MORE ON SAN JUAN

San Juan, which is also known as "La Ciudad Amurallada" was founded in 1521 after Ponce de Leon founded the original settlement in 1508. San Juan is one of the biggest and best natural harbors in the Caribbean and is the second oldest city in the Americas. Due to its location and history, San Juan is one of the premier vacation locations in the Caribbean.

San Juan is located in the Northern Coastal Plains region and has three distinct areas: Old San Juan, the beach and resort area, and the outlying communities.

SIGHTSEEING

One of the main tourist attractions in San Juan is the 465-year old neighborhood called Old San Juan. The seven-square block neighborhood which was originally conceived as a military stronghold has evolved into a charming residential and commercial district. With paved adoquine cobble streets and 16th and 17th century Spanish colonial buildings, Old San Juan is a must see for shoppers and tourists.

Just a few minutes walk from the Condado Plaza tourists can visit the picturesque Munoz Rivera Park and the Parque de las Palomas. While there people can visit an attractive art gallery, go for a jog or stroll along treelined paths, or just relax to beautiful ocean and mountain views.

BEACHES

Imagine living in a large city and having a beautiful beach as your back yard. That is exactly what the million or so residents of San Juan enjoy every day. There's no need to stray far to enjoy a beautiful day at the beach.

Isla Verde Beach is actually a series of beaches stretching for miles in front of the luxury resorts and posh high-rise residential apartments, restaurants and clubs in the Condado Plaza area.

People can spend their time soaking up the sun while reading, napping, or taking a lazy stroll along the surf line. However, if you are more adventurous, there are many great opportunities to go parasailing, body surfing, water skiing and jet skiing.
