Interpretation Questions and Answers

Question: Can a coach give his/her staff members a monthly bonus for their hard work.

Answer: No, according to Bylaw 11.3.2.2, an outside source is prohibited from paying or regularly supplementing an athletics department staff member’s annual salary and from arranging to supplement that salary for an unspecified achievement. It would be permissible outside source to donate the money for the institution to issue at its own discretion.

Question: During an away from home contest, is it permissible to switch in between issuing per diem and providing meals?

Answer: Yes, per Bylaw 16.5.2(d) (3), an institution may provide either cash in lieu of a meal or an actual meal so long as both are not provided. The cash or value of the meal may not exceed $15.

Question: Can a current student-athlete practice with a booster during the office season?

Answer: Yes, but only if the practice falls within the regulations set forth in Bylaw 17.02.13... the activity may not be required of the student-athlete, the student-athlete must initiate the activity, and the booster does not report the outcome or performance of the student-athlete to the coaching staff.
