team duplicated a fourth place finish at the conference tournament and is just shy of re-setting the school records for scoring and stroke average.

Oehrlein was named head women's golf coach at UW in August 2003. In his first year, he led the Badgers to a fifth-place tie in the Big Ten Conference championship. He also worked with one of the most accomplished players in school history, Malinda Johnson. Johnson was a two-time All-Big Ten team member and an honorable mention All-American in 2004.

Oehrlein draws from a previous coaching experience at UW-Eau Claire where he led the Bluegolds to the 2001 NCAA Men's Division III National Golf Championship.

During his tenure at UW-Eau Claire, Oehrlein's teams qualified for the NCAA championship all six years, finishing among the top-five four times including winning the 2001 national title. He was named the 2001 Golf Coaches Association of America (GCAA) National Coach of the Year and the 2001 Golfweek NCAA Division III National Coach of the Year. Oehrlein earned GCAA Central Region Coach of the Year honors three times during his six-year appointment.

At UW-Eau Claire, Oehrlein coached two first-team All-Americans including the 2003 Division III Player of the Year, Ryan Quinn of Galesville, Wis. He also coached four second-team All-Americans, four third-team All-Americans, and four honorable mention All-Americans. Before being named head coach, Oehrlein served as the assistant golf coach for two years beginning in 1995 at UW-EC.

Oehrlein graduated in 1991 from UW-Eau Claire with a degree in biology. He has plenty of athletic experience as a four-year letterwinner in basketball. He earned 1990 NAIA Academic All-America honors and was named WSUC All-Conference and NAIA All-District in 1991.

After earning his degree, Oehrlein continued his education at the Palmer College of Chiropractic in Davenport, Iowa, graduating magna cum laude in 1995. He returned to UW-Eau Claire as an assistant men's basketball coach, a position he continued until coming to the UW. He helped guide the Bluegold program to the national basketball tournament twice, including an NCAA Division III national runner-up finish in 2000.

In October of 2009, Oehrlein was recognized by his alma mater as an inductee to the Bluegold Athletics Hall of Fame.

Todd and his wife Dina have one son, Nathan (14), and two daughters Taylor (12) and Olivia (10).

Former Badger Katie Elliott was named an assistant coach in spring of 2010.

Madison native Katie Elliott was named assistant women's golf coach in the spring of 2010. Elliott played for the Badgers four years graduating in 2008.

"Obviously we are very excited to see Katie come back," Oehrlein said. "She brought so much to the program the first time as a player, and will again as a coach. She works hard and is so passionate about Badger athletics. Her familiarity with the Big Ten as a player will also be a great asset for our team. We are fortunate to have her here."

Elliott, who attended Edgewood High School in Madison, was a second-team All-Big Ten selection in 2007 and led UW in scoring average her last three years. As a senior she averaged 76.7 in 32 rounds.

Her career average of 77.13 in 124 rounds ranks second all-time in UW records. Her junior average of 75.24 also ranks second for a season.

In her career, Elliott won two tournaments and was a top-10 finisher 11 times.

In 2008, Elliott was selected for the World University Golf Championship. She was one of five female golfers selected to play for Team USA in the event held Sept. 2-5, 2008, in Sun City, South Africa. She shot a one-over par 73 in the final round to help catapult the U.S. into a tie for 11th place.

As a high school player she was named the 2003 WIAA State Player of the Year and the 2003 WSGA Junior Girls Player of the Year. She earned All-State honors during the 2000, 2001, 2002 and 2003 seasons. Edgewood won the state title in 2001, 2002 and 2003, when Elliott was the individual champion. ### 2011 FALL SEASON IN REVIEW

- ▶ The Wisconsin women's golf team concluded a strong fall campaign that included widespread contributions from throughout its entire roster. The fall season included top-10 finishes at all five tournaments.
- ▶ Wisconsin claimed one tournament title in the fall season: The Badger Invitational at University Ridge in Senior Jessie Gerry led the Badgers in four of five events in the fall, and has the lowest scoring average with 74.66 strokes per round.

Madison. A 54-hole score of 908 put the Badgers at the top of the 10-team field and gave UW its second consecutive Badger Invitational title. It was only the second time in its 18-year history that the Badgers claimed their own meet title.

- ▶ Jessie Gerry made one of the most dramatic improvements in her scoring average this season for the Badgers, dropping over three strokes. Finishing the 2010-11 season averaging 78.1 strokes per round, Gerry currently sports a 74.66 average.
- ▶ Sophomore Kris Yoo shot a +15, 231, the second lowest score for UW. That marks the best team finish for Yoo this season and the first time all year Gerry and junior Lindsay Danielson did not finish one-two.
- ▶ Competing in all 15 rounds in the fall season were Gerry, Danielson and Yoo. In those 45 combined rounds, only three were scores at or above 80.

