

On the Tee:

Last Time Out - Wyoming Concludes Action at Cowgirl Classic:

Junior Dana Zamprelli battled winds approaching 30 miles per hour to card a 78 (+6) during the final round of the Cowgirl Classic on April 11 and lead the University of Wyoming women's golf team to 17th place in the final team standings with a total of 931 (+67). The host UW Cowgirls shot 318 (+30) in the gusty conditions at the Ocotillo Golf Resort, while Iowa's total of 884 (+20) topped the 24-team field.

"We didn't perform up to our team goals for this event, because each individual didn't execute minor aspects of their game," UW head coach Josey Stender said. "We put too much pressure on the outcome, but this team will take this as a learning experience and redirect our focus to preparing for the conference tournament."

Zamprelli entered the day in search of her third top-25 finish of the spring, but slipped to 32nd in the final standings at 228 (+12). Sophomore Stacey Blunt also carded a 78 (+6) on the day to finish tied for 71st at 236 (+20), while senior Juanita Rico and sophomore Emily Wood tied for 64th at 234 (+18) after rounds of 80 and 82, respectively, on the final day. Freshman Samantha Stancato round out UW's lineup at 243 (+27). Senior Jenna Zamprelli and redshirt freshman Kristen Jensen finished at 237 (+21) and 254 (+38).

Chip Shots:

* Senior Juanita Rico was named the MW Women's Golfer of the Month on March 29. The award was the first for Rico and first for a Cowgirl since 2000. She notched exceptional performances in UW's four tournaments during March, including top-20 individual finishes in each and two top-five showings.

* The Cowgirls shot a season-low team tournament score and team round at the MountainView Collegiate, while senior Juanita Rico shot the lowest individual tournament score for a Cowgirl this season.
