► Wisconsin claimed one tournament title this season: The Badger Invitational at University Ridge in Madison. A 54-hole score of 908 put the Badgers at the top of the 10-team field and gave UW its second consecutive Badger Invitational title.

► Wisconsin had a record-setting day at the Westbrook Invitational. Sophomore Alexis Nelson finished sixth with a 54-hole total 213. That mark tied the record for lowest 54-hole individual score in school history. The team's score of 883 was the fifth-lowest 54-hole score in school history. Six weeks later the Badgers bettered that mark with an 881 performance at the Knights and Pirates Invitational.

► Nelson turned in a first-round, 68 performance as part of her effort at Westbrook, the lowest single-round score for the Badgers this season and fifth-lowest all-time.

► Wisconsin set season team lows through 18, 36 and 54 holes all the the Knights and Pirates Invitational (289-302-290=881). The Badgers finished 3rd at the tournament.

► Senior Jessie Gerry, junior Lindsay Danielson and sophomore Kris Yoo competed in all 30 rounds for the Badgers this season.

► Danielson finished with the lowest scoring average for UW this season, 75.90. Yoo trailed Danielson, at 76.40. Both rank in the top-ten all time for season 18-hole averages.

► The Badgers finished the season with a 304.90 18-hole average, the third-lowest mark in program history and just 1.97 strokes off the record set in 2009-10.

► Wisconsin set six of the top-20 18-hole scores in team history this season.

► Ten different golfers competed for Wisconsin this season, including five who made their collegiate career debuts.

► Gerry finishes her career as one of Wisconsin's greatest golfers. Her 77.82 career scoring mark is seventh-best all-time in school history. Gerry also holds the records for lowest 18-hole score (66), lowest 36-hole score (137) and the second-lowest 54-hole score (215). Additionally, Gerry holds the eighth-lowest season average (76.28 in 2010-11).
