

CAMP PHILOSOPHY

David Schureck's Soccer Camps are a unique opportunity for youth soccer players to learn the technical aspects of soccer through small group training sessions. The camp strives to provide an engaging training environment that will allow our players to become the best soccer players they can. This will be accomplished by challenging each camper on an individual basis and within a group setting.

Time will be spent on creating space for yourself and teammates with and without the ball. *This camp is intended for the high school level player.