2011 FALL SEASON IN REVIEW

- ▶ At the Knights and Pirates Invitational in Melbourne, Fla. April 9-10, Wisconsin collected the program's fourth best single-round team score all-time: 289. The Badgers also turned in the program's sixth-best 36-hole score (591) and fifth-best 54-hole score (881).
- ▶ The team's 18 and 54-hole scores set new lows for the season, while the Badgers' 36-hole score tied a season low.
- ▶ Kimberly Dinh turned in her best career performance at the Knights and Pirates Invitational, finishing tied for 3rd. Dinh tied her previous career-best 18-hole score, while shattering her previous 36 and 54-hole bests by seven and five strokes, respectively.

- ▶ Wisconsin had a record-setting day earlier in the spring season at the Westbrook Invitational. Sophomore Alexis Nelson finished sixth with a 54-hole total 213. That mark tied the school record for lowest 54-hole individual score in school history.
- ▶ UW's Lindsay Danielson or Jessie Gerry have finished No. 1 or 2 in eight of 9 nine events this year. Kris Yoo has been No. 2 in four of five spring tournaments.

2011 BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP

- ▶ Coach Todd Oehrlein was named the Big Ten Co-Coach of the Year after his team placed fourth at the conference meet and was chosen for the NCAA Central Regional.
- ▶ The Badgers were selected the No. 18 team among the 24 teams and six individuals invited to the 54-hole NCAA Central Regional. It is the first regional for UW since 2003.
- ▶ At the Big Ten Championships, the team finished fourth with a 303-296-305-291=1195, equaling its result from the previous season. The total was the second best 72-hole finish for the Badgers and just one off the school record of 1,194 set in 2010.
- ▶ The Badgers had four golfers finish in the top 20 overall, including two in the top 10. Freshman Kris Yoo led the team, recording the best finish of her career placing seventh with an 8-over par 74-77-76-69=296 that included her lowest 18-hole round of 69. The 296 tied the UW 72-hole individual record held by four others.
- ▶ Lindsay Danielson finished the Big Ten event in 10th place. She carded an 11-over par 78-75-75-71=299 which is the sixth best 72-hole score in the records, averaging 75.21 strokes per round.

Badgers in the Pros

Badger Alumnae Play Professionally on Tours

Four former Badgers competed on the LPGA and Futures Tour: Allie Blomquist, Katie Connelly, Patty Frohna and Malinda Johnson.

Malinda Johnson owns the only tour tournament victory among the recent alumnae. The owner of the UW's lowest season and career average earned a 2005 LPGA Tour Exemption Card with a season-ending victory at the York Newspaper Company Future's Classic.

Johnson took part in 17 events on the LPGA Tour in 2005, making three cuts. On the Futures Tour in her first season as a professional, Johnson earned five top-10 finishes to rank third on the tour with a 71.5 average over 12 events.

After recovering from a shoulder injury, she continued to play on the Duramed Futures Tour the past two years winning in a playoff the York Newspaper Classic in Pennsylvania. She recorded five top-10 finishes including three second place finishes. She recorded a hole in one Bank of Ann Arbor Classic in Michigan and won the Heather Wilbur Spirit Award in 2009.

Allie Blomquist, a 2001 UW graduate, joined the Futures Tour during the winter of 2002. In 40 career events, Blomquist registered six top-10 finishes including a tie for fourth place at the 2003 IOS Futures Golf Classic. Blomquist made 13 cuts on her way to being 17th on the tour's money list. She spent 2004 on the LPGA Tour before returning to the Futures Tour in 2005. She earned non-exempt status on the LPGA Tour in 2004 thanks to finishing tied for 32nd at the 2003 LPGA Final Qualifying Tournament. She is an assistant club professional at the Weston Golf Club in Weston, Mass.

Beloit native Katie Connelly continued her success on the Futures Tour in 2005. After posting four top-10 finishes in 16 events in 2004, Connelly played in 17 events in 2005, finishing in the top-10 five times. Her scoring average of 72.72 ranked 21st on the tour and was just .01 stroke shy of her 2004 mark. Illness and injuries prevented her from achieving in the 2006 season. She was named the Duramed Futures Tour 2006 Heather Wilbur Spirit Award winner presented to a Tour member who best exemplifies dedication, courage, perseverance and love of the game. Her best career finish is a second-place tie at the 2004 Michelob Ultra Futures Charity Golf Classic.

Now head women's golf coach at Georgetown, 1998 graduate Patty Frohna was named the 2002 Middle Atlantic Women's PGA Tour Player of the Year in addition to finishing second at the Maryland Women's Open. With 35 events of experience on the Futures Tour, Frohna enjoyed the lowest season average of her career during 2003 with a 75.0 in 15 events. Frohna tied for 20th at the Lincoln Financial Futures Classic.

The Futures Tour, established in 1981, offers competitive opportunities for women who are not yet members of the LPGA to help develop their golf skills and ultimately reach the goal of qualifying for the LPGA Tour.
